

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

- + Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
- + Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
- + Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
- + Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

About Google Book Search

INTRODUCTION.

The twenty-fourth annual edition of THE HANDY GUIDE TO PREMIUM RATES, APPLICATIONS AND POLICIES, covering the leading United States and Canadian life insurance companies, is presented with the confident assurance that it measures up to the high standard of thoroughness and completeness established from the first publication. The revision of policy forms and applications, modifications in premium rates and surrender values continues unchecked among numerous companies, and these changes are all shown in this edition of THE HANDY GUIDE. In addition to the changes in data of old companies, the work also contains an extensive variety of information concerning companies not heretofore listed. All available new data being included, THE HANDY GUIDE is therefore brought fully up to date and maintains its high reputation as an invaluable compendium of information regarding premium rates, surrender values and policy forms of life insurance companies.

This work has long been recognized as an indispensable part of the equipment of every active life insurance agent, having proven itself on innumerable occasions to be worth many times its price. Although it consists of some 1300 pages, yet it is of convenient size for the pocket, as by using a specially fine quality of imported Bible paper, the size has been kept down to convenient proportions.

As the number of life insurance companies operating in the United States is still increasing, the publishers have again included several new organizations, thereby supplying agents throughout the entire country with detailed information concerning every possible important competitor. THE HANDY GUIDE for 1915 therefore contains particulars relating to one hundred and seventy companies (including five Canadian organizations). These constitute a large proportion of the companies operating on the American continent and include practically every company waging an active business campaign.

During the twenty-three years in which THE HANDY GUIDE has been in the hands of insurance field workers, its advantages have been highly appreciated, its arrangement and contents having been found admirably adapted to the purpose for which the book was originally devised. The twenty-fourth edition is therefore presented as the leading and most reliable work on policy forms, rates and values which a life insurance agent can use.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $373.30. AGE, 35.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

1. CONSIDERATION. 2. PREMIUMS, WHEN PAYABLE.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract and a copy of which is attached hereto and in further consideration of the annual premium of three hundred, seventy-three and ¹⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, to be paid to the company in advance at its home office or to its agent at or before five o'clock P. M. of the first day of March in each and every year until twenty full years' premiums have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

3. The terms of this contract may be changed before this contract becomes a contract of adhesion. Any change in the terms assigned by the first endorser and a subsequent holder of this contract, such as a change in such change only signed by the first endorser, shall be binding on all subsequent holders. This contract shall be binding on the same terms as the contract.

10. ASSIGNMENT AND SUBROGATION. The undersigned hereby assigns to the Insurer, and the Insurer shall be subrogated to the rights of the undersigned in and to the policy, as soon as the Insurer has paid the sum insured under the policy. The company will accept the assignment and the subrogation of the Insurer as soon as the Insurer has paid the sum insured under the policy, provided that before any change is made in the policy, the Insurer shall be notified in writing and the policy shall be forwarded to the Insurer as soon as the Insurer has paid the sum insured under the policy.

...the public interest, however, it was held that a member could not sue for damages for loss of office, but only for the cost of the election, if the member was elected to office by a majority of the electors.

insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such an amount as the premium paid would have purchased at this company's published rate now in use for the correct age.

9. STATEMENTS OF INSURED NOT WARRANTIES.—All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim under it unless it is contained in the written application hereof and a copy of such application is endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued.

10. SUICIDE.—If the insured shall commit suicide within one year from the date hereof while sane or insane, this policy shall be null and void.

11. DIVIDENDS.—Until this policy becomes a claim it shall be entitled to share in the divisible surplus of the participating business of the company at the end of each policy year, and the amount of surplus accruing under it shall then be determined and accounted for, provided the insured is then living and there has been no default in the payment of premium.

12. APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS.—Such dividends shall be payable at the option of the life beneficiary by one of the following methods, provided that if no election is made the dividends will be paid in cash.

First method: In reduction of the premium on this policy if the remainder of such premium is paid as herein required. Second method: In cash. Third method: In paid-up additions to the sum insured for an amount in each case bearing the same proportion to the amount of the dividend that the paid-up policy at that time shown in Table A bears to the corresponding cash value. Fourth method: In being left with the company to accumulate at a rate of interest not less than three per cent per annum. The dividends so accumulated, or any portion thereof, will be paid to the life beneficiary when desired during the lifetime of the insured, or, after the death of the insured, will be paid to the payee of the policy in addition to the sum insured; but no premium shall be construed as paid either wholly or in part by reason of dividends remaining with the company.

13. DIVIDENDS MAY REDUCE THE NUMBER OF PREMIUMS OR HASTEN THE MATURITY OF THE POLICY.—When the total cash value of this policy, consisting of said accumulated dividends, the cash value of dividend additions, if any, and the cash value shown by Table A, less indebtedness, if any, secured hereby, equals the net single premium for a policy of the same amount and kind as the sum insured issued on the same life and due at the same time, a paid-up participating policy will be issued for the sum insured if this policy is then duly surrendered to the company for that purpose. Said single premium will be the same proportion of the sum insured that the tabular cash value at that time bears to the corresponding paid-up policy shown by Table A. Or when such total value equals the sum insured the said sum insured shall then be due and payable.

14. LOANS.—After two full years' premiums have been paid hereon, before default in the payment of premium, and before the policy becomes a claim, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy at six per cent interest payable annually in advance the whole, or, at the option of the borrower, any part of the cash value shown by Table A at the end of the current policy year and the cash value of dividend additions if any, less all indebtedness to the company hereon and less also any unpaid portion of the premium and interest on the loan for the remainder of the current policy year. For the purpose of such loan the policy shall be returned to the company together with a proper assignment of the same and said assignment may be executed by the life beneficiary alone, provided the interest of such beneficiary is not then assigned.

15. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If a request for the automatic premium loan privilege has been signed by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, and is received at the company's home office together with this policy before default in the payment of premium, such privilege will be endorsed hereon by the company, and thereafter, until a written revocation of said request signed by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, has been endorsed hereon by the company, the amount of any premium not paid in cash when due or within the days of grace less any dividend applicable thereon, will, without further action by the owners, be loaned by the company in payment of such premium and charged as an indebtedness secured by this policy, subject to interest at the rate of six per cent per annum as above described for loans, provided that the net loan value as above described is sufficient to pay the premium and interest then due.

16. WHEN INSURANCE WILL TERMINATE FOR NON-PAYMENT OF INTEREST.—Interest on any indebtedness hereon not paid when due shall be added to the principal and reckoned as a part thereof. Failure to pay any loan or interest due thereon will avoid this policy when the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, but not before that time, nor until one month after notice of the same has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the person to whom the loan was made and of the insured, and assignee, if any.

17. NON-FORFEITING VALUES. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After two full years' premiums have been paid hereon and any subsequent premium becomes due and is unpaid the entire reserve then existing under this policy, including that of dividend additions, if any, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the sum insured and dividend additions and less also any indebtedness hereon to the company, will, without action by the owner, be applied as a net single premium at the then age of the insured to extend as non-participating term insurance without the right to loans the sum insured by this policy and dividend additions, if any, less any indebtedness to the company secured hereby. The reserve and single premium named herein shall be computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three per cent interest. If said net single premium is more than sufficient to purchase such term insurance to the end of the endowment term of this policy the excess thereof will be applied in like manner to the purchase of a non-participating pure endowment payable at the end of such endowment term if the insured is then living; or becomes due the said net single premium will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up non-participating stock policy payable at the end of the endowment term of this policy if the insured is then living, or at the prior death of the insured; or CASH VALUE.—Under the conditions applicable to the issue of the paid-up policy above described, or after all premiums required hereon have been paid, the company will pay for the surrender hereof a cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be applicable to the purchase of the extended term or paid-up insurance above provided. The extended term insurance or the paid-up policy above provided will be entitled to a cash surrender value of the entire reserve existing thereon at the time of surrender according to said table of mortality and rate of interest, and the paid-up policy will be entitled to a loan equal to its cash value upon the conditions herein prescribed for a loan under this policy.

PAID-UP POLICY.—If requested by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, and if this policy is surrendered to the company within two months after the first unpaid premium

TABLE A.

This table shows the non-forfeiting values above described for $1000 of insurance at the end of completed policy years when there is no indebtedness to the company secured by this policy and no existing dividend additions. The paid-up policy, the cash value, and the pure endowment, if any, for insurance of a greater or less amount than $1000 will be proportionate. Each full quarter of a year that has elapsed after the end of any policy year and for which quarter year the premium due has been paid will increase the cash value and the paid-up policy one-fourth of the increase for the full year. The term of the extended insurance will be reckoned from the time when the first unpaid premium becomes due, and will not vary with the amount of the insurance. No deduction from these values will be made for a surrender charge.

Values provided for in the policy and not shown in this table will be computed upon the same basis as those given.

This policy will mature and be payable in full as an endowment at the end of the policy year falling nearest to age 85 of the insured if then living.

The entire loan value for the end of any policy year will be available during the same year if the premium for that year has been paid.

EFFECT OF DIVIDEND ADDITIONS AND INDEBTEDNESS ON NON-FORFEITING VALUES SHOWN BY TABLE A.—The cash value of dividend additions, if any, will be paid in addition to the cash value shown by Table A. The cash value shown by Table A will be decreased by the amount of any indebtedness. The paid-up policy shown by Table A will be increased by the amount of the dividend additions, and decreased in the same proportion that any indebtedness bears to the cash value hereof. The cash value of dividend additions, if any, will be the same proportion of such additions that the cash value shown in Table A at that time bears to the corresponding paid-up policy.

18. CASH VALUE IN EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—Twelve months after proof is received at the home office of the company that from causes originating after the delivery of this policy, the insured has become wholly, continuously and permanently disabled and will for life be unable to perform any work or conduct any business for compensation or profit, then in lieu of all other values, benefits or privileges herein provided, without further payment of premium, all premiums previously due having been paid, the company will pay in full settlement of this policy upon request duly executed by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, one twentieth of the sum insured and dividend additions, if any, and will pay the same amount annually thereafter until twenty such payments in all have been made; or will pay the amount of annuity shown by the following table of annuities for the age of the insured at the last birthday preceding the receipt of such proof, and the same amount annually thereafter during a fixed period of nine years (making ten annuity payments certain) and for as many full years longer as the insured shall live, provided that at every such annuity payment after the tenth satisfactory proof is furnished that the insured is then living. Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will reduce the amount of either of said annual payments in the same proportion that said indebtedness bears to three-fourths of the sum insured and dividend additions, if any.

The company will extend the privileges and benefits for permanent total disability above described to cover the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or of both feet or of such loss of one hand and one foot all from causes originating after the delivery of this policy and before default in the payment of premium. Any benefit for disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured when desired within one year after the receipt of the proof, and such benefit will not be included in the paid-up policy herein provided to be issued on default in payment of premium.

19. REINSTATEMENT.—Within five years after default in any premium payment, if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be reinstated upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum and by payment or reinstatement of whatever indebtedness to the company existed hereon at the date of default with interest from that date.

20. MODES OF PAYING THE INSURANCE.—If the policy is not assigned by the life beneficiary the life beneficiary may elect, or the payee after the death of the insured without such election may elect, by written notice filed at the home office of the company, before any payment on the sum insured has been made, to have the net sum payable by the company under this policy either as a death claim, matured endowment or as a cash surrender value paid by one of the following modes in lieu of payment in one sum, provided the one sum to which every such payee would otherwise be entitled amounts to five hundred dollars or more. Any mode of payment involving life instalments shall apply only to personal payees, the right of any payee contingent upon the death of a previous payee after the death of the insured shall be only such of the instalments certain as remain unpaid at the death of the last previous payee, and any election shall take effect only upon an endorsement of the same hereon by the company. The first instalment or annuity by either of these modes will be paid when the one sum becomes payable as hereinbefore provided, and the remaining instalments will be payable annually thereafter on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment. Under the third and fourth modes the attained age of any payee will be reckoned, under a death claim, as that of the last birthday of such payee preceding the death of the insured; or in case of a matured endowment, or cash surrender value, as that of the last birthday preceding the time when the sum insured or the value first became payable by the company, and satisfactory evidence of the date of birth of the payee, or payees, must be furnished before the instalment payments commence.

21. SUM MAY REMAIN WITH COMPANY AT INTEREST.—First. The payment annually in advance of three per cent interest on the net sum payable, and the payment of the net sum at the death of the payee, less the unearned part of said interest, if any; and unless otherwise elected the payee may at the end of any interest year require the payment of the principal sum or any portion thereof.

22. INSTALMENTS FOR LIMITED PERIOD.—Second. The payment of equal annual instalments for a limited number of years. The amount of instalment for each one thousand dollars in the net sum payable is shown in Table B.

23. INSTALMENTS DURING LIFE.—Third. The payment of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty-five years and for as many full years longer as the payee shall live. The amount of instalment for each one thousand dollars in the net sum payable is shown in Table C opposite the attained age of the payee.

24. LIFE ANNUITY.—Fourth. The payment of equal annual instalments for as many years as the payee shall live and no longer. The amount of instalment for each one thousand dollars in the net sum payable is shown in Table D opposite the attained age of the payee.

Tables B, C and D show the amount of each annual instalment for $1000 in the net sum payable. Instalments for a greater or less amount will be proportionate.

25. INSTALMENTS INCREASED BY DIVIDENDS.—Under the above modes of paying the insurance all annual payments required by the first and second modes and the first twenty-five instalments stipulated in the third mode will be increased by such dividends as may thereafter be declared by the company.

26. HOW PAYABLE AFTER DEATH OF PAYEE.—Unless otherwise provided, any sum payable by the company after the death of a payee under the first, second and third modes shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

27. SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When this policy becomes a claim, if an election has been made requiring payment by annual instalments, the policy shall, if required by the company, be surrendered and a supplementary contract issued for the mode of payment elected.

28. COMMUTATION OF INSTALMENTS.—Unless otherwise elected the payee or payees under the second and third modes, may at any time surrender the contract for the commuted value of the instalment payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as the computations in the second mode, provided that no such commutation will be made under the third mode except after the death of the payee or payees occurring within the aforesaid twenty-five years.

29. ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until the original or a duplicate thereof is filed at its home office. The company does not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

30. ALL AGREEMENTS MUST BE SIGNED BY AN EXECUTIVE OFFICER.—All agreements made by the company are signed by its president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary, treasurer or assistant treasurer. No other person can alter or waive any of the conditions of this policy or make any agreement which shall be binding upon the company.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby apply to the Aetna Life Insurance Company for a contract of insurance upon my life, and I do hereby declare that I am in sound health and have no disease or ailment not fully set forth herein; that the statements and answers herein made and signed by me are complete and true, and I agree that they shall form a part of the contract or policy issued by said company upon my life. I further agree that no statement or declaration made to any agent, examiner, or any other person, and not contained in this application, shall be taken or considered as having been made to, or brought to the notice or knowledge of, said company, or as charging it with any liability by reason thereof. I also acknowledge that all policies and agreements made by said Aetna Life Insurance company are signed by one or more of its executive officers, and that no agent or other person not an executive officer can grant insurance or waive any condition of its policies or make any agreement which shall be binding upon said company.

SEVEN-YEAR CONVERTIBLE TERM NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $111.20. AGE, 35.

The Aetna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office the sum of ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard X. Roe of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut (herein called the insured), during the continuance of this policy within the term of seven years from the date hereof, ending on the twenty-third day of January, 1922, at five o'clock p. m.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said Aetna Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary) signed this contract in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut this twenty-third day of January, 1915.

1. CONSIDERATION. 2. PREMIUMS WHEN PAYABLE.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract, and a copy of which is attached hereto, and in further consideration of the annual premium of one hundred, eleven and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars to be paid to the company in advance at its home office or to its agent at or before five o'clock p. m. of the twenty-third day of January in each and every year for the term of seven years from the date hereof or until the prior death of the insured.

3. TO WHOM PAYABLE AT DEATH.—The said sum insured shall be payable to Mary X. Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured; otherwise, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid premium for the current policy year; and such payment shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy, and to any indebtedness to the company on account hereof.

4. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary above designated may be changed at any time, provided the policy is not then assigned by the insured and is then returned to said company with a request for such change duly signed by the insured alone, and such change shall take effect on endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

For conditions 5, 7, 8, 9, 15-21, 23 and 24 see 6, 8, 9, 10, 21-24, 26-28, 29 and 30 of preceding policy.

6. CONDITIONS REGARDING PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured, a receipt for which payment shall be the delivery of the policy. If any subsequent premium be not paid when due then this policy shall absolutely cease; except that a grace of thirty-one days, during which time the policy remains in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, provided that with the payment of such premium interest at the rate of six per cent per annum is also paid thereon for the days of grace taken.

No renewal premium shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor bearing the original or lithographed signature of the secretary or assistant secretary of this company and countersigned by the agent.

10. TERM MAY BE RENEWED.—This policy may upon the expiration of seven years from its date, if then in force, be renewed and continued for one additional term of seven years without medical re-examination by paying during such term on the same days and months herein specified for such payments during the first term, the premium for the insuring age attained by the insured at the commencement of such term, as shown in the table of premiums.

11. MAY BE EXCHANGED FOR INSURANCE OF ANOTHER KIND.—This policy may upon any anniversary of its date be exchanged without medical re-examination for any level premium whole life or endowment policy then being issued by the company at the attained insuring age of the insured covering any hazard covered by this policy on payment of the premium required for such policy at the advanced age of the insured; or it may be exchanged for such a policy now issued by said company, which shall bear the same date as this policy and be issued at the same age, on payment of the difference between the premiums already paid hereon for an amount of insurance equalling that of the new policy and those that would have been required under the new policy with six per cent interest, provided in either case that the premiums required by such new policy shall be paid at the times stipulated for payment of premiums under this policy, that the issue of the new policy will not violate any law, that application for such new policy be made and this policy returned to the home office of said company before default in the payment of premium and within seven years from its date, that the amount of insurance shall not be increased or the premium rate per one thousand dollars of insurance be less than that required by this policy, and that if such new policy is on the instalment plan, the present value at the beginning of the instalment period of all the instalment payments required of the company shall be considered the amount of insurance under such policy.

12. BENEFIT IN EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—Twelve months after proof is received at the home office of the company that from causes originating after the delivery of this policy the insured has become wholly, continuously and permanently disabled and will for life be unable to perform any work or conduct any business for compensation or profit, provided proof is received while this policy is in full force and before the insured has attained the age of sixty years, then upon request of the insured and in lieu of all other values, benefits and privileges herein provided, all premiums to the expiration of said twelve months having been paid, the company will without further payment of premium pay to the said insured in full settlement of this policy one-twentieth of the sum insured, and will pay the same amount annually thereafter until twenty such payments in all have been made; or will pay the amount of annuity shown by the following table of annuities for the age of the insured at the last birthday preceding the receipt of such proof, and the same amount annually thereafter during a fixed period of nine years (making ten annuity payments certain) and for as many full years longer as the insured shall live, provided that at every such annuity payment after the tenth satisfactory proof is furnished that the insured is then living. Unless otherwise requested by the insured and endorsed hereon by the company the company will if desired, in event of the death of the insured after disability payments commence, pay in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured the commuted value of the payments yet to be made calculated on the basis of three and one-half per cent interest.

For table of annuities see page 27.

The company will extend the privileges and benefits for permanent total disability above described to cover the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or of both feet or of such loss of one hand and one foot, all from causes originating after the delivery of this policy and before default in the payment of premium provided that such loss occurs and proof is furnished to the company while this policy is in full force and before the insured attains the age of sixty years.

Any benefit for disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured when desired within one year after the receipt of the proof.

13. REINSTATEMENT.—Within five years after default in payment of premium, if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be reinstated in the same position as if such default had not occurred upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

14. MODES OF PAYING THE INSURANCE.—If the policy is not assigned by the insured the insured may elect, or the payee after the death of the insured without such election may elect, by written notice filed at the home office of the company, before any payment on the sum insured has been made, to have the net sum payable by the company under this policy paid by one of the following modes in lieu of payment in one sum, provided the one sum to which every such payee would otherwise be entitled amounts to five hundred dollars or more. Any mode of payment involving life instalments shall apply only to personal payees, the right of any payee contingent upon the death of a previous payee after the death of the insured, shall be only such of the instalments certain as remain unpaid at the death of the last previous payee, and any election shall take effect only upon an endorsement of the same hereon by the company. The first instalment or annuity by either of these modes will be paid when the one sum becomes payable as herein-before provided, and the remaining instalments will be payable annually thereafter on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment. Under the third and fourth modes the attained age of any payee will be reckoned as that of the last birthday of such payee preceding the death of the insured and satisfactory evidence of the date of birth of the payee, or payees, must be furnished before the instalment payments commence.

22. NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy shall not be entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

OPTIONAL ACCUMULATIVE POLICY—ORDINARY LIFE, NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $268.30.

AGE, 35.

The Ætna Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office the sum of ten thousand dollars (herein called the original insurance), together with such additions thereto, reckoned to the nearest dollar for each one thousand dollars of original insurance, as are hereinafter provided, upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard Roe of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut (herein called the insured).

At the commencement of each policy year after the first if the original premium for the current policy year has been paid the insurance hereunder will be automatically increased by the addition of six and $\frac{16}{100}$ dollars for each one thousand dollars of original insurance and by the further addition of three and one-half per cent of the entire additions existing at the end of the year next preceding, if any.

The payment of a semi-annual or quarterly premium will entitle the insurance at the beginning of the period covered by the premium paid to the same proportion of the above provided increase for the payment of a full year's premium that the period covered by the payment bears to a full year.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof the said Ætna Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary) signed this contract in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, this twelfth day of June, 1914.

CONSIDERATION.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract and a copy of which is attached hereto, and in further consideration of the annual premium of two hundred, sixty-eight and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars (herein called the original premium) to be paid to the company in advance at its home office or to its agent at or before five o'clock p. m. of the twelfth day of June in each and every year during the life of the insured.

DEATH BENEFICIARY—LIFE BENEFICIARY.—The said sum insured shall be payable to the death beneficiary as follows: Mary Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured; otherwise, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid premium for the current policy year; the cash value or the loan value hereinafter described shall be payable to the party herein called the life beneficiary as follows: the insured, and all such payments shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy and to any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including all loans made by the company, as herein provided.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, before default in the payment of premium and before the policy becomes a claim, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy at six per cent interest payable annually in advance, the whole, or, at the option of the borrower, any part of the cash value of this policy at the end of the current policy year, less all indebtedness to the company hereon, and less also any unpaid portion of the premium and interest on the loan for the remainder of the current policy year. For the purpose of such loan the policy shall be returned to the company together with a proper assignment of the same, and said assignment may be executed by the life beneficiary alone provided the interest of such beneficiary is not then assigned.

NON-FORFEITING VALUES.—The value of this policy to be applied as hereinafter provided shall be the reserve hereon according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less a charge of not more than two and one-half

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium or premium note after payment of premiums for three full years, then without any action upon the part of the insured this policy shall be extended as a policy of paid-up term insurance for the full amount thereof and for such a term, beginning at the due date of the premium, as that the net value of the insurance shall equal the reserve of this policy at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the sum insured and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy.

CASH VALUE.—If, however, this policy shall be legally surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from the date of such default, the company will pay therefor in cash a sum equal to the reserve thereon at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the sum insured by the policy and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy.

PAID-UP VALUES.—Or, upon written application therefor made to the company at its home office within one month from the date of such default, accompanied by a legal surrender of this policy, the company will issue in exchange for the policy a policy of paid-up life insurance in such a sum as that the net value thereof shall equal the reserve of this policy at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount of this policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company upon this policy.

BASIS OF GUARANTEED VALUES.—The table above written shows the net cash value after all deductions and the amount or term of paid-up insurance that will be allowed for the surrender of or in extension of this policy as below provided at the end of each policy year for ten years, upon the assumption that there be no indebtedness to the company upon the policy. All the reserves and net values above mentioned will be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum.

LOANS.—At any time when this policy shall be in force after the payment of three full years' premiums, the company will loan to the insured (or to the owner of the policy, if assigned), upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof, all or any part of the cash value of the policy at the end of the current policy year less any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid portion of the full premium for the current policy year. Such loans shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, payable in advance. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value. The table above written shows the loan value of the policy at various times. At its option the company may defer the making of such loan for ninety days after its receipt of application therefor, unless the proceeds of such loan are to be used solely in the payment of a premium on this policy.

American Bankers Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $300. AGE, 33.

The American Bankers Insurance Company, Chicago, Ill., in consideration of the application for this insurance, and of the annual premium of three hundred dollars in exchange for receipt signed by the President or Secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, the first year's premium being for term insurance, and to be paid on the delivery of this contract, and of the payment of a like amount on the first day of January in each year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured. Promises to pay immediately, upon receipt at the home office of the company in Chicago, Ill., of due proof of the death of Harry S. Wisdom, of Chicago, County of Cook, State of Illinois, herein called the insured, to Mary E. Wisdom (wife) beneficiary, with right of revocation ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

By this certificate the American Bankers Insurance Company guarantees to pay the beneficiary under the policy No. 000, issued by said company, the sum of one hundred dollars immediately upon receipt of this certificate, in the event of the death of the insured while said policy is in force; provided said certificate is accompanied by an affidavit stating the fact of the death of the insured thereunder, and the time, place and cause thereof, duly executed by said beneficiary and by the judge or clerk of any court of record of the county in which the insured resided at the time of his death, or by any reputable physician, clergyman or postmaster residing in said county. The said payment shall apply on account of any amount due under said policy and, being made in advance of the receipt of the customary detailed proofs of death satisfactory to the company, is made an accepted without any admission by the company of its liability against said policy.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions or restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death, from the date of its issue. Neither a permit nor extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war, or in time of peace.

PRIVILEGES, BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for a suitable endorsement thereon. Such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above, as follows: One hundred and fifty-six dollars on the first day of January and July; or seventy-nine and ⁵⁰/₁₀₀ dollars on the first day of January, April, July and October, except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. If any premium or any part of a premium hereon, or any check, note or other obligation given in settlement of any premium or any part of a premium hereon, be not paid when due, this contract and all rights based thereon, without action on the part of the company, shall immediately terminate, except as to the right to cash surrender value, paid-up or continued insurance as provided on the second page hereof. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to an agent of the company upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by said agent. A grace of thirty-one days subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

CONDITIONS.—The insured is privileged to travel or reside in any part of the world, and may engage in any occupation. This policy does not insure against the death of the insured caused by self-destruction, while sane or insane, during the first year from the date hereof.

INCONTTESTABILITY.—This policy, together with the application for this insurance, copy of which application is hereto attached, constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable from its date except for non-payment of premiums except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and copy of such application be attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will loan on the execution of a proper loan agreement and proper assignment and delivery of this policy and on the sole security hereof, an amount which, with interest thereon to the end of the then current policy year, shall be equal to, or at the option of the owner less than the cash value at the end of said year, as shown in the table below; any existing loan hereon with accrued interest, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be paid out of such loan. The cash value shall be equal to the reserve under this policy at the end of said year, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a surrender charge which shall not be more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy. Interest on any loan will be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable at the beginning of each policy year, and this interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

PROVISIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three years, within three months after any default in the payment of premiums, the owner thereof, if there be no indebtedness hereon, be entitled to either:

(a) CASH VALUE.—To receive the cash value of this policy as stated in column (a) of the table of loan and surrender values shown below upon legal surrender hereof to the company at its home office; or

(b) EXTENDED INSURANCE.—To have the policy continued in force from the due date of the premium on which the payment has not been made, without the right to loans, for the face amount, for the period of time as stated in column (b) of the table of loan and surrender values shown below; or

(c) PAID-UP INSURANCE.—To have the policy reissued as non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for an amount in accordance with column (c) of the table of loan and surrender values as shown below.

The value of each of said options shall be equal to the reserve on this policy at date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent, without the deduction therefrom of any surrender charge. The cash value shall be at least equal to the sum, which would be the purchase price of term insurance under option (b).

The owner shall not, within three months from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c) the insurance will be automatically continued as provided in option (b).

If there be any indebtedness hereon, the cash surrender value will be reduced by the amount of such indebtedness with accrued interest to date of default, the term of extended insurance will be reduced to such period of time as will result from applying the cash surrender value less the indebtedness with accrued interest to date of default, as a single sum at the attained age of the insured for the purchase of term insurance at net premium rates for term insurance on the American Experience Table at three and one-half per cent, and the amount of paid-up insurance will be reduced in the same proportion as the indebtedness with accrued interest to date of default bears to the cash surrender value.

SURRENDER VALUES. will be increased proportionately for payment of instalments annual premiums. Surrender values for years not given in the above table shall be equal to the full reserve on the policy on the American Experience Table at three and one-half per cent interest without the deduction of any surrender charge.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within three years after the date of any default in the payment of premium, upon furnishing evidence of solvency satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums and other indebtedness to the company upon said policy with interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent per annum.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT MATURITY.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. Instalments payable under Options 2 or 3 which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under Option 1, and may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3 except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an indorsement hereon signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, the secretary or the assistant secretary whose authority will not be delegated. No agent has power to make, alter or discharge this or any other contract in relation to the matter of this insurance, to extend the time for payment of premiums, to waive any forfeiture hereof or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representation or information.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, that I am in sound health, and to the best of my knowledge and belief a proper subject for life insurance. I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner in the examination which I hereby agree to take, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for. I further agree that in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date of the contract issued hereon, the limit of recovery thereunder shall be the premium paid; and I further agree that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered and the first premium paid thereon in full while I am in good health.

*Adopted March 1, 1913. †Rates on this policy are for 240 monthly payments of $10 each.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $20,000.

American Central Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

MATURING AS ENDOWMENT AT AGE 85.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $306.50. AGE, 35.

American Central Life Insurance Company, Indianapolis, Ind., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, the amount of insurance, for the consideration and under the conditions stated herein, to the beneficiary, Mary Alston, wife of the insured, Abner Alston, or the insured himself, if this policy be in force at end of policy year nearest age eighty-five.

The entire contract between the parties hereto shall be this policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is attached and made a part hereof.

This policy shall be incontestable after the first policy year except for non-payment of premiums, and is Unrestricted from issue as to travel, residence, occupation or military or naval service.

The consideration for this policy shall be a premium, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, of three hundred, six and ⁶⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, for the period terminating February 24, 1914, and a premium of like amount payable on said date and annually thereafter during the continuance of this policy or until twenty such premiums in all shall have been paid.

All premiums are payable in advance either at the home office of the company, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the company's president, first vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by such agent. Premium after the first may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the company's rates therefor. The payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment, except as herein provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one (31) days will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per centum per annum, during which time the policy shall remain in force.

CASH LOANS.—Beginning with the third policy year, the company, at any time while the policy is in force, provided no premium be in default, will loan to the insured on the execution of a proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table of loan and surrender values for the end of the current policy year. From such loan value there will be deducted any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Interest, at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum, will be collected on the loan to the end of the current policy year and shall thereafter be payable annually in advance. The company may, at its option, defer a cash loan (except where the proceeds are to be applied in payment of premiums on policies issued by this company) for not to exceed ninety days after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness on the policy shall equal or exceed the loan value of the policy at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one (31) days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any cash loan made hereunder may be covered by loan insurance which loan insurance shall be applied, in the event this policy matures as a death claim, to the cancellation of any such cash loan. Loan insurance will be granted only under the following conditions: (a) The insured shall furnish evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the loan insurance shall not be effective until the insured shall have received a certificate thereof from the company. (b) The premium for loan insurance shall be computed at the insured's attained age at the time of making or renewing such loan insurance and shall be as indicated in the table on the back of the policy. For periods less than a year the premium for each month or fraction thereof shall be one-tenth of the premium for one year, but in no event to exceed the premium for one year. (c) Loan insurance will not be granted for a period extending beyond the due date of the next premium under this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to payment of the premium at the insured's attained age. No loan insurance will be granted or renewed after the insured shall have attained age sixty. (d) Any loan insurance in excess of the total indebtedness to the company under this policy shall be void, and the company will refund to the insured any unearned premium therefor.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—If any premium or instalment thereof on this policy be not paid in cash on or before the due date thereof or within the period of grace, the company will charge up such premium or instalment and any subsequent premium instalment not paid in cash, with interest in advance at not to exceed six per centum per annum to the end of the current policy year, against the then loan value of this policy as stated above, provided that such loan value be sufficient and provided that no request therefor has been made by the insured on the company's form at any time.

no default in payment of any premium hereunder. Any premium or premiums not so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan in accordance with the "Cash Loans" provision above. Such request may be made at any time in writing by the insured, provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan which may have been previously made hereunder.

AMOUNT OF INSURANCE is payable to the beneficiary immediately upon receipt of proof of death of the insured.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default in premium payment, upon written application by the insured and presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated, upon the payment of arrears of premiums with compound interest thereon at the rate of five per centum per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If there be no existing assignment of the policy made as provided, the insured may, with the consent of the company, at any time while the policy is in force, change the beneficiary by filing with the company at its home office a request therefor, duly acknowledged. Such change shall take effect when entered on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured unless otherwise provided herein.

MODE OF PAYMENT.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the amount payable as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment in equal annual installments as provided on the fourth page hereof.

PAID-UP.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy (including unpaid portion of the premium for the policy year current at death) will be satisfied in any settlement or payment under this policy.

MODIFICATION.—No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an endorsement hereon signed by the president, the secretary, the actuary or the secretary. No modification or change shall be made in this policy except such as is in accordance with the laws of the state in which the policy is made. No agent has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this policy or other policy, to extend the time for paying a premium, to waive any forfeiture or to modify the company by making any promise or making or receiving any representation or agreement.

STATEMENTS OF THE INSURED.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be a condition of the policy unless it be contained in the written application.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction during the first policy year, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; but in such event the company shall not be liable for the premium paid.

ADJUSTMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount of the death benefit payable shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless the assignment be made in duplicate and both copies filed with the company at its office, when one copy will be returned bearing the company's acknowledgement. The company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—The insured may elect at the end of the third policy year or at any time thereafter during the period of grace following any default in the payment of premiums, either (a) to surrender this policy at the home office of the company for its cash value; or (b) to surrender this policy at the home office of the company for a paid-up insurance payable at the same time and under the same conditions, as to premium payments, as this policy, or (c) to have the full amount of this policy continued in force as extended term insurance from the date of such default.

CASH VALUE.—The cash value shall be the sum indicated in the table of loan and surrender values. It shall be at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended term insurance. At the option of the company, payment of the cash value may be deferred for not to exceed ninety days after application therefor is made.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—The amount of paid-up insurance shall, in the absence of indebtedness, be the sum indicated in the table of loan and surrender values. If there be any indebtedness the amount of paid-up insurance otherwise available shall be reduced in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such paid-up insurance.

EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—The period of the extended term insurance shall, in the absence of indebtedness, be the period indicated in the table of loan and surrender values, and, if the insured survive the end of such period, there shall be paid him in cash the amount of pure endowment indicated in said table. If there be any indebtedness the same shall be deducted from the sum of the net values of the extended term insurance and pure endowment otherwise available and the amount of insurance continued for the period purchased by the insured shall be applied as a net single premium; provided, that, if such difference be in favor of the insured, the net single premium which will purchase term insurance for the period in the absence of indebtedness, such excess shall be applied as a net single premium for the purchase of pure endowment payable to the insured in cash if living at the end of such period.

IF THE INSURED SHALL NOT, during the period of grace after default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash value as provided in option (a) or for a policy of paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), the amount of the death benefit will be continued in force as extended term insurance as provided in option (c). The cash values and net single premiums herein mentioned shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum.

4. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary above designated may be changed at any time, provided the policy is not then assigned by the insured and is then returned to said company with a request for such change duly signed by the insured alone, and such change shall take effect on endorsement of the same hereon by the company.

For conditions 5, 7, 8, 9, 15-21, 23 and 24 see 6, 8, 9, 10, 21-24, 26-28, 29 and 30 of preceding policy.

6. CONDITIONS REGARDING PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured, a receipt for which payment shall be the delivery of the policy. If any subsequent premium be not paid when due then this policy shall absolutely cease; except that a grace of thirty-one days, during which time the policy remains in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, provided that with the payment of such premium interest at the rate of six per cent per annum is also paid thereon for the days of grace taken.

No renewal premium shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor bearing the original or lithographed signature of the secretary or assistant secretary of this company and countersigned by the agent.

10. TERM MAY BE RENEWED.—This policy may upon the expiration of seven years from its date, if then in force, be renewed and continued for one additional term of seven years without medical re-examination by paying during such term on the same days and months herein specified for such payments during the first term, the premium for the insuring age attained by the insured at the commencement of such term, as shown in the table of premiums.

11. MAY BE EXCHANGED FOR INSURANCE OF ANOTHER KIND.—This policy may upon any anniversary of its date be exchanged without medical re-examination for any level premium whole life or endowment policy then being issued by the company at the attained insuring age of the insured covering any hazard covered by this policy on payment of the premium required for such policy at the advanced age of the insured; or it may be exchanged for such a policy now issued by said company, which shall bear the same date as this policy and be issued at the same age, on payment of the difference between the premiums already paid hereon for an amount of insurance equalling that of the new policy and those that would have been required under the new policy with six per cent interest, provided in either case that the premiums required by such new policy shall be paid at the times stipulated for payment of premiums under this policy, that the issue of the new policy will not violate any law, that application for such new policy be made and this policy returned to the home office of said company before default in the payment of premium and within seven years from its date, that the amount of insurance shall not be increased or the premium rate per one thousand dollars of insurance be less than that required by this policy, and that if such new policy is on the instalment plan, the present value at the beginning of the instalment period of all the instalment payments required of the company shall be considered the amount of insurance under such policy.

12. BENEFIT IN EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—Twelve months after proof is received at the home office of the company that from causes originating after the delivery of this policy the insured has become wholly, continuously and permanently disabled and will for life be unable to perform any work or conduct any business for compensation or profit, provided proof is received while this policy is in full force and before the insured has attained the age of sixty years, then upon request of the insured and in lieu of all other values, benefits and privileges herein provided, all premiums to the expiration of said twelve months having been paid, the company will without further payment of premium pay to the said insured in full settlement of this policy one-twentieth of the sum insured, and will pay the same amount annually thereafter until twenty such payments in all have been made; or will pay the amount of annuity shown by the following table of annuities for the age of the insured at the last birthday preceding the receipt of such proof, and the same amount annually thereafter during a fixed period of nine years (making ten annuity payments certain) and for as many full years longer as the insured shall live, provided that at every such annuity payment after the tenth satisfactory proof is furnished that the insured is then living. Unless otherwise requested by the insured and endorsed hereon by the company the company will, if desired, in event of the death of the insured after disability payments commence, pay in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured the commuted value of the payments yet to be made calculated on the basis of three and one-half per cent interest.

For table of annuities see page 27.

The company will extend the privileges and benefits for permanent total disability above described to cover the irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or of both feet or of such loss of one hand and one foot, all from causes originating after the delivery of this policy and before default in the payment of premium provided that such loss occurs and proof is furnished to the company while this policy is in full force and before the insured attains the age of sixty years.

Any benefit for disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured when desired within one year after the receipt of the proof.

13. REINSTATEMENT.—Within five years after default in payment of premium, if this policy has not been surrendered, it may be reinstated in the same position as if such default had not occurred upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

14. MODES OF PAYING THE INSURANCE.—If the policy is not assigned by the insured the insured may elect, or the payee after the death of the insured without such election may elect, by written notice filed at the home office of the company, before any payment on the sum insured has been made, to have the net sum payable by the company under this policy paid by one of the following modes in lieu of payment in one sum, provided the one sum to which every such payee would otherwise be entitled amounts to five hundred dollars or more. Any mode of payment involving life instalments shall apply only to personal payees, the right of any payee contingent upon the death of a previous payee after the death of the insured, shall be only such of the instalments certain as remain unpaid at the death of the last previous payee, and any election shall take effect only upon an endorsement of the same hereon by the company. The first instalment or annuity by either of these modes will be paid when the one sum becomes payable as herein-before provided, and the remaining instalments will be payable annually thereafter on the anniversary of the payment of the first instalment. Under the third and fourth modes the attained age of any payee will be reckoned as that of the last birthday of such payee preceding the death of the insured and satisfactory evidence of the date of birth of the payee, or payees, must be furnished before the instalment payments commence.

22. NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy shall not be entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

OPTIONAL ACCUMULATIVE POLICY—ORDINARY LIFE, NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $268.30. AGE, 35.

The Ætina Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., hereby agrees to pay for the surrender of this policy at its home office the sum of ten thousand dollars (herein called the original insurance), together with such additions thereto, reckoned to the nearest dollar for each one thousand dollars of original insurance, as are hereinafter provided, upon receipt of due proof of the death of Richard Roe of Windsor, county of Tolland, State of Connecticut (herein called the insured).

At the commencement of each policy year after the first if the original premium for the current policy year has been paid the insurance hereunder will be automatically increased by the addition of six and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars for each one thousand dollars of original insurance and by the further addition of three and one-half per cent of the entire additions existing at the end of the year next preceding, if any.

The payment of a semi-annual or quarterly premium will entitle the insurance at the beginning of the period covered by the premium paid to the same proportion of the above provided increase for the payment of a full year's premium that the period covered by the payment bears to a full year.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to all the conditions, benefits and privileges described on the subsequent pages hereof, and which are hereby made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof the said Ætina Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary (or assistant secretary) signed this contract in the city of Hartford and State of Connecticut, this twelfth day of June, 1914.

CONSIDERATION.—The foregoing agreement is made in consideration of the application for this policy, which application is hereby made a part of this contract and a copy of which is attached hereto, and in further consideration of the annual premium of two hundred, sixty-eight and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars (herein called the original premium) to be paid to the company in advance at its home office or to its agent at or before five o'clock p. m. of the twelfth day of June in each and every year during the life of the insured.

DEATH BENEFICIARY—LIFE BENEFICIARY.—The said sum insured shall be payable to the death beneficiary as follows: Mary Roe, wife of the insured, if she survives the insured; otherwise, to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, less any unpaid premium for the current policy year; the cash value or the loan value hereinafter described shall be payable to the party herein called the life beneficiary as follows: the insured, and all such payments shall be subject to the rights herein granted for varying the provisions of this policy and to any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including all loans made by the company, as herein provided.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, before default in the payment of premium and before the policy becomes a claim, the company will loan upon the sole security of this policy at six per cent interest payable annually in advance, the whole, or, at the option of the borrower, any part of the cash value of this policy at the end of the current policy year, less all indebtedness to the company hereon, and less also any unpaid portion of the premium and interest on the loan for the remainder of the current policy year. For the purpose of such loan the policy shall be returned to the company together with a proper assignment of the same, and said assignment may be executed by the life beneficiary alone provided the interest of such beneficiary is not then assigned.

NON-FORFEITING VALUES.—The value of this policy to be applied as hereinafter provided shall be the reserve hereon according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less a charge of not more than two and one-half per cent of the original insurance (which charge will gradually decrease and after the fourteenth policy year will in no case exceed one twentieth of one per cent of the original insurance) and less also any indebtedness to the company secured by this policy.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon and any subsequent premium becomes due and is unpaid the right to further additions will then cease and the value above described will, without action by the owners, be applied to extend this policy as paid-up term insurance, without the right to loans, for the total sum then insured, less any indebtedness hereon to the company; or

PAID-UP POLICY.—If requested by the life beneficiary and assignee, if any, and if this policy is surrendered to the company within two months after the first unpaid premium becomes due said value will be applied to the purchase of a paid-up policy payable at the death of the insured. The period of term insurance or the amount of paid-up policy will be such as said value will purchase used as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured calculated by said table of mortality and rate of interest. The extended term insurance or the paid-up policy above provided will be entitled to a cash surrender value of the entire reserve existing thereon at the time of surrender according to said table of mortality and rate of interest, and the paid-up policy will be entitled to a loan equal to its cash value upon the conditions herein prescribed for a loan under this policy.

CASH VALUE.—In lieu of the extended insurance or paid-up policy above provided the company will, under the conditions applicable to the issue of said paid-up policy, pay said value in cash.

TABLE A, NO. 1 AND NO. 2.—The amount of insurance and the non-forfeiting values given in these tables are calculated on the basis of one thousand dollars of original insurance; the amount of insurance, the paid-up policy or the cash value for original insurance of a greater or less amount than the one thousand dollars will be proportionate. The non-forfeiting values apply at the end of completed policy years and are given on the assumption that there is no indebtedness hereon to the company. Each full quarter of a year that has elapsed after the end of any policy year and for which quarter year the premium due has been paid will increase the cash value and the paid-up policy, or the amount of the extended insurance, one-fourth of the increase for the full year. The term of the extended insurance will be reckoned from the time when the first unpaid premium becomes due and will not vary with the amount of the insurance. Values provided for in the policy and not shown in either of these tables will be computed on the basis of the entire reserve. No deduction from these values will be made for a surrender charge.

TABLE A, NO. 1.—This part of the table applies only when there has been no reduction of the original premium as provided in the following paragraph. The amounts of insurance and the cash or loan values shown in this part of the table include the amount of additions made hereto.

The entire loan value for the end of any policy year will be available during the same year if the premium for that year has been paid.

PREMIUMS MAY BE REDUCED AND INSURANCE ADDITIONS SURRENDERED.—At the expiration of the second policy year or of any subsequent period for which the original premium has been paid, if the right to future additions hereto is surrendered to the company, the company will, if requested by the life beneficiary upon return of this policy for proper endorsement, pay the full additions then existing hereon, and the sum insured will then be reduced to the original insurance, and the premium thereafter required hereon will be two hundred, eight and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars in place of the amount of premium hereinbefore written. Upon endorsement of such change the values shown in Table A, No. 1, will then be discontinued and the values shown in Table A, No. 2, will be substituted therefor. If there is an indebtedness hereon to the company when such change is made the additions then payable by the company will be applied to reduce the indebtedness to the maximum cash value of this policy after the above reduction is effected, and the remainder of the additions, if any, will be paid in cash.

TABLE A, No. 2.—The amount of insurance and the cash and loan values shown in this part of the table do not include any additions.

The entire loan value for the end of any policy year will be available during the same year if the premium for that year has been paid.

EFFECT OF INDEBTEDNESS ON NON-FORFEITING VALUES SHOWN BY ABOVE TABLES.—The cash value of this policy as shown in either of the above tables will be decreased by the amount of any indebtedness to the company secured by this policy, and the paid-up policy will be decreased in the same proportion that such indebtedness bears to the cash value.

NON-PARTICIPATING.—This policy shall not be entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium or premium note after payment of premiums for three full years, then without any action upon the part of the insured this policy shall be extended as a policy of paid-up term insurance for the full amount thereof and for such a term, beginning at the due date of the premium, as that the net value of the insurance shall equal the reserve of this policy at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the sum insured and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy.

CASH VALUE.—If, however, this policy shall be legally surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from the date of such default, the company will pay therefor in cash a sum equal to the reserve thereon at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the sum insured by the policy and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy.

PAID-UP VALUES.—Or, upon written application therefor made to the company at its home office within one month from the date of such default, accompanied by a legal surrender of this policy, the company will issue in exchange for the policy a policy of paid-up life insurance in such a sum as that the net value thereof shall equal the reserve of this policy at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount of this policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company upon this policy.

BASIS OF GUARANTEED VALUES.—The table above written shows the net cash value after all deductions and the amount or term of paid-up insurance that will be allowed for the surrender of or in extension of this policy as below provided at the end of each policy year for ten years, upon the assumption that there be no indebtedness to the company upon the policy. All the reserves and net values above mentioned will be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum.

LOANS.—At any time when this policy shall be in force after the payment of three full years' premiums, the company will loan to the insured (or to the owner of the policy, if assigned), upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof, all or any part of the cash value of the policy at the end of the current policy year less any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid portion of the full premium for the current policy year. Such loans shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, payable in advance. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value. The table above written shows the loan value of the policy at various times. At its option the company may defer the making of such loan for sixty days after its receipt of application therefor, unless the proceeds of such loan are to be used solely in the payment of a premium on this policy.

Amarillo National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING
AMOUNT $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309. AGE, 35.

The Amarillo National Life Insurance Company of Amarillo, Texas, will pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in Amarillo, Texas, to Mary Doe, wife, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured, or if no designated beneficiary survive, then to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, upon receipt at its said home office of due proof of the claimant's right and of the death of John Doe, the insured, during the continuance of this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may have the beneficiary of this policy changed at any time during its continuance in force, provided it be not assigned, by filing with the company a written request for such change, accompanied by the policy; but such change will take effect only upon indorsement of the same on the policy by the company at its home office.

This policy contains all the standard provisions required by the laws of the State of Texas and contains no provisions prohibited by the laws of the State of Texas.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium or premium note after payment of premiums for three full years, then without any action upon the part of the insured this policy shall be extended as a policy of paid-up term insurance for the full amount thereof and for such a term, beginning at the due date of the premium, as that the net value of the insurance shall equal the reserve of this policy at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the sum insured and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy.

CASH VALUE.—If, however, this policy shall be legally surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from the date of such default, the company will pay therefor in cash a sum equal to the reserve thereon at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the sum insured by the policy and less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy.

PAID-UP VALUES.—Or, upon written application therefor made to the company at its home office within one month from the date of such default, accompanied by a legal surrender of this policy, the company will issue in exchange for the policy a policy of paid-up life insurance in such a sum as that the net value thereof shall equal the reserve of this policy at the date of such default less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount of this policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company upon this policy.

BASIS OF GUARANTEED VALUES.—The table above written shows the net cash value after all deductions and the amount or term of paid-up insurance that will be allowed for the surrender of or in extension of this policy as below provided at the end of each policy year for ten years, upon the assumption that there be no indebtedness to the company upon the policy. All the reserves and net values above mentioned will be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum.

LOANS.—At any time when this policy shall be in force after the payment of three full years' premiums, the company will loan to the insured (or to the owner of the policy, if assigned), upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof, all or any part of the cash value of the policy at the end of the current policy year less any existing indebtedness on the policy and any unpaid portion of the full premium for the current policy year. Such loans shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, payable in advance. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value. The table above written shows the loan value of the policy at various times. At its option the company may defer the making of such loan for ninety days after its receipt of application therefor, unless the proceeds of such loan are to be used solely in the payment of a premium on this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After two years from its date this policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not theretofore surrendered, may be reinstated at any time within three years after default in the payment of a premium or premium note, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears of premiums and other indebtedness with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, which hereby is made a part of the contract and a copy of which is hereto annexed. The policy and application constitute the entire contract between the parties thereto. No person in behalf of the company, except its president, vice-president or secretary, is or will be authorized to make, alter or discharge this contract or any provision thereof. (2) All statements made by the insured in his application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. (3) Every assignment of this policy shall be executed in duplicate and one of the duplicate copies shall be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. (4) In any settlement of this policy as a death claim, the company shall be entitled to deduct any indebtedness owing to it upon the policy, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the full policy year current at the date of the death of the insured; and it shall be entitled to set off against any sum due by it any sum owing to it by the holder of the policy or the insured, whether due or not due. (5) If the age of the insured be misstated herein, this insurance shall be of such amount only as the premium paid would have purchased at the true age, and under the same table of rates.

PREMIUMS.—(1) This policy is issued in consideration of the payment at or before its delivery of a premium of Three hundred nine dollars for one year's term insurance beginning with the date below mentioned and in consideration of the payment in advance on or before the first day of each July of a renewal premium of three hundred nine dollars, until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid. (2) All premiums are payable at the company's home office in Amarillo, Texas, but may be paid elsewhere to a duly authorized agent in exchange for the company's receipt signed by its president or secretary and countersigned by the agent designated. (3) The company will accept payment of any premium within one calendar month after the date of its maturity as specified in the policy, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per centum, and during such month of grace the policy shall remain in force. (4) Failure to pay any premium, or any note given for any premium, in full within the time allowed for such payment by the policy or the note, shall cause all insurance hereunder to cease and determine ipso facto and immediately, save as herein otherwise provided.

In testimony whereof, The Amarillo National Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed in its behalf by its president and its secretary, at its office in Amarillo, Texas, as of the first day of July, 1913.

IMMEDIATE PAYMENT COUPON.—The Amarillo National Life Insurance Company, of Amarillo, Texas, will pay to the holder of its policy No. 9,999 the sum of two hundred dollars, upon presentation of this coupon after the death of the person insured under said policy while the same is in force for its full amount; provided this coupon shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating the fact of the death of the insured and the time, place and cause thereof; such affidavit to be duly executed by the holder of the policy and by any reputable physician, postmaster, or president or cashier of an incorporated bank, residing in the county in which the insured died. Such payment shall apply upon account of any sum payable under said policy and shall be made and accepted without prejudice to the company's right to contest its further liability under said policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

In behalf of myself and of every person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued in consequence of this application, I hereby represent and agree: (1) That all statements and answers contained in either section of this application are full, complete and true as therein written; (2) that this application comprising two sections, and the policy or policies issued in consequence thereof, shall constitute the entire contract of insurance, and the company shall not be bound in any way by any promise or statement made by or to any agent or other person, unless such promise, statement or information be reduced to writing and submitted to the company in this application; (3) that the policy issued in consequence of this application shall go into effect until it shall be actually delivered to me, and the first premium thereon shall be actually paid to the company all during my life and good health, but when the policy shall be so delivered and paid for it shall relate back to its date and the first insurance year shall begin with the date of the policy; (4) that all provisions of law prohibiting or exempting physicians and surgeons from testifying or disclosing information are waived in favor of the company; (5) that I will not die within the first two insurance years from self-destruction, suicide or insane.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT MATURITY.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each thousand dollars of said net sum. Instalments payable under Options 2 or 3 which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may, on any interest date, receive the amount yet due under Option 1, and may, at any time, receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3 except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any case except by an indorsement hereon signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, the secretary or the assistant secretary whose authority will not be delegated. No agent has power to make, alter or discharge this or any other contract in relation to the matter of this insurance, to extend the time for payment of premiums, to waive any forfeiture hereof or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representation or information.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, that I am in sound health, and to the best of my knowledge and belief a proper subject for life insurance. I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner in the examination which I hereby agree to take, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for. I further agree that in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date of the contract issued hereon, the limit of recovery thereunder shall be the premiums paid; and I further agree that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered and the first premium paid thereon in full while I am in good health.

The reserve under this policy shall be computed on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum. The net value of each benefit in the table is equal to such reserve less a surrender charge in no case in excess of two and one-half per centum of the amount of insurance under this policy. If fractional premiums in addition to premiums for whole years be paid, due allowance will be made in the above benefits. Values for each year after the twentieth are shown in the table will be equivalent to the full reserve. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured shall be entitled, without the consent of the beneficiary, to receive every benefit, expense every right and every other privilege conferred on the insured by this policy.

To assure that the American Central Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed as of the twenty-fourth day of February, 1914.

THIS POLICY IS SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS: At any time while this policy is in force, should the insured die, the company's term therefore shall expire, and being payable in one sum, the amount payable to the beneficiary as a death benefit shall be payable in equal annual installments of any number from ten to twenty-five, or in equal annual installments for twenty years to continue so long as the insured shall live. The insurance coverage shall not be reduced, and the beneficiary shall have the right to a natural person or to the amount payable as a policy shall be less than $1000. The amount of each installment shall be ascertained in the following table, which is based on $1000 net worth and which will apply to the amount payable in this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby make application for insurance in American Central Life Insurance Company of Indianapolis, Ind., and agree that the statements and agreements herein and the statements to the medical examiner in Part II of application are made for the purpose of securing this insurance and declare that all such statements are complete and true without exception unless such exception is indicated. I desire policy to be issued as of date February 24, 1913, and I agree that the period to cover which the first premium is paid shall end one year after said date, and that each insurance year shall end on successive anniversaries of said date. I also agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect until the payment of the first premium thereon, and the approval of this application by the company. I further agree that any physician may disclose to the American Central Life Insurance Company, its successors or assigns, any facts or information communicated to or acquired by him as my physician, and I waive any and all provisions of law which now, or may hereafter, exist exempting or prohibiting any physician from disclosing any facts acquired in his professional capacity or rendering such physician incompetent as a witness. I further agree that no action shall be brought against the company under policy issued on this application after the lapse of six years from the time when the cause of such action shall accrue.

terest, if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear the same rate of interest. The company will deduct, however, from said loan value any amount of indebtedness on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any loan or pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy and any existing additions thereto at the time of said failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. A copy of the loan agreement which is also a receipt for the policy will be furnished to the insured.

OPTIONAL LIFE ANNUITY.—On the anniversary nearest the age of sixty-five of the insured, this policy may be surrendered, and the reserve will then purchase an annuity of $820 payable annually during the life of the insured, the first payment to be deferred one year.

REINSTATEMENT PRIVILEGE.—This policy may be reinstated (unless previously surrendered) at any time after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor on the company's form and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due; and provided also that any indebtedness to the company at date of default with interest thereon to date of reinstatement shall be a first lien against this policy. In event of such reinstatement the insured may execute a loan agreement for all or part of the maximum loan value of this policy at the date of reinstatement which will be accepted by the company in lieu of a like amount in cash if all past due premiums, interest or other indebtedness in excess thereof shall have been paid in cash.

INSTALLMENT PAYMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment in a single sum to payment by limited or continuous annual installments as provided on the fourth page hereof, or may provide that the amount of this policy, or any portion thereof, may remain with the company until withdrawn by the beneficiary, who shall receive annually from the company three and one-half per cent interest on the said amount or the portion thereof remaining with the company from the time of the death of the insured until such withdrawal. Unless the privilege shall have been given in writing by the insured and endorsed on this policy by the company, the beneficiary shall not have the right to commute or assign any installment payments hereunder.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

1. POWERS NOT DELEGATED.—Only the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary, auditor or cashier has power in behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.

2. MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount of insurance payable hereunder shall be adjusted either by crediting the company or the insured with the difference in premiums with three and one-half per cent annual compound interest according to the company's published rate at date of issue, or by the payment of the amount of insurance which the premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured, such adjustment to be made in accordance with the law relating thereto in the state where this policy is delivered. But the Iowa law applicable to such cases shall govern in any state which has no legal provision relating thereto.

3. ASSIGNMENT OF POLICY.—Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

4. CONDITIONS OF PAYMENT.—This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Des Moines, Ia. Due proofs of death must be furnished to the company at the home office, which proofs shall comprise satisfactory statements establishing the claim. No action shall be maintainable on this policy unless brought within six years from the time that the beneficiary or claimant shall have had knowledge of the death of the insured. Any indebtedness to the company hereon including any balance of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder.

5. RESERVE VALUATION AND DEPOSIT.—The reserve on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method with any modification thereof required by the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered, and all calculations hereunder for the ascertainment of reserve, paid-up insurance, loan and surrender values shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. The legal reserve on this policy shall be invested in approved securities and deposited with the State of Iowa as required by law.

6. THE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herefor (a copy of which application is attached hereto) constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

7. RESERVATIONS TO INSURED.—This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him by this policy.

In witness whereof, The American Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary, executed this policy at Des Moines, Ia., this first day of September, 1910.

INSTALLMENT BENEFITS.—The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these installment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable as provided on page (1) hereof.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43.91 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary.

The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable as provided on page (1) hereof. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE, DECREASING PREMIUM—

NON-PARTICIPATING

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.

AGE, 35.

The American Life Insurance Company of Des Moines, Ia. hereby promises and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Roe, of Des Moines, Ia., the insured, to Mary Roe, wife of the insured, subject to the terms and provisions of this contract.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the written application of the insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred sixty-nine dollars, being the premium to provide term insurance for one year from September 1st, 1910, to September 1st, 1911, which is the first policy year, and of the further payment in advance of the renewal premium specified in the marginal table on this page on or before the first day of September in every year thereafter until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

NOTE.—For provisions relating to grace, payment of premiums, reinstatement, privileges and conditions, change of beneficiary, optional life annuity, general provisions and instalment benefits, see preceding policy.

NON-FORFEITURE CONDITIONS.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable after premiums have been paid for three full years. If any renewal premium thereafter is not paid before the expiration of the period of grace herein allowed, this policy will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values as follows: (1) If there is no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will be for the term specified in Column (3) of Table A on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the unpaid premium.

In lieu of such term insurance upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of any unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up life policy for the amount specified in Column 2 of said Table A, or (b) pay the guaranteed cash value specified in Column (1) of said Table A, or policy may be continued and the company will grant an automatic premium loan, as follows: (c) Upon the written request of the insured and his assigns, if any, made prior to default in premium payment, the company will charge as an indebtedness against this policy, the premium or premiums thereafter falling due during the time any such request shall remain unrevoked, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided the then maximum cash surrender value stipulated in said Table A less five per cent annual interest shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium loan may be repaid at any time and the policy continued without furnishing evidence of insurability. The said non-forfeiture benefits shall be decreased proportionately by any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy on the same basis used in the calculation of the said benefits. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value of this policy after three or more annual premiums have been paid, shall be equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder and shall be at least equal to the present value of the automatic extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options shall be equal to the said reserve at the time when either of the said options shall become effective, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. In case of default in the payment of a semi-annual, quarterly, bi-monthly, or monthly premium, the said reserve shall be computed so as to include the fractional part of the current year for which premiums have been paid and the non-forfeiture values shall be correspondingly increased over the values for the end of the policy year last expired.

OPTIONS WHEN FULL PREMIUMS ARE PAID.—The option is hereby given to the insured to continue to pay the full premium rate provided for the first and second years of this policy, in which event the values named in Table A of page (3) hereof will be increased by pure endowment additions to those named in Table B of page (3) hereof, and the guaranteed values and options shown in said Table B, shall then be available to the insured under the same conditions as those provided for Table A of page (3) hereof. The automatic premium loan option provided in non-forfeiture conditions shall also be applicable if full premiums are paid. If the premiums on this policy be paid without reduction for at least three full years, the insured may at any time thereafter reduce his premium payments to those stipulated on the first page hereof, in which event the company will pay the insured immediately in cash, the difference between the decreasing premiums stipulated on said first page and the actual premiums paid with four per cent annual compound interest, provided, however, that if a loan shall have been granted under Table B, the amount thereof, if any, in excess of the loan value under Table A at the time of such refund shall be deducted from the amount payable to the insured and credited to such loan. If premiums shall be paid without reduction for twenty years, the company guarantees that the paid-up endowment addition at the end of the twentieth year will purchase $3040 additional paid-up insurance, subject however, to satisfactory evidence of insurability, or if policy is then surrendered the cash value shall be equal to twenty full annual premiums hereon, or policy may be continued as paid-up insurance for its face value and the pure endowment addition will be paid in cash.

INSTALLMENT PAYMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment in one sum to payment by limited or continuous annual instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof, or may provide that the amount of this policy, or any portion thereof, may remain with the company until withdrawn by the beneficiary, who shall receive annually from the company three and one-half per cent interest on the said amount or the portion thereof remaining with the company from the time of the death of the insured until such withdrawal.

CASH LOANS ON SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY.—At any time after three full years premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force and on the sole security thereof, the company will loan on the proper assignment of this policy, a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, at five per cent interest payable annually in advance, which interest, if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear the same rate of interest. The company will deduct, however, from said loan value any existing indebtedness on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any loan or pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of said failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. A copy of the loan agreement which is also a receipt for the policy will be furnished to the insured.

TWENTY-YEAR ENDOWMENT—MONTHLY INSTALMENTS—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $12,000 (COMMUTED, $8,650).

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $392.50.

AGE, 35.

The American Life Insurance Company of Des Moines, Ia., hereby promises and agrees to pay twelve thousand dollars in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments of fifty dollars, each; the first instalment to be paid upon the receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Roe, of Des Moines, Ia., the insured, and a like amount on the same date in each succeeding month until two hundred and forty instalments shall have been paid to Mary Roe, wife of the insured, subject to the terms and provisions of this contract.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the written application of the insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred ninety-two dollars and fifty cents, being the premium to provide the legal reserve and term insurance for one year from September 1st, 1910, to September 1st, 1911, which is the first policy year, and of the further payment in advance of the renewal premium of three hundred ninety-two dollars and fifty cents on or before the first day of September in every year thereafter until renewal premiums for nineteen years shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.—If the insured is living on the first day of September, 1930, which is the end of the endowment period of this policy, and if all premiums have been paid to said date, the insured may then surrender this policy under one of the following options of settlement:

(1) Receive the guaranteed cash value equal to commuted value of this policy, $8650; or (2) leave with the company the said guaranteed cash value of $8650 upon which the company agrees to pay three and one-half per cent annual interest, or on the portion thereof remaining with the company until the full amount shall have been withdrawn; or (3) receive a paid-up life policy payable in a single sum for $15,276 or (4) receive a paid-up life policy payable in a single sum for $8650. Also receive in cash, $3754, or (5) continue this policy and receive payment in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments, the first instalment of $50 to be paid to the insured at the maturity of this policy and a like amount on the same date in each succeeding month until two hundred and forty instalments shall have been paid to the insured, his executor, administrators or assigns, with the privilege of commutation as hereinafter provided. Or (6) Receive the guaranteed cash value, equal to commuted value of this policy, converted into an annuity upon the life of the insured, or upon the life of any person designated by the insured.

Any annuity granted pursuant to the provisions hereof shall be based on the annuity rates of the company then in force, and any paid-up life insurance, in excess of the principal sum insured shall be subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company.

NOTE.—For provisions relating to grace, payment of premiums, privileges and conditions, change of beneficiary, reinstatement privilege, general provisions and installment benefits, see first policy given.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—This policy is automatically non-forfeitable after premiums have been paid for three full years. If any renewal premium thereafter is not paid before the expiration of the period of grace herein allowed, this policy will, without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, continue as non-participating paid-up term insurance for the principal sum insured, but without loan or surrender values, as follows: (1) If there is no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will be for the term specified in Column 3 of the table on the third page hereof, such term to be reckoned from the due date of the annual premium and a pure endowment, if the amount specified in the same column will be paid in cash to the insured if living at the end of such term. In lieu of such term insurance and pure endowment upon the insured's written request and local surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of the annual premium, the insured may elect to receive a non-participating paid-up endowment payable at the expiration and due date of said table provided in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments, the first instalment of the endowment period of this policy, or of the first day of the following calendar year, whichever period, or (2) pay the guaranteed cash value specified in Column 4 of said table to the insured and continue the policy and the company will guarantee the continuing maximum loan, as follows: (3) Upon the written request of the insured and the company, the insured may, prior to default in premium payment, the company will advance the full amount of such loan, the premium or premiums thereafter being paid during the time any such request shall remain unrevoked, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided the then maximum cash surrender value specified in this policy less five per cent annual interest shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium loan may be repaid at any time and the policy continued without furnishing evidence of insurability.

(2) If there is any indebtedness to the company, such indebtedness shall be deducted from the net value of the term insurance and pure endowment provided for in Column 3 of the table on page (3) hereof, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, and the insurance will be for such term, reckoning from the due date of the unpaid premium, within the endowment period of this policy, as the excess of such net value over the indebtedness will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid. Should such excess be more than sufficient to provide such insurance to the end of the endowment period, the balance after providing such insurance shall be applied at net single premium rates by the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid to the purchase of a pure endowment payable to the insured if living at the end of such period. In lieu of such term insurance and pure endowment, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from the due date of any unpaid premium, the company will (a) issue a non-participating paid-up endowment policy payable in two hundred and forty equal monthly instalments at the end of the endowment period of this policy, or at the death of the insured if it occurs during such period, for such amount as the excess above referred to will purchase at the insured's then attained age at net single premium rates by the Mortality Table and interest rate aforesaid, or (b) pay the guaranteed cash value specified in Column 1 of the table on the third page hereof less such indebtedness. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value of this policy after three or more annual premiums have been paid, shall be equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder and shall be at least equal to the present value of the automatic extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options shall be equal to the said reserve at the time when either of the said options shall become effective, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. In case of default in the payment of a semi-annual, quarterly, bi-monthly or monthly premium, the said reserve shall be computed so as to include the fractional part of the current year for which premiums have been paid and the non-forfeiture values shall be correspondingly increased over the values for the end of the policy year last expired.

INSTALMENT PAYMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death claim from payment as provided on page (1) hereof to payment by limited or continuous annual instalments as provided on the fourth page hereof, or may provide that the commuted value of this policy, or any portion thereof, may remain with the company until withdrawn by the beneficiary, who shall receive annually from the company three and one-half per cent interest on the said amount or the portion thereof remaining with the company from the time of the death of the insured until such withdrawal. Unless the privilege shall have been given in writing by the insured and endorsed on this policy by the company, the beneficiary shall not have the right to commute or assign any instalment payments hereunder. At the maturity of this policy the insured may substitute any instalment payment option on page (4) hereof in lieu of the options on the first page of this policy, any continuous instalment payment to be based on the attained age of the insured; and if any instalment payment option provided in this policy is selected the insured shall have the right at any time to surrender the policy and receive in cash the full reserve or commuted value of any fixed instalments remaining unpaid, computed on the basis of three and one-half per cent annual interest, and the said commutation privilege shall also be vested in the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

CASH LOANS ON SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force and on the sole security thereof, the company will loan on the proper assignment of this policy, a sum equal to or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, at five per cent interest payable annually in advance, which interest, if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear the same rate of interest. The company will deduct, however, from said loan value any existing indebtedness on this policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any loan or pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of said failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company. A copy of the loan agreement which is also a receipt for the policy will be furnished to the insured.

* The guaranteed paid-up endowment insurance provided in Column 2 of the above table will be paid in two hundred and forty equal monthly installments at the death of the insured or to the insured if living at the end of the endowment period. The extended insurance provided in Column 3 of said table will be paid in two hundred and forty equal monthly installments at the death of the insured, and the pure endowment provided in the same column will be paid in a single sum to the insured if living at the end of the endowment period. The loan or cash value provided in Column 1 of said table will be paid in a single sum subject to the provisions of this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: (1) That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company at the home office, and the premium has actually been paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agents during my lifetime and good health. (2) That no statements made by or to the person soliciting or taking this application or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless the same shall be reduced to writing and submitted to the officers of the company at the home office in this application. (3) That the restrictions upon the insured, and the limitation of the company's liability contained in any policy issued on this application are hereby ratified and accepted and shall be conclusive upon the insured and on all persons who may have or claim any interest in the said policy. (4) That I reserve the right to change the beneficiary at any time if a policy is issued subject to the regulations of the company. (5) That the contract contained in any policy that may be issued shall be construed according to the laws of the State of Iowa, the place of said contract being agreed to be at the home office of the company. (6) That all premiums shall be paid at the home office of the company at Des Moines, Ia. (7) That any policy that may be issued in pursuance of this application shall be in consideration of the agreements herein contained.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

American National Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE GUARANTEED OPTION POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

American National Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand ($10,000) dollars to his sister Mary Austin, beneficiary, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured as hereinafter provided, at the home office of the company, immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of Stephen F. Austin, the insured, while this policy is in force:

And further agrees to pay ten thousand ($10,000) dollars in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred ($500) dollars each, in the event of the total and permanent loss of sight of both eyes, or loss of both arms, or both legs, or one arm and one leg, or one eye and one limb, of the insured, or if the insured should become totally and permanently disabled to such an extent as to render it impossible for him to engage in any gainful occupation whatever, such total and permanent disability occurring before the insured has reached the age of sixty years, and this payment being in lieu of all other benefits designated in this policy, the sum of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred ($500) dollars each, the first instalment being payable immediately after receipt by the company of due and satisfactory proofs of such total and permanent disability, or such injuries as above defined. If the insured should die before all of the said twenty instalments have been fully paid, then in such case the remaining instalments may be continued to the beneficiary hereunder or may be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to said beneficiary.

The above disability benefits are payable as hereinafter provided.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If all the coupons attached to this policy are returned intact and unused: (1) Guaranteed cash payment, $7,720. (2) Paid-up insurance for life, $13,640, subject to evidence of insurability for any excess over the face amount of the policy. (3) Guaranteed annual income for life, $580, first payment at the end of one year.

If all or any of the coupons attached to this policy have been used: (1) Guaranteed cash payment, $5,660. (2) Paid-up insurance for life, $10,000. (3) Guaranteed annual income for life, $420, first payment at the end of one year. The cash value of any coupons then remaining to the credit of this policy may be applied to increase the amount payable under options one or three, if either of said options are chosen, and will require evidence of insurability for any increase, if option two is chosen.

ADDITIONAL DEATH BENEFIT.—If any or all of the coupons attached hereto are allowed to remain with the company at three and one-half per cent compound interest per annum, the value of said coupons with interest to date of death will be paid to the beneficiary, in case of the death of the insured under this policy, in addition to the face amount hereby insured.

FULLY PAID-UP BENEFIT.—If all of the first fourteen coupons attached to this policy are allowed to remain with the company at compound interest, the company will, upon request of the insured hereunder, issue in lieu of this policy a fully paid-up policy for life of ten thousand ($10,000) dollars at the end of fifteen years from date of the policy, with no further payments to the company hereon. If this benefit is selected, the remaining coupons attached hereto shall be delivered to the company and be null and void.

SAVINGS FUND BENEFIT.—If any or all of the attached coupons are left to remain with the company and the premium hereon as stated on page three is paid in full in cash, the company agrees to credit to the insured hereunder the face amount of each individual coupon so left with the company, as and when said coupon becomes due according to the terms thereof, and to pay compound interest on said coupons at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, thereby creating a fund to the credit of this policy, which fund may be applied to the payment of premiums or withdrawn in cash at any time by the insured.

DECREASING PREMIUMS.—At the option of the insured the amounts shown on any or all of the coupons hereto attached may be applied by the insured to reduce the premiums due and payable hereunder as the premiums and coupons become due. If the insured shall avail himself of this option, the amount due the company in any policy year will be the premium shown on page three hereof, less the amount of the coupon due on the same date as the premium from which it is to be deducted. The balance shall be due the company in cash, and the coupon then due must be returned for cancellation. If the premiums hereunder are paid semi-annually or quarterly, the pro-rata value of any coupon shall be applied as said premiums are paid.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums under this policy are payable in advance either at the home office or to an agent upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company. No officer other than those named, and no agent has the power to make or to modify this or any other contract of the company in any respect whatever, and the company is not responsible for, and shall not be bound by, any promises or representations made by any person other than the officers named, and then only unless said promises or representations are in writing and signed by one of the officers named. If any premium or note or other obligation given for all or a part of any premium or other indebtedness is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall cease, except as otherwise provided in this policy. The company will accept the payment of premiums hereon in the amount of $197.40 semi-annually on the twelfth days of January and July, or $108.00 quarterly on the twelfth days of January, April, July and October in each policy year. The method of payment of premiums hereon may be changed at any time after the first policy year upon application to the home office before the end of the month of grace, on the form prescribed by the company.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A period of grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium hereunder after the first, without any interest charge therefor during which month the full insurance hereunder shall continue in force; if however, the insured shall die within said period of grace, the unpaid balance of the premium or premiums for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company, and shall be incontestable for any cause whatever after one year from the date of issue, provided premiums are duly paid. If during the first policy year the insured shall suicide, whether sane or insane, or die as a consequence of the violation of law, the company shall be liable only for the premium actually paid hereon. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations, and not warranties. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon the company at any time while this policy is in force will loan upon the proper assignment of said policy, and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest which will not exceed six per cent per annum, a sum equal to or at the option of the owner hereof, less than, the reserve hereon at the end of the current policy year. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and will collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year; said loan may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days after application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan, or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at date of default.

LOANS WITHOUT REQUEST OF INSURED.—If any premium hereon shall not be paid when due, and if no other surrender option has been chosen by the insured within the month of grace, the company will, without request on the part of the insured, charge the amount then due hereunder as a loan against the policy, with interest in advance at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, if the loan hereon at date of default is sufficient to secure all indebtedness hereunder with interest. If the premium is so charged, this policy will be continued in force the same in all respects as though said loan had been requested by the insured. The same benefit will be applied from time to time as the premiums become due hereunder and are not paid, as long as the balance of the loan value hereon at the last date of default is sufficient to pay for one day's insurance on a pro-rata basis. Notice of such loans will be mailed to the insured when made, and said insured may resume the payment of premiums hereon at any time without medical re-examination while the policy is so continued in force. The indebtedness hereon may be repaid wholly or in part in cash, or may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy. In any settlement of the policy the indebtedness to the company hereon shall be a first lien in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy may be surrendered to the company within the month of grace, and the insured shall upon request be entitled to one of the following options:

(1) CASH.—A cash payment equal to the loan value hereon at the date of default, and said cash payment shall be equal to the amount otherwise applicable to the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance.

(2) PAID-UP INSURANCE.—A paid-up policy payable at the same time, and under the same conditions as this policy.

(3) EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Extended insurance for the full amount of this policy. The amounts of the loan or cash values and paid-up insurance and the term of the extended insurance are shown in column one, two and three, respectively, of the table of guaranteed loan and surrender values shown herein and are equal or equivalent to the full reserve hereon at the date of default, according to the American Experience as Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The value of any overdue and unpaid coupons with interest thereon, to the credit of this policy at date of default, will be paid to the insured in cash upon selection by said insured of one of the above three options, and will be applied to increase the loan value hereon if loans are made by the company without the request of the insured. Additional values not shown in the table will be allowed for parts of a policy year's premiums paid for, and the values for later years not shown in the table will be equal or equivalent to the full reserve on the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—If, in event of default in any premium payments hereon, the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance or extended insurance, and if such paid-up insurance or extended insurance shall be in force and this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company for its cash surrender value and been canceled, the policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premiums with compound interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. The indebtedness hereon if not greater than the loan at the date of reinstatement may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy.

METHOD OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face amount of this policy unless otherwise requested by the insured will be payable in one sum immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of said insured. The insured may, however, change the method of payment to annual instalments for a limited term of years, or during the lifetime of the beneficiary, as explained in the table shown on the fourth page hereof.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—The benefits provided on page one hereof for disability shall become null and void after the period for the payment of premiums hereunder, or if upon default in the payment of any premium, paid-up insurance or extended insurance has been requested by the insured and is in force. The total and permanent disability referred to must be such that there is neither then nor at any time thereafter any work, occupation or profession that the insured can sufficiently do or follow to earn or obtain any wages, compensation or profit. The insured must furnish from time to time evidence satisfactory to the company of continued total and permanent disability, and if the insured shall recover from such total disability sufficiently to earn or obtain any wages, compensation or profit, the insured shall resume payment of premiums on the next succeeding due date of premium. The instalments already paid shall not in such case be an inducement against the policy.

METHOD OF CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—At any time while this policy is in force, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy filed in the home office of the company as herein provided, may designate a new beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy by filing such request at the home office upon the form to be furnished by the company, accompanied by the policy for endorsement hereon. Such change shall become effective only when said endorsement is made on the policy by the company, wherein the rights of any former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If no beneficiary hereunder is living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of the policy will be paid to the executor, administrator or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—This policy may be assigned by the insured, but no such assignment shall be binding upon the company until a statement of assignment has been filed at the home office of the company, which shall not be responsible for the validity of any assignment, and any claim hereunder by an assignee shall be subject to proof of assignment and extent thereof.

LOAN HEREON.—Any indebtedness to the company hereon will be defrayed in any settlement hereunder upon the death of the insured or in the payment of any other benefit. In this policy shall lapse and there shall be no indebtedness hereon, the said indebtedness will be deducted from the cash value of the policy at the date of death, and the balance will be paid to the insured in cash or in payment of the purchase of a new insurance, or in payment to extend the term of the insurance hereunder to the death of said insured, and said values shall be computed upon the same basis as the values herein shown in the table of cash values and surrender values.

RIGHT OF THE INSURED TO WITHDRAW AND REPEAL.—The insured may obtain cash benefit, reserve or loan, and may surrender the policy without cost and without penalty by this policy without the payment of any premium.

CONSIDERATION.—The consideration for this policy is the annuity benefit which is made a part of this contract and a part of which consideration is attached hereto and expressed thereon, and the payment or advance of an annual premium of three hundred and twenty-five dollars and forty cents for term insurance for the year ending on the twentieth day of January 1911, and the payment of a like sum on or before the twentieth day of January in each year thereafter until all premiums have been fully paid for twenty years from the date hereon or until the death of the insured.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—The American National Insurance Company, its agents, the policy and contract, its conditions and its terms are hereby made a part of this policy.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—The American National Insurance Company, its agents, the policy and contract, its conditions and its terms are hereby made a part of this policy. The following rates are fixed upon a policy of $1000, and will apply to all policies of the same amount as this policy, provided the amount is not less than $500. If the amount is less than $500, these rates shall not apply, but the policy will be payable in one sum only.

ED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured. The amount of instalment will be increased by such profits as the company may assign to policies of this class.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—Twenty annual instalments at least to be paid, but instalments to continue during entire lifetime of beneficiary. The amount of each instalment will be increased by such profits as the company may assign to policies of this class. (Payments by continuous instalments cannot be selected if there is more than one policy under this policy.)

ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age at birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $48 for each $1000 of instalment, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. Any change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt and approval of the proofs of death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is assigned by the insured to the beneficiary in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office, during the lifetime of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that, if I shall die outside the limits of the United States or Europe, during the first year of any policy issued by the company on this application as a basis for a policy, that the liability of the company on any such policy shall be restricted to the amount of premium paid thereon. I hereby further represent and agree that the statements made by me in this application are full, complete and literally true. I hereby agree that any policy issued hereon shall not take effect until the first premium is paid during my insurability. I have not been declined or postponed, or been reinstatement of a lapsed policy, by any life company or been limited to a policy in form, premium rate, or any other respect whatever, from the one originally issued for, nor have I been intemperate, or had any serious illness or disease, except incident to childhood, and there is no history of consumption or insanity or other serious disease in my family, i. e., among parents, brothers or sisters, uncles or aunts, as herein stated.

Amicable Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $318.60. AGE, 35.

Amicable Life Insurance Company, of Waco, Tex., promises to pay ten thousand dollars at the home office of the company, in Waco, Tex., as follows: To beneficiary Mary Doe, wife of the insured, with right of revocation, immediately upon receipt of due proof of death, during the continuance of this policy, of insured John Doe, of Waco, State of Texas.

This insurance is granted in consideration of three hundred eighteen and $\frac{6}{100}$ dollars, being the first premium for insurance to May 16, 1912, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and in further consideration of three hundred eighteen and $\frac{6}{100}$ dollars, to be paid on May 16, 1912, and of a like amount on the sixteenth day of May in each year until the death of the insured, or until premiums, including the first, shall have been paid for twenty full years; or, the insured may at the time any premium falls due pay, in lieu of an annual premium, a semi-annual premium of one hundred sixty-five and $\frac{1}{100}$ dollars, or a quarterly premium of eighty-four and $\frac{49}{100}$ dollars, and such premium will continue the insurance in force for the time for which paid. This policy takes effect on May 16, 1911, and the insurance years, and all subsequent provisions for cash loans, cash values, paid-up and automatic extended insurance are computed from that date.

This insurance is granted in further consideration of the agreements and provisions written and printed by the company on the following pages which are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Amicable Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, this sixteenth day of May, 1911.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, and at the end of the tenth year and thereafter are equal to the full reserve according to the foregoing standard. The values for the succeeding years will be extended upon request, and will be the full reserve according to said standard.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, at any time while this policy is in force, the company will loan, upon execution of a proper loan agreement by the insured, and on a proper assignment and delivery of this policy to the company, and on the sole security thereof, a sum not exceeding the amount at the end of the current contract year named in the above table under the head of "cash or loan value," at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum payable in advance. The company may deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness against the policy, and may defer such loan for not exceeding six months after application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value, as shown in the table above named.

NON-FORFEITURE.—In event of default of any premium payment, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the company will, subject to the other conditions of this policy, grant the following option:

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Extend automatically as a term policy the amount insured by this policy for the time named in the above table under the head of "extended insurance." In lieu of such extended insurance, in event of default of any premium payment, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, this policy being in force and all premiums having been duly paid, the company will, upon surrender to it of this policy at its home office within one month from date of such default in premium payment, grant one of the following options:

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—Paid-up insurance payable at death for the sum named in the above table under the head of "paid-up life insurance," the policyholder releasing any further claims hereunder; or CASH VALUE.—Cash surrender value for the amount named in the above table under the head of "cash or loan value," the policyholder releasing any further claims hereunder, and payment of such cash surrender value may be deferred by the company for not more than six months after application therefor has been made. Any indebtedness existing against this policy at date of such default, shall correspondingly reduce all values given in the table above.

DISABILITY.—If after two annual premiums have been fully paid in cash and while there is and has been no default in the payment of any premium or instalment thereof, subsequently becoming due, the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall and whenever required furnish proofs satisfactory to the company that he has been, prior to attaining the age of sixty, totally disabled and that he probably will be permanently and continuously totally disabled for life from pursuing any and all of his occupations by reason of bodily injuries or disease, the company will agree in writing to endorse on this policy to pay all the premiums of the insured during the continuance of such total disability, and in such event the cash loan and other values as given above shall increase in like manner as if the premiums were paid in cash by the insured. If, however, the insured shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation for wages or profit during the premium paying period, the obligation on his part to pay the premiums in accordance with this policy shall immediately recommence, but only from the date of such recovery, with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained herein. The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the insured's person in case of injury or disease and so often as it requires.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest and extent thereof.

AUTHORITY.—No one on behalf of the company has any power or authority to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, to grant credit, or to extend the time for paying any premium, or to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or by making or receiving any representation or information, as such powers can only be exercised in writing by the president or secretary of the company at its home office, and shall not be delegated.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured has the right, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, to receive any benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. The right of revocation having been reserved, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy made as herein provided, may, while this policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

CONTRACT.—This contract shall, at all times and places, be held to have been made at Waco, Texas, and shall in all respects be determined in accordance with the laws of said State.

GRACE.—A grace of one month, during which this policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum; and if death occurs within the one month of grace, the overdue premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. This policy shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premiums if two years shall have elapsed from its date; provided, that in case of the death of the insured by his own hand while sane or insane within one year from the date of this policy, the company's liability shall be limited to the amount of the premiums paid hereon; and provided further, that if the insured shall enter or be engaged in any military or naval service in time of war, without a written permit therefor issued by the company, no claim shall exist under this policy, except for the net premiums paid hereunder as calculated according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including loans and interest accumulation, and any balance of the policy year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder.

PREMIUMS.—The first year's premium only may be paid to the agent. All subsequent premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company without notice. However, such subsequent premiums may be paid to an authorized agent of the company before the date when due, but only in exchange for an official receipt signed by the secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated on such receipt. Upon re to pay a premium on or before the date when due, or any note or other obligation therefor, this policy shall thereupon cease without any action or notice by the company, and all rights shall be forfeited to the company, except as herein provided. Each and every premium due or to become due hereon, is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Notice of premiums becoming due is to be insured as a matter of accommodation, but the company assumes no responsibility for the failure to send or the miscarriage or non-delivery of any notice.

PROOFS OF DEATH.—Proofs of death and validity of the claim must be furnished the company at its home office on the company's forms, within one year after the death of the insured. No suit or action under this policy against the company shall be valid unless brought within two years from the time when the right of action first accrues.

RE-INSURANCE.—If in the event of default in premium payments, the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of other insurance, and if such other insurance shall be in force and this policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and cancelled, this policy may be re-instated within three years from the date of such default, on evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured in the application for this policy and to the medical examiner shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance. The value on this policy shall be computed by the first year preliminary term method, with modification thereof required by the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered, the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, purposes of policy valuation and calculation of premiums and loans and surrender benefits.

TRUSTS.—The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust to secure a guaranteed annual income. The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust with the company for one of the following purposes: (1) To pay to the insured as annuitant the proceeds become payable during his lifetime, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years according to the accompanying tables; or, (2) to the insured as annuitant during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant; or, (3) to pay the beneficiary as annuitant, from the time when the proceeds are payable, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant.

If the trust is created by the insured for the benefit of the beneficiary, the beneficiary may not assign or commute the payments of life or limited income, nor, if the proceeds are placed in trust subject to interest, withdraw such proceeds or anticipate the interest on such right is given by the insured in writing and is indorsed upon this policy by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. If the trust is created by the insured for his own benefit, the insured may at any time subsequently commute the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. If the trust is created by the beneficiary, the beneficiary may at any time subsequently commute or assign due unpaid life or limited incomes or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest.

A trust agreement shall be created or take effect other than by a writing subscribed by the company at its home office and by the person creating such trust. Where a trust is created and a new one is not created, and no other provision is made for the proceeds of insurance, payment shall be made as directed in the contract.

LIMITED INCOME.—Annual income limited to one of the number stated below; any number from five to thirty may be selected.

Anchor Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.50. AGE, 35.

The Anchor Life Insurance Company by this contract of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars and in addition thereto the cash value of any coupons due and unpaid, at the home office of the company, in Indianapolis, Ind., as follows: To the beneficiary, Mary Doe, wife of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured and of the interest of the claimant, during the continuance of this contract. The insured, William Doe, of Indianapolis, county of Marion, State of Indiana.

GUARANTEED ANNUAL REDUCTION IN PREMIUMS.—Upon the payment of the second and each succeeding annual premium, the company guarantees to credit to this policy an amount as evidenced by the attached coupons. These amounts may, as they fall due, be used in accordance with any one of the following options: (1) Withdrawn in cash. (2) Used in the payment of premiums. (3) Used to purchase paid-up additions to this policy. This option is subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company for any paid-up additions which will cause the amount payable at death to exceed the face of this policy. (4) Remain attached to this policy. In which case they shall improve at three and one-half per cent interest for each full year compounded annually and shall be withdrawable on demand. After the payment of fifteen full years' premiums in cash, the company guarantees, upon surrender of this policy, to deliver to the insured a fully paid-up policy for an amount equal to the face of this policy, provided all coupons remain attached under option four and are surrendered with the policy.

PREMIUMS ON THIS POLICY WILL BE PAID BY THE COMPANY IF THE INSURED IS PERMANENTLY DISABLED.—After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has been wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this contract, and the cash, loan and other values of this contract in the schedule as given hereinafter shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. In the event of total and permanent disability, as above, the insured may elect, in lieu of the option above mentioned, to receive one year from the receipt of satisfactory proofs of such total and permanent disability, one twentieth of the face of this contract in cash, and the further payment of a like amount upon each succeeding anniversary, until twenty-annual instalments shall have been paid. Should the insured die during the period mentioned, the remainder of the instalments shall be payable in like manner to the beneficiary named herein. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums or the remainder of the annual instalments of the face of this contract shall cease, and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums on the first premium due date following such recovery.

STATE OF INDIANA.—OFFICE OF AUDITOR OF STATE.

I, _____, auditor of State of the State of Indiana, do hereby certify that the Anchor Life Insurance Company, with principal office at Indianapolis, Ind., has fully complied with the provisions of an act of the general assembly of the State of Indiana, entitled "an act for the incorporation of life insurance companies on either the stock or mutual plan * * *" approved March 10, 1899, and is duly incorporated under said act, as a stock company with $100,000 capital stock. I further certify that said company has now on deposit with my office, securities as prescribed by said act for the security and benefit of its policyholders. I further certify that said company is authorized to transact the business of life insurance in this State.

This policy contains the standard provisions required by the law of the State of Indiana.

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS CONTRACT.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which this contract shall remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy, which, with the application therefor, constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue for the amount due, provided premiums have been duly paid, and there has been no violation of provisions relating to suicide or military and naval service in time of war. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be that which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—Should the insured fail to pay the second or any subsequent premium hereon without having exercised any of the several options set forth below, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, grant the third option (extended insurance) as set forth below.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time upon application of the insured, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, the approval of the president, and the payment of all arrears due, with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may at any time, and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are endorsed upon the policy, at the home office of the company; whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured.

LOANS.—After this policy shall have been in force one full year, the company will, within six months after written request, loan up to the amount stated in the cash loan column of the table endorsed hereon for the end of the last preceding year for which complete annual premiums have been paid, with interest in advance at the rate of five (5) per cent per annum; provided: (1) That this policy be duly assigned to the company as collateral security for such loan; (2) that the amount of loan available shall include any previous loan or other unpaid indebtedness; (3) that the premiums must be fully paid to the end of the current policy year; (4) failure to repay such loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such default nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignees, if any.

YEARLY SURRENDER OPTIONS.—All premiums having been fully paid in cash, and this policy being free from indebtedness, the insured, upon surrender and cancellation thereof within thirty days after the second or any subsequent anniversary of its date of issue, will be entitled to one of the following options, the respective values and extensions thereof being shown in the table of values given below. The cash values shown herein are at least equal to the amount available for the purchase of extended insurance. Provided: That in any settlement hereunder any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy shall first be deducted from the net value of the option selected and the balance paid in cash or applied as a net single premium upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, to purchase paid-up or extended insurance. First option: Cash. Second option: Paid-up insurance. Third option: Extended insurance. The election of the second or third option will be evidenced by the issuance of a new policy in lieu of this policy.

This policy is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and the reserve computed upon that basis. Values for years subsequent to the twentieth shall be the full reserve. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

SETTLEMENT OPTIONS.—If this policy is in full force twenty years from date hereof, the insured may take in settlement thereof any one of the following options: If all coupons remain attached under option four: (1) A paid-up policy for $13,480, or (2) a cash payment of $7,638 ¹⁰/₁₀₀, or (3) an annuity of $594 ⁷⁰/₁₀₀, or (4) a paid-up policy for $10,000, and a cash payment of $1,978 ¹⁰/₁₀₀. The first option is subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company.

If coupons have been withdrawn: (1) A paid-up policy for $10,000, or (2) a cash payment of $5,660, or (3) an annuity of $441 ³⁰/₁₀₀. If a part of the coupons remain attached and a part are withdrawn, the above values will be proportionately increased.

INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, by written request on the company's form, may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim, provided this policy is in force and has not been assigned, from payment in one sum as provided on the first page hereof, to payment by annual instalments as provided in the following table: For each $1000 payable in one sum, $1,059.95 will be paid in 6 instalments of $211.99 each, or $1,188.20 will be paid in 10 instalments of $118.82 each, or $1,219.06 will be paid in 15 instalments of $81.38 each, or $1,305.20 will be paid in 20 instalments of $65.26 each, or $1,394 will be paid in 25 instalments of $55.76 each, or any of the above annual instalments will be paid in monthly instalments if desired.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) Premiums are due and payable annually in advance, but after the first year may be paid semi-annually or quarterly, at the home office of the company, or may be paid to an agent of the company upon delivery of receipt: signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent. If any premium, cash loan or interest thereon be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company except as herein provided. (2) Proof of the fact and cause of death must be furnished to the company at its home office not later than three years after the death of the insured, on the company's blanks furnished for that purpose, which proofs shall comprise satisfactory statements establishing the claim. (3) In case of death from service in war without permission from the company, the full reserve for this policy at the time of such death only will be paid. (4) Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit thereunder. (5) This policy may be assigned upon written approval of the president or secretary, but the company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment. (6) Only the president, vice-president or secretary has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time of paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above. (7) All statements made by the insured in the application hereof shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.]

This policy is issued in consideration of the printed and written application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and the payment in advance of three hundred eighty-three and ⁴⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, for one year's term insurance, and will be renewed upon the further payment of a like amount at the home office of the company, on or before the nineteenth day of December in every year thereafter, until twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid.

In witness whereof, the Anchor Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its duly authorized officers, at its home office in the city of Indianapolis, Ind., this nineteenth day of December, 1910.

Coupons provide for reduction of premiums in successive years as follows: $39.10; $43.20; $47.40; $51.60; $55.80; $60; $64.20; $68.40; $72.80; $76.80; $81; $85.16; $89.30; $93.50; $97.70; $101.90; $106.10; $110.30 and $114.50.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

As a further consideration for the issuance of this insurance, I represent and agree that the statements, answers and agreements stated herein, and the statements, answers and agreements made in Part 2 of this application, all of which shall be a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, are full, true and complete, otherwise this insurance shall be void. For myself and all persons who shall have any interest therein, I agree that the policy shall be construed as a contract made and to be performed in the State of Indiana; that there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been issued and delivered to me when in good health, and the first premium then paid to said company; that engaging in handling electric wires or dynamos, making or using explosives, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, coupling or switching cars, employment on any steam or sailing vessel, or railroad train or engine, except as passenger or sleeping-car conductor, within one year from the date of the policy, without the written consent of the company, shall work a forfeiture of all rights under the policy issued hereon; that all premiums due on the policy are payable annually in advance, but may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance, according to the company's rate therefor; that self-destruction sane or insane, or death in the violation of a law, within one year from date of policy, are risks not assumed by the company in the contract, but in such cases the company will pay the amount of the premium actually paid hereon; that the delivery and acceptance of the policy herein applied for, and the payment of the first premium thereon, shall constitute an acceptance of the contract and of all its conditions.

* Premiums payable until age 75. † Adopted September 25th, 1908.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Atlantic Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $373.

AGE, 35.

Atlantic Life Insurance Company, Richmond, Va., agrees to pay (amount) ten thousand dollars to (beneficiary) Mary Doe, wife of the insured, or to any substituted beneficiary, at its home office, Richmond, Va., immediately upon receipt and approval of proofs of the death of (insured) John Doe, of Richmond, Va.

INVESTMENT AND INSTALLMENT OVERTS.—At the written request of the insured, the company will provide by endorsement on this contract that the amount payable hereunder, or any portion thereof, when the same matures as a death claim, shall be left with the company as a trust fund for such period as the insured may direct, the beneficiary to receive semi-annually interest at the rate earned by the company after deducting losses on investments on its admitted assets during the preceding calendar year, less one-eighth of one per cent of the amount of said trust fund for investment expenses. The principal sum left in trust under this provision shall be payable in cash to the beneficiary or to the estate of the beneficiary on the expiry of the period stipulated by the insured. The insured may also stipulate in said request that no assignment or hypothecation of this contract, or any part thereof, or any income therefrom, shall be made by the beneficiary. In lieu of the above, the insured may also exercise any one of the installment options provided on the fourth page hereof.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—The company will determine at the end of each year the amount of surplus to be allocated to this contract. Upon payment in cash of the second and each succeeding premium, the surplus allocated to this contract shall, at the option of the insured, be either: (1) Paid in cash; or (2) Applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (3) Applied without re-examination to the purchase of non-forfeitable additional paying participating insurance payable at the same time and in the same manner as the premium sum herein provided; or (4) Left with the company to accumulate to the maturity of the contract with interest at three and one-half per centum compounded annually. When the reserve on this contract, together with such accumulations, shall equal the net single premium required to purchase a paid-up contract for the principal sum herein provided at the attained age of the insured, said contract shall then become paid-up for the full amount and no further premiums shall be required. The amount of surplus so deposited may be withdrawn by the insured at any time.

Unless the insured shall elect otherwise, within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requesting such election, it shall be construed as an election on the part of the insured to continue this contract upon option (3). After all premiums required by this contract shall have been paid, it shall participate annually in the surplus as herein provided. Should the premium be paid otherwise than annually, the surplus shall be applied in the manner in which premiums are paid.

PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFITS.—At any time prior to attaining life expectancy, while this contract is in full force by the payment of premiums, the insured shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that from causes originating after the delivery of this contract, he has become totally and permanently disabled, and will be such disablement be prevented by his being suffering in any manner, excepting the company will, by endorsement hereon, waive the payment of premiums falling due during the continuance of such disability, and the right of the insured to dividends or surrender values shall continue as if the premiums were duly paid by the insured.

GRATUITOUS BENEFITS.—In lieu of the benefit aforesaid, the company will, on the proof of disability and surrender and cancellation of this contract, issue a supplementary contract providing for the payment in several equal annual installments of the sum due in event of death, the first installment to be payable on approval of the aforesaid proof and surrender of this contract, and subsequent installments annually thereafter. Any indebtedness to the company against this contract shall reduce the amount of each installment by the proportion that said indebtedness bears to the commuted value of said installments.

SURRENDER, LOSS OF DISABILITY.—The company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss by accident or disease of the sight, both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by accident or disease of the use of both hands or both feet, or of one hand and one foot, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. Within 60 days of the date of one month during which time this contract will remain in full force, will be allowed a payment of all premiums except the first, subject to interest at six per cent per annum on the entire cash value.

PREMIUMS.—This contract is issued in consideration of the written and printed application, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the payment of three hundred and seventy-three dollars in advance before this contract shall take effect, as the premium for an insurance terminating one year from the date hereof, and will be renewed and extended thereafter as a limited payment life contract upon the further payment of a like amount due one year from the date hereof and on the same anniversary day in every year thereafter and payable on said date annually or within the grace period as above provided, until a total of twenty annual premiums shall have been paid on this contract.

OCCUPATION AND TRAVEL.—This contract is entirely free from all restrictions as to residence, occupation and travel.

INCONTESTABLE.—This contract shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums, provided, however, that if the age of the insured is misstated the amount payable under this contract shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured.

SUICIDE.—Should the insured die by his own act (whether sane or insane) within one year after the date of this contract, the company's liability shall not exceed the premiums paid on account of this contract.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If this contract has not been assigned, the insured may change the beneficiary at any time by filing at the home office written request for such change on the company's form, and by forwarding this contract for endorsement of change. If the beneficiary does not survive the insured, the proceeds hereof shall be paid to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE PROVISION.—Upon the non-payment of any premium after the second, the company will advance such premium, also subsequent unpaid premiums, with interest at six per cent per annum due annually in advance, as a premium loan secured by this contract, so long as such loan together with all other indebtedness and with interest at six per cent per annum does not exceed the cash value of this contract at the end of the period to which any such premium or interest applies. All indebtedness thus created shall be a first charge against the contract ranking in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee. At any time while this contract is continued as aforesaid payment of premiums may be resumed without any medical re-examination of the insured. If the available cash value be insufficient to pay a full annual premium, the company will continue the insurance under the extended term insurance provision set forth herein for such time as the balance of value will permit. Should the total liens charged against this contract at any time exceed the cash value thereof, the insurance hereunder will terminate one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After premiums for two full years have been paid, on the non-payment of any succeeding premium, this contract shall after endorsement by the company upon request of the insured, within ninety days after said non-payment, take effect for the amount of paid-up insurance stated in the table of surrender values herein, for the number of years the contract has been in force by payment of premiums.

CASH VALUE OR EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—After premiums for two full years have been paid, on the non-payment of any subsequent premium, the insured, on satisfactory release and surrender of this contract within ninety days thereafter (including days of grace), shall be entitled to the cash surrender value as stated in the table of surrender values, or in lieu thereof the insured shall be entitled to extended term insurance as stated in said table. The aforesaid value shall be determined by the number of full annual premiums paid on this contract, and the acceptance of either one of these values shall be in lieu of all other values herein provided. Such values are based upon the reserve by the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest.

LOAN VALUE.—The company will make loans to the insured upon the sole security of this contract at any time after premiums for two full years have been paid, and while this contract is in full force. The amount of such loans shall not exceed the cash surrender value at the end of the year for which premiums in full have been paid, and shall include any previous loans or liens then unpaid. Interest shall be paid annually in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, but should the insured fail to pay interest on said loan or any premium due on this contract, the company shall advance said premiums and interest on the security of this contract as an additional lien, bearing interest as above, in accordance with the terms of the automatic non-forfeiture provision of this contract. Upon endorsement on the contract by the company as to the existence of any loan, the contract will be returned to the insured.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this contract, including any unpaid premium or portion thereof, will be deducted in any cash settlement of this contract, or will be deducted from the reserve used in the calculation of any benefit provided herein.

PREMIUMS—WHERE AND HOW PAYABLE.—All premiums are payable annually in advance at the home office, Richmond, Va., but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for a receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer.

PROOF OF DISABILITY.—After acceptance of either of the disability provisions herein provided, the insured shall keep the company informed at all times of his residence and address, shall give immediate notice of any recovery from his total disability, and shall on demand of the company furnish additional proof of the continuance of such disability, and permit the company to examine him. Should disability not prove total and permanent, notwithstanding prior approval by the company of proofs thereof, installment payments or waiver of premiums shall be discontinued, and the insured shall have the option, upon resuming payment of the premium herein named, of reinstating this contract for its face value, less any installments paid.

REINSTATEMENT.—This contract, should it have lapsed, may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all past due premiums, with interest at six per cent per annum, and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness or cash payment made on account of this contract with interest at the same rate.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this contract must be made in duplicate, and one copy filed at the home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

Continued Coverage.—If at any anniversary of this contract the insured may, provided the amount of insurance be not increased without re-examination, change the same as if the rate were to any higher extent than the insurance now issued by the company, by paying the difference between the reserve at the end of the year immediately preceding said anniversary of this contract and the reserve at the same time on said new contract and premiums due on and after the date of change for said new term, according to the present published rates of the company.

Term Contract.—This contract shall be modified, except by endorsement signed by an executive officer of the company, and to extend a maximum of twenty-five years for payment of any premium, while provisions, modifying or changing conditions. This contract is not in this effect until the first premium shall have been paid during the life and good health of the insured, but after said event shall be continuous as having been in force from the date herein.

The insured may subsequently change any selection of instalment options; and may also revoke any selection, thereby making this contract again payable in one sum. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately on the maturity of the contract, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. Each selection, change or revocation of a selection, shall be made by the insured in writing, and shall not take effect until endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this contract by the company at its home office, during the lifetime of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I agree that this application and the answers made to the medical examiner in part II. of said application shall be the basis of the contract between the parties hereto, and shall be conclusive upon any person having or claiming any interest in any insurance to be issued. (2) That no statements or information, by whomsoever made or given, shall be binding on the parties hereto unless contained in this application or the policy issued thereon. (3) That any payment in advance shall be binding on the company only in accordance with an authorized agent's receipt on the form below bearing the same number as this application, and corresponding with settlement named in said receipt. (4) That the truthfulness of each statement is material to the risk and is the sole basis of the proposed contract.

PART II.—I hereby warrant and agree (1) that all the aforesaid statements and answers, and all those contained in part I. of this application, are true, and are offered to the company as a consideration for policy, which I hereby agree shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been paid during my life and good health, and a receipt given therefor, signed by an executive officer of said company; (2) I expressly waive on behalf of myself, and of any person who shall have, or claim an interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law forbidding any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which he may thereby acquire; (3) That during the first year succeeding the date of any policy, which may be issued hereunder, the insurance shall be term insurance, and that during such year, the reserve to be held by the company therefor shall be computed as for one year term insurance, and thereafter as for a policy issued at the end of such term, and of the form stated in part I. of my application.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5000.

Baltimore Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $350.

AGE, 35.

Twenty-four hours after death and upon receipt by it, at its home office, of due proof of said death of George Dalton, hereinafter called "the insured," the Baltimore Life Insurance Company of Baltimore, Md., hereinafter called "the company," promises, subject to the conditions hereinafter set forth, to pay to Louise Dalton (wife), hereinafter called "the beneficiary," or to whomsoever may be designated as such in accordance with the conditions hereof the sum of ten thousand dollars.

Provided, the company receives on account hereof the annual premium in advance of three hundred and fifty dollars on or before the first day of January in every year for twenty full years from the date hereof or until the death of the insured, should the insured die within twenty years from said date, the first of said premiums being due on the date hereof.

The conditions set forth on the reverse side hereof are the conditions above referred to, subject to which the above contract is made, and are a part of this contract as fully as if herein again set forth.

In testimony whereof, the said The Baltimore Life Insurance Company of Baltimore, Md., has hereto affixed its corporate seal and the president and secretary thereof have signed and delivered this policy.

CONDITIONS REFERRED TO AS A PART OF THE WITHIN CONTRACT.

1. After one year, this policy is incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums but in case of misstatement of age it is subject to adjustment as hereinafter provided.

2. During the continuance of this policy the insured may reside anywhere, travel anywhere, and engage in any peaceful and legal occupation, without permit from the company, and without affecting his rights hereunder.

3. A grace of thirty days, during which the policy remains in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums. No interest upon such overdue payments will be charged, if payment be made within the thirty days aforesaid.

4. This policy, together with the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, is the entire contract between the company and the insured hereunder, and the truth of each of the statements in said application is a condition precedent to the liability of the company hereunder.

5. The death of the insured by his or her own hand, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, is not within the risk covered by this policy, and in case thereof nothing shall be due the beneficiary hereunder.

6. This policy shall not be forfeited by any misrepresentation as to the age of insured, but the burden of proving said age shall be upon the beneficiary, and the amount payable under this policy shall be such amount as the premium charged would have purchased according to the company's rates in use at the date hereof for the insured's true age. The age of the insured will, however, be admitted by the company in writing, upon request, and upon due proof furnished by the insured during his or her lifetime.

7. The insured may at any time change the beneficiary hereunder by designating the substituted beneficiary upon the company's form of change of beneficiary and filing the same at their home office, and having the name of such substituted beneficiary entered as such upon the books of the company and endorsed upon this policy, whereupon the rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease, or if the beneficiary under this policy shall die before the insured, the interest of the beneficiary hereunder shall cease immediately, and the amount of this policy will be paid to the estate of the insured.

8. All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Baltimore, Md., but will be accepted when paid to agents of the company in exchange for its receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by the agent. Such receipts only will be recognized as evidence of payment of premium, and oral evidence of such payments is not admissible in any case.

9. Proofs of death must be furnished upon the forms prescribed by the company and accompanied by such affidavits as may by said company be deemed necessary.

10. No suit or action at law or in equity shall be maintained to enforce the performance of this contract until thirty days shall have expired after the filing in the principal office of the company of the proof of death, nor unless such suit or action be commenced within two years next after the decease of the insured, and it is expressly agreed that should any such suit or action be commenced after the expiration of said two years the lapse of time shall be deemed conclusive evidence against the validity of such claim, the benefit of any statute of limitation to the contrary being hereby expressly waived.

11. From the amount due under this policy all indebtedness due the company, together with the balance, if any, of the year's premiums, and any premiums overdue in accordance with clause 3 hereof, shall be first deducted.

12. Assignments hereof will only be recognized when properly executed upon blanks furnished by the company, signed by the insured and the beneficiary, and filed prior to the death of the insured in the company's home office.

13. This contract cannot be altered except by endorsement hereon in writing signed by the president or vice-president of the company.

14. After the premiums upon this policy have been promptly paid for three successive years, the insured may borrow the full amount of the cash value of this policy at the end of the year to which premiums are paid by assigning this policy (the beneficiary joining in such assignment) to the company as collateral, and paying interest upon the amount of the loan, in advance, at the rate of six per cent per annum.

15. If after premiums for three full years shall have been promptly paid to the company there shall be default in the payment of any premium, the company agrees and guarantees the insured the following options based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. Paid-up additions on the same basis will increase the said values, either

16. If this policy should default in premium payments it may be reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default unless the cash value has been duly paid either to the insured or to liquidate a loan hereon or unless the extension period has expired, upon production of evidence of insurability of the insured hereunder satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy with interest for the full time of default at six per cent per annum.

17. After the expiration of two years from the date hereof, providing this policy is continued in force, the board of directors of the company will pay the insured such dividends as in their judgment shall be justified by the profits made by the company upon its policies in this class, and further dividends will thereafter be paid annually as declared, while the policy is in force. The insured has the option of drawing said dividends in cash, or applying them on account of premium payments, or he may use them for the purchase of paid-up additions hereto.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby certify that I have read all the statements and answers in this application, and warrant and agree that no circumstance or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers, together with this declaration, as well as those made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, are true and shall be the basis of the contract applied for, which shall not take effect till the first premium shall have been actually paid on delivery of contract during my life and good health; I further agree that said contract if issued, shall at all times and places be held and construed to have been made at Baltimore, Md.

Bankers Life Company (Ia.)

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $349.70. AGE, 35.

Bankers Life Company, of Des Moines, Ia., agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars, upon the surrender of this policy at its home office in the city of Des Moines, Ia., and on receipt of due proof of death of Edward J. Doe, the insured, of Des Moines, county of Polk, State of Iowa, while this policy is in full force to Mary Ann Doe, wife of the insured, if living; otherwise as hereinafter designated with the right of the insured to change the beneficiary.

This policy is issued in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application therefor, and of the payment of three hundred forty-nine and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, in advance, and the further payment in advance of the annual premium of three hundred forty-nine and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of November, in each year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

The full amount of reserve on this policy, which shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, shall be secured by deposits with the insurance department of the State of Iowa, of interest bearing securities as required by law.

TABLE OF GUARANTEES.

Showing minimum non-forfeiture values at the end of years stated for which premiums shall have been paid in full and in case there be no indebtedness on this policy. Loans may also be obtained during the policy year as set forth in loan clause on page two hereof.

The above named guarantees beyond the twentieth year, if this policy be continued in force, will be based upon the full reserve without any deduction for a surrender charge. If the sum insured is increased by surplus accumulations, the above guarantees will be increased, but any indebtedness placed upon this policy will operate to reduce said guarantees.

This policy is subject to the provisions set forth on the following pages hereof, which form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

Dated at Des Moines, Ia., the first day of November, 1911.

PROVISIONS.

POLICY CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no statement of the insured shall void this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder, unless it is material and is contained in said application. No modification of this contract shall be valid unless signed by the president, vice-president secretary or assistant secretary of the company.

INCONTESTABILITY AGE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, provided however, that if the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age, unless the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered shall prescribe another method of settlement.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof is a risk not assumed by this company, but in such case it will return the premiums actually received on this policy.

OCCUPATION, ETC.—If the death of the insured shall occur within one year from the date of this policy while or as a result of being south of the Tropic of Cancer, or engaged in military or naval service in time of war, without permission of the company, or while or as a result of being personally engaged in retailing intoxicating liquors, blasting, mining, submarine operations, the producing or handling of highly explosive substances, electrical work where the voltage used is over 600, making aerial voyages, switching, coupling or uncoupling cars or working in any capacity, (except as passenger or sleeping car conductor, mail agent, express messenger or baggage-master) on railway trains or on any steamer or any vessel then in every such case the sum payable under this policy shall be the amount of the premiums received.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Des Moines, Ia., but will be accepted elsewhere if paid to a duly authorized collecting agent in exchange for the company's receipt signed by the president, secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by such agent. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is actually paid and the policy delivered while the insured is in good health and shall then become effective from its date. In case any subsequent premium is not paid when due, this policy shall cease and terminate and all payments made hereon shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise agreed. The premiums are payable annually in advance, but subject to the company's written approval, and not otherwise, may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly payments. The payment of a premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next payment is due, except as hereinafter provided. Any unpaid premiums required to complete the payments for the current policy year in which death occurs, shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

GRACE.—Thirty-one days of grace without interest will be allowed in payment of any premium after the first; the policy to remain in force for its full amount during such period. If death occurs within the period of grace, the unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The original assignment and due proof of interest must be produced when the policy is presented for payment. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of this policy, may while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall pass equally to the survivor or survivors, unless otherwise provided in the policy. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, then payment shall be made to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time within three years after default in payment of any premium, or thereafter by special arrangement, if this policy has not been surrendered to the company, it may be reinstated upon presentation at the home office of evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to and approved by the company, and the payment of all premium arrears with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum and payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness which existed at the time of such default with interest not to exceed six per cent per annum.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of the second policy year and at the end of each subsequent policy year this policy, while in force, (except as extended insurance) shall be credited with its portion of the divisible surplus as annually determined by the company. Such annual dividend may be used by the insured for any one of the following purposes: (First) Withdrawn in cash or applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (Second) applied to the purchase of participating paid-up additions to the policy; or (Third) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy; or (Fourth) used to convert this policy into a paid up life policy for its face amount whenever the reserve on this policy, together with its cash value of any dividend additions thereto, less any outstanding indebtedness, shall equal the net single life premium for the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Mortality Table with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; or (Fifth) used to mature this policy, provided there is no indebtedness thereon to the company, as an endorsement for its face amount whenever the reserve on this policy together with the cash value of any dividend additions thereto shall equal said amount. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after any dividend is due, the same shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or under such other automatic option as may be required by the laws of the state in which this policy is delivered.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.

In event of default in premium payments after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the insured shall have the following options:

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(a) Extended insurance. Without any action on the part of the insured, the insurance will be automatically extended from date of default in premium payments, without participation in surplus, for a sum equal to the face amount of the policy and existing dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The term of extended insurance will be such as the cash surrender value hereinafter for will purchase at net single premium rates, according to the attained age insured. (See table of guarantees on the first page hereof.)

PAID-UP VALUE.—(b) Paid-up insurance. Upon the written request of the insured or his beneficiary, if any, prior to the expiration of the thirty-one days' grace and the surrender policy to the company, it will issue a paid-up participating policy, payable as provided. The amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash surrender value of the policy at the time of surrender, less any indebtedness to the company, according to the attained age of the insured. (See table of guarantees on first page hereof.) The insured or his beneficiary, if any, upon the issuance of a paid-up policy will be entitled to cash surrender values according to the attained age of the insured at the time of surrender, computed upon the basis hereinafter set forth, less any indebtedness to the company.

SURRENDER VALUE, SURRENDER CHARGE.—(c) Cash value. Within one year from date of default in premium payment, to surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash surrender value, which shall be equal to the entire reserve on this policy, and dividend additions thereto, according to the American Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less any indebtedness on the policy and a surrender charge as follows: During the first and fifth policy years, one per cent of the amount of insurance, and decreasing to one per cent annually thereafter until the end of the fourteenth year, after which no surrender charge is made. The payment of such cash value may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made, should the insured so desire such action necessary. (See table of guarantees on the first page hereof.)

After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, if the policy is in force, except as extended insurance, on proper assignment of this policy to the sole security thereof, will advance at a rate of interest not to exceed four per cent per annum, a sum equal to or at the option of the insured, less than the cash surrender value at the end of the then current policy year as shown in column four of the table of guarantees on the first page hereof, deducting therefrom all indebtedness to the company and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year, and the balance advanced to the end of such year on the amount of the loan. Such loan may be deferred for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made, should the insured so desire such action necessary. To repay any such advance or interest shall not void this policy, unless the total amount advanced hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of the failure nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee if any, on record at the time of the failure of the company.

CLAIMS.—No action shall be brought against the company under this policy for death or application for any other settlement hereunder shall be furnished to the company at its home office not later than one year after the beneficiary has knowledge of such death, nor unless such action is commenced within one year from the time the right of action accrues. All proofs must be furnished upon blanks supplied by the company. Upon maturity of this policy its legal surrender will be required, and the cash value of the insured to the company under this policy will be deducted in full from the amount thereunder.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.

SETTLEMENT.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force for an amount of more than one thousand dollars and not then assigned, upon request in writing to the company, may in lieu of payment upon maturity of this policy, of the proceeds in one sum, substitute payment by instalments as stated under any one of the following options, provided there shall be but one beneficiary hereunder.

OPTION 1.—Payment of the face amount of this policy $10,000 in twenty equal annual instalments, (the first instalment payable immediately on due proof of death of the insured) and a further payment of one-half the face amount of the policy $5,000, twenty years after the payment of the first instalment. Any dividend additions in force will be paid to the insured and any indebtedness will decrease said instalments.

OPTION 2.—Payment immediately on due proof of the death of the insured, of any net proceeds of the policy, and commencing one year thereafter, payment of the remainder (if not less than $1,000) in 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 equal annual instalments, as shown in the following table:

Number of instalments.....	30	25	20	15	10	5
of instalments for $1,000 remaining.....	54.37	60.67	70.36	86.83	120.24	221.48

OPTION 3.—Payment of the net proceeds of the policy in a limited number of instalments, the first instalment payable immediately on due proof of the death of the insured, the number of years chosen, as shown in the following table:

Number of years chosen.....	30	25	20	15	10	5
of instalments for $1,000 of net proceeds of policy.....	52.53	58.62	67.98	83.88	116.17	213.99

UNDER OPTIONS 1, 2 AND 3.—Should the beneficiary die before all instalments are paid, the company will pay the remaining unpaid instalments to the executor or administrator of said beneficiary as they mature, or, if so directed by said beneficiary in writing, will pay to said executor or administrator the amount unpaid in one sum discounted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

OPTION 4.—Payment of continuous annual instalments during the life of the beneficiary (the first instalment payable immediately on due proof of the death of the insured) of an amount to be determined by the age of the beneficiary at last birthday preceding the death of the insured, as shown by the following table, for each $1,000 of net proceeds of the policy:

Age of beneficiary.....	10 and 11	12 to 16	17 to 19	20 to 26	24 to 27
Amount of instalment.....	$ 38	$ 39	$ 40	$ 41	$ 42
Age of beneficiary.....	28 and 29	30 to 33	34 and 35	36	37 to 40
Amount of instalment.....	$ 43	$ 44	$ 45	$ 46	$ 47
Age of beneficiary.....	41 and 42	43 and 44	45 and 46	47 and 48	49 and 50
Amount of instalment.....	$ 48	$ 49	$ 50	$ 51	$ 52
Age of beneficiary.....	51 to 53	54 to 56	57 to 60	61 or over
Amount of instalment.....	$ 53	$ 54	$ 55	$ 56	$

UNDER OPTION 4.—Should the beneficiary die before twenty-five instalments have been paid, the balance of the twenty-five instalments, remaining unpaid, will be commuted and their present value paid to the executor or administrator of said beneficiary.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments so as to effect payment hereunder during the life of the beneficiary, unless such right is given by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office during the life of the insured.

Should this policy mature as an endowment for not less than $1,000, the insured may, upon written notice as hereinbefore provided, elect to receive the amount in instalments as provided in any one of the foregoing instalment options, subject to their respective terms.

When any option calling for annual payments is elected, a supplementary contract will be issued for the option elected.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

Thereby represent that I am temperate in habits, am now in good health and ordinarily have good health; that my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner are true and complete, and correctly recorded; that the statements and answers to the printed questions above, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and be the basis of this contract. I agree that self-destruction, while sane or insane, within one year from the date of the policy, is a risk not assumed by this company, but in such case it will return the premiums actually received. It is agreed that the company shall incur no liability until this application has been received, approved, and the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered and paid for during my lifetime and good health, and shall then take effect from its date, and that the policy shall be in the form now in use by the company.

Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska.

TWENTY-YEAR INDEMNITY AND INVESTMENT BOND.
 AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $342. AGE, 35.

The Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska hereby grants an insurance for ten thousand dollars on the life of Robert Roosevelt, of Nebraska City, county of Osage, State of Nebraska, payable to Rebecca Roosevelt, or in the event of her prior death, to her executors, administrators or assigns immediately after the receipt of satisfactory proof of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this contract, at the office of the company in Lincoln, Neb.

This bond is issued in consideration of the representations and agreements made in the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and in the further consideration of the payment of three hundred and forty-two dollars, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, and of the payment of a like sum, on or before the first day of March in each and every year during the continuance of this contract, until payments for twenty full years have been made.

This bond is delivered and accepted subject to the express conditions and mutual agreements printed on the back hereof which are hereby made a part of this contract.

CONDITIONS AND AGREEMENTS REFERRED TO AS A PART OF THIS CONTRACT.

NOTICE.—No person has authority to erase, waive, or modify in any way any of the terms or conditions of this bond.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable at the home office of the company, in Lincoln, Neb., but will be accepted elsewhere, when made in exchange for the company's receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer. The delivery and acceptance of this bond is notice that each and every premium is due and payable at the date named in this bond, and any other or further notice is expressly waived. This policy shall not be in force until the first premium shall be paid, while the insured is in good health, to the company, or to some person authorized by the company to receive it. A failure to pay premiums, or any indebtedness to the company, when due, shall render this contract void, and all payments previously made shall be forfeited to the company, except as hereinafter provided.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three full annual premiums have been paid on this bond, the company will, upon legal surrender thereof by the insured, before default in the payment of any premium, or within three months thereafter, issue a non-participating bond for paid-up insurance, payable as herein provided, for as many twentieths of the amount of this bond, as there shall have been annual premiums paid, provided there is no indebtedness to the company under this contract.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—At the end of five years from the date of this bond, and at the end of any five-year period thereafter, the company will, upon legal surrender thereof, pay to the insured, in cash on demand the full cash value of this bond; which cash value will be the reserve computed on American tables at four per cent interest. Provided that this bond shall be in force and application be made for such cash value within thirty days from the expiration of such period.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If, after three full annual premiums shall have been paid on this contract, and during the lifetime of the insured, it shall cease and become void by the non-payment of any premium when due, the company will, upon the surrender of this bond by the insured within three months after the date of such default, issue a bond for the full amount of this contract for the term shown by the table hereon. No part, however, of such "term insurance" shall be due or payable, unless satisfactory proof of the death of the insured shall be furnished to the company within one year after such death; and if death shall occur during such term, there shall be deducted from the amount payable the sum of all the premiums that would have become due on this bond if it had continued in force.

PAYMENTS.—After the third year, if the premiums have been paid on this bond, the company will loan to the legal holder, at the interest rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance, any amount not exceeding the amount for the corresponding year as shown on the table herein. A proper note or loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured on forms provided by the company, and the same deposited with the company.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.—If this bond has not been terminated by death, lapse, or surrender, the legal holder shall, at the expiration of twenty years from the date hereof, be entitled to either of the following options of settlement: (First). To surrender this bond and withdraw, in cash, the full cash value, which shall be the full reserve and all accumulated surplus apportioned to this bond, which cash value the company guarantees not be less than the entire reserve computed on the American tables and four per cent interest. (Second). To withdraw the surplus in cash and continue this bond as a paid-up participating bond for the full face value, entitled to annual cash dividends. (Third). To convert this bond into a paid-up non-forfeitable bond, without participation in profits, payable at death of the insured; provided, that as the amount of the paid-up bond will exceed the amount of this bond, the insured will be required to furnish a satisfactory certificate of good health from one of the company's medical examiners, subject to the approval of the company. (Fourth). To convert the entire cash value into an annuity for the life of the insured. If no election is made by the holder of this bond, on or before the expiration of the term as above stated, then and in that event this bond will continue as a paid-up participating bond for the amount as stated herein. Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this bond.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this bond will be recognized by the company until it shall be in writing, and assented to by the company. The insured shall have the right to dispose of this bond to the company without the consent of the person or persons named as beneficiary, if any, and shall also have the right at any time during his lifetime, to change the beneficiary with the consent of the company.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty days will be allowed in payment of subsequent premiums on this bond shall have been in force three months, subject to an interest charge at rate of six per cent per annum, for the number of days during which the premium remains due and unpaid. During the month of grace, this bond remains in force, and unpaid premium, with interest as above, remains an indebtedness to the company, which will be deducted from the amount payable under this bond if the death of the insured shall occur during the month.

INCONTTESTABILITY.—After two years from date of issue, the only conditions which shall be binding upon the holder of this bond are, that the premiums shall be paid when due, and that the requirements of the company, as to military and naval service in time of war, shall be observed.

VALUATIONS.—During the first year succeeding the date of this bond the reserve shall be computed upon the actuary's table of mortality with four per cent interest for the term of years, and for subsequent years such a valuation shall be made, according to said table, which will provide for the benefits and guarantees stipulated in this policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby expressly stipulated and agreed: (1) That the above application, together with the statement made to the examining physician, and the report of the examining physician and this declaration, and the policy that may be issued to me, shall be the contract between me and The Bankers Life Insurance Company of Nebraska; and I hereby warrant the same to be full, complete and true, whether written by my own hand or not; the warranty being a condition precedent to, and a consideration for the policy which may be issued hereon. And it is fully understood and agreed, that if any untrue or fraudulent or misleading answers shall be or shall have been made, or if I should neglect or refuse to pay any premium on or before the dates when they shall become due, then, and in that event, the said policy shall become null and void, and all money which shall have been paid shall be forfeited to the company, except as provided in the policy. (2) That the company shall not be liable, under the policy hereby applied for, if my death shall be the result or consequence of violation of law, or while I am resisting or attempting to evade arrest therefor. It is also understood and agreed, that if I shall engage in blasting, marine labor, aeronautic travel, the manufacture or handling of highly inflammable explosive substances, or service upon any vessel or railroad, or in any military or naval service in the time of war, without first obtaining the consent of said company in writing, the policy shall be null and void, and of no effect, except as provided in the policy. That inasmuch as only the officers at the home office of said company, in the city of Lincoln, Neb., have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any location, and as they act on the written statements and representations referred to; statements, representations, promises, or information made or given by or to the person applying or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on said company, or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, representations, promises, or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of said company, at the home office, in this application. (4) That in any distribution of surplus or profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by said company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy. (5) And it is agreed that there shall be no contract of insurance until a policy shall have been issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium thereon shall be paid while the person proposed for insurance is living and in the same condition of health as described in this application.

The provisions and conditions hereinafter stated are hereby made a part of this contract.

Signed and dated at the home office of The Bankers Reserve Life Company in the city of Omaha, this first day of February, 1908.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.

Referred to on the First Page of this Policy.

1. INTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company and shall be incontestable after one year from date hereof, except for non-payment of premiums or for military or naval services in time of war without the written consent of the company. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application therefor. A copy of the application is hereto attached when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

2. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per centum per annum, shall be granted for payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

3. VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

4. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided said policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary, upon a request to the home office of the company, together with a surrender of the PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—Premiums hereon after the first are due and payable, either at the home office or to an agent of the company, upon delivery of a receipt by the president, secretary or treasurer. Except as herein otherwise provided, payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force until the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. This policy shall be payable annually in advance, but upon written notice by the insured shall have the option at the time any premium falls due of the following: (1) equal, semi-annual or quarterly premium, according to the company's schedule of rates for this kind of policy, and the same will continue this policy in force for the term of the policy for which must be signed as aforesaid.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and at the end of the third policy year the company will annually determine and apportion a portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon. Dividends accrued as to the option of the insured, be either (1) paid in cash, or (2) applied towards the purchase of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but without interest thereon. When at the end of any policy year the dividends so determined, plus the cash surrender value hereon, shall equal or exceed the net single premium for the whole life policy at the attained age, the company will at the option of the insured elect to issue in lieu of this policy, a paid-up, non-participating whole life policy for the term of the policy hereof. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE. FIRST OPTION.—After three full years' premium paid hereon, upon default in the payment of any premium, if the insured elects no other option, the company, without action on the part of the insured, shall issue this policy as a paid-up non-participating whole life policy for the amount of the reserve on the first page hereof, plus any outstanding dividend additions hereto, as determined by the reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and one-half per cent interest, less not more than one per cent of the amount of the reserve and of any existing dividend additions hereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon.

EXTENDED INSURANCE. SECOND OPTION.—If after three full years' premium paid hereon, this policy shall lapse by default in the payment of any premium due, then, upon surrender of this policy within one month after such default, the company, without action on the part of the insured, shall issue this policy as a paid-up non-participating whole life policy for the amount of the reserve on the first page hereof, plus any outstanding dividend additions hereto, as determined by the reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and one-half per cent interest, less not more than one per cent of the amount of the reserve and of any existing dividend additions hereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE. THIRD OPTION.—After three full years' premium paid hereon, if this policy is surrendered to the company within one month after the non-payment of any premium when due, the company will pay therefor, as determined by the reserve on the first page hereof, plus any outstanding dividend additions hereto, as determined by the reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and one-half per cent interest, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon. The amount so payable shall be at least equal to the amount otherwise applicable to the policy of paid-up insurance and is greater than the amount applicable to the policy of extended insurance.

LOANS. FOURTH OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, and while this policy is in force, the company, upon written application within sixty days after such application is received, an amount not to exceed the cash surrender value of the policy, being the reserve on this policy at end of current policy year, plus any outstanding dividend additions, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of the dividend additions hereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon. At the time of making such loan, the security shall be duly assigned and surrendered to the company as sole security therefor. The loan shall be repaid at six per cent to the end of the current policy year, and any amount for the current policy year shall first be deducted. Failure to repay an amount or to pay interest, shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, no later than the month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the best known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it is filed with and approved by the company at its home office. The company shall have no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated within three years from the date of its termination, upon payment of any premium hereon, upon proof of good health satisfactory to the company and the payment of all defaulted premiums with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum. This privilege shall not apply if the policy has been surrendered for its cash surrender value and been canceled.

POWER OF AGENTS.—No person other than the president or secretary shall have authority to make, alter or discharge this contract, or to modify or extend any of its conditions or provisions either before or after its issue and delivery. No statement, promise, estimate, representation or waiver of any of the terms, provisions or conditions herein shall be binding upon the company, unless written or printed in the policy and duly signed by said president or secretary.

PROOF OF LOSS.—If this policy while in force shall become a claim by the death of insured, settlement thereof, less any indebtedness thereon, will be made upon receipt of proof of death, and upon due notice of death, blanks will be furnished on which to file proof.

PERMANENT DISABILITY OPTION.—Should the insured hereunder become totally permanently disabled from accident, and while this policy is in full force and effect, evidence satisfactory to the company of such disability, the company will pay to insured, on surrender of this policy duly receipted, one-half of the principal sum insured on the face of this policy, at the place and within the time thereinbefore mentioned, in addition to the amount thereof any unpaid loan or other indebtedness thereunder. In the event the cash value of the policy and the additions thereto exceeds five per cent of the face of the policy, such cash value will be available at date of due proof of disability and approval of said disability claim.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, may elect to have the sum payable under this policy at the death of said insured paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee; (2) by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice; (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years; (4) first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table: each $1000 of said net sum; (5) by the payment of equal annual instalments payable the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years thereafter as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have elected otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options.

Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3, except in the event of the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

The provisions and conditions hereinafter stated are hereby made a part of this contract.

Signed and dated at the home office of The Bankers Reserve Life Company in the city of Omaha, this first day of February, 1908.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.

Referred to on the First Page of this Policy.

1. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company and shall be incontestable after one year from date hereof, except for non-payment of premiums or for military or naval services in time of war without the written consent of the company. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application therefor. A copy of the application is hereto attached when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

2. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per centum per annum, shall be granted for payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

3. VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

4. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided said policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary, upon written request to the home office of the company, together with a surrender of the policy.

5. PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—Premiums hereon after the first are due and payable in advance, either at the home office or to an agent of the company, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer. Except as herein otherwise provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. This policy is based upon premiums payable annually in advance, but upon written notice to the company the insured shall have the option at the time any premium falls due of paying an annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium, according to the company's schedule for this kind of policy, and the same will continue this policy in force for the time paid for, the receipt for which must be signed as aforesaid.

6. DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning at the end of the third policy year the company will annually determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon. Dividends accrued as above may, at the option of the insured, be either (1) paid in cash, or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per centum per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary thereof. When at the end of any policy year the dividends so accumulated, plus the cash surrender value hereon, shall equal or exceed the net single premium for a whole life policy at the attained age, the company will at the option of the insured issue, in lieu of this policy, a paid-up, non-participating whole life policy for the face amount hereof. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months from the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

7. AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE. FIRST OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon default in the payment of any premium, if the insured has selected no other option, the company, without action on the part of the insured, will continue this policy as a paid-up non-participating whole life policy for the amount stated in the table on the first page hereof, plus any outstanding dividend additions hereto, purchasable by the reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon.

8. EXTENDED INSURANCE. SECOND OPTION.—If after three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, this policy shall lapse by default in the payment of any premium when due, then, upon surrender of this policy within one month after such default, the reserve hereon, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy, shall be applied to the extension of this policy for its face amount for the term stated in the second option in the table on the first page hereof, without further payment of premiums, but without future participation or the right to loans. If there be any dividend additions to this policy the values shall be proportionately increased from the reserve on such additions computed upon same basis. If there should be any indebtedness hereon the values shall be diminished proportionately on same basis.

9. CASH SURRENDER VALUE. THIRD OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if this policy is surrendered to the company within one month after the non-payment of any premium when due, the company will pay therefor, within sixty days from the date of such surrender, the amount stated in the table on the first page hereof, plus the reserve on any existing dividend additions, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon. The cash value hereby available is at least equal to the amount otherwise applicable to the purchase of paid-up insurance and is greater than the amount applicable to the purchase of extended insurance.

10. LOANS. FOURTH OPTION.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, and while this policy is in force, the company, upon written application, will loan, within sixty days after such application is received, an amount not to exceed the loan value of the policy, being the reserve on this policy at end of current policy year plus the reserve on any outstanding dividend additions, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent, less one per cent of the amount insured by this policy and of the dividend additions hereto and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon. At the time of making such loan the policy shall be duly assigned and surrendered to the company as sole security therefor. Interest in advance at six per cent to the end of the current policy year, and any unpaid premium for the current policy year shall first be deducted. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest, shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the best known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

11. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it is filed with and approved by the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

12. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated within three years from default in the payment of any premium hereon, upon proof of good health satisfactory to the company and the payment of all deferred premiums with interest thereon at six per cent per annum. This privilege shall not apply if the policy has been surrendered to the company for its cash surrender value and been canceled.

13. POWER OF AGENTS.—No person other than the president or secretary shall have authority to make, alter or discharge this contract, or to modify or extend any of its terms, conditions or provisions either before or after its issue and delivery. No statement, promise, estimate, representation or waiver of any of the terms, provisions or conditions herein shall be binding upon the company, unless written or printed in the policy and duly signed by said president or secretary.

14. PROOF OF LOSS.—If this policy while in force shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement thereof, less any indebtedness thereon, will be made upon receipt of due proof of death, and upon due notice of death, blanks will be furnished on which to submit proof.

15. PERMANENT DISABILITY OPTION.—Should the insured hereunder become totally and permanently disabled from accident, and while this policy is in full force and effect, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of such disability, the company will pay to said insured, on surrender of this policy duly receipted, one-half of the principal sum named on the face of this policy, at the place and within the time thereinbefore mentioned, deducting from the amount thereof any unpaid loan or other indebtedness thereunder. Provided in the event the cash value of the policy and the additions thereto exceeds fifty per cent of the face of the policy, such cash value will be available at date of due proof of disability and approval of said disability claim.

16. OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy at the death of said insured paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three per cent per annum, payable annually to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee, and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice; (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option 2 in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under Option 3, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

up insurance as stated in column 2, or the term for which insurance will be extended, as stated in column 3, will be such as said cash surrender value will purchase as a net single premium at the age of the insured at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

9. ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy both when paid-up and as premiums are paid beginning with the second policy year, will receive annually such dividends as may be apportioned by the company. Dividends thus apportioned shall, at the option of the insured, be either (1) Paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within one month after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends will be left to accumulate to the credit of the policy (option No. 4).

10. LOANS.—After two full years premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will, at any time, advance, upon execution of a proper loan agreement by the insured, and upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner, less than the loan value of the current policy year, at a rate of interest of five per cent per annum, payable in advance. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not void this policy until the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value, nor until one month after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

11. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—In default of payment of any premium or premiums, if the insured has not selected any of the options contained in section eight (8), the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, apply the cash surrender value of this policy, as shown in column 1 of Table of Loan and Surrender Values, to the payment of premiums falling due hereunder, so long as the said cash surrender value will pay the overdue premiums and all other indebtedness thereon with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum payable annually in advance. This policy shall not lapse so long as the said cash value so applied will pay for one day's insurance on a pro rata basis, but shall be continued in full force and effect in all respects as though the premiums had been paid in cash. At any time while the policy is being continued in force under this benefit the policy-holder may resume the payment of premiums without medical examination. In such event the indebtedness accumulated hereon, or any part thereof, may be paid in cash or allowed to remain as a loan on the policy. Such indebtedness shall at all times constitute a first lien on the policy.

12. DISABILITY PROVISION.—If the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and before default, in the payment of any renewal premium hereunder, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease, so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for profit or from carrying on any gainful occupation, the company will, at the option of the insured, either: (a) Pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become due hereon during the continuance of such disability, provided, in any such event premiums so paid by the company shall not become an indebtedness on this contract, and the cash loans and other values hereof, as shown in the table herein, shall increase in the same manner as though the premiums were being paid by the insured. The insured shall, however, at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform such work or to follow any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the pre-monies shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums hereon in cash on the first premium due date following such recovery; or (b) pay the insured immediately on account of this policy, one-tenth of the amount insured hereunder, less premiums due, if any, and a like amount annually thereafter, during such disability, until the said amount, less premiums due, and other indebtedness, is paid in full. Or (c) pay to the insured immediately, on account of this policy one-twentieth of the amount insured hereunder, and a like amount annually thereafter, during such disability, until the said amount, less any indebtedness, is paid in full. If, however, the insured shall recover, the annual advance shall cease and any advances already made under provisions (b) or (c) above may be returned in cash or remain charges against this policy. Independently of all other causes, the loss of both hands at or above the wrists, both feet at or above the ankles, loss of one hand and one foot as above or irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes will be considered as total disability within the meaning of this section.

13. LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company against this policy may be covered by loan insurance, and, upon due proof of the death of the insured, such loan insurance shall be applied to the cancellation of any such indebtedness. Loan insurance shall be subject to the following conditions: (1) Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company shall be required. No loan insurance shall take effect until the insured shall have received from the company a certificate thereof. (2) Premiums must be paid in accordance with the rates in the following table. The premium for loan insurance shall be computed at the attained age of the insured at the time when such loan insurance is made or renewed. For periods of less than one year, the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of the one year's premium for each month and fraction of a month. (3) Loan insurance shall not be granted for any period extending beyond the next premium-paying anniversary date of this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and payment of premium at the attained age, but no loan insurance shall be granted or renewed after age sixty. (4) Whenever the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness the company may cancel that portion of the loan insurance in excess of the indebtedness, and refund the unearned premium.

14. ASSIGNMENTS.—This company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of any assignment of this policy, unless such assignment be in writing and unless the original or a duplicate shall have been filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. Any claim under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest. The company will assume no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

15. GENERAL.—(1) No alteration of this policy or waiver of any of its conditions shall be valid unless made in writing and signed by an officer of the company. (2) The reserve for the first year of this policy shall be computed as for one year term insurance. (3) The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit and exercise every right and enjoy every privilege granted the insured by the terms of this policy. (4) At any time, and while in full force, this policy may be exchanged for a policy of the same amount, having higher rate, and upon any plan issued by the company, by paying the difference in premiums from date of issue until date of change, with compound interest at the rate of five per cent. (5) In the event of default in premium payments, unless the cash value has been duly paid, it is agreed that this policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy, with interest at the rate of not exceeding five per cent per annum.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the owner, or the beneficiary, after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured, or upon the maturity of this policy as an endowment, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of an annuity equal to three and one-half per centum of such net sum payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum, together with any accrued portion of the annuity for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's legal representatives or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's legal representative or assigns. When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued for the option elected. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare and agree, that I am temperate in my habits, am now in good health, and ordinarily have good health, and that in my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner no information has been or will be withheld touching my past and present state of health and habits of life and present and prospective occupations, employments and residence, with which The Beneficial Life Insurance Company should be made acquainted; and that the statements and answers to the printed questions above, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and be the basis of this contract. It is also understood and agreed on behalf of myself and of any beneficiary under any policy issued by the said company on my life, that the company shall incur no liability until this application has been received, approved, the policy issued thereon by the company and delivered and paid for during my lifetime and good health; and that the policy applied for shall be in the form now in use by the company.

I hereby agree that the foregoing statements made to the company's medical examiner, are a part of my application for insurance, are declared to be true, and are offered to the company as a consideration for the contract.

Berkshire Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $361.70. AGE, 35.

The insured: John Doe, of New York. The beneficiary: Jane Doe, wife of the insured. Sum insured: ten thousand dollars, payable at death of the insured. The premium: three hundred sixty-one and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars, payable upon the delivery of this policy in accordance with the provisions of the application therefor, and a like sum payable on or before the first day of each January succeeding the first day of January, 1914, (which last named date shall be taken as the beginning of the policy year and of the insurance hereunder), until the premiums have been fully paid for twenty successive years, or until the prior death of the insured.

In consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy of which application is hereto annexed, and of the payment of premiums as above described, the Berkshire Life Insurance Company promises to pay the sum insured, at its home office in Pittsfield Mass., to the beneficiary herein named upon receipt at its said home office of due proof of the death of the insured occurring during the continuance of this policy, and on its surrender, the balance of the premium, if any, for the then current policy year, and any other indebtedness on account of or secured by this policy, being first deducted therefrom; subject, however, to the insured's right, if any, to change the beneficial interest hereunder, as hereinafter specified, and provided that if no beneficiary shall survive the insured, such payment shall be made to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the said insured.

This policy will be incontestable after one year from the date of its issue, except for non-payment of premium.

The provisions, requirements, and benefits hereinafter stated are hereby referred to and made a part of this policy.

In witness whereof, the said company has, by its president and by its secretary, or an assistant secretary executed this contract at Pittsfield, Mass., this first day of January, 1914.

PROVISIONS, REQUIREMENTS AND BENEFITS.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—This policy while in force shall not be modified or altered, except upon the request in writing of the insured, and of other parties in interest, if any, and the approval on behalf of the company of the president, a vice-president, the secretary or an assistant secretary. All modifications and alterations shall comply with the legal requirements of the state within which the policy is issued.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the applicant shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the application and a copy of the application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto when the policy is issued.

PREMIUMS.—Premiums are payable in advance at the home office, but will be accepted elsewhere, on or before the date when due, in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by the president, or a vice-president, the secretary, or an assistant secretary, and countersigned by the agent authorized to deliver the same. In case of failure to pay any premium when due, or within the grace period, if any, or to pay when due the interest on any premium obligation, the company's only liability shall be such, if any, as is set forth hereinafter. (See "Non-Forfeiture Benefits.") Subject to the grace provisions of this policy, no premium payment shall continue it in force beyond the date on which the next premium will become due by the terms of this policy or amendments thereto.

GRACE.—After the first premium on this policy has been paid, overdue premiums will be accepted within thirty-one days from the date the premium is due, the policy meantime being continued in force, and the premium unpaid being a lien upon the policy.

SURPLUS.—This policy, while in force, will participate each year in the distribution of the surplus funds of the company. At the option of the holder of the policy, dividends will (a) be payable in cash, or (b) be applied in reduction of premiums, or (c) be used to purchase paid-up additions to this policy, or (d) may be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum, payable at the maturity thereof or withdrawable in cash on demand by the holder of the policy. If no election is made by the holder of the policy prior to any anniversary thereof the dividend for that anniversary shall be held by the company as provided in option (d).

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS FROM SURPLUS.—If any premium remains unpaid at the expiration of the period of grace, the company will apply the dividend accumulations under option (d) to the payment then due, if such accumulations are sufficient to make said payment in full.

PAID-UP OR ENDOWMENT PROVISION.—When the cash value of the policy and additions, together with any accumulated surplus held at interest, shall equal the reserve for a fully paid-up policy of the same form and amount at the then attained age of the insured, the company, upon written request, will endorse this policy as fully paid-up; or when such amount shall equal the face of this policy, the company, upon written request and release by all parties in interest, will pay such amount as an endowment, after deducting any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—Upon written request of all parties in interest, this policy, if in full force, may be exchanged at any anniversary of its issue, without medical examination, for any other form of policy now written by the company, except the continuous installment plan, provided the rate of premium shall not be diminished thereby, upon payment of such amount as the company may require. The new policy shall be for the same amount, shall bear the same number and date, and shall be written as of the same age as this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The company shall not be held to have notice of any assignment of this policy until the original assignment, or a duplicate thereof, is filed in the company's home office; the company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and before payment of the policy the claim of an assignee shall be subject to proof to the satisfaction of the company. No assignment of this policy shall be deemed to transfer the title to any dividends or dividend additions or accumulations, accrued or to accrue hereon, unless the same shall be specifically included in such assignment.

APPOINTING OR CHANGING BENEFICIARY.—The insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, may, if the right to do so has been reserved in the application for this policy, appoint a beneficiary or beneficiaries, provided none be herein named, and also from time to time during the continuance of this policy, may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, whether named in the policy or not, by filing with the company a written request therefor. Such appointment or change shall take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company at its home office.

LOANS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, and on a proper assignment of this policy, upon its prescribed form, the company, at any time within thirty days after the application therefor, will lend on the sole security of this policy, with interest at five per cent. per annum, payable in advance, the whole or any part of the cash value of the policy and of all paid-up additions thereto at the end of the policy year during which application for the loan is made, provided that from such loan the company will deduct any existing indebtedness on account of or secured by the policy and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan, or pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.

TRAVEL, RESIDENCE, OCCUPATION.—This policy is free from any restriction as to travel, residence or occupation.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated in the application for this policy, the amount payable shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the rate for the correct age.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.—In case of default in the payment of any premium, after two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, the holder of this policy shall be entitled, by a writing filed with the company at its home office during the period of grace, to elect one of the following options:

1. CASH VALUE.—To surrender the policy, and, with the written assent of the person or persons to whom it is made payable, receive within thirty days of the application therefor its then cash value, which will be the cash value stated in the accompanying table, increased by the value of any dividend additions or accumulations and diminished by the amount of any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

2. PAID-UP INSURANCE.—To have the policy continued as paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as in the original contract, for such an amount as its then cash value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium. Such insurance shall participate annually in the distribution of surplus and shall have increasing cash values.

3. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—To have the policy continued as extended term insurance from the due date of the premium in default for its face amount, increased by any dividend additions and diminished by any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, for such time as its then cash value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium. Such extended insurance shall not have the right to loans but shall have a cash surrender value and shall participate in the annual distribution of surplus, the share apportioned thereto to be payable in cash.

AUTOMATIC PROVISION.—If, during the aforesaid period of grace, the holder shall not elect one of the foregoing options, this policy shall be continued as participating paid-up insurance under the second option. The values for this policy are stated in the accompanying table for even years. If the default occurs after the payment of not less than a quarterly instalment of the current year's premium, the values will be proportionately increased. They will also be increased by the value of any dividend additions or accumulations, and decreased, in the manner set forth above, by the amount of any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby. After all premiums have been paid on this policy, or if this policy becomes paid up for a reduced amount, or if extended term insurance is taken hereunder, the insurance will have a cash surrender value which will be its legal net value and will be available within thirty days of application therefor on legal surrender of the policy.

The values in the above table, and the corresponding values for intervening and subsequent years (which will be furnished on request), are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three per cent. per annum. The amount deducted from the reserves in computing the values for the second to the ninth policy years inclusive, is in no case more than one and four-tenths per cent. of the amount insured, and no deduction from the reserves is made in computing the values for the tenth and subsequent years. Loan values are available at any time after two full years' premiums have been paid.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time after the date of default in the payment of any premium (unless the cash value has been paid, or the extension period has expired), upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums, and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by said policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.

INSTALMENT PROVISIONS.—The insured, with the power of revocation, shall have the right to elect that the payment of this policy when due shall be in instalments rather than in one sum. Each instalment certain after the first will be increased by such share of surplus interest as may be allotted thereto by the directors. The company will, on the surrender of this policy when due, give in exchange an agreement to pay in accordance with the method elected by the insured under either Option A or Option B hereinafter stated. If the insured shall not have previously elected either of said options, the beneficiary or beneficiaries, when this policy becomes payable, shall have the right of election. Any such election, revocation or appointment, must be in writing, duly executed in form satisfactory to the company, and this policy returned to the home office of the company for appropriate endorsement.

OPTION A.

Instalments for a Definite Number of Years.

LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—At the death of the insured, to have the whole, or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy, including any dividend additions then in force, paid in a specified number of annual instalments, as per table below, which shall apply pro rata per $1000 for the amount so paid, the first instalment being payable upon the issue of the agreement. The number of instalments under this option may be changed at any time by the insured. Unpaid instalments will be commuted on the basis of three per cent. compound interest and paid in one sum at any time when an instalment is due, upon the written request of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, if of lawful age, provided the insured shall not otherwise have directed in writing.

OPTION B.

Instalments Continuous for Life (Twenty Certain).

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—At the death of the insured, to have the whole, or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy, including any dividend additions then in force, paid in annual instalments, continuous during the lifetime of the beneficiary, of an amount corresponding to that stated in the table below for the age of the beneficiary or beneficiaries at the date of the death of the insured, which table shall apply pro rata per $1000 for the amount to be so paid, the first instalment being payable upon the issue of the agreement. If there be more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined pro rata for the age attained.

PAYMENT AFTER DEATH OF BENEFICIARY.—In the event of death of the beneficiary before receiving all the instalments under Option A, or all the first twenty instalments under Option B, such of said instalments as may then remain unpaid will be commuted on the basis of three per cent., compound interest, and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of such beneficiary; provided however, that the insured, by a writing filed with the company, may designate some person who, in case of the death of the beneficiary before receiving all of said instalments, shall be entitled to receive annually such of the same as may then remain unpaid. If the insured shall not have made such designation, the beneficiary may do so when this policy becomes payable.

SEMI-ANNUAL, QUARTERLY OR MONTHLY INSTALMENTS.—Under either of the foregoing options, annual instalments may be taken in equivalent semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly; or $8.45 paid monthly.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART 1.—This application, made to the Berkshire Life Insurance Company, of Pittsfield, Mass., is the basis and a part of the proposed contract for insurance. I agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not be in force until the acceptance and approval of this application by the company at its home office, the delivery of the policy to me or my agent, and the payment of the first premium as required therein during the condition of my health described and certified to in this application; and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted as having become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins.

PART 2.—I hereby declare, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued upon this application, that, to the best of my knowledge and belief, each of the foregoing answers in Part 1 and 2 of this application is full, complete, and true, and that I am in sound physical condition, and a proper subject for life insurance.

Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-YEAR ENDOWMENT POLICY—RETURN PREMIUM— ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $540. AGE, 35.

Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company, Boston, Mass., in consideration of the statements and declarations contained in the application for this policy, a copy of which application is hereto attached, hereby referred to and made a material part of this contract, and which statements and declarations the insured reaffirms by the acceptance of this policy, and in further consideration of the payment to it in advance of five hundred and forty dollars, on or before the first day of January of each year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, does hereby insure the life of Benjamin Mudd, of Boston, in the county of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, herein referred to as the insured, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and does hereby agree to pay said amount, provided this policy shall then be in force, at its home office in Boston, to the insured, if living, on the first day of January, 1928, or in the event of his death prior to said date, to pay said amount, upon satisfactory proof of the death of said insured during the continuance in force of said policy, to Bertha Mudd, if then living, if not, to the executors, administrators or assigns of said insured, after deducting therefrom the premiums, if any, for the balance of the policy year and all indebtedness of the parties to this contract to the company.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved and no assignment of this policy exists, the insured may from time to time change the beneficiary named herein, whether original or substituted, without his or her consent, provided that any proposed beneficiary shall have an insurable interest in the life of the insured. The right, however, is given the insured to surrender said power and to declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable, in which event said insured shall not have the right to change that beneficiary without his or her consent. Every change or irrevocable designation must be made by filing a written notice of the same at the home office of the company and shall not take effect until endorsed upon this policy by the president or secretary of the company.

The conditions, benefits and privileges contained on the reverse of this page are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

In witness whereof, the said Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, signed and executed this contract at Boston, Mass., this first day of January, 1908.

CONDITIONS, BENEFITS AND PRIVILEGES.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium shall not be paid when due or within the grace period hereinafter described, this policy shall thereupon lapse, and the only liability of said company hereunder shall be such as is hereinafter stated in this policy or is imposed by the laws of Massachusetts in force at the date of its issue.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of thirty days will be allowed within which the payment of any premium after the first year may be made, subject to an interest charge not in excess of six per cent per annum for the days of grace actually taken, during which period this policy shall continue in force. Should said policy become a claim during said period the amount of such premium shall be deducted in settlement from the amount due under said policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—The holder of this policy shall be entitled to have the same reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default of said policy, unless the cash value has been duly paid or the extension period has expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to said company and the payment of all overdue premiums and other indebtedness to said company upon said policy with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After the full premiums for three years have been paid, the holder of this policy shall be entitled, by a writing filed at the home office of said company within thirty days after default in the payment of a subsequent premium, to elect: (a) To surrender said policy, and, with the written consent of the beneficiary, receive its legal value in cash; or (b) to take paid-up insurance which shall be participating, to an amount such as said legal cash value would purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as in this contract; or (c) to have the insurance continued in force, on a participating basis, from the anniversary date last past for its full amount including any outstanding dividend additions but less any indebtedness thereon or secured thereby, for such period as said legal cash value would purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured.

fact amount, extent and terms of said cash value, paid-up insurance and ex-insurance shall be determined in accordance with Section 80 of Chapter 576 of and Resolves of Massachusetts of 1907.
 ever, the holder of this policy makes no election as above provided within thirty n such a default, said policy shall become paid-up insurance from the date of ult as provided in said second option.

AL DIVIDENDS.—Beginning at the end of the second policy year, the proportion-able surplus of the company contributed by this policy shall be ascertained annually as dividends. The first distribution shall be contingent upon the payment of the premium for the third policy year, but all subsequent distributions shall be contingent upon the payment of further premiums. Such dividends shall be at the option of the holder of this policy, (a) be payable in cash, or (b) be applied toward premiums, or (c) be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition, or (b) with the company to accumulate to the credit of this policy and be payable at the holder's option, or (c) be withdrawable in cash on demand by the holder of said policy or his assigns as hereinafter set forth. If no election is made by the holder prior to any anniversary of this policy, the dividends for that anniversary shall be held by the company, and if any premium on said policy is not paid within the last mentioned option, and if any premium on said policy is not paid within the last mentioned option, the company will keep said policy in force by applying the dividends to the payment due on said policy, if such accumulations sufficient to make said payment in full, provided that nothing herein contained shall be construed to continue this policy beyond the period which any dividend accumulation so would carry the policy under its full premium rate, not beyond the term for which the policy was originally issued.

After the full annual premiums have been paid on this policy, if it is still in force, and has not been converted into extended insurance, the holder thereof shall be allowed to borrow of the company at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum and on the sole security of said policy properly assigned to the company, a sum not exceeding ninety-five per cent of the cash surrender value of said policy at the end of each year during which the application for the loan is made, and of all dividends payable thereon, less any indebtedness to the company and any unpaid portion of the current premium year.

INCONTESTABILITY AND LIMITATION OF ACTIONS.—This policy, if once in force, be incontestable after two years from the date of its issue, except for non-payment of premiums and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without the consent in writing of an executive officer of said company. No suit, however, shall be brought on any claim under said policy unless commenced within two years from the time the right of action accrues.

MISTAKE IN AGE AND SUICIDE.—If the age of the insured has been understated and the amount payable under this policy shall be only such amount as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured. Self-destruction within two years from the date hereof, whether sane or insane, is not a risk assumed by said company hereunder, but in such event it will pay the amount of the net reserve required for this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Assignments of this policy must be made in duplicate and sent to the home office of said company, the original assignment to be retained by said company, the duplicate to be returned to the assignee, but no assignment shall be valid until assented to in writing by the president or secretary of said company. In no case will said company assume responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and the claim of any assignee shall always be subject to proof of interest.

POWERS OF OFFICERS AND AGENTS.—All agreements made by said company in writing and signed by the president or secretary; no agent or person other than an officer has authority to add to, alter or waive any of the provisions of this policy, nor make any agreement or waiver that shall be binding on said company.

TERMS OF CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defence of a claim under this policy unless it is contained in the application and a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to said policy when issued.

CONDITIONS.—Provided, however, that no obligation is assumed by said company prior to the date hereof, nor unless on said date the insured is alive, in sound health and actually under sixty-one years of age, nor until this policy is delivered and the full premium actually paid to said company and its official receipt signed by its president or secretary given therefor.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I declare, represent and agree that the statements contained in this application be the basis and become part of any policy of insurance the Boston Mutual Life Insurance Company shall issue hereunder; that said statements are full and true, and are correctly recorded, and that no information or statement not contained in this application, received at any time by any person, shall be binding upon the company; that the person filled in said statements were and are my agents for the purpose and not the agents of the company, and that the company is not responsible for the preparation of this application or for anything contained therein or omitted therefrom; that, subject to the laws of Massachusetts, any distribution of surplus in apportionment of reduction of premiums, in the event of insurance or surrender value, the principles and methods which may be adopted by said company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount of surplus equitably belonging to such policy, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for me and the person who shall have or claim any interest under such policy; and a receipt of the person whose life is insured shall be in full surrender of all dividend additions to such policy; that in any suit on such policy, any physician who has attended me or who may hereafter attend me, may disclose any information acquired by him in any way affecting the contract made by me herein, I hereby waiving all provisions of law to the contrary.

I further represent and declare that I am fully acquainted with and understand the application as above filled in, and that I made all the statements and declarations appearing, of my own accord.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

California State Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $403.40. AGE, 35.

California State Life Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand ($10,000) dollars to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, beneficiary, or to such other beneficiary as may be designated by the insured as hereinafter provided, at the home office of the company, immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe, the insured, while this policy is in force.

GUARANTEED OPTIONS AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—If all the premiums due hereon as stated in the consideration paragraph herein are paid to the company in full in cash and if as each coupon attached hereto matures, the amount thereof has been left with the company to accumulate at interest to the end of twenty years from date hereof, then upon the surrender of this policy and all coupons which are attached hereto at date of issue the insured shall be entitled to select one of the following options at the end of said twenty years. (1) A guaranteed cash payment of $7610. (2) A paid-up policy for life of $13,450, subject to satisfactory evidence of insurability for the excess over the face amount of this policy. (3) A guaranteed annual income of $467.20, to continue for at least twenty years and as many years thereafter as the insured shall survive. (4) A paid-up policy for life of $10,000, without medical re-examination, and a guaranteed cash payment of $1950. If no other option is selected as above provided, option 4 will be applied to this policy.

The benefits, privileges, conditions and tables stated on the following pages hereof are a part of this policy as fully as if recited and shown in full over the signatures hereto affixed.

CONSIDERATION.—The consideration for this policy is the application hereof, which is hereby made a part of this contract, a copy of which application is attached hereto when issued, and of the cash payment in advance of an annual premium of four hundred three and $\frac{40}{100}$ (\$403.40) dollars for term insurance for one year ending on the twentieth day of December, 1913, and the payment of an equal sum on or before the twentieth day of December in every year hereafter, until full premiums have been paid for twenty years from the date hereof, or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, the California State Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary at Sacramento, Cal., this twentieth day of December, 1912.

BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES, CONDITIONS AND TABLES.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will loan, upon the proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest which will not exceed six per cent per annum, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner hereof, less than, the entire net reserve hereon at the end of the then current policy year, without any charge therefor. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness hereon, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and will collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy until the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value at date of default, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any is recorded hereon.

TOTAL DISABILITY PROTECTION.—If the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and before default in the payment of any renewal premium hereunder, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for profit, or from carrying on any gainful occupation, the company will pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become due hereon during the continuance of such disability; and in any such event premiums so paid by the company shall not become an indebtedness on this contract and the cash loans and other values hereof in the tables as shown herein shall increase in the same manner as though the premiums were being paid by the insured. The insured shall, however, at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums hereon in cash on the first premium due date following such recovery. The loss of both hands at or above wrists, both feet at or above ankles, loss of one hand and one foot as above, or irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, will be considered as total disability within the meaning of this provision.

GUARANTEED SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, if any subsequent premium is not paid when due, the insured, upon war-render of this policy and all coupons not yet due to the company, and upon written request, both within the month of grace, shall be entitled to one of the following options: (First) CASH.—A cash payment. (Second)—PAID-UP INSURANCE. A paid-up insurance policy, payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy. (Third) EXTENDED INSURANCE. A term insurance policy for the full amount of this policy.

AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If no selection of one of the above options is made by the insured within the month of grace therefor, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, apply to this policy the paid-up insurance option, as stated in paragraph "second" above.

The amounts of the loan or cash values and paid-up insurance and the term of the extended insurance are shown in Columns 1, 2 and 3, respectively, of the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values shown herein, and are, without exception, equal or equivalent to the entire net reserve hereon at the date of default, without any surrender charge, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

Additional values not shown in the table will be allowed for parts of a policy year's premiums paid, and the values for later years will be equal or equivalent to the entire net reserve on the policy.

The cash value of any and all matured outstanding coupons to the credit of this policy at the date of default will be paid to the insured upon selection by said insured of one of the above three options and the surrender of said coupons to the company. If no such selection is made by the insured, said fund will be continued at interest as provided herein.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the insured and the company and shall be incontestable for any cause after one year from the date of issue.

If during the first policy year the insured shall suicide, whether sane or insane, the company shall be liable only for the cash premiums actually paid hereon.

All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used to void the policy or in defense of a claim hereunder, unless said statement is contained in the written application herefor.

If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount which the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums hereon after the first are payable in advance, either at the home office of the company or to an agent, on the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or the secretary of the company. Any part of the then current policy year's premium unpaid at the death of the insured shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

No officer other than those above stated and no agent has the power to make or to modify this or any other contract of the company in any respect whatever, and the company is not responsible for, and shall not be bound by, any promises or representations made by any person other than the officers named, and then not unless said promises or representations are in writing and signed by one of the officers stated.

If any premium or note or other obligation given for all or a part of any premium or other indebtedness is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall cease, except as otherwise provided herein.

After the first policy year the company will accept the payment of premiums hereunder in the amount of two hundred nine and $\frac{80}{100}$ (\$209.80) dollars semi-annually, on the twentieth day of December and June, or one hundred six and $\frac{90}{100}$ (\$106.90) dollars quarterly on the twentieth day of December, March, June and September in each policy year. The method of payment of premiums hereunder may be changed upon application to the home office before the end of the month of grace, on the form prescribed by the company.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A period of grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium hereunder after the first without any interest charge therefor, during which month the full insurance hereunder shall continue in force.

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in any premium payment hereon, this policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all indebtedness to the company, with compound interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum. The indebtedness hereon, if not greater than the loan value at the date of reinstatement, may be allowed to remain as a loan against the policy, subject to interest.

METHOD OF CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—At any time while this policy is in force the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy filed at the home office of the company, as herein provided, may designate a new beneficiary or beneficiaries, without obtaining the consent of any beneficiary hereunder, by filing such request at the home office upon the form of the company for this purpose, accompanied by the policy for endorsement thereon. Such change shall become effective only when said endorsement is made on the policy by the company, whereupon the rights of any former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If no beneficiary hereunder is living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of the policy will be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—This policy may be assigned by the insured, but no such assignment shall be binding upon the company until a duplicate copy thereof upon the company's form has been filed at the home office, and the company shall not be responsible for the legality of any assignment, and any claim hereunder by an assignee shall be subject to proof of assignment and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company hereon will be deducted in any settlement hereunder upon the death of the insured or in the payment of any other benefit. If this policy shall lapse and there shall be an indebtedness hereon, the said indebtedness will be deducted from the cash value of the policy at date of default, shown in Column 1, and the balance will be (a) paid to the insured in cash, or (b) applied to the purchase of a paid-up insurance policy payable at death, or (c) applied to purchase a term insurance policy for the face amount hereunder, at the request of said insured and the surrender of this policy during the month of grace, and said values shall be calculated upon the same basis as the values herein shown in the table of guaranteed loans and surrender values. If no such request is made, option (b) above will be applied to this policy.

RIGHTS OF THE INSURED.—It is understood and agreed that the insured may obtain every benefit, exercise every right, and enjoy every privilege conferred upon said insured by this policy, without the consent of any beneficiary.

METHODS OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The amount insured by this policy, unless the company is otherwise requested by the insured, will be paid in one sum, as provided on page one hereof. The insured, however, during his lifetime, or the beneficiary after the death of the insured, in case the insured has made no selection, may if this policy is not then assigned, and upon request to the company on the proper form, change the method of payment hereof, by selecting any one of the benefits shown in the table on page four hereof.

BENEFIT 1. TRUST FUND.—The amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand dollars ($1000), may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary in trust with the company, and the company will annually pay interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, so long as the said amount insured or said portion thereof remains with the company. The said trust fund will be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, and may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest, unless the company is otherwise directed in the request selecting this benefit. The trust fund privilege may not be selected if the beneficiary under this policy be a corporation or a firm.

BENEFIT 2. ANNUAL INCOME FOR NUMBER OF YEARS STATED.—The following table is for each $1000 of the amount insured. To find the annual income on this policy multiply the annual income per $1000, shown in the table, by the number of thousands insured by this policy.

Number of years.....	30	25	20*	15	10	5	4	3	2
Annual income per $1000.....	$ 52	$ 58	$ 68	$ 84	$ 116	$ 214	$ 264	$ 345	$ 508

* ILLUSTRATION.—If an annual income for twenty years is selected, the amount of each annual payment will be sixty-eight dollars ($68.00) for each thousand dollars insured by this policy. Any term of years shown in the above table may be selected.

The first income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

BENEFIT 3. MONTHLY INCOME DURING LIFETIME OF BENEFICIARY.—The accompanying table is for each $5000 of the amount insured. To find the monthly income on this policy multiply the monthly income for each $5000, shown in the table, by the number of times five thousand insured by this policy.

Two hundred and forty monthly payments at least will be paid, in any event, covering a period of twenty years, and the monthly income will continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, should the beneficiary survive said period of twenty years.

This benefit may not be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, nor if the amount insured hereby is less than two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500). The insured may, at any time, change his selection of the "methods of payment of death benefit" under this policy. He may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum.

3. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—This policy, after premiums for three full years have been paid, shall not lapse or become forfeited by reason only of non-payment of premium, but in such event the insurance shall continue in force for the time and amount in this privilege mentioned (provided there be no indebtedness thereon) as a non-participating extended term insurance for the sum assured, to run from the due date of the premium in default and to continue in force for the period stated in the table on page 3 hereof with adjustment for intermediate periods on the same basis, in the case of default of a half-yearly or quarterly premium). If there be any indebtedness on this policy, the amount of such term insurance shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of the indebtedness, and the period for which the said term insurance will run shall be that for which the cash surrender value of the policy less such indebtedness will carry such amount at single premium term rates, based on the American Experience Table with interest at three per cent, which shall also be the basis for the calculation of the extended insurance value after the expiration of the period covered by the table hereon. Provided that such extended insurance may be surrendered to the company at its head office within one month from the date of default in payment of premium for a cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purpose of such extended insurance, and provided also that the original policy contract may be reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof. Any dividend additions shall be added to the amount of extended insurance provided above and the cash value of such additions shall increase the period for which such insurance will be continued. This privilege is only to become operative when the assured has not made a request (either before or after the policy contract is made) for the automatic premium loan privilege, or where, if such request has been made, the same has been cancelled.

9. BENEFICIARY.—The assured may appoint a beneficiary or beneficiaries, or may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries already appointed, or declare that this policy shall be for the benefit of himself or his estate at any time during the continuance of this policy, by written notice to the company at its head office, accompanied by this policy, provided this policy has not then been assigned and notice thereof given to the company, and provided there is no absolute beneficiary then living. The assured may at any time, by written notice to the company, accompanied by this policy, declare the beneficiary then named to be the absolute beneficiary under this policy. Such an appointment of beneficiary, change of beneficiary, or declaration, shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its head office. During the lifetime of the absolute beneficiary the right to change the beneficiary will not exist in the assured. Provided always that if the assured be domiciled in Canada, and if the sum assured be (under the policy or any declaration) for the benefit of such of the relatives of assured as by the law of such domicile to be free from the claim of creditors, then this privilege shall not apply or have any effect. In the event of this policy becoming a claim before the appointment of any beneficiary the sum assured hereunder shall be payable to the assured's executors, administrators or assigns. If any beneficiary die before the assured the interests of such beneficiary shall vest in the assured.

10. REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy becomes terminated as a result of the exercise of privileges 6 or 7, or by provision 3, the assured shall have the right to have the policy reinstated within three years thereafter by furnishing satisfactory evidence of insurability and upon payment of overdue premiums and all other indebtedness to the company with interest thereon at six per cent per annum, compounded yearly. If in accordance with privilege 8 this insurance be continued in force as non-participating extended term insurance, the original policy contract may be reinstated on like terms.

PROVISIONS.

1. The due date of a premium shall be that stipulated on the face hereof.
2. No agent has authority to put this policy in force by delivery thereof without the payment of the premium and the delivery of the proper receipt therefor. If it goes into the possession of any interested party without such payment or receipt it is only for examination, and it is not thereby put in force. A receipt for payment shall be valid or binding upon the company only when issued from the head office in Toronto, upon the company's printed form, and signed by the president or vice-president or general manager and secretary. Premiums are payable at the head office, but, for the convenience of the assured, they may, when not overdue, be paid to an agent of the company in exchange for the official receipt, signed as above stated, and countersigned by the agent.
3. If any premium, due prior to the time when the automatic insurance privilege commences to operate, be not paid within the thirty-one days of grace, this contract shall ipso facto become void, but it may be reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof.
4. Self-destruction (whether the assured be sane or insane) during the first policy year is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.
5. The age of the assured will be admitted at any time before the maturity of this policy upon satisfactory evidence of such age being furnished to the company at its head office, but if not so admitted and if the age has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.
6. This policy and the application therefor contain the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the assured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties. Provided that where the laws of the country of domicile of the assured at the issue of the policy so require, no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it be contained in the written application therefor and a copy of the same be endorsed on or attached to the policy when issued. This contract cannot be varied except in writing hereon signed by one of the following executive officers of the head office of the company in Toronto, namely, the president, vice-president, general manager, secretary or actuary. Any such variation shall not contravene the law of the domicile of the assured.
7. An assignment of this policy shall not be binding upon the company unless in writing and filed at its head office in Toronto, Canada. The company by filing an assignment assumes no responsibility for the validity or effect thereof.

Canada Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—QUINQUENNIAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $381.50. AGE, 35.

The Canada Life Assurance Company, in compliance with a written application which is made the basis of this contract, assures the life of John Smith, of Chicago, Ill., merchant (the assured), under this policy of assurance, the particulars of which are as follows: (1) Plan of assurance, life, limited premiums. (2) Sum assured, ($10,000) ten thousand dollars. (3) Premium, $381.50 payable in advance, every twelve months from the first day of February, 1913, during the life of the assured, until premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid. (4) Sum assured, payable upon receipt of due proof of the death of the assured. (5) Dividends, payable quinquennially in accordance with the provisions on the third page. (6) Beneficiary, Mary Smith.

This assurance is subject to the privileges, provisions and options hereon endorsed, which form a part of this contract as fully as if the same were stated over the seal and signatures hereto attached.

Signed and sealed at Toronto, Can., this seventeenth day of February, 1913.

PRIVILEGES.

1. NO RESTRICTIONS.—No restrictions are placed upon the assured as to residence, travel or occupation.

2. GRACE.—Thirty-one days of grace are allowed for the payment of every premium after the first.

3. INDISPUTABILITY.—After being in force one full year this policy shall, subject to the payment of premiums, be indisputable.

4. PAYABLE IN GOLD.—The sum assured shall be payable in gold coin of the present legal standard of weight and fineness. The premiums may be paid either in such gold coin, or its equivalent in currency of Canada or the United States, at the market value.

5. SURRENDER VALUES.—After premiums for three full years have been paid the assured may (at any time within sixty days after the due date of a premium payment) upon legal surrender of this contract (a) receive the surrender value in cash, (b) obtain a non-participating paid-up insurance or (c) obtain a non-participating extended term insurance. These values are stated in the table on page 3 hereof. If non-participating extended term insurance be taken, and if there be any indebtedness outstanding, the amount of such term insurance and the period for which it will run shall be determined as in privilege 8. These options are to be construed agreeably to the automatic insurance privilege hereinafter provided.

6. LOANS.—At any time after premiums for three full years have been paid the company will lend upon the sole security of this policy (in the absence of statutory restrictions and on execution of a proper loan agreement and delivery of this policy to the company) up to the loan value specified in the table on page 3 hereof, at a rate of interest which may be but shall not exceed six per cent per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year. The interest upon any such indebtedness, if not paid when due, shall be compounded yearly, and if the accumulated indebtedness on this policy exceed the entire cash surrender value hereof all liability of the company under this policy shall thereupon terminate (subject, however, to the right of the assured to have the policy reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof), but such termination shall not take effect until at least one month after the company has mailed notice as to such termination to the last known address of the assured and assignee, if any.

7. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If in the application for this policy the assured shall have so requested, this policy shall not, after premiums for three full years have been paid, lapse or become forfeited by reason only of the non-payment of the premium within the days of grace allowed herein, provided the cash surrender value of the policy and of any dividend additions thereon (less any indebtedness on the policy) is equal to or greater than the premium then due and unpaid. In such event the company will without further request treat the premium then due as paid and the amount of such premium (with interest as hereinafter provided) shall become a first lien upon the policy in the company's favor in priority to the claims of any assignee or of any other person. If the net available cash surrender value be less than the premium that is due, the company will without further request continue this insurance in force until such value is exhausted (that is, for a period which bears the same ratio to the full premium period then ensuing as such net value bears to the full premium then due) and if prior to the expiration of such reduced period the last due premium be not paid in full, all liability of the company on this policy shall thereupon terminate, subject to the right of the assured to have the policy reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof. The rate of interest to chargeable under these automatic loans may be but shall not exceed six per cent per annum together with an expense fee of one per cent per annum upon the loan. The said interest and expense fee shall be payable annually on January first and if not then paid shall bear interest at six per cent per annum, compounded yearly. If requested by the assured in writing while this policy is in force the company will cancel the further operation of this automatic loan privilege and thereafter the extended insurance privilege (No. 8) will become available automatically in lieu of this privilege, and the extended insurance shall be subject to any existing indebtedness under this privilege or otherwise.

8. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—This policy, after premiums for three full years have been paid, shall not lapse or become forfeited by reason only of non-payment of premium, but in such event the insurance shall continue in force for the time and amount in this privilege mentioned (provided there be no indebtedness thereon) as a non-participating extended term insurance for the sum assured, to run from the due date of the premium in default and to continue in force for the period stated in the table on page 3 hereof (with adjustment for intermediate periods on the same basis, in the case of default of a half-yearly or quarterly premium). If there be any indebtedness on this policy, the amount of such term insurance shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of the indebtedness, and the period for which the said term insurance will run shall be that for which the cash surrender value of the policy less such indebtedness will carry such amount at single premium term rates, based on the American Experience Table with interest at three per cent, which shall also be the basis for the calculation of the extended insurance value after the expiration of the period covered by the table hereon. Provided that such extended insurance may be surrendered to the company at its head office within one month from the date of default in payment of premium for a cash value at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purpose of such extended insurance, and provided also that the original policy contract may be reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof. Any dividend additions shall be added to the amount of extended insurance provided above and the cash value of such additions shall increase the period for which such insurance will be continued. This privilege is only to become operative when the assured has not made a request (either before or after the policy contract is made) for the automatic premium loan privilege, or where, if such request has been made, the same has been cancelled.

9. BENEFICIARY.—The assured may appoint a beneficiary or beneficiaries, or may change the beneficiary or beneficiaries already appointed, or declare that this policy shall be for the benefit of himself or his estate at any time during the continuance of this policy, by written notice to the company at its head office, accompanied by this policy, provided this policy has not then been assigned and notice thereof given to the company, and provided there is no absolute beneficiary then living. The assured may at any time, by written notice to the company, accompanied by this policy, declare the beneficiary then named to be the absolute beneficiary under this policy. Such an appointment of beneficiary, change of beneficiary, or declaration, shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its head office. During the lifetime of the absolute beneficiary the right to change the beneficiary will not exist in the assured. Provided always that if the assured be domiciled in Canada, and if the sum assured be (under the policy or any declaration) for the benefit of such of the relatives of assured as by the law of such domicile to be free from the claim of creditors, then this privilege shall not apply or have any effect. In the event of this policy becoming a claim before the appointment of any beneficiary the sum assured hereunder shall be payable to the assured's executors, administrators or assigns. If any beneficiary die before the assured the interests of such beneficiary shall vest in the assured.

10. REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy becomes terminated as a result of the exercise of privileges 6 or 7, or by provision 3, the assured shall have the right to have the policy reinstated within three years thereafter by furnishing satisfactory evidence of insurability and upon payment of overdue premiums and all other indebtedness to the company with interest thereon at six per cent per annum, compounded yearly. If in accordance with privilege 8 this insurance be continued in force as non-participating extended term insurance, the original policy contract may be reinstated on like terms.

PROVISIONS.

1. The due date of a premium shall be that stipulated on the face hereof.

2. No agent has authority to put this policy in force by delivery thereof without the payment of the premium and the delivery of the proper receipt therefor. If it goes into the possession of any interested party without such payment or receipt it is only for examination, and it is not thereby put in force. A receipt for payment shall be valid or binding upon the company only when issued from the head office in Toronto, upon the company's printed form, and signed by the president or vice-president or general manager and secretary. Premiums are payable at the head office, but, for the convenience of the assured, they may, when not overdue, be paid to an agent of the company in exchange for the official receipt, signed as above stated, and countersigned by the agent.

3. If any premium, due prior to the time when the automatic insurance privilege commences to operate, be not paid within the thirty-one days of grace, this contract shall ipso facto become void, but it may be reinstated as provided for in privilege 10 hereof.

4. Self-destruction (whether the assured be sane or insane) during the first policy year is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.

5. The age of the assured will be admitted at any time before the maturity of this policy upon satisfactory evidence of such age being furnished to the company at its head office, but if not so admitted and if the age has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

6. This policy and the application therefor contain the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the assured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties. Provided that where the laws of the country of domicile of the assured at the issue of the policy so require, no such statement shall void the policy unless it be contained in the written application therefor and a copy of the same be endorsed on or attached to the policy when issued. This contract cannot be varied except in writing hereon signed by one of the following executive officers of the head office of the company in Toronto, namely, the president, vice-president, general manager, secretary or actuary. Any such variation shall not contravene the law of the domicile of the assured.

7. An assignment of this policy shall not be binding upon the company unless in writing and filed at its head office in Toronto, Canada. The company by filing an assignment assumes no responsibility for the validity or effect thereof.

8. In the event of this policy becoming a claim, the title of the person claiming the money shall be duly proven before payment and this contract delivered to the company with a valid discharge therefor. Any loan or indebtedness to the company on the policy, and the unpaid balance (if any) of the current year's premium will be deducted from the sum payable under the policy at settlement.

OPTIONS.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—This policy shall participate in the distribution of surplus of the company at the end of the fifth policy year and quinquennially thereafter. In the event of the death of the assured during any quinquennial period, after the policy has been one full year in force, an interim dividend as declared by the directors shall be paid. If no part of the current year's premium remains unpaid, the assured may elect to apply his quinquennial dividends either (a) by purchasing a paid-up addition to the policy, (b) by payment in cash, (c) by reduction of premiums for the ensuing five years, (d) by reduction of each future premium, or (e) by allowing the dividends to remain with the company and accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest (annually) at not less than 3 per cent per annum, and payable at maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on demand at the end of any policy year. If no other option is selected by the assured, the dividend shall be paid in cash.

If the assured shall have selected option (e), the company will pay the sum assured hereunder as an endowment whenever the reserve on the policy, based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent, together with such accumulated dividends, shall amount to the sum assured; or such accumulated dividends may, if the assured so directs, be applied at any premium due-date as an annuity (computed by the company) towards cancellation of future premiums; or the declared accumulated dividends under option (e) shall be available in or towards payment of premiums under the automatic loan privilege (if uncanceled). No interest will be allowed if any dividend be withdrawn within one year of its declaration.

If option (e) has not been previously selected, any of the first four options may be chosen at the time of any quinquennial distribution, except that to change from option (b), (c) or (d) to (a) the consent of the company shall be required.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The assured, by written notice to the company at its head office, and with written consent of the assignee and absolute beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the assured paid either in cash or as follows:

OPTION 1.—By the payment of interest thereon at 3 per cent per annum, payable annually, to the beneficiary under this policy during the life of the beneficiary and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

OPTION 2.—By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years (the first instalment being payable immediately) in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net insurance.

OPTION 3.—By the payment immediately of a certain sum in cash, and equal annual instalments for a specified number of years (the first instalment being payable at the end of one year) in accordance with the following table, for each $1000 of said net insurance.

OPTION 4.—By the payment immediately of a certain sum in cash, and equal monthly instalments for a specified number of months (the first instalment being payable at the end of one month) in accordance with the following table which is based on $1000 of net insurance.

OPTION 5.—By the payment of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately) for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table, which is based on $1000 of net insurance.

Guaranteed instalments payable under Options 2, 3, 4 or 5, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

If the assured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the assured, by like written notice and with the written consent of the assignee (if any) select any one of the above options.

Unless otherwise specified by the assured, the beneficiary may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under Option 1, and may at any time when a payment is due receive the commuted value of the guaranteed payments yet to be made under Options 2, 3 or 4 computed upon an interest basis of three per cent, but under Option 5, commutation (on such basis) will only be made in event of the death of the beneficiary occurring within the period of twenty years.

Any dividend additions shall operate to increase the benefits in the above schedule of values.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three per cent less an amount not exceeding two and one half per cent of the sum assured. The cash value in any year is at least equal to the value of the extended insurance calculated on the basis of the above mentioned table of mortality and rate of interest. After the twentieth year the minimum basis for values shall be the above mentioned table of mortality and rate of interest, less an amount not exceeding one per cent upon the sum assured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare and agree that to the best of my knowledge and belief, I am at present in good health, not being afflicted with any disease or disorder, external or internal, and that the answers to the above questions are, and that those to be given to the company's medical examiner shall, be full, complete and true; that I will accept and take up the policy hereby applied for when issued by the Canada Life Assurance Company, subject to the privileges and conditions contained in said policy; and, further, that the said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company and the first premium paid thereon in full, and head office receipt therefor be received by me, while my health is in the same condition as described in this application and in my answers to the company's medical examiner; and, further, that the principles and methods now or hereafter followed by the company in determining and allocating the surplus in connection with participating policies, shall be accepted by all parties.

I hereby request that the company's automatic premium loan privilege shall become operative, should that privilege be available under the policy hereby applied for.

Capitol Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED GRADED COUPON OPTIONS—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $381.40. AGE, 35.

The Capitol Life Insurance Company of Colorado by this policy of insurance agrees to pay the sum of ($10,000) ten thousand dollars, at its home office in the city of Denver, immediately upon the receipt of due proof of the death of John Doe of Denver, county of Denver, State of Colorado (the insured under this policy) to Mary Doe, wife, with the right of revocation, subject to all the requirements, privileges and provisions stated on this and the following pages, which are conditions precedent and are a material part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

This contract is made in consideration of the written application of the above named insured, which is made a part hereof, a copy of which is hereto attached, and the payment in advance to said company, on the delivery of this policy, of three hundred eighty-one and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for term insurance ending on the fourth day of February, 1916, and the further payment of a like sum annually upon the fourth day of the month of February in every year during the life of the said insured, until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been duly paid to the said company.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this fourth day of February, 1915.

SECTION I. PREMIUM WAIVER AND DISABILITY BENEFIT.—After one full year's premium has been paid hereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining age sixty (60) shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has since such payment become totally and wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by endorsement in writing hereon will continue the insurance in force during such disability without payment of premiums, and the values in "Table I" shall remain the same as if the premiums were paid by the insured. Upon the written request of the insured, the beneficiary and any assignee, after proof as aforesaid, the company will pay in any policy year during such total and permanent disability, if there shall be no indebtedness against the policy, not more than one twentieth ($\frac{1}{20}$) of the amount originally insured as stated on the first page hereof, or if there shall be an indebtedness not more than one twentieth ($\frac{1}{20}$) of the difference between such indebtedness and the amount originally insured, each of such payments shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance then in force, and in the proportion of such payments to the amount originally insured shall reduce the values set forth in "Table I," and, if when the payments so made shall, together with any indebtedness to the company, equal the amount originally insured, the company's obligation under this policy shall be fully satisfied and discharged. The insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of continued, total and permanent disability whenever so requested by the company. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability the following will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision: (a) The entire and irrecoverable loss of sight of both eyes; or (b) the severance of both hands at or above the wrists; or (c) the severance of both feet at or above the ankles; or (d) the severance of one entire hand and one entire foot. Should this policy be surrendered for paid-up insurance under part (b), or for extended insurance under part (c), of Section V of the "options on surrender," the provisions of this section, (Section I), shall not apply.

SECTION II. GUARANTEED COUPON OPTIONS.—(A) At the maturity of any coupon attached hereto, the amount thereof may, upon the surrender of the said coupon to the company, be applied to the annual premium then due on this policy; or, upon the payment of the said premium in full, the amount of the said coupon, upon its surrender to the company, may be withdrawn in cash, or, within thirty (30) days thereafter, applied to the purchase of a reversionary addition. (B) If, however, after the first policy year, the premium, when due hereon, be paid in full, and the amount of the coupon then due the insured be left with the company, the said amount shall accumulate at interest; and, at any time thereafter, within twenty (20) years from the date hereof, the said amount, together with interest thereon compounded at three and one-half ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per cent per annum for each full year, will be paid upon the presentation of the said coupon; provided always that, if, at any time, this policy be continued in force through the operation of the "automatically non-forfeitable" condition thereof, then, as provided in the said condition, the amount of any and all matured unpaid, and maturing, coupons, with any interest thereon, together with the reserve value of any and all reversionary additions, shall be applied to further continue this policy in force. (C) In the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, the amount of any and all matured unpaid coupons shall, upon the surrender to the company of this policy and all coupons then thereon, be paid in addition to the amount of the policy, less any indebtedness to the company. (D) If the twenty annual premiums required on the first page hereof be paid in full, and if, as each coupon attached hereto matures, the amount thereof shall have been left with the company to accumulate at interest until the end of twenty years from the date hereof, then, upon the surrender to the company of this policy and all the said original coupons, the insured shall have the option of one of the following modes of settlement: (1) Receive the sum of seven thousand six hundred and ninety dollars (\$7690) in cash; or, (2) receive an annuity of six hundred and twenty dollars, (\$620) payable at the end of the first year, and annually thereafter during the lifetime of the said insured; or, (3) receive a paid-up life policy for ten thousand dollars, (\$10,000) and the sum of two thousand and thirty dollars, (\$2030) in cash. (E) If the annual premium required on the first page hereof be paid in full for fifteen (15) years, and if, as each coupon matures, the amount thereof shall have been left with the company to accumulate at interest until the end of fifteen (15) years from the date hereof, then, upon the surrender to the company of all the coupons originally attached hereto, the company will endorse this policy paid-up for ten thousand dollars. (F) If the annual premium required on the first page hereof be paid in full for twenty (20) years, then, irrespective of the manner in which the insured may have applied the amounts of the matured coupons, the said insured shall, at the end of the said twenty (20) years from the date hereof, have the option of one of the following modes of settlement: (1) Surrender to the company this policy with any reversionary additions and any unpaid coupons then thereon, and receive the sum of five thousand six hundred and sixty dollars, (\$5660) in cash, together with the cash value of such reversionary additions and coupons; or, (2) surrender to the company any unpaid coupons then on this policy, for their cash value, and receive a paid-up policy for ten thousand dollars (\$10,000) and any reversionary additions; or, (3) surrender to the company this policy with any reversionary additions and any unpaid coupons then thereon, and receive an annuity of four hundred and fifty dollars, (\$450) increased by whatever amount the cash value of such reversionary additions and coupons will purchase; payable at the end of the first year, and annually thereafter during the lifetime of the said insured.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On February 4, 1916 the Capitol Life Insurance Company of Colorado will, subject to the condition on the back hereof, pay at its home office, to the insured under policy No. of which this coupon is a part, the sum of fifty-five and ⁰⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including the above date have been paid.

Condition referred to on the face hereof:—If the amount of this coupon, at or after its maturity, shall be applied, under the automatically non-forfeitable condition of the policy, then, without notice, this coupon shall become null and void.

NOTE.—As provided in the policy, the insured may, at the maturity of this coupon, leave the amount thereof with the company to accumulate at interest; or within thirty (30) days after maturity, return this coupon, properly endorsed, to the company, for the reversionary addition option.

Cash payments for succeeding coupons are $58.50, $61.50, $64.50, $67.50, $70.50, $73.50, $76.50, $79.50, $80.50, $81.50, $82.50, $83.50, $84.50, $85, $85.50, $86, $86.50 and $87.

Reversionary addition options are first year, $146 and successively $151, $156, $160, $164, $168, $171, $175, $178, $176, $174, $173, $171, $169, $167, $164, $161, $159 and $158.

SECTION III. THIS POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE, AS FOLLOWS:—If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office, in accordance with one of the options on surrender, and if any premium due hereon be not paid in accordance with the provisions of this contract, the amount of the premium, without any action on the part of the insured, shall be charged against the policy as a loan; provided the loan value on the premium due date, as stated on page 3 hereof, after deducting therefrom all existing loans and other indebtedness with accrued interest, be sufficient to permit of the advance of the premium and interest to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made. Interest on such loan shall be charged in advance at a rate not exceeding six per cent. per annum, and unless paid in advance shall be added to and form part of the principal of the loan, so long as the loan value of the policy will so permit. If the loan value or the balance thereof shall not be sufficient to permit of the advance of the premium and interest to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made, then it shall be used to continue this policy in force for such shorter period (even if it be but one day) as the said loan value or balance thereof shall permit. Such loan and interest accumulations, if not paid in cash, shall constitute a first lien against the policy until repaid, in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee; and at any time while this policy is thus maintained in force, payment of premiums may be resumed without any medical re-examination. It is further understood and agreed that, upon the exhaustion of the loan value referred to above, the amount of any and all matured unpaid, and maturing, coupons, with any interest thereon, together with the reserve value of any and all reversionary additions, shall be applied to further continue this policy in force, in the same manner and upon the same conditions as the said loan value. The termination of this policy from any cause, or the surrender for any benefit thereunder, voids all unmatured coupons then thereon, and the said coupons, on demand, shall be returned to the company.

SECTION IV.—LOANS DEDUCTIONS INTEREST.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent. per annum, a sum not exceeding the amount specified in the table No. 1 of loan values herein set forth. The company will deduct from any loan made hereunder any existing indebtedness on the policy, any unpaid premium for the current policy year and interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. If the interest on any loan be not paid when due it shall be added to the principal of the loan and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay any loan or the interest thereon, when due, shall not avoid this policy.

until the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the cash value, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured, or to any assignee of record.

SECTION V. OPTIONS ON SURRENDER.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the insured, on surrender of this policy within one month after any default, may elect, according to the table No. 1 of surrender values herein set forth: (a) To receive the value of this policy in cash; or, (b) to receive non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or, (c) to have the insurance extended in force from date of default, without participation and without right to loans, for its face amount, less any indebtedness to the company hereon.

SECTION VI. SURRENDER VALUES.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, any surrender value available, as specified in table No. 1, will be the reserve at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum less a surrender charge, which shall in no case exceed twenty-five dollars per thousand dollars of insurance. The cash surrender value shall at least equal the amount available for the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance. The values, specified in table No. 1, apply only if the policy is free from indebtedness. If there be any indebtedness hereon and if paid-up or extended insurance be applied for within one month after default, such indebtedness will be deducted from the amount of reserve used in the calculation of the values specified in said table No. 1 and will reduce said values in the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the amount of such reserve.

SECTION VII. PREMIUM PAYMENTS—RENEWAL PREMIUMS—POWER TO MODIFY.—All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery on or before the due date of a receipt signed by an executive officer of the company, and countersigned by said agent. The executive officers of the company are the president, vice-president, treasurer, secretary and actuary. If any premium be not paid when due, or if any note or obligation given for a premium be dishonored or not paid when due, this policy without any action or notice by the company, shall become forfeited and void except as provided in Section III "automatically non-forfeitable," or Section V, "options on surrender." Renewal premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates applicable hereto, and the insured may change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor to the home office of the company. Only an executive officer of the company, as aforesaid, has power to modify this policy or extend the time of paying a premium. Any such modification or extension must be in writing, and over the signature of such executive officer.

SECTION VIII. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, and if no new beneficiary be substituted, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured or in the estate of the insured.

SECTION IX. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

SECTION X. INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy will be deducted in any settlement hereunder. Any unpaid portion of the premium for the policy year current at the date of death is an indebtedness to the company.

SECTION XI. REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after lapse, if not surrendered for the cash value in accordance with option (a) of the options on surrender herein set forth, this policy, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of insurability, may be reinstated by payment of arrears of premium and all indebtedness hereon to the company existing at the date of default, with interest to the date of reinstatement at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

SECTION XII. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without any interest charge therefor, will be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force.

* Adopted August, 1914.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

JUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $301.30. AGE, 35.

The Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife (beneficiary) if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, at its home in the city of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, upon the surrender of this policy while in force and upon receipt of due proofs of death of the insured (insured).

This policy is granted and accepted subject to all the conditions, terms and provisions described on the subsequent pages hereof which are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if recited in full in the signatures hereto) and in consideration of the application thereof, which application likewise is hereby made a part of this contract and copy hereof attached hereto or endorsed hereon, the payment in advance of three hundred one and $\frac{39}{100}$ dollars being the premium for the first year's insurance and of the same sum on or before the tenth day of every year after until premiums shall have been paid twenty full years or until the prior death of the insured.

Witness whereof, The Cedar Rapids Life Insurance Company has by its president and secretary signed and delivered this contract in the city of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, this 1st day of August, A. D., 1914.

EXEMPTION FROM RESIDENCE, OCCUPATION AND TRAVEL.—This policy is absolutely free from restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death from the date of issue except that if the insured at any time engages in military or naval service in war (the militia not in active service excepted) and death shall occur during such war or as a result thereof, the liability hereunder shall be limited to the cash surrender value of this policy at date of death unless the insured shall have obtained the company's consent and paid the extra premium therefor at its established rate.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—After one full annual premium has been paid upon this policy and before a default in payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured is a male person and shall furnish the company with satisfactory proof that he has since such payment and before having attained the age of sixty, become disabled by bodily injury or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and prevented thereby for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing upon this contract of insurance will agree to pay the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case, the premium so paid shall not be a part of this contract and the cash, loan and other values of this contract in the schedule of this policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

ANNUAL PAYMENTS.—At the written request of the insured and of the beneficiary named, if any, the company will pay to the insured during such disability and in fulfillment of this policy, twenty annual instalments, the first instalment to be due six months after due proofs of permanent disability. The amount of each such instalment shall be one-twentieth of the amount originally insured as stated on the first schedule of this policy, less any indebtedness against the policy. Any instalments remaining due at the death of the insured shall be payable as they become due to the beneficiary named, who shall have the right to commute such remaining payments into one lump sum on the basis of interest at three and one half per cent per annum.

RESUMPTION FROM DISABILITY.—If the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this contract on the first premium due date following such recovery, the amount of the insurance shall have been reduced on the foregoing instalment basis, such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy and the premiums thereafter falling due will be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance and all benefits under the policy will be reduced accordingly. With the exception to any other cause of total disability, the company considers the loss of both eyes, of severance of both hands at or above the wrists, of both feet at or above the ankles or loss of one entire hand and one entire foot as permanent total disability within the meaning of this provision. Any medical advisor of this company shall have the privilege at any time to examine the insured regarding alleged disability.

NON-RENEWAL.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto and in the absence of fraud this policy shall be incontestable from the date of issue for any cause except for non-payment of the premium, or as to military or naval service in time of war or suicide as herein provided. NOTE.—If the insured, whether sane or insane, shall commit suicide within one year from date hereof, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of cash actually paid hereon.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—(1) No obligation is assumed by this company until the first premium has been paid and the policy duly delivered within sixty days from the date hereof, nor unless upon date of delivery the insured is alive and in sound health. (2) If any subsequent premium be not paid when due, this policy shall cease subject to values and privileges hereinafter described, except: that a grace of thirty-one days shall be allowed in payment of premiums, during which time the policy shall remain in force and the premium shall be subject to an interest charge at a yearly rate of six per cent. If death occurs during said period, the amount of unpaid premium with interest shall be deducted from the amount of the claim. (3) No premium shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor, signed by an executive officer of the company, and if any obligation given in payment or part payment of any premium is not paid when due, this policy shall then lapse. The sending of a notice of premium payment or other notices after the forfeiture or lapse of this policy shall not be a waiver or evidence of waiver of such lapse or forfeiture.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time, after any default, upon written application by the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated together with any indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy, upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy and while it continues in force under its original conditions, the company will loan the insured (on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof) at a rate not exceeding six per cent interest per annum in advance, a sum not to exceed the amount named in Column 1 of the table of guaranteed values endorsed hereon, after deducting from such loan any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or the interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and the assignee, if any, as shown by the records at the home office of the company. Interest on all loans shall be payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually thereafter.

BENEFITS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—Cash Value. Paid-up Insurance. After this policy shall have been in force for three full years, the insured may within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, surrender this policy and receive its cash surrender value as stated in Column 1 of the table of guaranteed values, less any indebtedness to the company; or receive a non-participating paid-up policy for the amount stated in Column 3 of same table, less the paid up insurance value of any indebtedness against the policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If the policy be not surrendered for the cash or paid-up insurance as above provided, the insurance shall be automatically continued in force for the face amount of this policy as non-participating term insurance for the time stated in the following table of guaranteed values. Any indebtedness to the company hereon will correspondingly reduce the term of extension on the basis of the valuation section of this policy.

TABLE OF GUARANTEED VALUES.

The full year's premium having been paid, the amount shown in Column 1 opposite any policy year indicated is available at the end of such year as a cash surrender value, or at any time during such year as a loan, or may be applied to pay the current year's premium.

Values beyond the above table will be furnished on application to the company, and at the end of any year after the twentieth, or on completion of the premium payment period paid-up or extended insurance value will equal the full reserve of this policy. If the premium on this policy be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of year's premiums indicated. In case of necessity, the company may (except for the purpose of premium payments) defer the granting of loans or cash surrenders under this policy for a period not exceeding six months after application therefor is made.

VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance. The reserve on this policy is computed according to the American Experience Table of Morwith interest at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum. The net value paid-up or extended insurance granted hereunder and set forth in the table of guaranteed values endorsed hereon, equals the reserve at the date of default less a surrender charge if any, not exceeding two and one half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The loan value given in the table equals or exceeds the net value of the extended insurance. The loan value equals the reserve at the end of the current policy year, less interest, unpaid premiums, interest in advance and a charge not exceeding two and one half per cent of the amount insured hereunder.

RIGHT OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary named in this policy acquires no vested interest therein during the life of the insured, but the insured, with the written consent of the executive officers of the company endorsed thereon, may change the beneficiary, and the company assumes no responsibility of the validity of any such change.

ASSIGNMENT OF POLICY.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of the assignment.

PROOF OF DEATH.—Due proof of death of the insured must be furnished to the company at its home office. No suit or action shall be maintained upon this policy unless such action is commenced within the time provided by the laws of the state in which the policy is delivered.

VARIOUS PROVISIONS.—1. No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy and time for payment of premiums, nor can the policy be varied or altered or its terms varied or extended in any respect except by the written agreement of the company by an executive officer, whose authority cannot be delegated. 2. If the premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinbefore provided. 3. Any indebtedness due to the company, including any balance of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid, shall be deducted at the settlement of this policy or of any benefit thereunder.

INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.

The company will at the written request of the insured at any time make the insurance payable in equal instalments as provided in any one of the following options if such policy has not been assigned; but no such change shall take effect until it is endorsed by the company on this policy. The first instalment shall be paid on the death of the insured, or at the end of the endowment period if this policy be on the endowment plan. Unpaid instalments can neither be assigned nor commuted unless the insured directs, and in the event of the death of the beneficiary after the death of the insured, any unpaid instalments shall revert to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary and may by them be commuted. The payment of all benefits hereunder shall be subject to the same conditions and proofs as are required by this policy for the payment of the original insurance hereunder.

OPTION 1.—Payment of the face amount of this policy $10,000 in twenty equal instalments and a further payment of one-half of the face amount of this policy, $5000; years after the payment of the first instalment.

OPTION 2.—Payment of the net proceeds of this policy in a limited number of instalments designated below. In ten annual instalments of $116 each, amounting to $1160 for $1000 of insurance hereunder; or in fifteen annual instalments of $84 each, amounting to $1260 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or in twenty annual instalments of $63 each, amounting to $1260 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or in twenty-five annual instalments of $58 each, amounting to $1450 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder;

OPTION 3.—Payment of annual instalments for twenty years and so many years longer as the beneficiary may live; the amount of each instalment to be determined by the following table, based on the age of the beneficiary at the birthday last preceding the death of the insured.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

All the foregoing statements and answers and all those I shall make to the company's medical examiner in connection of this application as Part II thereof, are true and are offered to the company as an inducement to issue the policy for which application is hereby made. The policy hereby applied for shall not take effect unless and until the first premium shall have been paid during my continuance in good health, and the policy shall have been delivered to and received by me during my continuance in good health. I hereby agree to submit promptly to a medical examination for the purpose of completing this application.

Central life Assurance Society of the U. S.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $318.

AGE, 35.

The Central Life Assurance Society of the United States, Des Moines, Iowa, in consideration of three hundred eighteen dollars being the premium for one year's term insurance receipt of which is hereby acknowledged and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of March hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay upon receipt at the home office of the society in the city of Des Moines, Iowa, of due proof of the death of John P. Doe, of Des Moines, county of Polk, State of Iowa, herein called the insured, to Margaret M. Doe beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Agents are not authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time of paying a premium.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of March nineteen hundred and fourteen.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall be payable to the insured, his executors, administrators or assigns.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The company will accept payment of premiums at other times than as stated above as follows: semi-annually one hundred sixty-five dollars and forty cents, on first day of March and September, or quarterly, eighty-four dollars and thirty-three cents, on first day of March, June, September and December.

Except as herein provided the payment of premium or installment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or installment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary, or assistant secretary, and countersigned by said agent.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which period the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of not greater than six per centum per annum, which interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner of the policy less than the reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy, as computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality three and one-half per centum basis, less a sum not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured by this policy. At the time of making such loan any existing indebtedness on account of this policy and any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year, including the interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year will be deducted. The company reserves the right to defer the making of a loan for not more than sixty days after the application therefor has been made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, of record at the home office of the company, if any.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it or duplicate thereof be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTION ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without the right to loans for its face amount less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy computed according to American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, less not more than two and one-half per centum of the amount insured in this policy and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. The term for which the insurance will be continued, or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value if purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Mortality Table and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum. The company reserves the right to defer the making of a cash value for not more than sixty days after the application therefor has been made. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash surrender value or paid-up insurance, as provided in options (a) and (c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b). The figures in the following tables are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company may be reinstated by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at not more than six per centum per annum.

SUICIDE AND MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE.—Death resulting from suicide, whether sane or insane at the time, or death resulting from military or naval service in time of war, during the first year under this policy, are risks not assumed by the company, and in event of death from either of said causes, during the first year, the only liability shall be the return of the premiums actually paid thereon upon the return of this policy at the home office properly receipted.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums. It is free from restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one half per centum per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual installments for a specified number of years, the first installment being payable immediately in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual installments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum. Installments payable under options (2) and (3) which shall have not been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. Options (2) and (3) payable monthly if desired. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

OPTIONAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The insured at the time of making application for this policy, and upon the additional payment of twenty-five cents per annum per one thousand of insurance, may elect the benefit shown under the following clause headed "Protection in Event of Total Disability."

PROTECTION IN EVENT OF TOTAL DISABILITY.

After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this contract, and before a default of payment of any subsequent premium, and prior to attained age of 55, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has, since such payment, become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing hereon will continue the insurance during such disability without payment of premiums, and the values in the table on page 2 shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. Or,

Second: At the option of the insured and subject to the above conditions, all future premiums upon this policy shall be discontinued, and the insured shall receive upon the furnishing of said proof, one-twentieth of the face of this policy in cash, and one-twentieth upon the anniversary of said payment on each year thereafter until twenty full annual payments have been made. Each such payment shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance then in force, and the table of values set forth on page 2 of this policy shall be correspondingly decreased.

If there shall be an indebtedness upon this policy at the time of such total disability one-twentieth of the difference between such indebtedness and the face of the policy shall be paid each year as specified above.

In event of the death of the insured after payment of one or more instalments, the remaining portion of the policy shall be paid to the beneficiary after deducting all indebtedness together with the amount paid by instalments.

In addition to or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability the company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or one entire hand and one entire foot as total and permanent disability in the meaning of the above provision.

Upon any anniversary of this contract the above provisions of "Protection in Event of Total Disability" may be canceled by the insured, in which event the subsequent annual premiums will be reduced twenty-five cents for each one thousand of insurance hereunder, and such reduction shall be endorsed hereon.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application, the medical examination and the policy hereby applied for, taken together, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and I hereby represent that all the answers made to the above questions and those that shall be made to the medical examiner are true and form the basis of an insurance contract, and that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. I also agree to have the required medical examination made at once by a physician acceptable to the society.

CENTRAL LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY OF ILLINOIS.

AGREEMENTS AND REPRESENTATIONS IN APPLICATION.

I agree, that I will not, within two years from the date of any policy issued hereon, indulge in the use of intoxicants, narcotics or other stimulants to excess; and that should I violate this agreement any policy issued hereon shall become null and void.

I further agree (1) that this application, parts one and two, shall form a part of and be the basis of any policy issued hereon and shall be construed with such policy, and that the contract of insurance (evidenced by such policy and application) shall be governed by and interpreted according to the laws of the State of Illinois; and (2) that the contract shall be considered as having been made at the home office of the company, Ottawa, Ill., and to accept said policy subject to all of its provisions; and (3) that in case of any default in payment of any premium on any policy of insurance issued on this application, the arrears, if any, shall be charged by this company as an indebtedness against such policy according to the loan provisions therein, unless hereafter otherwise directed by me; and (4) that all provisions of law prohibiting any physician or surgeon from disclosing any information herein or hereafter are hereby expressly waived.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Central Life Insurance Company of Illinois.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $356.50. AGE, 35.

Central Life Insurance Company of Illinois, Ottawa, Ill., will pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife (herein called the beneficiary), if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured, or duly substituted beneficiary, upon receipt at its home office in the city of Ottawa, Ill., of satisfactory proofs of the death of John Doe (herein called the insured) during the continuance of this policy; subject, however, to the conditions and privileges hereinafter set forth.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and which is made a part hereof, and of the payment in advance of three hundred fifty-six and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for one year's term insurance, terminating on the fifth day of May, 1911, and of the further payment of a like amount on the fifth day of May in every year during the life of the insured, until twenty (20) annual premiums have been paid, whereupon all payment of premiums shall cease.

The cash value of this policy at the end of twenty years shall be five thousand six hundred sixty-one and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars, and, in addition thereto: (a) If dividends are used to purchase additions: The reserve on such additions, computed on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one half per cent per annum, or (b) if dividends are left with the company to accumulate. The amount of such accumulated dividends, with three and one-half per cent interest, compounded annually.

In the event this policy becomes a claim by death, and the dividends have been left to accumulate with the company, the amount of such accumulated dividends will be paid to the beneficiary, in addition to the face of the policy.

CONDITIONS AND PRIVILEGES.

CONTRACT.—This policy of insurance and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured, and in the absence of fraud the statements made in the application shall be deemed representations and not warranties.

CONTRACT TAKES EFFECT.—The payment of the first premium hereon is a condition precedent to the taking effect hereof, and this policy shall not become binding upon the company until said premium is actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured, and the delivery of this policy without such payment, through the mail, or otherwise, shall not be a waiver of such precedent condition.

PREMIUM. TO WHOM PAYABLE.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Ottawa, Illinois, or to the company's authorized agent, in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by the agent designated therein.

HOW PAYABLE.—Premiums are due and payable annually in advance, but may be paid semi-annually or quarterly, according to the company's table rates. Any unpaid part of a year's premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF.—A grace of one month, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, will be allowed on any premium except the first, and if payment be not then made, this policy shall become null and void, except as hereinafter provided in the non-forfeiture clause. In case the death of the insured should occur during said one month of grace, the premium then due, with all other indebtedness on account of, or secured by, this policy, will be deducted from any settlement on this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of any default of premium payments hereon, the arrears may be paid within the month of grace. If not so paid, and if requested by the insured prior to or within the said period of grace, the arrears will be charged as an indebtedness against this policy, bearing interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the loan value; or the policy may be reinstated at any time after the said month of grace, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all arrears thereon, with interest at six per cent per annum, provided, in any case, the policy has not been surrendered to the company.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Subject to the rights of any assignee, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary by filing at the home office, on blanks furnished by the company, a written request therefor, together with this policy, such change to take effect when the company's acceptance shall be endorsed hereon, when all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If the beneficiary last designated shall not believe at the death of the insured, the amount payable hereunder shall be paid to the estate of the insured.

INTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after two years from its date except for non-payment of premiums, but in the case of misstatement of age, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

If, within two years from the date hereof, the insured hereunder shall die in consequence of an aerial voyage, or of violation of law, or shall, whether sane or insane, die by his own hand, the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount of premiums actually paid, and no more.

OCCUPATION AND RESIDENCE.—This policy is free from conditions and restrictions as regards occupation, residence, travel, or place of death, from the date of its issue.

MILITARY AND NAVAL SERVICE. In time of war, shall not invalidate this insurance, but the insured shall be bound to pay to the company a single extra premium of fifty dollars for each one thousand dollars insured, to cover the risk of such service, which extra premium, if not paid in cash, shall be a lien upon this policy, with interest in advance at five per cent per annum.

LOANS.—This company will at any time after two full annual premiums have been paid and while this policy is in full force and effect, upon written request from the insured, loan according to law on the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, upon the execution of a note or loan agreement, any sum within the loan value specified in the table of loan values herein set forth, deducting therefrom six per cent interest for the remainder of the current policy year, together with any unpaid part of the then current year's premium and all other indebtedness hereon to the company. Failure to repay such loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness secured by this policy shall exceed the loan value hereon at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and to the assignee, if any. The company reserves the right to defer payment of cash value or the making of a loan (unless for the purpose of paying renewal premiums on policies in this company) for a period not exceeding sixty days.

OPTION OF SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years it may be surrendered by the owner at any time prior to any default in the payment of any premium or installment thereof, or within one month after such default. If there be no indebtedness hereon to the company, the owner may elect either: (1) To continue this insurance in force for the face amount of this policy, as non-participating term insurance, for the term specified in the table of extended insurance values herein set forth; or, (2) to purchase non-participating paid-up life insurance for the amount specified in the table of paid-up insurance values herein set forth, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy; or, (3) as provided by the laws of the State of Illinois, the insured may surrender this policy within one month after the date of default on any premium, and receive therefor the sum in cash which would have otherwise been available for the purchase of paid-up or extended insurance. In case no election is made by the insured within one month after default, this policy will automatically become a non-participating paid-up term policy, as provided in Option One (1) above. In any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder any indebtedness hereon will be first deducted. The cash surrender value as shown in the table below will be decreased by any such indebtedness and the amount of paid-up policy or term of extended insurance will be such as the net cash value, after deduction of such indebtedness, will purchase at the net single premium rate for the attained age of the insured, computed by the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENT AT THE END OF TWENTY YEARS.—(1) Continue this policy as a paid-up participating life policy for its full amount and receive any accumulated dividends in cash; or (2) surrender this policy and draw the entire cash value, as stated on page one hereof; or (3) surrender this policy and convert the entire cash value into a paid-up life policy, subject to evidence of good health, satisfactory to the company, for any paid-up insurance in excess of the face value of this policy.

DISTRIBUTION OF SURPLUS.—At the end of the second policy year and annually thereafter, provided the premiums shall have been paid as herein specified, the company will determine and apportion to this policy annual dividends, and the legal holder thereof will be entitled to receive such dividends under one of the following options: (1) Paid in cash; or, (2) applied towards the payment of any premium; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum, and payable at maturity of this policy, but withdrawable at any time in cash. Unless the insured shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a notice of such election, the dividend shall be paid to the legal holder of this policy in cash.

PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTION.—Whenever the reserve, at the end of any policy year, on the amount insured hereunder, calculated on the basis herein named, shall equal or exceed the net single premium for the attained age of the insured (premium to be calculated on the same basis as the reserve) for an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy, the company will, upon written request of the insured, endorse the policy as participating paid-up insurance for such an amount as the said reserve will purchase at the premium named; or, whenever the reserve shall equal or exceed the face amount of this policy, the company will, upon a full and valid surrender of the policy and all claims thereunder, pay as an matured endowment the amount of such reserve, provided, however, in each case there shall be no indebtedness hereon to the company.

VALUATION.—The reserve on this policy shall be calculated according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum. The values in the following table are the reserves at the end of the current year less a surrender charge not exceeding one per cent of the face of this policy. These values will be increased by the equivalent of the full reserve on any paid-up additions hereto, and will be proportionately adjusted if default occur after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid.

CASH VALUE.—The cash value of this policy at any time after twenty years shall be the full legal reserve (American Experience, three and one half per cent basis).

LOAN VALUE.—The loan value of this policy at any time after twenty years shall be the full legal reserve hereon (American Experience, three and one half per cent basis) at the end of the year in which the loan is made.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding on the company unless it, or a duplicate thereof, be filed at the home office, on blanks furnished by the company. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

PLAN OF INSURANCE MAY BE CHANGED.—This policy may at any anniversary of its date of issue, and without medical re-examination, be exchanged, according to the rules of the company, for any other form of policy issued by the company, provided the amount of insurance under such policy be not greater or the rate of premium less than under this policy. Such exchange must be made while this policy is in full force and effect.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—For instalment options see page four (4) hereof.

MODIFICATION.—No agent has power on behalf of the company to make or modify this, or any, policy of insurance, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representations or information. These powers can only be exercised by the president, one of the vice-presidents, actuary or secretary of the company, and such power will not be delegated.

In witness whereof, the company has, by its president and secretary, and under its seal, executed this policy at its home office in Ottawa, Ill., this first day of May A. D., 1910.

INSTALMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid: (1) In cash; or, (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years (5, 10, 15, or 20), the first instalment being payable immediately, on approval of proofs of death of the insured, in accordance with Table One below, for each one thousand dollars of said sum; or, (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments payable so long as the beneficiary shall live, first payment immediately on the approval of the proofs of death of the insured, based on beneficiary's age at nearest birthday, in accordance with Table Two below, for each one thousand dollars of insurance.

When the option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary non-participating contract shall be issued.

In case Option Two is selected, and the beneficiary shall die before the twenty payments shall have been made, the remaining instalments will be paid to a new beneficiary or to the executors, administrators or assigns of said first beneficiary.

The company guarantees that the cash value of this policy at the end of twenty years shall be the legal reserve, which will be five thousand, six hundred sixty-one and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars.

This insurance for the first year is term insurance, and in consideration of the premium therefor, as above required, this insurance is continued as a limited payment life policy by the payment of further premiums thereafter, as herein provided.

The benefits, agreements and provisions, written and printed on the following page are hereby made a part of this contract.

This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties.

In witness whereof, the Central Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its office in the city of Lexington, this second day of February, 1915.

BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND CONDITIONS.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy should lapse through non-payment of premiums after it has been in force for two years, and provided there is no indebtedness against it, and subject to the other conditions of the policy, the company will extend automatically without participation, the amount insured by this policy for the number of years and days named in the table of guaranteed options. In lieu of the extended insurance, on the third or any subsequent anniversary of this policy, or within thirty days thereafter, this policy being in force, and all premiums having been duly paid, the company will grant the following options: First—Paid-up non-participating insurance payable at death for the sum named in the table of guaranteed options, upon the legal surrender of all claims hereunder to the company at its home office; or second—Will pay the cash surrender value fixed in the table of guaranteed options on surrender as aforesaid.

DIVIDENDS.—At the end of the second year, and annually thereafter, the surplus apportioned to this policy will be credited as a dividend and applied in reduction of the premium or premiums for the ensuing year as the same are paid.

METHOD OF CALCULATION.—The reserve on this policy is computed by the preliminary term method adopted by the company, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest. The cash value at the date of default will be the reserve, less a surrender charge not to exceed one per cent of the amount insured by this policy, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. The optional values available will be found on the first page hereof.

LOANS.—After this policy has been in force two full years, and all premiums having been duly paid to the end of the next policy year, a cash loan not exceeding the amount named in the table of guaranteed options, will be granted upon the sole security of this policy, interest being at five per cent per annum in advance. Applications for loans must be made by the insured, in writing, to the home office of the company, and the loan will be subject to the terms of the company's loan agreement. The amount of loan available includes any previous loan unpaid.

GUARANTEED DIVIDEND.—This policy shall receive a guaranteed dividend on each one thousand dollars ($1,000.00) of its amount equal to one-sixthundredth (1-600) of one per cent (1%) of all premiums collected by the company in cash upon all participating life insurance issued and paid for during each of the ten years from the date of this policy, and for each year thereafter so long as premium payments shall continue to be made to the company upon said life insurance issued during said ten years; excepting, however, accident insurance and all insurance that this company shall reinsure or acquire from any other company by merger, consolidation or otherwise. The dividend on this policy shall be payable on each anniversary thereof, provided the premium thereon shall have been paid in cash to its next anniversary, and not otherwise; provided, however, that if this policy shall lapse by reason of the non-payment of premium, or the insured die, or the policy otherwise cease to be a premium-paying policy, then all dividends upon it shall cease and determine.

CALCULATION OF DIVIDENDS.—In the calculation of all dividends under this policy, all single premium policies shall be considered as contributing to the premium receipts of the company to the extent, and only to the extent, that the single premium thereon be paid in cash. Premium lien loans, or interest thereon, will not be considered "premium receipts" within the terms of this contract. It is hereby agreed that the acceptance by the insured of dividends paid or credited to him by the company under this policy shall be in full acquittance of all claims for dividends under this policy, to the date such dividends are paid or credited.

PREMIUMS.—All premiums under this policy are payable semi-annually in advance at the home office of the company. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium, or installment thereof, shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or installment thereof is payable. If any note or other obligation given for any premium, or any part thereof, shall not be paid when due, this policy shall be and become null and void, without any notice or action of the company, notwithstanding any receipt which may have been given for said premium. Any check, money order, or obligation for the premium must be made payable to the order of the company.

RENEWAL PREMIUMS PAID IN ADVANCE OF DUE DATE.—When renewal premiums are received in cash at the home office not less than ninety days prior to the due date thereof, there shall be allowed thereon a discount of three (3) per cent; if received less than ninety days, but prior to sixty days before due date thereof, there shall be allowed thereon a discount of two (2) per cent; if received less than sixty days, but prior to thirty days before due date, there shall be allowed thereon a discount of one (1) per cent.

ONE MONTH'S GRACE.—One month's grace, during which time this policy will be continued in force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums after the first year, subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum. If death occur within the days of grace, the unpaid premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable, or any settlement hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default in the payment of premiums, upon written application by the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and if approved by the president, this policy may be reinstated upon payment of arrears of premiums and any indebtedness with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, and if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, and while the policy is in force, the insured may designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation. Every change must be made by written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by the policy, and will take effect only upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be valid unless made in duplicate and both copies be sent with the policy to the home office of the company in Lexington for endorsement, one to be retained by the company, and the other to be returned attached to the policy and endorsed with acknowledgment of notification by the company. In the event of any assignment of this policy it is agreed that any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary shall be a lien or liens upon this policy and that such lien or liens shall have priority over any assignment, and it is further agreed that the dividends apportioned to this policy may be used for the maintenance of this policy in accordance with its provisions. During the life of any assignment the insured waives the right of revocation of beneficiary and the right to name a new beneficiary. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

ERROR IN AGE.—If, in applying for this insurance, the age of the insured shall have been understated, the amount payable hereunder shall be reduced to the amount of insurance which the premium paid thereon would have purchased at the rate of this company for the correct age.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company.

MILITARY, NAVAL SERVICE, AERIAL VOYAGE, ETC.—Service in the army or navy in time of war will restrict the liability of the company to ten per cent of the face of this policy unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for and granted and the extra premium therefor paid to the company. If the insured shall die in consequence of an aerial voyage the amount payable hereunder shall be one-tenth of the face of this policy.

INSTALLMENT PRIVILEGES.—The insured, at any time, this policy being then in force, or the beneficiary, when this policy becomes a claim by death, may elect by written request accompanied by this policy for proper endorsement, that the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the beneficiary in either annual or monthly instalments, and, in such event, a table showing the number and amount of instalments will be attached hereto and made a part hereof. It is specially agreed that the company will not commute any of the instalments payable hereunder after the death of the insured without the previous written consent of the insured to such commutation.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I warrant and declare, on behalf of myself and of every person who shall have or claim any interest in any insurance made hereunder, as follows: that, (1st) I have carefully read each and all of the above answers; that they are each written as made by me, and each, and all of them are correct and wholly true; and each and all of my said answers are made by me to obtain said insurance, and I understand and agree that they are each material to the risk, and that the company, believing them to be true, will rely and act upon them and that they shall form the basis of any insurance made hereunder. (2d) In the apportionment of any dividend or distribution of surplus, the principles and methods of calculation then in use by the company in such apportionment or distribution and its determination of the amounts to be credited to any policy issued on this application, shall be conclusive on all parties, and such principles and methods are hereby adopted and accepted. (3d) No liability under this application shall be incurred by the company until it shall have received the application, and the amount of insurance finally approved shall have been issued by it and manually delivered to, accepted and receipted for, by me on the company's form of policy receipt and the full first premium stipulated in the policy shall have actually been paid to and accepted by the company, all during my lifetime and continuance in good health, and I reserve the right to accept or decline the policy if issued. If binding receipt be issued and the first premium shall have actually been paid on the date of the application, the insurance issued shall become effective from the date of the medical examination if issued for the amount and plan applied for, and I agree to accept the policy. But there shall be no insurance hereunder until this application shall have been finally approved at the home office as evidenced by the "final approval" signature on this application. If the premium be paid and binding receipt be issued, it is agreed that I will be examined and if I am not examined the amount paid shall be forfeited to the company. (4th.) If the company is not willing to issue a policy on the plan applied for, it is authorized to issue upon this application such policy of insurance as it may deem to be proper, by change of plan or amount, increase of premium, lien, or limitation of benefits, rating up age, or by instalment payments commutable and/or non-commutable, or some form of sub-standard policy, I reserving the right, however to accept or decline any such policy upon presentation. My acceptance of any policy shall be a ratification by me of its terms, premium or premiums and conditions. (5th.) Self-destruction, whether sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company. (6th.) In the event I engage in military or naval service in time of war, any insurance made hereunder shall be in force for its full amount, provided a permit for such service shall have been secured from the company and extra premium therefor paid in cash; otherwise the sum payable in case I die while engaged in such service, or in consequence of having been so engaged, shall be one-tenth of the principal sum named in any insurance made hereunder. (7th) In case I shall die in consequence of any aerial voyage or ascension, the sum payable shall be one-tenth of the principal sum named in any insurance made hereunder. (8th) I will not engage in any occupation more hazardous than my present occupation, unless written permission be granted by the company. (9th) I expressly waive all provisions of law forbidding or excusing any physician or other person who has attended, examined, prescribed for or been consulted by me or who may hereafter attend, examine, prescribe for or be consulted by me from disclosing any knowledge or information which he thereby acquired, and hereby authorize any such physician or other persons to testify whenever called upon as to any fact within his knowledge. (10th) If and when, in the opinion of the company, there shall have been any material misrepresentation, either with or without intent to deceive, in the procurement of any insurance made hereunder, the company shall have the right to cancel such insurance by the return of the net amount of all premiums received thereunder, and the company's check, mailed to me or any beneficiary hereunder, at address as it shall appear on the records of the company, shall be a sufficient tender. And agreed further, that the company reserves the right to cancel at any time, any double indemnity provision issued on this application.

Central States Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.40. AGE, 35.

Central States Life Insurance Company hereby insures the life of John Doe, of Crawfordsville, Montgomery county, State of Indiana, and agrees to pay to Mary Doe, his wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness against this policy, immediately upon receipt at the home office of the company at Crawfordsville, Ind., of due proofs of the death of the insured and of the interest of the claimant while this policy is in force, subject to the conditions and privileges hereinafter set forth.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time change the beneficiary, provided this policy has not been assigned as security for debt or other legal consideration, said change to take effect only when endorsed on the policy by the insured and the secretary of the company.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After two or more full annual premiums shall have been paid (this policy being then in force, and no indebtedness against it), upon default in the payment of any premium when due, or within thirty-one days thereafter, the insured may select any one of the options in the following table. In the event of no selection this policy shall be continued in force as a paid-up non-participating policy during the term specified in the first option, and all other options shall be deemed waived. Any indebtedness against this policy, unless previously paid in full, shall reduce the cash and loan values in the table by the amount of such indebtedness, and shall reduce the value of the paid-up or extended insurance in the table, in the ratio of the indebtedness to such insurance values.

* The amounts specified in the first three options of the table above are available at the close of the year indicated in the column at the left. The amounts in the fourth option are available at any time after the full current year's premium is paid.

STANDARD OF VALUATION.—The reserve on this policy is computed on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance purchased by the whole or a part of the premium to be received during the first year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of Indiana. In every case the values in the table above are equal to the full reserve on the policy, less not to exceed one and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The cash values equal the full reserve. After the period covered by the table above the cash and loan values shall be the full reserve, less any indebtedness against the policy, and the amount of paid-up insurance, and the term of extended insurance shall be such as the cash value will purchase at net premium rates.

CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor and a premium of three hundred sixty-nine and ⁴⁹/₁₀₀ dollars to be paid to the company upon the delivery of this policy, and of a payment of a like sum on or before fifteenth of January in every year until twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid; or until prior death of insured.

CONTRACT.—This policy together with the application therefor, a copy of which application is hereby attached and made a part thereof, shall constitute the entire con-between this company and the insured. All statements made by the insured, shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. This policy shall not become binding upon the company until the first year's premium shall have been paid in full during the lifetime and good health of the insured. Only the president, resident or secretary (and then in writing only) shall have power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any person other than the above.

PREMIUMS. TIME OF PAYMENT.—All premiums shall be payable in advance at the office, or to an agent of the company, upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary. The premium may be paid in two instalments of $192.10 each on the fifteenth day of the months of January and July; or in four instalments of $97.90 on the fifteenth day of the months of January, April, July and October. Payment of premium or instalment thereof will not maintain this policy in force beyond the time for the payment of the next premium or instalment.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge of 5 per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which this policy shall be in force. In the event of the death of the insured during this grace, the current year's premium shall be paid in full in any settlement under this contract.

NOTICE.—Notice of each and every payment of premiums due or to become due is hereby accepted by the delivery of this policy; and any further notice required by any law is hereby expressly waived.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company except such portion as may be in force under extended insurance, upon the payment of the second annual premium and annually thereafter, that portion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy as determined by the company shall be credited to this policy, and shall be available at the option of the owner of this policy as follows: (1) Paid in cash. (2) Applied toward the payment of premiums. (3) Applied toward the payment of non-participating additions. (4) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at 5 per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, or withdrawable on any demand of the policy. Evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company will be required for the first paid-up addition to this policy whether it be for the first or any subsequent dividend. Paid-up additions may be surrendered for cash at any anniversary. The owner of this policy shall elect otherwise in writing, dividends shall be held in credit of the policy and be payable in cash at maturity of the policy or be withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of its date. In default of payment of any premium the insured shall request the payment of accumulated dividends in cash, they shall be at the option of the company be applied toward the payment of premiums on this policy as they shall become due.

LOAN.—After two full annual premiums have been paid, the company, at any time this policy is in force, except such time as it may be in force under extended insurance, will loan on the execution of a proper and legal assignment and delivery of this policy to the company, and on the sole security thereof with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum in advance, a sum not to exceed the amount stated in option 4 of the policy of options on the first page of policy, plus the value of any dividend additions, less any indebtedness and any unpaid balance of current year's premium. Interest on the loan will be due and payable annually in advance thereafter on this loan and if not paid will be added to the principal and bear same rate of interest. The company reserves the right to defer making such loan for not to exceed six months from receipt of application therefor. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon when demanded shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse or be forfeited, it may be reinstated upon application therefor, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all premiums due to date with interest at five per cent per annum.

STATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been understated the amount of premium on this policy in the event of death will be such as the premium will purchase correct age. If overstated the excess premiums shall be returned to the owner of the policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and bear the signature of both the insured and the secretary of the company. This company will assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

WAIVER OF ACTION.—No action at law or in equity shall be commenced against the company for claim under this policy after three years from the time cause of action accrues; and it is agreed that in case of claim by death, cause of action, if any, shall be deemed to arise on the date of death of the insured.

INTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable from date thereof, except for non-payment of premiums, and for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without permission from the company.

WHAT IS NOT COVERED.—This company will not be liable for the amount insured in this policy or any part thereof if death occurs under any of the following conditions: (1) Any time, while this policy is in force, if the insured engages in military or naval service in time of war without permission of the company and without paying the additional premium required by the increased risk. (2) During the first two years of the policy of the insured, whether sane or insane, shall die by his own hand or act. (3) During the first year of the policy if the insured shall be engaged in any of the following: (a) Hauling or manufacturing intoxicating liquors. (b) Handling electric wires and

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Central States Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $307.10. AGE, 35.

Central States Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., promises to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt, at its home office, St. Louis, Mo., of due proof of the death, during the continuance of this policy, of John Doe, the insured hereunder, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured.

DISABILITY BENEFIT.—The company will agree, by endorsement hereon, to pay for the insured the premiums thereafter becoming due, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish satisfactory proof to the company at its home office that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit, or from following any gainful occupation. Any premium so paid shall not be deducted from the amount payable under this policy and the values provided under "non-forfeiture provisions" shall be the same as if the premiums had been paid by the insured. Provided that notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, the company's obligation to pay such premiums shall cease and all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

STATE OF MISSOURI.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

JEFFERSON CITY, MO., January 1, 1911.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate deposited with this department.

This policy is absolutely free of conditions as to residence, occupation, or travel. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service.

FACILITY IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums may be paid annually in advance, or in semi-annual or quarterly instalments thereof in advance, in accordance with the company's table of rates. The company will allow a change from one to another of such modes of payment upon written request therefor by the insured on the company's form. All premiums are payable either at the home office of the company to an authorized agent, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary and countersigned by the agent designated. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid on the date when due, this policy shall become void and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest charge, will be allowed for the payment of any premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured die within said period, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGES.—Payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim may be changed from payment in one sum to payment by instalments, as provided on the fourth page thereof.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, within thirty-one days of application therefor, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of this policy to the company upon its prescribed form and on the security hereof, with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable in advance, a sum not exceeding the loan value of this policy at the end of the then current policy year, as provided in the table of values herein contained, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid portion of premium on the balance of said policy year. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay such loan or interest hereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and any assignee of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and after giving such notice, shall render this policy void.

BENEFICIARY—CHANGE OF.—Provided the insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary in the application hereof, the insured may at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its home office, change the beneficiary, and change to take effect only upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease; provided that no such change of beneficiary shall be valid if the policy or any interest therein be assigned at the time of such change. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest in such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

POLICY MAY BE REINSTATED.—In event of default of premium payments, unless the

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application heretofore, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred seven and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for term insurance for the first policy year ending on the first day of January, 1912.

This contract will be continued as a limited payment life policy upon the payment of the annual renewal premium of three hundred seven and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of January, 1912, and of the payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the first day of January, in every year during the continuance of this policy until premiums for twenty years from the date hereof shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

After delivery of this policy to the insured, it takes effect as of the first day of January, 1911.

In witness whereof, the Central States Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed this first day of January, 1911.

INSTALLMENT BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of this policy as a death-claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. The following tables are based upon a policy of $1000, and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but this policy will be payable in one sum only.

LIMITED INSTALLMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43.91 for each $1000 of insurance, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors or administrators of the beneficiary.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly. The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

In behalf of myself and of any person having or claiming any interest in a policy issued in consequence of this application I hereby agree: (1) That all statements and answers contained in either part of this application are full, complete and true: (2) That this application and the policy or policies issued in consequence thereof, shall constitute the entire contract of insurance, and the company shall not be bound in any way by any promise or statement made by or to any agent or other person, unless such promise, statement or information be reduced to writing and submitted to the company in this application: (3) That no policy issued in consequence of this application shall go into effect until it shall be actually delivered to me; and the first premium thereon shall be actually paid to the company, all during my life and good health.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly. The insured may subsequently change his selection under these instalment benefits; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is directed.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

In behalf of myself and of any person having or claiming any interest in a policy issued in consequence of this application I hereby agree: (1) That all statements and answers contained in either part of this application are full, complete and true: (2) That this application and the policy or policies issued in consequence thereof, shall constitute the entire contract of insurance, and the company shall not be bound in any way by any promise or statement made by or to any agent or other person, unless such promise, statement or information be reduced to writing and submitted to the company in this application: (3) That no policy issued in consequence of this application shall go into effect until it shall be actually delivered to me; and the first premium thereon shall be actually paid to the company, all during my life and good health.

on, shall be sufficient to cover such advances, or, if insufficient to cover the entire term then due, the company will so charge the remainder of an instalment thereof shorter period, but for not less than one-quarter year. At any time while this policy is maintained in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed and, subject to indebtedness, this policy shall remain in full force as if all premiums had been paid.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—At any time after this policy shall have ceased to be in force by failure to pay any premium or premiums, after the first, the company will re-instate the policy, together with accumulated indebtedness, upon application by the insured, accompanied by proof of good health satisfactory to the company, and by the tender of arrears of premiums, accumulated at interest at four (4) per cent per annum, annually compounded.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company shall not be deemed to have any knowledge of any assignment of this policy, unless same, together with a copy thereof, shall have been delivered to the company at its home office together with this policy for endorsement. The company will not be responsible for the validity of any assignment and due proof of interest must be tendered by the assignee on making claim.

CONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date, except on payment of premium, and military or naval service in time of war; provided, however, a permit for such service may be granted by the company upon such extrinsic facts and policy modifications as may be called for by its rules. If death occurs while such military or naval service is entered into without such permit, the liability under this policy shall be limited to the amount of net premiums paid hereunder. If, within one year from the date hereof, the insured shall die by his own hand, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of his or her criminal action, the liability of the company shall not exceed the net premiums paid hereunder.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After three full years' premiums hereunder have been paid, this policy may be surrendered to the company, at any time before default of any premium payment when due, or within thirty-one (31) days after such default for: (1) cash surrender value of the amount given in the table below; or (2) paid-up insurance reduced amount given in the table below, payable at the death of the insured; or (3) extended insurance of the full amount hereof, payable at the death of the insured, provided it occur within the term given in the table below.

The amount of such cash surrender value is at least equal to the sum which otherwise would be available for the purchase of paid up or extended insurance. Such paid up or extended insurance shall not carry the additional insurance against accidental death, non-forfeiture and loan options, the disability benefit or participation. If there is indebtedness against the policy, the same shall be deducted from the cash surrender value available, or the amount of the paid up insurance, or of the extended insurance shall be added to the amount which the reduced cash surrender value will purchase on the basis above provided.

The loan and surrender values under this policy shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half (3½) per cent interest per annum, the net value thereof is the entire reserve, less not more than two and one-half (2½) per cent of the amount insured by the policy. After the twentieth year the table of Loan and Surrender values will be extended upon request.

REDUCED PREMIUMS.—The payment of the first annual premium on this policy constitutes the insurance thereunder for the term of one year from the date hereof, i. e., until eight February 20th, 1916, from which day it will be renewed as a reduced premium payment life policy (special combination) by the payment of an annual renewal premium, as specified hereinafter, in advance and thereafter on each anniversary of the date of this policy during the life-time of the insured until twenty annual premiums hereon have been paid.

FURTHER REDUCTION OF PREMIUMS BY DIVIDENDS.—There shall be a further reduction of the annual renewal premium, after the second policy year, by a dividend allowed on the amount of the terminal reserve (less any indebtedness to the company) at the end of the preceding policy year, calculated at the rate at which the company's experienced rate of net earnings exceeds three and one-half (3½) per cent. (the rate required to maintain the reserve). The net earnings for any fiscal year are hereby defined as the total net earnings on the investments of the company (exclusive of policy loans), during any such year, less the actual investment expenses, losses and taxes incurred in connection with these investments. The experienced rate of net earnings on investments of the company (exclusive of policy loans) shall be computed at the end of each fiscal year and such rate shall apply for the calculation and apportionment of dividends for all policies entitled to such dividend payments, which have annual renewal premiums due in the next succeeding calendar year.

DIVIDENDS MAY ACCUMULATE.—In the event the insured, during the premium paying period, should not apply any dividend to the reduction of his premiums, the company will hold the same as a deposit, subject to withdrawal at any time, and will credit such deposit, at the end of each full year, with interest, annually compounded, at the net rate realized upon the mean assets of the company during the next preceding fiscal year. All such dividend deposits, which have not been withdrawn, and the interest credited thereon, shall be paid to the beneficiary, in addition to the sum insured, upon due proof of the death of the insured while this policy is in force.

PRIVILEGES IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.

PRIVILEGES OF PREMIUM PAYMENT.—The annual premiums upon this policy may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in advance as per the table of premiums endorsed hereon; and a change in the method of payment may be made on any anniversary of this policy. The table of premiums endorsed hereon shows the amount of the annual premium (to be further reduced by dividends) and of the semi-annual and quarterly instalments in which such premiums are payable at the option of the insured:

TABLE OF PREMIUMS.—Annually in advance on the 20th day of February, $338.00. Semi-annually in advance on the 20th day of February and August, $175.03. Quarterly in advance on the 20th day of February, May, August and November, $89.20. All premiums are payable at the home office of the company in the city of Rome, Georgia, but may be paid to an agent in exchange for a receipt signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary or the treasurer of the company and countersigned by the agent. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium, or any instalment thereof, shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment is payable.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.—No agent has authority to amend or modify any of the terms of this policy, or to waive any provisions thereof, or the payment of any premium thereon. In any settlement under this policy there shall first be deducted all indebtedness to the company, with accrued interest, including any unpaid portion of the annual premium necessary to complete the current policy year. This policy and the application herefor together constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall void the policy unless it is contained in the written application herefor. The net premium and reserve under this policy are computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one half (3½) per cent interest. In case the insured shall have paid in advance upon making application herefor the first annual premium in exchange for the binding receipt of the Company, this policy shall, upon approval of such application, by the company, take effect as of the date thereof, in accordance with the terms of the company's binding receipt; if a full premium shall not have been so paid in advance, no contract of insurance shall take effect until the delivery of this policy to the insured and the payment of the first annual premium in full during the lifetime and good health of the insured.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by this policy for endorsement, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon its maturity by reason of the death of the insured (or its maturity as an endowment, if so provided) paid, instead of in one sum in cash, in instalments in number and amount, as follows:

The instalments corresponding to an amount of insurance, larger or smaller, will be pro rata provided that the premium of monthly instalments will not be available for amounts of insurance less than $2,000; of quarterly instalments, less than $2,000; of semi-annual instalments, less than $1,000; or of annual instalments, less than $1,000.

If written request therefor be made by the insured to the company at its home office, the instalments payable to the beneficiary will not be commuted by the company after the death of the insured during the lifetime of the beneficiary and during such period the company will not consent to any assignment thereof.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application: 1. That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect until the first premium is paid and the policy is delivered to and received by me, during my life time and good health, and that unless otherwise agreed in writing, the policy shall then relate back to and take effect as of date of this application; 2. That any payment made by me before delivery of the policy to, and its receipt by me, as aforesaid, shall be binding on the company only in accordance with the terms of the company's receipt therefor, or a receipt from which is attached to this application and contains the terms of the agreement under which said payment has been made and is the only receipt the agent is authorized to give for such payment; 3. That no statement, information or agreement made or given by or to the person applying or taking this application, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, unless reduced to writing, and then only if presented and approved by the executive officers of the company at its home office; 4. That every statement made by me and all my answers to medical examinations are true, and that no statement made affecting the insurance sought, has been withheld; 5. That only the executive officers of the company, at its home office, can make, modify or change the terms of, or waive any of the company's terms or requirements, and none of these acts can be done by the agent making this application; 6. That all my declarations herein made and my statements to the medical examiners, together with the policy, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

Cleveland Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

MOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $305.10. AGE, 35.

The Cleveland Life Insurance Company, Cleveland, O., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to Esther Cleaveland, the beneficiary, with right of revocation, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured at the home office of the company at Cleveland, O., upon receipt at said home office of due proofs of death of Moses Cleaveland, of Cleveland, county of Cuyahoga, State of Ohio, herein called the insured, and of any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

The stipulations, privileges and conditions recited on the following pages of this policy are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the Cleveland Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at Cleveland, O., this fifteenth day of June, 1911.

1. THE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, copy of which is endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties.

2. CONSIDERATION.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application and the payment in advance of a premium of three hundred five and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars and the further payment of a like premium on the fifteenth day of June in each year, beginning one year from date hereof, until twenty full years' premiums have been paid, including the first, or until the prior death of the insured.

3. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue for the amount due, except for non-payment of premiums, or for violation of the condition relating to military and naval service in time of war. All statements made by the insured in the application herefor shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

4. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days, without interest, from the date when it would otherwise be payable, will be granted for the payment of any premium after the first, during which time of grace the insurance shall continue in force.

5. REVIVAL AND REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium it will be revived any time after the date of lapse upon written application and payment of arrears of premium with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, together with the reinstatement of all indebtedness, provided such indebtedness be not greater than the loan value of this policy at the time of application for such revival, and provided, evidence of the insurability of the insured satisfactory to the company be furnished.

6. AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE; CASH SURRENDER, PAID-UP, OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, the owner may, within thirty-one days after default in payment of any premium due hereon, elect (a) to surrender this policy for cash for the amount provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, less any indebtedness to the company on this policy, provided, that the company may defer payment thereof for not more than ninety days after the application therefor is made; or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for the amounts provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full; or (c) to have this policy extended as term insurance, without the right to loans, for the period provided in the table of guarantees herein, opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full. If the owner shall not within thirty-one days after such default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office and select one of the options above provided, insurance will be extended as provided in option (c). Should there be any indebtedness to the company on this policy, the amount of paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), or the term for which insurance will be extended as provided in option (c), will be such as the cash surrender value provided in said table of guarantees opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, less such indebtedness, will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

7. LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, the amount specified in the table of guarantees herein opposite the number of years for which premiums have been paid in full, at a rate of interest not greater than five per cent in advance, which interest if not paid annually in advance, will be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, and the company will

12. Contingencies - Full destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the policy is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract. If the policyholder engages in the military or naval service in time of war without obtaining a special written permit from the company to serve, the company shall be limited to the reserve on this policy.

12. Age. If the age of the insured shall have been misstated, the amount payable shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the guarantees above are computed in accordance with the provisions of this contract upon the assumption that there be no indebtedness on this policy.

PAIDMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its option, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, in case the insured shall not have so elected, the beneficiary after the death of the insured by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if elected to have the total net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured, said total net sum is not less than one thousand dollars, paid either in cash or by annuity. (First) By the payment of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent on such total net sum, payable at the end of each year during the life of the beneficiary and by the payment upon the death of the beneficiary of the said total net sum, together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise provided in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. (Second) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the amount being payable immediately. (Third) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years thereafter as the insured may survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the first instalment being payable immediately. (Fourth) By the payment of an annual income for life to the beneficiary in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said total net sum, the first instalment being payable immediately. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise provided in said notice, to the legal representatives or assigns of the beneficiary. Unless otherwise specified by the insured or beneficiary in making such selection, the beneficiary at any time surrender the agreement for the payment of an annuity or such other sum, for the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the basis of three and one-half (3½) per cent interest compounded annually; provided, that such surrender and commutation will not be made under (3) or (4) unless the good health of the beneficiary is shown to the satisfaction of the company.

ENDOWMENT OPTION.

The insured may elect to convert this policy into an endowment policy by continuing the payment of premiums hereon after the twentieth year.

If twenty-nine full annual premiums have been paid hereon, and the insured be then living, the company will pay to the insured, on the fifteenth day of June, 1940, at its home office in Cleveland, Ohio, upon surrender of this policy, the sum of ten thousand, three hundred and fifty ($10,350) dollars.

Loan, cash surrender, paid up and extended insurance values for years subsequent to the twentieth, in event this policy has been converted into an endowment in accordance with this option, will be furnished on application. All loans and settlements hereunder shall be subject to any indebtedness to the company on this policy.

GUARANTEED PROTECTION PROVISION.

1. PREMIUM.—The Cleveland Life Insurance Company, of Cleveland, O., in consideration of five ($5.00) dollars additional annual premium to be paid with each and every annual premium on Policy No. 00876 issued by said company, insuring the life of Moses Cleaveland, of Cleveland, O., for ten thousand ($10,000) dollars.

2. DISABILITY BEFORE AGE 60.—Hereby guarantees that after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty (60) years, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by indorsement in writing upon said policy, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on said policy and the values stated in the table of guarantees in said policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

3. DISABILITY AFTER AGE 60.—If the insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of like total and permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate without interest, as an indebtedness on said policy. In such case the values stated in the table of guarantees in said policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

4. RECOVERY OF INSURED.—If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with the provisions of said policy from the first premium due date following such recovery.

5. TERMINATION AT OPTION OF INSURED.—On any anniversary of the due date of the annual premium on said policy this agreement may be terminated by the insured, in which event the subsequent annual premiums will be reduced fifty cents for each one thousand dollars insurance under said policy and such reduction will be endorsed thereon.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true to the best of my knowledge and belief, and I agree that the foregoing, together with Part 2, application, and with this declaration, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for; and I hereby further agree that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and that said policy shall not take effect until the application shall be approved by the said company, and the first premium paid in full while my health is in the same condition as described in this application.

Colonial Life Insurance Company.

ORDINARY LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $221. AGE, 35.

The Colonial Life Insurance Company of America hereby agrees to pay ($10,000) ten thousand dollars immediately on receipt of due proof of the death of John Alden, the insured, of Plymouth, in the county of Plymouth, State of Massachusetts, to his wife, Priscilla Alden, or in the event of her prior death to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, at the home office of the company in Jersey City, N. J., at which place the annual premium of ($221) two hundred and twenty-one dollars shall be paid to the company in exchange for the company's receipt on the delivery of this policy, and on or before the twenty-ninth day of January in each year during the life of the insured.

This policy, subject to the provisions on the following pages, is issued in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in the manner specified of the premium above stated.

In witness whereof, the Colonial Life Insurance Company of America, has caused this policy to be signed by its president, and vice-president or secretary at Jersey City, N. J., and dated the twenty-ninth day of January, 1910.

PROVISIONS.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed herein, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements purporting to be made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

REINSTATEMENT.—If this policy be lapsed for non-payment of premium, it may be revived upon written application with evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

GRACE.—A grace of one month, during which time this policy will remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of any premium after the first, subject to a charge, except for the first seven days, at the rate of five per cent per annum, provided that the minimum charge shall be five cents.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After two years from its date, this policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premium and for violation of the condition relating to military and naval service in time of war, in which latter case the liability of the company shall be limited to the full legal reserve for this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy or any interest therein be not assigned, the insured may at any time during its continuance, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are endorsed upon this policy at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease.

TRUST FUND PRIVILEGE.—At the time this policy becomes payable as a claim the proceeds, or any portion thereof (provided such amount be not less than $1000) may be left, during the lifetime of the beneficiary, in trust with the company, and the company will pay thereon, so long as the said amount remains with the company, interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The said trust fund shall be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, but may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest.

INSTALLMENT PRIVILEGE.—The amount insured under this policy is payable in one sum, but, provided such amount be not less than $1000 it may, at the option of the beneficiary, be made payable instead, at its maturity, in equal annual instalments in accordance with the table below, the first instalment being payable immediately.

Amount of each instalment per $1000.....	$ 53	$ 59	$ 68	$ 84	$ 116	$ 214

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof. (2) Any indebtedness to the company, including any instalment of premium necessary to complete the full year's premium for the current policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy, or of any benefit thereunder. (3) Only the president, a vice-president or the secretary, has power on behalf of the company, to make or modify this or any other contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless in writing signed by one of the aforesaid officers, which shall be the only admissible proof of such action. (4) Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the dates when due, in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by a manager or general agent of the company. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided. (5) Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate, and both copies sent to the home office. One copy will be returned with the company's acknowledgment endorsed thereon, which shall be the only admissible evidence of compliance herewith. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment, and any claim thereunder shall be subject to proof of interest.

NON-FORFEITURE.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the following options, based on completed policy years, will apply, provided there be no outstanding indebtedness hereon. Any indebtedness on account of this policy will be deducted from the cash value, and will reduce by the amount of said indebtedness, the value for paid-up or extended insurance.

CASH VALUE (Option 1).—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company by the insured with a written request before the days of grace have expired, a cash value will be paid as indicated in the following table (1), subject to the right of the company to defer payment for ninety days thereafter.

EXTENDED INSURANCE (Option 2).—Or, upon written application accompanied by the legal surrender of this policy to the company by the insured before the days of grace have expired, with evidence satisfactory to the company of the good health of the insured, extended insurance will be issued for the full amount of this policy, less any outstanding indebtedness, for a term as shown in the following table (2), reckoning from the day the unpaid premium first became due.

PAID-UP INSURANCE (Option 3).—If this policy be not surrendered for its cash value or for extended insurance, the company will issue in lieu of this policy, without action on the part of the insured, a policy for the amount of paid-up insurance indicated in the following table (3), to mature in the same manner as this policy, had it been continued in force. The paid-up policy will be delivered upon the legal surrender of this policy.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force, the company will loan, subject to its right to defer payment for ninety days after proper assignment of the policy, and on the sole security hereof, the amount indicated in the following table of loans (1), less any other indebtedness hereon; interest will be at the rate of five per cent payable annually in advance, and if it be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal, but should the total indebtedness become equal to the cash value, the policy shall be forfeited and void, unless such indebtedness shall be paid to the company within one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the person to whom said loan was made.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—After three years' premiums have been paid, then, upon the written request of the owner of this policy, if received before default in the payment of any premium, the company will loan each premium payment as it becomes due (if it be not paid in cash) and will charge the same as an indebtedness against this policy, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, until all accumulated indebtedness with interest equals the cash value hereunder, when this policy shall immediately cease and become void, subject to notice as hereinbefore provided. While this policy is thus kept in force, the payment of premiums and interest on indebtedness may be resumed, without medical examination, at any time.

The above tables are for a policy of $1,000; other amounts will be proportionate. The values in the above tables are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest per annum, and are at least equal to the entire reserve of this policy, by the foregoing standard, less a percentage (not more than two and one-half) of the amount insured by the policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and agree that they together with this declaration, shall form the basis and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for. And it is agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted, subject to the provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium thereon paid to and accepted by the company while my health and occupation are as described in this application. And it is further agreed that the policy shall be void for such period only if within two years after its date I shall without a written permit from the company, reside or travel in the Torrid Zone, or north of the parallel of sixty degrees north latitude; or engage in blasting, mining, or any underground or submarine labor, aerial voyages, explorations, handling electric wires or dynamos, the manufacture of highly explosive or inflammable substances, the manufacture or sale of intoxicating liquors, or in service upon any railroad train or track, or on any steamer or other vessel. Also, that the liability of the company shall be limited to the full legal reserve for the policy, should I, within two years after the date of said policy, die by my own act, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of my criminal action, or should I, at any time during the continuance of said policy, engage in any military or naval service in time of war, without first obtaining a written permit from the company at the company's regular rate for the extra risk.

Delivery of this policy to insured constitutes a receipt for the first of the above premiums.

Columbia Life and Trust Company promises to pay the amount of this policy, to the beneficiary, at the home office of the company, in Portland, Ore., upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of the insured. The amount of this policy, the name of the insured, and the name of the beneficiary, are as stated on page one hereof.

VALUES GUARANTEED.—All values contained in this policy are guaranteed, and are not contingent upon, and this policy does not share in, the surplus earnings of the company.

CONSIDERATION.—This contract of insurance is made in consideration of the application hereof, a copy of which is hereto attached, and is hereby made a part of this contract, and in consideration of the payment of premiums as provided on the pages hereof. The first year's insurance hereunder is term insurance and shall be valued as such.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been actually paid during the good health of the insured. No premium after the first shall be considered paid unless a receipt shall be given therefor, signed by the president a vice-president, or secretary, and countersigned by an agent authorized to receive such premium, nor shall any premium payment have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than for the period covered by such payment, except as otherwise provided herein. Agents are not authorized to make, alter or discharge contracts, nor to waive forfeitures, nor to waive or postpone payment of premiums. Should default be made in the payment of any premium on the due date thereof within three years from the date hereof, and should said default continue for thirty-one days, this policy shall cease and determine, and, unless reinstated, all payments hereon shall remain the property of the company.

GRACE IN PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—A grace of thirty-one days without interest, during which this policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums, except the first.

CHANGE IN MODE OF PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The mode of premium payments may be changed on any anniversary date, from annual to semi-annual, or quarterly, or monthly, or vice versa, at the premium rates in use by the company at the date hereof.

REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in the payment of any premium hereon, this policy may be reinstated upon evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the insured, and by the payment of all past due premiums, with interest thereon at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum. The policy reinstated will be subject to any unpaid indebtedness.

ERROR IN AGE.—Should there be any error in the statement of the age of the insured, it will be adjusted by the payment of such amount of insurance as the premium paid actually would have purchased at the correct age.

POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used to void this policy unless it is contained in the written application hereof.

RESTRICTIONS (EFFECTIVE FIRST YEAR ONLY).—If, within one year from the date hereof, the insured shall pass south of the Tropic of Cancer, or be personally engaged anted loan and surrender values shall increase in the same manner as if such premiums were paid by the insured. Should the insured recover so as to be able to engage in gainful occupation, the premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid by the insured in conformity with the contract. In addition to and independently of all other benefits of permanent and total disability the company will consider the entire and irreparable loss of sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or both feet at or above the ankles, occurring after the issuance of this policy, total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. The company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured in respect to any claimed permanent disability whenever it may desire. Total disability resulting directly or indirectly from mental disease or any form of insanity is not a risk covered by this provision.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, shall be insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the amount payable under this policy, upon the death of the insured, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) by the payment of three and one per cent interest on such amount, payable at the end of each year during the life of the beneficiary, and by the payment at the death of the said beneficiary of the said amount, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns; (2) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified period of years, the amounts of said instalments to be as shown by the table in option 2 each $1,000 of such amount; (3) by the payment of equal annual instalments for a period of twenty years and for as many years thereafter as the beneficiary shall live, the amounts of said instalments to be as shown by the table in option 3 for each $1,000 of said amount. The first instalment to be paid immediately upon receipt of due notice of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments at intervals of one year after until all the instalments have been paid. Any instalments payable under option (3) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns. It is specially agreed that the company will not commute any of the instalments payable hereunder after the death of the insured without the previous written consent of the insured.

Columbia Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
 AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $352.50. AGE, 35.

The Columbia Life Insurance Company of Cincinnati, in consideration of the statements contained in the application for this Policy, which are hereby made a part of this Contract, of the payment in advance of the sum of three hundred and fifty-two and ⁵⁰/₁₀₀ dollars and of the payment of a like amount on the first day of each March thereafter until twenty complete yearly payments shall have been made, or until the prior death of the Insured, hereby insures the life of John Doe (the Insured), of Cincinnati, in the County of Hamilton, in the State of Ohio, for the sum of ten thousand dollars, for the whole term of life. And the Company hereby agrees to pay at its Home Office, immediately on receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this Contract, the said amount of insurance to Mary Doe (his wife), or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured; any unpaid portion of the year's premium and any other indebtedness to the Company being first deducted.

The conditions and benefits on the second and third pages hereof are hereby made a part of this contract.

This contract shall be held to have been made in the City of Cincinnati, and subject to the laws of the State of Ohio.

In witness whereof, the Columbia Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary, or actuary this first day of March, 1914.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

1. All payments due on this Policy are payable at the office of the company in the city of Cincinnati, or to its authorized agent on production of the company's receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent.

2. A grace of one month will be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance hereunder shall remain in force; provided that if the insured shall die during the said month of grace, the overdue premium shall be deducted in the settlement under the policy.

3. This policy, together with the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon, shall constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. Any endorsement, waiver, or modification to be valid must be signed by the president, secretary, or actuary, whose authority for this purpose shall not be delegated.

4. This policy shall be free from restrictions as to travel and residence from its date.

5. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

6. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

7. If this policy has not been assigned, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, on filing written request with the company, accompanied by the policy, such change of beneficiary to take effect on the endorsement thereof on the policy by the company.

8. The insured may at the end of any policy year, all premiums being fully paid to date, exchange his policy, without medical re-examination, for insurance of an equal or less amount under any other form of policy issued by the company on which the annual premium is not less than that on his present policy, dating the new policy back to the same date and age as the old one, and paying the difference of premiums from said date with interest at 5 per cent per annum.

9. Upon satisfactory proof, the company will admit the age of the insured, by endorsement upon the policy. If the age shall have been misstated, the amount of insurance payable hereunder shall be that amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the true age, or the premium may be adjusted and credit given to the insured or to the company, according to the company's published rate at date of issue.

10. If the insured should die by self-destruction, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date hereof, this policy shall be null and void.

11. The company will not take cognizance of any assignment of this policy until a duplicate thereof shall have been filed at the Home Office. Proof of interest must be produced when the policy becomes payable. The company does not guarantee the validity of any assignment.

12. No suit to recover under this policy shall be brought after five years after the cause of action accrues.

13. This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning at the end of the third policy year, the company will annually account for and determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on the policy.

either (a) Pay in full settlement of this policy and in lieu of all other benefits and privileges herein provided, one-twentieth of the entire sum insured and the same amount annually thereafter until the entire sum insured shall have been paid; or (b) Carry this policy as if fully paid up, requiring no further premium payments by the insured; or (c) Pay to the insured in cash a sum mutually agreed upon but not exceeding one-half the amount insured under the policy, the company being thereby released from all liability under the policy. Provided, however, that any indebtedness to the company against the policy shall reduce the annuity payment by the company under option (a) in the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the sum insured; or shall be deducted from the insurance payable under option (b). If the policy has reached the condition where, by its terms, it has become fully paid up at the expiration of the twelve months specified above, the insured shall then become entitled to the benefits under option (a) or (c). If the insured shall recover from the total disability above described before the expiration of the said twelve months, the payment of premiums hereon may be resumed with the premium falling due next after such recovery, and the insurance will continue as originally issued; or, if such recovery occurs and premiums are not resumed, then the policy shall be regarded as lapsing with the non-payment of the first premium due after such recovery and the legal holder thereof shall be entitled to the non-forfeiture values set forth therein, subject to the total indebtedness thereon. If, at the expiration of the aforesaid twelve months, the insured shall have chosen the continuance of the insurance under option (b), and shall thereafter recover from the total disability above described, then (unless the policy has become by its terms fully paid up), the payment of premiums shall be resumed by the insured, beginning with the first premium falling due subsequent to such recovery, and if such payment be not resumed the policy shall be deemed to lapse with the non-payment of said first premium. If he shall have selected option (a), then on recovery from the total disability as above described, any instalments of the insurance under that option unpaid at the time of the recovery shall remain with the company and will be paid in a lump sum to the beneficiary at the death of the insured. Should the disability as above stated occur after the insured shall have reached the age of 60 option (b) only will be granted, and all subsequent premiums as they become due shall be accumulated without interest, and will be an indebtedness against the policy. Any benefit for total and permanent disability within the meaning of this policy is conditioned upon the company being permitted to examine the insured whenever it shall deem such examination necessary. If, at the end of any policy year, the insured shall request, in writing, the annulment of the above total disability provisions, the annual premium payments on this policy shall be reduced by twenty-five cents per thousand of insurance.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I hereby agree for myself or for any person who may have or claim any interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application, as follows:—1. That all the foregoing statements and answers and all those that I make to the company's medical examiner, in Part II of this application, are full, complete and true, and are offered to the company as a consideration for the policy, which I hereby agree to accept. 2. That no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to, the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of the company, at the home office, in this application. 3. That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect unless the first premium is paid and the policy delivered to me during my lifetime and good health. 4. That in any distribution of surplus, the principles and methods which may then be in use by the company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount proportioned to such policy shall be, and are hereby ratified and accepted. 5. That any payment on account of first premium, before delivery of the policy, shall be binding on the company only in accordance with the company's receipt therefor on the coupon receipt, form duly filled out and detached from this application, which is the only authorized receipt for such policy. 6. That the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by such policy.

PART II.—I hereby declare that I have reviewed and understand all of the above questions and answers thereto and they are hereby made part of my application for insurance in the Columbia Life Insurance Company, and that said answers and each of them, as written are full, complete and true: that I am the person described above and in Part I of this application signed by me and that each of the questions in Parts I and II of my application was answered in writing before I signed the same.

Columbian National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000 ANNUAL PREMIUM, $295.20. AGE, 35.

The Columbian National Life Insurance Company of Boston, Mass., in consideration of the application, copy of which is hereto attached and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract, and of the payment of the annual premium of two hundred ninety-five and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars on the twentieth day of February in every year until twenty full years' premium shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, does covenant and agree that, it will pay on receipt of due proof of the death of the insured John Doe, of Boston, State of Massachusetts, the sum insured ten thousand dollars, to the beneficiary Mary Doe, wife of the insured with right of revocation. If there be no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured the proceeds hereof shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, subject, however, in case of misstatement of age, to an adjustment of the insurance proportionate to the premium at the true age.

The benefits and provisions printed on the second and third pages are part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the company has, by its president and secretary, signed this policy at the city of Boston, this twentieth day of February, 1914.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office in Boston, but may be paid to an agent of the company in exchange for a receipt signed by the president or secretary. No modification of this contract shall be made except over the signature of one of such officers.

THIRTY-ONE DAYS' GRACE.—Thirty-one days' grace is allowed for the payment of all premiums after the first, during which period the policy remains in full force. Upon default in payment of any premium or note given therefor, this policy shall lapse, and the company's only liability shall be such, if any, as is hereinafter provided.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse, it may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of all past due premiums with interest at five per cent per annum and payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness hereon with interest at said rates unless the cash value has been paid for the extended insurance period has expired.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be effectual against the company unless it is filed at the home office while this policy is in force. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If there be no existing assignment of this policy, the insured may designate a new beneficiary by filing at the home office written notice thereon in forms provided for this purpose.

PROTECTION BY STATUTE.—All statements made by the insured in the application are, in the absence of fraud, representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall void the policy or be used in defense to a claim under it unless contained in the written application and a copy of the same attached hereto.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction during the first policy year, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; in such case only the net reserve on the policy will be paid.

PAID-UP VALUE.—In the event of the lapse of this policy after the premiums for three full years have been paid, the policy shall become effective automatically for paid-up insurance payable at the same time as this policy, the amount granted being as stated in the table endorsed hereon for the number of years the policy has been in force. This paid-up insurance shall have increasing cash and loan values.

CASH VALUE OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In lieu of said paid-up insurance, the insured on satisfactory release and surrender of this policy within the days of grace, may receive either the cash value or extended term insurance as similarly stated in the table endorsed hereon.

LOANS.—After three years' premiums have been paid hereon, the insured, on the security of this policy properly assigned, may borrow at the interest rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance, any sum not in excess of the loan value shown in the table endorsed hereon. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the existing loan and bear interest at the same rate. Non-payment of loan or interest shall not void the policy until the total indebtedness exceeds the cash value hereunder, nor until thirty days after the company has mailed notice of such termination to the insured and a signee of record, if any, at their last known address. Payment of cash or loan values may be deferred for thirty days after the application therefor.

DEDUCTION OF INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy, including any unpaid premium or portion thereof for the then current policy year shall be deducted upon settlement of any claim hereunder. If there be any such indebtedness, the cash and loan values will be diminished thereby, and the paid-up or extended insurance will be such as may be purchased by the cash value so diminished.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent. The cash or loan value is the same as the net value of the paid-up or extended insurance provided for herein and equals such reserve less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured. The values stated herein at least equal those required by the statutes of Massachusetts.

PURE ENDOWMENT OPTION.—The insured under this policy shall have the option of continuing the payment of the premium provided for on page one hereof for nine years beyond the twentieth year to establish a pure endowment fund. If such premiums be regularly paid, this fund, together with the cash value of this policy, will on the twenty-first day of February, 1943, amount to ten thousand one hundred seventy-three dollars and ninety cents, which amount will then be paid to the insured for the surrender of this policy, or in event of prior death the amount as named on page one shall be payable as hereinbefore provided. In the event of the previous surrender of this policy after the twentieth year, the company will add to the surrender value hereof the total amount of the premiums paid hereon after such twentieth year. In event of total and permanent disability, this option will not be continued by the waiver of premium clause.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—Payment of an instalment of the premium between anniversaries will proportionately increase these values.

Values after twenty-two years will be furnished upon request.

* Extended insurance begins from date of defaulted premium and includes the days of grace.

This policy is free from all conditions as to residence, travel or occupation, and no permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—If after this policy has been in force one full year and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the company receives due proof that the insured prior to attaining age sixty has become so disabled by bodily injuries or disease as to permanently, continuously and wholly prevented for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, it will, by forwarding official receipt therefor, waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due under this policy during the continuance of such disability and the values in the above table shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were paid by the insured. Should the insured recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid by the insured in conformity with this contract. In addition to and independently of all other causes of permanent and total disability, the company will consider the entire and irrecoverable loss of sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or both feet at or above the ankles, as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. The annual premium for the benefits provided in this section is two and 50-100 dollars payable in same manner as the regular premiums under this contract.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby make application for insurance in The Columbian National Life Insurance Company, of Boston, Mass., and I certify that all the statements and answers appearing herein and in Part II hereof are full, complete and true, and agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not take effect until the issuance and delivery of the policy, and the payment of the first premium thereon while I am in sound health.

TWENTY-YEAR TERM POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $134.50. AGE, 35.

The Columbian National Life Insurance Company of Boston, Mass., in consideration of the application, copy of which is hereto attached and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract, and of the payment of the annual premium of one hundred thirty-four and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars on the first day of July in every year during the continuance of this policy, does covenant and agree that it will pay, on receipt of due proof of the death of John Quincy Adams, of Boston, State of Massachusetts, while this policy is in force and within twenty years from the date hereof, ten thousand dollars, to the estate of the insured with right of revocation. If there be no beneficiary surviving at the death of the insured the proceeds hereof shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, subject, however, in case of misstatement of age, to an adjustment of the insurance proportionate to the premium at the true age.

The benefits and provisions printed on the second and third pages are part of this contract.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

For premiums, thirty-one days' grace, reinstatement assignment, change of beneficiary, protection by statute, self destruction, paid-up value, cash value, extended insurance, freedom from restrictions and waiver of premium, see preceding policy.

EXCHANGE OR RENEWAL PRIVILEGE.—On the surrender at any time during the first fifteen years of this policy and while it is in force the owner may exchange it, without medical examination, for one of equivalent amount on any plan of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by this company, provided the insured has not passed his sixty-fifth birthday, the new policy to bear date of such exchange and to be written at the rated age of the insured at such time; or, if the insured has not passed his sixtieth birthday, such change may be to another twenty year term policy containing similar privileges of exchange. The company will grant a similar exchange privilege during the last five years of this policy provided it is furnished with satisfactory evidence of insurability of the insured. If this policy is so exchanged at any time during its term, the full reserve at time of exchange by the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table will be applied in permanent uniform reduction of the premiums under the new policy.

PRIVILEGE OF CONVERSION AS OF ORIGINAL DATE.—On its surrender at any time during the first fifteen years hereof and while it is in force, the owner may change this policy, without medical examination, to one of equivalent amount on any plan of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by this company, such new policy to bear the date and rated age of this policy. In event of change during the first five years, the difference between the premiums paid hereunder and those that would have been paid under the new policy, with three and one-half per cent interest compounded annually, shall be paid, and in event of change after five years, the difference in the reserves under the two policies shall be paid.

DEDUCTION OF INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy, including any unpaid premium or portion thereof for the then current policy year, shall be deducted upon settlement of any claim hereunder. If there be any such indebtedness, the cash values will be diminished thereby, and the paid-up or extended insurance will be such as may be purchased by the cash value so diminished.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent. The cash value is the same as the net value of the paid-up or extended insurance provided for herein and equals such reserve less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured. The values stated herein at least equal those required by the statutes of Massachusetts.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company (Ky.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE PLAN POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $382.40. AGE, 35.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Ky. will pay at its home office in the city of Louisville, Ky., the sum of ten thousand dollars immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe, the insured, of Louisville, in the county of Jefferson, in the State of Kentucky, unto Mary Doe, wife, the beneficiary, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy is issued on the annual dividend plan, and the dividends are guaranteed to be not less than the amounts shown on the coupons hereto attached. The additional earnings over and above the amounts guaranteed will be apportioned at the end of each ten years from the date hereof in accordance with the provision on the second page referring to surplus.

SPECIAL PROVISION.—The company guarantees that this policy will become fully paid up after payment of not more than fifteen full annual premiums, and that the cash surrender value at that time shall be not less than $5080; providing the insured at the time of making application or within one year from date hereof, shall elect in writing to pay the premiums in full and allow all coupons to remain attached to the policy (said notice of election to be endorsed by the company on this policy and the coupons hereto attached). Should the insured die before the policy becomes paid up, then the amount of such coupons, with three per cent compound interest as had become due prior to the death of insured, will be paid in addition to the sum insured.

This contract is made in consideration of the application for this policy, hereby made a part thereof, and the payment of the first premium of three hundred, eighty-two and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, and the payment of a like amount at the home office of the company on or before the twenty-ninth day of July of each year during the continuance of this policy, or until twenty annual premiums have been paid.

The benefits and provisions stated on the second page hereof form a part of this contract as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In testimony whereof, said Commonwealth Life Insurance Company, of Louisville, Ky., has by its president and secretary, signed this contract the twenty-ninth day of July, 1911.

The guaranteed cash value of this policy is deposited in approved interest bearing securities with the treasurer of Kentucky, in compliance with the provisions of the compulsory deposit law of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, under which this company operates.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If this policy should lapse by the non-payment of any premium after three full years' premiums have been paid in cash, the company, upon legal surrender of the policy within sixty days from such non-payment, will grant the following options: (1) The cash surrender value shown in Table A. (2) Paid-up non-participating insurance, payable at the same time as this policy for the sum shown in Table B. (3) If neither of the foregoing options shall have been applied for as above, this policy shall continue automatically as term insurance, without participation in surplus, for the full amount insured thereby, and for the number of years and months as shown in Table B. If any indebtedness be due the company, the values will be decreased in the proportion such indebtedness bears to the cash value.

LOANS.—The company will lend upon satisfactory assignment and delivery of this policy, as sole security, the loan values as shown in Table A, upon payment in advance of the premium for that year and interest at six per cent per annum on said loan. No loans will be made for a less sum than twenty-five dollars nor to mature upon any other date than the anniversary of this policy. Failure to repay any loan shall not void the policy, unless such loan with interest shall equal or exceed the then cash value, and then not until after one month's notice has been mailed the insured.

SURPLUS.—In addition to the amounts guaranteed, while this policy is in full force and before default in payment of premium, it shall share in the surplus of the company in accordance with its contribution thereto, as determined by the directors of the company. Such dividends will be declared and become payable only at the expiration of each ten year period from the date hereof, but after the policy becomes fully paid-up, dividends will be declared and paid annually.

OPTIONS.—Should the insured not make the election in writing as provided on the first page, then all dividends may be used in reduction of the premium then due, or if the premium be paid in full may be used to purchase paid-up additions payable with the policy, or left with the company to accumulate at interest. Should the premiums be paid in full and the dividends allowed to remain with the company at interest, then said unpaid dividends, with compound interest at the rate of three per cent per annum for each full year after the dividend was due, will be added to the face of the policy in event of the death of the insured, or paid in cash upon presentation to the company. Paid-up additions shall be non-forfeitable and will participate in the surplus as provided above. Such additions may be reconverted into cash at the end of any anniversary upon request by the insured, while this policy is in full force.

RE-INSTALLMENT.—Should this policy lapse by non-payment of premium, it may be re-instated at any time upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and the payment of past due premiums with five per cent interest thereon, and should the company require it, any other indebtedness of the insured to the company.

UNRESTRICTED.—From date of issue, this policy shall be without restriction as to travel, residence, occupation or place of death.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be absolutely incontestable for any cause after one year from the date of issue, except non-payment of premium. In case of self destruction within one year from date of issue, whether the insured be sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of premium paid hereon.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—Any error in stating the age of the insured will not vitiate this policy, but will be adjusted by the payment of such an amount as the premiums actually paid would purchase at the correct age, according to the table of rates in use by the company at the date of issue of this policy.

GRACE.—In case of default in the payment of any premium when due, this policy will be continued in force for the full amount for one month, subject to a charge for interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, and payment of premium may be made during that time without evidence of insurability.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless the original or a duplicate-original be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If this policy has not been assigned, the insured may at any time change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, by filing with the company a written request, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect when endorsed hereon by the company.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The first premium must be paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured and upon delivery of this policy. All premiums are due and payable annually in advance, but they may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, at the home office of the company in the city of Louisville, Ky., or they may be paid elsewhere to authorized agents on or before the dates when due, in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and countersigned by such agent. If any premium, or note given therefor, be not paid when due, this policy shall become null and void, subject to the non-forfeiture provisions in the tables hereon. Any unpaid portion of the current year's premium together with all indebtedness shall be deducted from any claim hereunder. This insurance is based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and for the first year is term insurance, and in consideration of the payment of the subsequent premiums, as herein provided, it shall be continued as an ordinary life policy.

ALTERATION OR WAIVER.—No alteration of this policy or waiver of any of its conditions shall be valid, unless made in writing and signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer of the company.

INSTALLMENT BENEFITS.—In settlement of any claim under this policy, the beneficiary shall have the choice of taking same in 10 equal annual instalments of $116; or 15 of $84; or 20 of $68; or 25 of $59; or 30 of $53, for each $1000 to be paid the beneficiary, or the amount to be paid can be used to purchase an annuity during the life of the beneficiary, if the beneficiary at that time is more than ten years of age.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after July 29, 1911, Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Ky., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned), a dividend of three and $\frac{7}{100}$ dollars, provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office. The second coupon is for \$4.78, the third for \$5.74, the fourth for \$6.60, the fifth and all others for \$7.65.

on payable in event of death will, if the insured, or after his death, if the beneficiary, be used to purchase an annuity, payable at the end of each year for twenty years, and thereafter during the lifetime of the beneficiary.

RATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty-five years of age last birthday the amount of each annual instalment will be $52.90 for each year of age, payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare, that I am now in good health and generally have good health; that I operate in my habits and that my statements in this application and the medical examination made thereon are true and that same shall constitute the basis of this contract. I also declare that it is understood on behalf of myself and any beneficiary under this policy issued by the said company, on my life upon this application, that the company shall not be liable until the application has been received, approved, the policy issued by the company and delivered to me and premium paid during my good health; unless I have actually paid full premium in cash at time of application and therefor the binding receipt attached to the application, countersigned by the insured, in which event the liability of the company shall be from said date, provided the application be approved at the home office. The place of contract shall be at Louisville, State of Kentucky. I agree that in any distribution of surplus or dividend of profits the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company in its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be binding and conclusive upon the insured under this policy and upon all parties having or claiming any interest thereunder.

Commonwealth Life Insurance Company (Neb.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDEND.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $348.00. AGE, 35.

The Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Nebraska promises to pay ten thousand dollars, upon receipt of proofs of the death of Henry Wilson, the insured, to Mary (wife) or to such other beneficiaries as may have been designated by the insured.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application or, a copy of which application is endorsed hereon or attached to, and is hereby made a part of the contract, and of the amount in advance of the sum of three hundred forty-dollars, being the annual premium for one year's term insurance from the date hereof and the payment of the same on or before the first day of August in every year thereafter for nineteen years of the life of the insured as renewal premiums complete the contract. The privileges, provisions and conditions of loan and surrender values stated on the following pages as a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures of the insured.

Witness my hand and seal, at Omaha, Neb., August 1st, 1912.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

A GRACE OF ONE MONTH without interest charge shall be granted for the payment of premium after the first year during which month the insurance shall continue. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon.

POLICY IS INCONTESTABLE after one year from date of issue, except for the non-payment of premiums, or violation of the terms of this policy as to military or naval service in time of war.

RENEWAL PREMIUMS may be paid annually, semi-annually, or quarterly, in advance, in accordance with the rates endorsed hereon, and the insured may change from one method of such modes of payment upon written request therefor made to the home office of the company. Premiums must be paid at the home office of the company in Omaha, Neb., or at the pleasure of the company, to a designated collector, in any case, only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by the president, secretary and countersigned by such collector. If any premium is not paid due, this policy shall be ipso facto null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

DIVIDENDS.—Beginning at the end of the third policy year, the company will annually in the proportion of the surplus to which this policy and the policies of the same age class are entitled, and if this policy be in force at the end of five years from date, end of each five year period thereafter during its continuance, it will be credited dividend from the surplus so apportioned. At the option of the owner of this apportioned dividends may be either—(1) applied to the purchase of paid-up insurance to the policy; or, (2) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums; paid in cash; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. If the first method is adopted and no evidence of good health will be required but will be required of change from either of the other methods to the first, and unless the owner of the policy shall elect otherwise within three months from the mailing by the company of notice requiring such an election, the dividends will be paid in cash.

POLICY IS AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE as follows: If any premium for the first policy year shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insurance, together with any outstanding dividend additions without action of the insured or payment of further premiums, be continued as non-participating term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, as shown in Column 2 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premium have been paid in full, but without cash or loan values.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, premium shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness hereon, written request made by the insured within six (6) months from said due date, and if surrender of this policy, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up policy for the amount specified in Column 3 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full.

PAID-UP FOR CASH.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid hereon, premium shall not be paid when due, and if there be no indebtedness hereon, written request of the insured within six (6) months from the said due date, and if surrender of this policy, the company will pay in cash therefor the amount specified in Column 1 of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premium have been paid in full together with any unpaid dividends.

THE INSURED IS ENTITLED TO CASH LOANS ON THE SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY AT ANY TIME AFTER THE PAYMENT OF THREE FULL YEARS' PREMIUMS.—The aggregate loans hereunder shall not exceed the sum stated in Column 1 of the accompanying Table A for the year to the end of which premiums have been paid in full together with any unpaid dividends. Any unpaid balance of the current year's premiums will be deducted from such loan value. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured. Interest will be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the legal reserve of this policy nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

THIS POLICY MAY BE RE-INSTATED (unless previously surrendered) at any time within five years after default in the payment of any renewal premium, provided the insured applies therefor and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and pays in cash all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum from date when due; and provided also, that any indebtedness hereon to the company at date of default with interest thereon to date of re-instatement shall be a first lien against this policy.

THIS POLICY IS UNRESTRICTED AS TO TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION of the insured. In case of death of the insured by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, a sum equal to the premiums actually paid hereon, and no more, shall be paid, but if at any time he engage in military or naval service in time of war (the militia not in active service excepted), he shall secure the company's written consent and pay the extra premium therefor.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. Only the president or secretary has power on behalf of the company (and then only in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the above.

2. If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured.

3. Any assignment of this policy must be made and sent to the home office in duplicate, one to be retained by the company and the other to be returned. The company assumes no responsibility for validity of any assignment.

4. This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Omaha, Neb. Before any amount shall be paid hereunder, due proofs of the death of the insured must be furnished, and any indebtedness hereon to the company, including the amount necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year, must be settled. Due proofs of death of the insured must be furnished to the company at its home office. No suit or action shall be maintained on this policy unless it is commenced within three years from the time cause of action accrues.

5. This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written application, and a copy of such application shall be endorsed hereon or attached hereto.

6. The reserve basis of this policy is the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The cash surrender value is equal to the said reserve at the time of surrender, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder, and it is at least equal to the present value of the extended insurance option. The present value of the extended insurance and paid-up insurance options are equal to the said reserve at the time of extension or surrender less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder. The loan value is equal to the said reserve at the end of the year to which premium shall have been paid, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunto.

any unpaid indebtedness on account of this policy, will correspondingly decrease values of the above table. In case of default in payment of a premium due at an intermediate period the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as corresponding values for full year's premiums paid. Loan and cash values after twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy; figures will be furnished request by the home office of the company.

SABILITY BENEFITS.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid upon this year and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, by attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory evidence to the company that he has become wholly disabled by disease or bodily injuries and will be permanently, consciously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any gainful occupation, all premium payments on this policy shall cease and the insurance hereunder continued in force and the surrender values increased from year to year as shown in tables hereon in the same manner as though the insured paid his premium in cash, or the company, at the option of the insured, will pay the insured one-tenth of the face amount of this policy annually until the full amount of the policy shall have been paid, in which event each such payment shall reduce to that extent the insurance then in force and proportionately the amount of loan and surrender values provided for herein, and after and when the payments cease, together with any indebtedness to the company, equal the amount originally insured, the company's obligation under this contract shall be fully satisfied and discharged. In addition to or independently of all other causes of permanent and total disability the company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of one eye, or the amputation of one hand, at or above the wrist, or one foot, at or above the ankle, as total permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The insured may at any time change the mode of payment of proceeds of this policy, if the policy is not then assigned, from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments. On this plan the company will pay in lieu of one thousand dollars insurance provided for on first page hereof: ($1,360) One thousand three hundred and sixty dollars in twenty equal annual instalments, or ($1,260) One thousand two hundred and sixty dollars in fifteen annual instalments, or ($1,160) One thousand one hundred and sixty dollars in ten equal annual instalments. The amount of the first instalment shall be made at the time the whole amount would have been payable, and subsequent instalments shall be payable annually thereafter. The insured may change his selection under the above options; he may also revoke all selections and make the policy again payable in one sum. No selection, change or revocation shall take effect until endorsement on the policy by the company. After endorsement the policy will be returned to the insured. The beneficiary cannot commute instalments, unless given such right by the insured at the time payment by instalments is directed. If the beneficiary should die before the full amount of instalments is received, the remainder of the selection made by the insured shall have been paid, the remainder of the instalments will be commuted on the basis of three and one-half per cent, compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If this policy be on the endowment plan, and the insured survive the endowment period, but die before receiving all the instalments called for hereunder, the remainder of the instalments will be commuted as above and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

The Commonwealth Life Insurance Company shall not be bound to grant insurance in application unless the applicant hereunder shall submit to an examination or examinations by the company's regularly appointed medical examiner or examiners or by a physician prepared by the company, within a period of sixty days from date hereof and then if the examination is satisfactory. Failure so to do shall forfeit all moneys paid on to the company, and all rights for damages are hereby waived. The applicant further agrees, if examined by his family physician, to waive all questions of privilege communication, hereby agreeing that such knowledge as the physician has obtained in his professional capacity, may be wholly given to the company for its inspection. In case of failure on the part of the applicant to pass a satisfactory medical examination moneys paid hereon shall be refunded.

Confederation Life Association.

20. PAYMENT LIFE. UNCONDITIONAL ACCUMULATION POLICY.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.50. AGE, 35.

The Confederation Life Association by this policy of Assurance, in consideration of the application herefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment of the premiums as herein mentioned, doth insure the life of the person named and described herein as the insured in the sum set out below, which shall be payable at its head office, Toronto, Can., in accordance with the terms and provisions of this policy, which are as follows.

1. THE INSURED.—Richard Roe, of Toronto, Ontario, merchant.

2. KIND OF POLICY.—Life twenty premiums, with profits apportioned as stated on page two hereof.

3. PREMIUM.—Three hundred and sixty-nine and ⁸⁰/₁₀₀ dollars payable on the first day of January, 1911 and the yearly payment of a like sum on the first day of January in each and every year hereafter until twenty full year's premiums shall have been paid.

4. SUM INSURED.—Ten thousand dollars.

WHEN PAYABLE.—Upon due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy.

TO WHOM PAYABLE.—To his wife Susan if living; if not, then to the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns.

INDISPUTABILITY.—After this policy shall have been in force for one full year, it shall, subject to the due payment of the premium, be thenceforward indisputable.

NO RESTRICTIONS are placed upon the insured under this policy as to residence, travel or occupation.

REINSTATEMENT of this policy in the event of lapse, may be secured at any time upon the submission of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the association and the payment of the past due premiums with interest thereon and the payment or reinstatement of any loan and the interest thereon.

THE BENEFITS, privileges and provisos printed or written by the association on the second and third pages hereof, form a part of this contract as fully as if they were stated at length under the seal and signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof these presents are sealed with the common seal of the said association, and signed by the president and managing director or secretary thereof, at Toronto, this first day of January, 1911.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISOS.

DAYS OF GRACE.—Thirty days' grace is allowed for the payment of renewal premiums under this policy, during which time the insurance shall continue in force.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable at the head office of the association in Toronto, Can., but may, with the assent of the association, be paid elsewhere. No receipt for any premium shall be valid unless on the association's printed form signed by the managing director, secretary, or actuary, and countersigned by the agent, or cashier. If default be made in the payment of any premium, note, or cheque, should one be given and accepted therefor, whether notice of such payment falling due was received by the insured or not, then, and in every such case, this policy shall cease and determine, except as herein otherwise provided. This policy does not take effect until the first premium has been actually paid during the lifetime and good health of the insured.

PROFIT ACCUMULATION BENEFITS.—The accumulation period under this policy ends on the first day of January, 1931. If this policy is then in force, and all premiums have been duly paid as provided herein, but not otherwise, the insured or owner of this policy will be entitled to share in the accumulated profits as apportioned hereto by the association and to select any one of the following benefits:

First.—To continue the policy, on which future profits will be declared quinquennially, and receive the accumulated profits, either (1) in cash, or in the purchase of (2) a bonus addition to the sum insured, or in the purchase of (3) a life annuity; or,

Second.—To surrender the policy and receive its entire value, consisting of the guaranteed cash surrender value indicated in the table below, together with the accumulated profits, either (4) in cash, or in the purchase of (5) a paid-up policy, payable at death, without profits, or in the purchase of (6) a life annuity. The right to select benefits No 2 and No. 5 is subject to the proviso that notice in writing shall be given by the insured to the association at its head office, not less than two years prior to the expiry of the accumulation period, otherwise evidence of insurability satisfactory to the association will be required. The association will send to the insured at the expiry of the accumulation period a statement of the results under the six accumulation benefits, and if a selection is not made within one month thereafter, the association will be entitled to apply the profits under benefit No. 3.

NON-FORFEITURE AND LOAN BENEFITS.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid on this policy it shall not lapse by reason of the non-payment of any subsequent premium so long as the cash surrender value thereof, according to the table given below or the excess of such cash surrender value over and above any indebtedness charged against the policy is not less than the amount of such premium then due, but such premium shall, without any request or action of the insured, be advanced by the association as a loan against the policy, and it shall become a first charge thereon in favor of the association in priority to the claim of any assignee or other person. Should, however, the cash surrender value over and above any accumulated indebtedness be less than the amount of any unpaid premium when due, or should such accumulated indebtedness at any time exceed the cash surrender value, this policy shall thereupon become void. In calculating the cash surrender value, account only shall be taken of complete years' premiums paid, including the premium then being advanced, and not of a payment made for any fraction of a policy year. The rate of interest chargeable upon automatic premium loans will be eight per cent per annum, to be compounded yearly on the first day of October in each year, this rate includes a charge of two per cent for expenses and for the privilege secured to the insured of having the policy automatically continued in force. A loan may at any time while the policy is in force be paid off in whole or in part.

EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid upon this policy, it may upon payment of all indebtedness, if any, charged against this policy and subject to the due surrender thereof before the date upon which any subsequent premium shall become due or within the period of grace, be exchanged for a policy of extended term insurance for the full amount insured under this policy, but without profits, for such further period of time as is stated in the following table. Should the substituted extended term policy become a claim by death within three years from the date of issue thereof, but not otherwise, the association shall be entitled to deduct from the amount of the claim a sum equal to the premiums which would have become due on this policy if it had been continued in force with interest thereon at six per cent per annum.

PAID UP POLICY.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, it may, subject to the due surrender thereof before the date on which any subsequent premium shall become due, or within the period of grace and the payment or adjustment of any indebtedness, if any, which may be charged against this policy, be exchanged for a paid-up policy, without profits, for the amount indicated in the following table.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy and subject to the due surrender thereof before the date on which any subsequent premium shall become due or within the period of grace, a cash surrender value will be granted for the amount indicated in the following table.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, the association will lend thereon an amount not exceeding ninety-five per cent of the cash surrender value thereof, as indicated in the following table. Repaid this policy is only assigned as security therefor. The rate of interest will not exceed six per cent per annum.

NOTE.—The granting of a cash surrender value or loan is subject to the proviso that there are no statutory or other legal restrictions.

TABLE OF GUARANTEED EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE, PAID-UP, CASH SURRENDER AND LOAN VALUES.

Policies which may be continued after the twentieth year will be entitled to non-forfeiture and loan benefits calculated according to the rules of the association.

PAYMENT OF CLAIM.—Upon the death of the insured the claimant shall furnish to the satisfaction of the association a complete proof duly verified by affidavit or otherwise of the death and the cause thereof and also of the age of the insured, unless previously given. Any deferred half-yearly or quarterly premium or other unpaid balance of the current year's premium, or any other indebtedness, if any, will be deducted from the amount of the claim.

PROOF OF AGE.—If it should appear that the age of the insured was understated in the application for this policy, the amount of the insurance payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the premium actually paid would purchase at the true age of the insured; or, if the age was overstated, a refund of the excess paid will be made. Age will be admitted at any time during the lifetime of the insured, upon submission of satisfactory proof.

ASSIGNMENTS.—The association will not recognize any assignment or transfer of this policy until the original, or duplicate thereof, shall be filed in the head office of the association. The association assumes no responsibility for the validity or sufficiency of any assignment or transfer.

ENTIRE CONTRACT—NON-VARIABLE.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto annexed, constitutes the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall, in the absence of fraud, be used in defence of a claim under this policy. This contract cannot be altered or varied in any way except in writing by one of the following executive officers of the association, viz.: the president, managing director, secretary, or actuary.

WARRANTY IN APPLICATION.

I agree to accept the policy when issued on the terms mentioned in this application and to pay the association the premiums thereon as and when the same fall due, and I further agree that should a policy be executed under this application, the same shall not be delivered or binding on the association until the first premium thereon shall be paid to a duly authorized agent of the association, during my lifetime and good health. In consideration of the policy being placed in the accumulated dividend class, I waive all right to withdraw, or use before the expiration of the dividend period above stated, any profits which may be allotted for that period; and unless the policy shall at the expiration thereof be in full force, no profits shall be payable under said policy.

COMMONWEALTH LIFE INSURANCE CO. (KY.).

WAIVER OF PREMIUM IN THE EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—Extra premium, $2.40 at age 35 for $10,000. The premium stated on the face of policy No. (to which policy this agreement is attached and of which it forms a part) includes an additional premium, in consideration of which the Commonwealth Life Insurance Company of Louisville, Ky., hereby grants the following:

WAIVER OF PREMIUM IN THE EVENT OF PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—If the insured, after payment of premiums for at least one full year and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, and before attaining the age of sixty years, and while this policy is in full force, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company, at its home office in the city of Louisville, Ky., that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit or from following any gainful occupation, and that such disability has existed continuously for not less than sixty days, the company will waive payment of premiums thereafter becoming due under this policy during the continuance of such disability. The premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under the policy, and the values provided in Table A and Table B shall be the same as if the premiums had continued to be paid to the company regularly when due. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time on demand, furnish to the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability, and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid in conformity with the policy.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision, and the company upon satisfactory proof of such loss or severance will waive the premiums thereafter becoming due under the policy.

* Loan values are available at any time after two full years' premiums have been paid, as set forth in above loan provision. A loan may be repaid at any time, either partially or wholly, while the policy is in force under its original conditions.

PROTECTION IN EVENT OF TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—If the insured under this policy shall furnish due proofs that before reaching the age of sixty years and because of accident or disease occurred after the payment of one full premium on said policy, and before the default in the payment of any subsequent premium, he has become wholly, continuously and permanently unable to pursue any gainful occupation, and presumably will for life be unable to perform any work or engage in any business for compensation or profit, one year after receipt of such proofs the company will relieve him from the payment of any further premiums on said policy. In case of such relief the premiums shall not be a lien against the policy and the surrender and loan values shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If such total and permanent disability shall occur under the conditions above stated, but after the insured has reached the age of sixty years, the company will, one year after receipt of due proofs thereof, waive payment of each premium thereafter becoming due during such disability, but the face amount of the policy shall be reduced by the amount of each such waived premium, and all benefits under the policy shall be reduced accordingly and shall be based upon said reduced amount of insurance in the same manner as if the premiums for such reduced amount of insurance had been duly paid. Future premiums shall be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance.

PAYMENT IN INSTALLMENTS.—Or upon written request of the insured and of the assignee and beneficiary, if any, provided such disability shall occur before the insured has reached the age of sixty years one year after receipt of proofs as aforesaid and during the continuance of such total and permanent disability, if there is no indebtedness against the policy, the company will pay one-twentieth of the face amount of the policy and a like sum annually thereafter until twenty such payments have been made; or, if there is any indebtedness against the policy, the company will pay under like conditions one-twentieth of the difference between such indebtedness and the face of the policy and a like sum annually thereafter until twenty such payments have been made. Each such payment shall reduce by the amount thereof the insurance remaining in force and the surrender and loan values shall no longer be available. When the total amounts so paid together with any indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal the face of the policy, the company shall be released from all further liability under this policy.

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—By the acceptance of this contract the insured agrees that any medical examiner appointed by the company shall be allowed opportunity at any and all times within one year from the commencement of the disability, and not oftener than once a year thereafter, to satisfy himself as to the alleged disability by examination of the person of the insured, and if it is established that the insured has so far recovered as to be able to again engage in some gainful occupation the company will thereupon cease to extend further relief from payment of premiums and no further instalment payments will be made by the company. If the amount of the insurance shall have been reduced by the payment of any instalments, such reduced amount of insurance shall thereafter be the face amount of the policy and the premiums thereafter falling due will be reduced in proportion to the reduced amount of insurance and all benefits under the policy will be reduced accordingly.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by removal or disease of the use of both hands or both feet, or of one hand and one foot, shall be deemed to constitute total and permanent disability within the meaning of this contract.

The portion of each annual premium for this policy charged for protection in event of total and permanent disability is twenty-five cents for each one thousand dollars of insurance and on the issuance or on any anniversary of this contract the provision for such protection may be canceled at the request of the insured, in which event the subsequent annual premiums will be reduced by twenty-five cents for each one thousand dollars of insurance hereunder. Such reduction shall be endorsed hereon.

OPTIONS ON SETTLEMENT.—In any cash settlement of this policy its proceeds will be paid upon written request of the then legal owner in instalments certain, as follows:

For each $1000 deposited.—Monthly instalments, first payment immediate: 60 monthly instalments of $18.11 each, or 120 monthly instalments of $9.83 each, or 180 monthly instalments of $7.10 each, or 240 monthly instalments of $5.75 each, or 300 monthly instalments of $4.96 each. Annual instalments, first payment immediate: 5 annual instalments of $214 each, or 10 annual instalments of $116 each, or 15 annual instalments of $84 each, or 20 annual instalments of $68 each, or 25 annual instalments of $58 each.

COMMUTATION.—At any time when an instalment is due, the instalments remaining unpaid will be commuted upon the basis of three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum, upon written request of the beneficiary if of lawful age, or of the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary in event of the death of said beneficiary, provided the company has not been specifically directed to the contrary by the insured.

GUARANTEED INCOME.—The proceeds of this policy may be left with the company as a principal sum, and the company guarantees to pay the beneficiary interest on such proceeds at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, such proceeds to be returned to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary in event of the death of said beneficiary. At the time any interest payment becomes due the beneficiary, if of legal age, shall have the right to withdraw the principal sum thus left with the company, in addition to such interest payment, provided the company has not been specifically directed to the contrary by the insured.

PARTICIPATION.—In any settlement of this policy under any one of the instalment or income options above described the amount of the instalment or income payment due at the end of any year will be increased by such surplus interest earnings, if any, as may be determined upon by the company.

ANNUITIES.—In any cash settlement of this policy, the privilege is hereby granted the then owner to deposit the proceeds in a sum of not less than $1000 or in multiples of $500, which sum will be applied to the purchase of a guaranteed life annuity, first payment immediate, upon his or her life in an amount set forth in the table below. The annuity contract in addition to providing for the payments as stated therein yearly until the death of the annuitant, will also provide that should he or she die before the sum of the payments made shall have amounted to the original deposit, the amount of the difference between the sum of the payments made by the company and the deposit will be payable in one lump sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant.

GUARANTEED LIFE ANNUITY TABLE per each $1000 deposited. Total payments in any event not to be less than $1000.

In witness whereof, the Connecticut General Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed at its office in the city of Hartford, the first day of November, A. D. 1913.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby covenant and agree that all the foregoing statements and answers as written, and those contained in Part II made, or to be made, to the medical examiner are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract applied for; and that they are full, complete and true, and the only statements made to the company in reply to its inquiries.

TEN-YEAR TERM POLICY, NON-PARTICIPATING, NON-RENEWABLE, CONVERTIBLE.AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $103. AGE, 35.

The Connecticut General Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn. in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and of the annual premium of one hundred three dollars, to be paid on or before the twenty-fourth day of December in every year during the continuance of this contract, does hereby insure the life of Richard Rowe, herein called the insured, of Hartford, county of Hartford and State of Connecticut for a term of ten years from date hereof, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, to be paid at its home office in Hartford, Conn., to Mary G. Rowe, wife of the said insured if surviving, or if she shall not survive the insured, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured; subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided, on receipt of due proofs of the death of the said insured during the continuance of this contract, less any unpaid premium or portion of the premium for the current policy year.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

For general provisions, grace, assignments, suicide, incontestability, change of beneficiary and options on settlement (except as to participation) see preceding policy.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect unless nor until the first premium is actually paid as hereinafter provided. All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, but will be accepted elsewhere, if paid to a duly authorized agent in exchange for its receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated therein. The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums payable in advance, but payments may be made semi-annually or quarterly in advance, such rates being fifty-one and twenty-six per cent respectively of the annual rate. Change from one method of payment to another may be made on any policy anniversary.

REVIVAL IN EVENT OF LAPSE.—This policy, if not surrendered, will be reinstated on written application therefor at any time after non-payment of any premium if evidence of good health satisfactory to the company is furnished and premiums to date of reinstatement are paid with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

NON-PARTICIPATION.—This policy is issued on a non-participating rate and is not entitled to share in surplus distribution.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At any time within seven years from its date, if this policy is surrendered while in force under its original conditions, the company will, without medical re-examination, issue in exchange therefor a new policy upon any plan then written by it, except the term plan, for an amount not greater than the sum insured by this policy, at the regular rate of premium required for the policy desired, at the age then attained by the insured. If this policy is so exchanged, the company will apply the full reserve at time of exchange according to the three and one-half per cent American Experience Table of Mortality on such an amount thereof as is equal to the amount of said new policy, in reduction of the first premium under the new policy. At any time within seven years from its date this policy may be exchanged, without medical re-examination, for a policy on any other plan now issued by the company, the new policy to bear the same date and number herewith, on payment of the difference in back premiums, with interest to date of exchange at the rate of five per cent per annum compounded annually. If the amount of such new policy be less than the amount of this policy, credit will only be allowed for such proportion of the premiums already paid as the amount of the new policy bears to this policy. In case the new policy issued under either of the above options is payable in instalments, the present value of all the instalments which may be due thereunder shall be considered as the sum insured by said policy.

PROTECTION IN EVENT OF TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.

WAIVER OF PREMIUM.—If the insured under this policy shall furnish due proofs that before reaching the age of sixty years and because of accident or disease occurring after the payment of one full premium on said policy, and before the default in the payment of any subsequent premium, he has become wholly, continuously and permanently unable to pursue any gainful occupation, and presumably will for life be unable to perform any work or engage in any business for compensation or profit, one year after receipt of such proofs the company will relieve him from the payment of any further premiums on said policy. In case of such relief the premiums shall not be a lien against the policy.

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—By the acceptance of this contract the insured agrees that any medical examiner appointed by the company shall be allowed opportunity at any and all times within one year from the commencement of the disability, and not oftener than once a year thereafter, to satisfy himself as to the alleged disability by examination of the person of the insured, and if it is established that the insured has so far recovered as to be able to again engage in some gainful occupation the company will thereupon cease to extend further relief from payment of premiums.

For general provisions (in event of total and permanent disability) see preceding contract.

Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, \$10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, \$358.20. AGE, 35. Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the payment to it of the annual premium of one hundred fifty-eight and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars on the twentieth day of February, 1913, and of a like annual premium on or before the anniversary of the same date in every year during the continuance of this policy until twenty annual premiums shall have been paid, hereby insures the life of John Doe, of New York, City, of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, for the term of life, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and agrees to pay said sum, less any unpaid instalments of the annual premium, the last due as above provided, (subject to the right of the insured as hereinafter reserved to change any beneficiary) to his heirs, administrators, or assigns, upon receipt, at the office of the company, in Hartford, Conn., of due proof of the death of the insured; provided that in the event of the death of the insured within one year from the date hereof by self-destruction, if sane or insane, unless it be determined by the company that the insured was so far insane as to destroy his responsibility therefor, the company insures said life in, and shall be liable only for the sum, payable as above provided, equal to the premiums hereon.

INTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—Any and every sum due under this policy shall be payable to the company's office in Hartford, Conn., and from any sum payable hereunder shall be deducted any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy.

PROVISIONS, BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND TABLES on the following pages are made a part of this policy.

In witness whereof, the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, has, by its president and secretary, signed and delivered this policy in the city of Hartford, State of Connecticut, on the twentieth day of February, A. D. 1913.

PROVISIONS, BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND TABLES REFERRED TO ON THE FIRST PAGE AND MADE A PART OF THIS POLICY.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy, upon payment of the second annual premium and during the continuance thereafter as a premium-paying, paid-up or extended insurance policy, shall participate annually in the divisible surplus which shall be determined and apportioned by the company. The dividend (1) shall be payable in cash to the insured or his assigns, or, at the option of the payee thereof, if the company be directed in writing by the payee prior to the expiration of thirty-one days after such dividend becomes due, may be (2) left with the company, subject to withdrawal, to accumulate at the rate of interest, credited annually at not less than three per centum, as the company may determine, or (3) applied on a premium due hereon, or (4) converted into a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder. Any such additions will participate annually in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company and at the maturity of the policy will be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such policy; but any such additions may at any time during the lifetime of the insured be surrendered by the insured or his assigns to the company for cash in an amount equal to the reserve thereon; but if this policy become a policy of paid-up insurance or extended insurance, any such additions then existing shall be treated as hereinafter provided. Any dividends due and unpaid at the maturity of this policy shall be payable to the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance.

REDEMPTION OF DIVIDENDS TO MAKE POLICY FULLY PAID-UP OR TO ACCELERATE MATURITY.—Whenever the reserve hereon, with any accumulated dividends credited to the cash value of any paid-up additions hereto, shall equal the reserve on a fully paid-up policy of this same kind and amount for the then age of the insured at nearest birthday, upon request by the insured or his assigns and release of such dividends and additions, if all premiums then due shall have been paid as herein provided, the company will endorse this policy as fully paid-up upon presentation hereof at its office in Hartford, Conn. Whenever, during the lifetime of the insured, the cash value of the policy and of any paid-up additions hereto, together with any accumulated dividends credited hereon, shall equal the full amount of this policy, then, upon surrender and release of such dividends and paid-up additions at such office, the company will surrender the policy to the insured or his assigns the face of the policy as a matured endowment, free from any indebtedness to the company on or secured hereby.

OPTIONAL PAYMENT OF PREMIUM BY DIVIDENDS.—If any premium or instalment of premium shall not be paid as herein provided and if there be at the expiration of the time provided for such payment accumulated cash dividends credited on account of this policy at least equal to the payment required, if the company, before such expiration, be directed in writing by the payee of such accumulations, said payment shall be made by the application of an equal amount of such credit, or if such credit be less than the required payment then out of such credit, if sufficient, shall be paid a semi-annual or quarterly instalment of the annual premium.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.—If, after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, a premium or instalment of premium be not paid as herein provided, the company will grant either:

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—(1) Paid-up insurance for the remainder of the term of this policy in the amount specified in the table of values hereon, increased by the sum of any paid-up additions hereto, payable as herein provided; except that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, the amount of such paid-up insurance shall be such as the cash value of this policy and of any outstanding paid-up additions, less such indebtedness, will purchase as a net single premium; or EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(2) Extended insurance for the full amount of this policy, for the term specified in the table of values hereon reckoned from the due date of such unpaid premium or instalment of premium; except that if there be any paid-up additions hereto or indebtedness to the company on account of or secured by this policy, the amount of such extended insurance shall be increased by the amount of such paid-up additions and decreased by the amount of such indebtedness, and the term of such extended insurance shall be such as the cash value of this policy and of any outstanding paid-up additions, less such indebtedness, will purchase as a net single premium.

AUTOMATIC INSURANCE.—Upon premium default as above, this policy will be automatically binding upon the company for ten thousand insurance as above defined.

OPTION.—At any time, however, while this policy is a premium-paying policy or within thirty-one days after the expiration of the days of grace allowed for the payment of such unpaid premium or instalment of premium, upon written application by the insured, with assignee if any, filed at the home office of the company on its form therefor, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement, this policy will be made binding upon the company for the alternative insurance above provided in lieu of the insurance herein automatically provided, such change to become effective only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—At any time after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, and on surrender of this policy at the company's office in Hartford, Conn., the company will, if there shall have been no failure to pay premiums as provided in this policy, pay the cash value specified in the table of values hereon, or, if it be a policy of paid-up or extended insurance, pay as a cash value the then reserve hereon; less in either case any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy; and any such cash payment shall be increased by the cash value as herein provided of any paid-up additions hereto and shall be made to the insured or his assigns, and shall be in full settlement of the company's liability under this policy; provided that the company may defer such surrender and payment for a period not exceeding sixty days after application therefor.

POLICY LOAN.—At any time after due payment of two or more full annual premiums hereon, while this policy is in force otherwise than as extended insurance, and on proper assignment and delivery of this policy, and on sole security thereof, the company will loan any sum up to the limit secured by the cash value of this policy and of any paid-up additions hereto less any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy; provided that (unless the loan be for the purpose of paying premiums to the company) the company may defer the making of such loan for a period not exceeding sixty days after application therefor. Such loan shall bear interest at the rate of six per centum per annum, not in advance, principal and interest to be payable at the company's office in Hartford, Connecticut. Any interest when due and unpaid shall be added to the principal of the existing indebtedness and shall bear the same rate of interest; but failure to pay either loan or interest shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness to the company secured hereby, including accrued interest, shall equal or exceed the then cash value, when this policy shall immediately cease and become void, but not until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any. The company will credit upon such indebtedness payments made at any time at its home office.

PREMIUM LOAN.—If written application by the insured be filed at the company's home office upon its form therefor while this policy is a premium-paying policy, the amount of any premium or instalment of premium not paid as herein provided will be charged as an indebtedness against and secured by this policy provided the entire indebtedness hereon including such charge shall not exceed the limit secured by the cash value hereof, such indebtedness to bear interest from the due date of such premium or instalment, and to be subject to the terms herein provided for policy loans, but without assignment or delivery of this policy, and any premiums or instalments so charged will be treated as paid.

TABLE OF VALUES.

The cash and loan values for the end of any policy year (reckoned from the due date of the first annual premium) and the net values of paid-up insurance and extended insurance, as guaranteed by and subject to the provisions and conditions of this policy, are equal to the terminal reserves hereon less a charge per $1000 insured hereunder, which, if not more than five full annual premiums are paid, is $10 and thereafter is reduced by $1 for each full annual premium paid after the fifth and until fifteen are paid, when the charge is eliminated. Subject to the provisions and conditions of this policy, the cash and loan values (if there shall have been no failure to pay premiums as provided herein), and the amount of paid-up insurance for each $1000 insured hereunder and the period of extended insurance (determined upon the non-payment of a premium or instalment of premium as herein provided), for the end of the years specified will be as stated in this table, opposite the number of years elapsed; a proportionate adjustment will be made on amount of the payment of any additional instalment of an annual premium hereon in excess of full annual premiums. The cash value at other than premium due dates will be the cash value at the end of the term for which premiums are paid discounted at the rate of five per centum per annum, but in no event less than any previous cash value.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—All premiums hereon shall be payable in advance either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by its president or secretary and countersigned by the agent; and the possession of such receipt shall be the sole evidence of the authority of any agent to receive any premium on account of this policy. If any premium or instalment of premium on this policy be not paid as herein provided, then all liability on account of this policy shall wholly cease and determine except as otherwise herein provided.

PREMIUM INSTALLMENTS.—The annual premium, with an addition of two per centum thereof if paid in semi-annual instalments or three per centum thereof if paid in quarterly instalments, may, on written request, be paid in such instalments beginning with the due date of the annual premium.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—After payment of the first annual premium hereon or an instalment thereof, payment of any subsequent premium or instalment of premium may be made within thirty-one days after the same shall have become due, the policy meanwhile continuing in force; but in the event of the death of the insured during said thirty-one days, the premium, if unpaid, shall be deducted from any sum payable on account of this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, or canceled on account of any loan indebtedness hereon, will be restored to full force at any time after default in premium payment upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at a rate to be determined by the company not exceeding six per centum per annum; but if this policy be reinstated any indebtedness to the company on or secured hereby and any paid-up additions hereto existing at the due date of such defaulted premium will be reinstated with the interest on such indebtedness from such date.

ADMISSION AND CORRECTION OF AGE.—The age of the insured will be admitted by the company at any time upon satisfactory proof. If the age has been misstated the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, if of lawful age, may, at any time while this policy is in force and if no interest herein under any assignment by him, other than to the company, be then outstanding, change any beneficiary by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company on the company's form therefor, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon, such change to become effective only upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At any time while this policy is a premium-paying policy, it may, upon the execution of such papers and the payment of such charge as shall be required by the company, be exchanged without medical examination for a policy upon any other form and published premium rate in use by the company at the issue of this policy, provided the rate of premium be not thereby diminished or the term of insurance increased. The policy issued in exchange shall bear the same number, be for the same amount, and be written as of the same premium due date and rated age as this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—Any claim under an assignment of this policy shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest. Originals or duplicates of all assignments are to be filed at the company's home office. The company will in no case be responsible for the validity of any assignment.

RESERVE.—Reserves and net premiums are to be computed upon the basis of the American Table of Mortality and three per centum compound interest.

OPTIONAL SETTLEMENTS.—Upon application by the insured with the beneficiary or assignee, if any, during the continuance of this policy the company will agree to issue at its maturity, or upon application by the payee at its maturity the company will issue, upon surrender and satisfactory release hereof, a contract to pay, in lieu of the amount then due in a single sum (or any fractional part thereof) as herein provided:

INSTALLMENTS. OPTION 1.—A specified number of equal annual instalments, each instalment to be of the amount for each $1000 so due as shown in the accompanying table;

OPTION 2.—Equal annual instalments continuous during the life of the individual payee named in such application and in any event until the number selected of annual instalments certain shall have been paid, each instalment to be of the amount, for each $1,000 so due, as shown in the accompanying table under the number selected and opposite the last completed age of such payee at the maturity of this policy;

INTEREST INCOME. OPTION 3.—Interest at the rate of three per centum per annum upon such amount to the payee named in such application during the life of the payee or for a shorter fixed period if requested therein, and thereafter to pay said amount in such manner and to such persons as shall have been agreed upon with the company at the time of the application;

ANNUITY. OPTION 4.—A life annuity according to the then published annuity rates of the company.

The first instalment under Options 1 or 2 shall be payable on the issue of the contract. If requested in such application, instalments or interest payments will be made in semi-annual, quarterly or monthly parts. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment will be two semi-annual instalments of $50.37 each, or four quarterly instalments of $25.28 each, or twelve monthly instalments of $8.45 each. Any contract issued pursuant to Options 1, 2 or 3 shall provide for annual participation through any interest paying or instalment certain period in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company, the first dividend to be payable one year after the issue of the contract. Any agreement to issue a contract as above provided shall contain provision for revocation by the insured and for avoidance in case of assignment, other than to the company, change of beneficiary, or death of the payee or payees before the maturity of this policy. If there be more than one beneficiary or payee under this policy these privileges shall be available only with the company's consent.

EVIDENCE OF CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, a copy whereof is hereunto annexed, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used to avoid this policy or in defense to a claim hereunder unless contained in said application and a copy of the application shall be attached to the policy when issued. Agents of the company have no power or authority to alter or modify any of the terms, conditions, or agreements of this policy, or to waive any of the provisions thereof.

FIVE-YEAR TERM POLICY.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $130.20 AGE, 35.

The Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company of Hartford, Conn., in consideration of the payment of the annual premium of one hundred thirty and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars on the first day of March, 1913, and of a like annual premium on or before the anniversary of the same date in every year during the continuance of this policy, hereby insures the life of Richard Rowe, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, for the term of five years from and after the date above written, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, and agrees, if the insured shall die during said term, to pay said sum, less any unpaid instalments of the annual premium last due as above provided (subject to the right of the insured as hereinafter reserved to change any beneficiary), to Mary Rowe, his wife, if living, otherwise to his executors, administrators, or assigns, upon receipt, at the office of the company; in Hartford, Conn., of due proof of the death of the insured; provided that in the event of the death of the insured within one year from the date hereof by self-destruction, while sane or insane, unless it be determined by the company that the insured was so far insane as to destroy his responsibility therefor, the company insures said life in, and shall be liable only for, a sum, payable as above provided, equal to the premiums paid hereon.

[Remainder of face of policy same as preceding contract.]

PROVISIONS, BENEFITS, AGREEMENTS AND TABLE REFERRED TO ON THE FIRST PAGE AND MADE A PART OF THIS POLICY.

For optional payment of premium by dividends, premium payments, premium installments, grace in payment of premium, admission and correction of age, change of beneficiary, assignments, reserve, optional settlements and evidence of contract see preceding policy.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy, upon payment of the second annual premium and during its continuance thereafter, will participate annually in the divisible surplus which shall be determined and apportioned by the company. The dividend (1) shall be payable in cash to the insured or his assigns, or, at the option of the payee thereof, if the company be directed in writing by said payee prior to the expiration of thirty-one days after such dividend becomes payable, may be (2) left with the company, subject to withdrawal, to accumulate at such rate of interest, credited annually at not less than three per centum, as the company may determine, or (3) applied on a premium due hereon, or (4) converted into a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder. Any such additions will participate annually in the divisible surplus as determined and apportioned by the company and at the maturity of the policy will be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance; but any such additions may at any time during the lifetime of the insured and prior to the expiry of the policy be surrendered by the insured or his assigns to the company for cash in an amount equal to the then reserve thereon. Any dividends due and unpaid at the maturity of this policy shall be payable with the sum herein insured to the payee of such insurance.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, will be restored to full force at any time prior to the expiry of the policy and after default in premium payment upon receipt of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums with interest at a rate to be determined by the company not exceeding six per centum per annum.

SURRENDER AND CHANGE.—The insured, if not then over sixty years of age, may, without medical re-examination, at any time while this policy is in force and prior to the due date of the last annual premium hereon, release this policy in accordance with the form of "Release and Agreement" printed on the fourth page hereof, and, on its surrender at such time so released, may receive (1) a new policy of any form of whole life or endowment insurance then issued by the company, for any amount not in excess of the sum insured hereby, at the company's then rates for the age attained, and the company will apply in part payment of the first annual premium on such new policy the then reserve on this policy, or, (2) in case of such surrender upon a due date of the annual premium hereon, a new policy for such amount of any form of whole Life or Endowment insurance in use at the date of issue of this policy at the rates in use at said last named date for the age rated herein upon payment to the company of a sum equal to the then reserve on such life or endowment policy, assuming it to have been issued at the date hereof, together with any dividend then applicable on the premium due thereon, less a sum equal to the then reserve on this policy and such dividend as may then be applicable in part payment of the premium hereon.

Continental Life Insurance Company (Del.)

THIRTY-YEAR ENDOWMENT POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $329.70. AGE, 35.

Continental Life Insurance Company agrees to pay at its home office, ten thousand dollars thirty years after date, if this policy be then in force, to the insured, John B. Doe of Wilmington, Del., or on receipt of due proof of insured's prior death while this policy is in force, then immediately to the beneficiary, the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, subject to the right of the insured, if this policy be not assigned, to change the beneficiary from time to time by filing with the company at its home office, a written request, accompanied by this policy, to take effect only when endorsed hereon by the company. The interest of any beneficiary who shall die before the insured, shall revert to the insured.

In consideration of the application for this policy, and of a premium of three hundred twenty-nine and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars to be paid to the company on the delivery of this policy, this insurance is granted for the term of one year, and in further consideration thereof, will be renewed thereafter as an annual dividend endowment policy by the payment of a like premium on or before the twenty-sixth day of October in every year during the lifetime of the insured, until renewal premiums have been paid for twenty-nine full years.

The provisions on the reverse of this page are a part of this policy as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

Wilmington, Del., October 26, 1914.

STATE OF DELAWARE INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.—This policy is registered and secured by a deposit of approved securities with this department as provided by law.

PROVISIONS.

PREMIUMS AND GRACE.—All premiums are payable in advance, either at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company, upon delivery, on or before date due, of a receipt signed by the secretary of the company and countersigned by the agent. A grace of thirty days is hereby granted for the payment of every premium after the first year of insurance, during which period of grace this policy shall continue in full force.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, and beginning at the end of the second policy year, the company will annually determine the portion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy, and the owner shall have the right to have the dividend arising from such participation paid in cash, or applied to the payment of premiums, or to the purchase of paid-up additions to this policy, as the policyholder may elect.

CHANGE TO WHOLE LIFE.—At any time after two full annual premiums have been paid hereon and before the required premiums are completed, but before default in any premium, the net value of any dividend additions may be withdrawn in cash and this policy may then be exchanged, provided there be no indebtedness hereon, for a participating whole life policy for the amount insured by and bearing the same date as this policy, requiring an annual payment thereafter during the lifetime of the insured, of the premium for the original age reduced to the premium in the following table of reduced life premiums, opposite the year to the end of which premiums shall have been paid hereon, or if no further premiums are required by said table, this policy may be exchanged for a participating paid-up life policy, and in addition thereto insured shall be entitled to the annual life income stated in said table opposite the year to the end of which premiums shall have been paid hereon.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If default shall occur in the payment of any premium, this policy shall become void and all premiums paid hereon shall be forfeited to the company, except to the extent that annual premiums have been paid hereon, in which case this policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from default in any subsequent premium payment, for a cash value of $\frac{1}{2}$ a non-participating paid-up policy payable at the same time as this policy would be payable, and continuing thereafter until, if this policy be not so surrendered, the company will, upon any action of the insured, grant non-participating extended term insurance for a term equal to the amount of this policy, to extend through date of default, and if the premium for such extended term insurance shall be more than the amount to be paid at the end of the endowment term of this policy, the excess shall be applied to purchase a non-participating paid-up amount without right of non-payment at the end of the endowment term if the insured be then living, provided that a term of years of extended term insurance and of its pure endowment, if any, shall be required in the same proportion that any ing indebtedness hereon, bears to the cash value of this policy. The amount of paid-up insurance, and the term of such extended term insurance, and the amount of pure endowment, shall be such that the net value of the paid-up insurance, and total net value of the extended term insurance, and its pure endowment, shall each be equal to the reserve on this policy at the date of default and on any dividend addition hereto, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount paid by this policy and of any existing dividend additions hereto, and less any existing indebtedness to the company hereon; and the cash value shall at least equal the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of the paid-up, or of the extended insurance, with its pure endowment as aforesaid.

TABLE OF REDUCED LIFE PREMIUMS AND GUARANTEED SURRENDER VALUES.—The values in the following table apply to a policy for $1000. As this policy is for $10,000, the values in the table (except for the period of extended insurance) must be multiplied by 10; the amount of insurance does not change the period of extended insurance.

LOANS AND PREMIUM NOTES.—On receipt of this policy duly assigned, the company at any time, loan upon the sole security of this policy, any sum secured by its cash at the end of the year to which premiums shall have been duly paid. All or any of the loan may be repaid at any time while this policy is in force. No loan will be made on extended term insurance. Notes for premiums will be accepted on the sole security of the insured, provided this policy be not assigned, as long as its cash value sufficient security therefor, and such notes shall be a lien on this policy as fully as if it were assigned by all persons having an interest herein and accompanied by proper assignment of it. Interest on loans and premium notes shall not exceed six per cent per annum if such interest be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal until the total indebtedness hereon equals the cash value of this policy. Failure to pay any loan or premium note or interest on any loan or premium note, shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy, whereupon it shall become null and void.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, including unpaid portion of the current annual premium, shall be deducted from any settlement under this policy.

STATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium required hereon would have been at the correct age.

MINORS.—The interest of any minor in this policy, whether insured, beneficiary, or otherwise, must be released by a legally appointed guardian, duly authorized by the appointing court, before any value or loan can be allowed in cash, at or before maturity of this policy.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding on the company until filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. The interest of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest.

REINSTATEMENT.—The holder of this policy shall be entitled to have it reinstated at any time within three years from date of default in premium payments, unless the cash value shall have been duly paid, or the period of extended term insurance expired, on the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company hereon, with interest at the rate of not more than six per cent per annum.

INCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for the non-payment of premiums.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, which is hereby made a part hereof and a copy endorsed hereon, constitute the entire contract between the parties. No person except the president, a vice-president, or the secretary of the company, has power, on behalf of the company, to make or modify this policy, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promises or by accepting any representations or information not contained in the application. These powers will not be delegated.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application and the answers made to the medical examiner and the policy applied for shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and that no advance payment shall be binding upon the company unless the receipt is detached from this application, and then only in accordance with the terms of said receipt.

I hereby certify that I have read all statements and answers in this application, and warrant and agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any contract issued hereunder: (1) That no circumstance or information has been withheld or omitted touching my past and present state of health and habits of life, and that said statements and answers, together with this declaration, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner, are true and shall be the basis of the contract hereby applied for: (2) That any policy issued on this application shall not take effect until the first premium thereon shall have been actually paid to the company during my lifetime and good health: (3) That, if within one year from the date of the medical examination for this policy, I shall be personally engaged (without the company's written consent) in blasting, underground mining, submarine labor, the manufacture, handling or transportation of explosives or inflammable substances, or in service upon any railroad trains (except as conductor, baggage master or mail and express agent on passenger trains), or as an ordinary seaman, or in the handling of live electric wires or dynamos, or in aeronautic ascensions, or in military or naval service, in time of war, or if, within that period, I shall suicide or destroy myself, sane or insane, the policy hereby applied for shall thereupon become null and void; and (4) that said policy if issued, shall at all times and places be held and construed to have been made at Wilmington, Del., and that no suit shall be brought against the company for claim under the policy after three years from time right of action accrues.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Continental Life Insurance Company (Utah).

TWENTY-PAYMENT 30-YEAR ENDOWMENT—DISABILITY BENEFIT—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $350.90. AGE, 35.

Continental Life Insurance Company, Salt Lake City, Utah, hereby insures the life of John Doe (hereinafter called the insured) and at the expiration of thirty years from the date hereof will pay ten thousand dollars at its home office at Salt Lake City, Utah, to the insured, if living, or upon receipt of due proof of the prior death of the insured, to Mary Jane Doe, wife of the insured (hereinafter called the beneficiary) if living; otherwise, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, provided this policy is then in force, and is then surrendered, properly released.

The consideration for this insurance is the application hereof, a copy of which is attached hereto, or endorsed hereon, the payment of three hundred fifty and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars for insurance for the term ending on the first day of June, 1914, and the further payment of a like amount on or before the corresponding day in each year hereafter, until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions and restrictions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of peace or in time of war.

PRIVILEGES AND PROVISIONS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to any agent of the company upon delivery on or before their due date of a receipt signed by an executive officer of the company (the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary), and countersigned by the said agent. This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually, but premiums may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the company's adopted rates for fractional premiums, provided that in the event of the death of the insured any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount of the death claim payable hereunder.
2. GRACE.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days), subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum, will be granted for the payment of any premium after the first, during which period the insurance hereunder shall continue in force. If death occurs within the days of grace the premium for the then current policy year, or any unpaid instalment thereof, will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. Except as herein expressly provided, the payment of any premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the succeeding premium or instalment thereof becomes payable.
3. LOANS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, the insured, upon a proper assignment of this policy to the company and the deposit of the policy with the company as security, may borrow at any time from the company a sum not greater than the cash surrender value hereof less any indebtedness to the company hereon. Any unpaid balance of the premium for the then current policy year will be deducted and interest at five per cent per annum will be charged in advance to the next anniversary of the policy and annually in advance on that date and thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal its cash surrender value, nor until one month after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record at the home office of the company, if any.
4. TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—After the payment of one full annual premium and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, provided the insured has not at that time attained the age of sixty years, this policy will become fully paid up, requiring no further premium payments by the insured, if evidence satisfactory to the company shall be furnished that the insured has become totally and permanently disabled by bodily injury or disease and is thereby prevented from performing any and every kind of duty pertaining to his occupation or any other occupation or gainful pursuit. On receipt of such evidence the company will endorse the proper provision hereon. In such event the cash and loan values shall increase from year to year in like manner as if the premiums had been regularly and duly paid by the insured. During the period of total and permanent disability and within one year after the date of the beginning of such disability, the company will, at the request of the insured and beneficiary or assignee, if any, pay a monthly income amounting to one per cent (1%) of the face of the policy, if there be no existing indebtedness; or if there be such indebtedness, one per cent (1%) of the face value of the policy less such indebtedness, such payments to inue until the total amount of payments made shall equal the face of the policy the indebtedness, if any, at which time the company's liability under this contract ceases. In the event of the death of the insured before the full amount of this policy been paid the insured, beneficiary or assignee, the company will pay the remaining amount due under this contract upon due proof of death. The cash, loan and surrender values will bear the same proportion to the full cash, loan and surrender values stated in as the remaining amount of insurance under this contract bears to the original amount of insurance. If however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in occupation for wages or profit during the premium-paying period or before the amount of the policy is paid, he shall then be required to pay all premiums becoming due under this contract after the date of recovery and the liability of the company will be limited to the face of the policy, less the payments made to the insured and less all indebtedness hereon. It is further agreed that the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or of the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both arms at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided the policy is not then assigned, the insured at any time while this policy is in force, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries under by due written notice to the company at its home office, such change to take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company, whereupon the rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. The insured, without the consent of the beneficiary, may exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon said insured in the policy.

cash or loan values for later years will be equal to the full reserve accumulated hereon.

PRIVILEGES ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After two full annual premiums have been paid hereon, this policy, while in force or within the month of grace allowed for the payment of premiums, may be surrendered to the company by the insured. Thereupon, if there is no indebtedness to the company hereon, the insured may elect, (a) to receive in cash the surrender value of this policy, or (b) to purchase non-participating cash or loan values of this policy, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up life insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, or (d) to continue the insurance in force for its face amount, but without the right to loans, with pure endowment payable in cash at the end of the endowment period, if the policy is then in force. The cash surrender or loan, paid-up insurance and continued insurance and pure endowment values are shown in Columns 2, 3 and 4, respectively, of the table herein. Said values are equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy, less a surrender charge not to exceed two and one-half per cent of the face of the policy, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. (2) If there is any indebtedness to the company hereon it shall be deducted from the cash surrender value, and the insured may elect (a) to receive in cash the surrender value of this policy less such indebtedness, or (b) to apply the remainder to purchase non-participating paid-up endowment insurance, or (c) to apply the remainder to continue the insurance in force, but without right to loans, for its face amount and for the period which the aforesaid remainder purchase at the then age of the insured, with cash at the end of the endowment period, if the value is sufficient to provide for same.

GENERAL PROVISIONS. (1) This policy and the application hereof contain the entire contract between the company and the insured. All statements made by the insured in the absence of fraud, shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and no statements shall be used in defense to a claim under or shall void this policy unless the statement is contained in the written application hereof, a copy of which is attached to or endorsed hereon. (2) A duplicate of any assignment of this policy shall be filed with the company. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment, and any claim made thereunder shall be subject to any indebtedness to the company hereon. (3) All endorsements, agreements or modifications of any provisions in this policy must be in writing and signed by the secretary or assistant secretary of the company. No agent or any person other than the officers stated may alter or waive any of these privileges or provisions or make any agreement binding upon the company. No statement made to or by any such agent or other person, not contained in the application, shall be taken or considered as having been made to or brought to the notice or knowledge of the company, or as charging it with any liability by reason thereof. (4) This policy shall not participate in the profits or surplus of the company.

8. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse or become void by reason of the non-payment of any premium or of any indebtedness, or interest thereon, said policy may be reinstated at any time after such non-payment of premium, upon the insured furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and paying all indebtedness and arrears of premiums with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding five per cent per annum.

9. AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—If this policy is not surrendered as provided above, said policy shall not lapse nor become void, provided that the then loan value hereon shall exceed the amount of any premium then unpaid and of any indebtedness of the insured to the company. In such event the company will, without request, charge the amount of such premium, with interest thereon in advance, at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, as a loan against the policy, thereby continuing said policy in force, subject to such indebtedness, and this policy shall otherwise be entitled to all the privileges herein the same as if the premium had been paid in cash. Such loan shall be increased by the amount of subsequent premiums and interest as stated, as said premiums fall due and remain unpaid, and this policy shall remain in force and effect as long as the increasing loan value is sufficient to pay for pro-rata insurance for one additional day, and to secure all existing indebtedness hereon with interest. At any time while this policy is in force, under the preceding paragraph, the insured may reinstate said policy without medical examination, and may thereupon resume payment of premiums as provided herein. The existing indebtedness may be either paid in whole or in part, or allowed to remain as a loan on the policy, subject to interest.

10. AGE.—The amount of insurance payable under this policy, if the age has been misstated, shall be the amount which the premium charged would have purchased at the company's rates in use at the date hereof, for the insured's correct age.

11. SUCCESSION.—Self-destruction sane or insane, within one year from the effective date hereof, is a risk not assumed by the company hereunder. Otherwise this policy is incontestable from date of issue except for non-payment of premiums.

METHODS OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face of this policy unless otherwise requested by the insured, or by the beneficiary as hereinafter provided, shall be paid in one sum as provided on page one hereof. The insured, during his lifetime, or the beneficiary, after the death of the insured, in case the insured has made no selection, if this policy is not then assigned, and if request is made to the company on the proper form, may change the payment to any one of the following methods:

METHOD ONE—TRUST FUND.—The amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand ($1000) dollars, may be left during the lifetime of any beneficiary, in trust with the company, and the company will annually pay interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, so long as the said amount insured or said portion thereof remains with the company. The said trust fund will be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary, and may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest, unless the company is otherwise directed in the request selecting this benefit. The trust fund method may not be selected if the beneficiary under this policy be a corporation or a firm.

METHOD TWO—ANNUAL INCOME FOR NUMBER OF YEARS STATED.—The following table is for each $1000 of the amount insured. To find the annual income on this policy multiply the annual income per $1000 shown in the table by the number of thousands insured by this policy:

Number of years.....	30	25	20*	15	10
Annual income per $1000.....	$ 52	$ 58	$ 68	$ 84	$ 116

* Illustration: If an annual income for twenty years is selected, the amount of each annual payment will be sixty-eight ($68) dollars for each one thousand dollars insured by this policy.

Any term of years shown in the above table may be selected. The first income will be paid at the date the amount insured hereunder becomes due, and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

METHOD THREE—MONTHLY INCOME DURING LIFETIME OF BENEFICIARY.—The following table is for each $5000 of the amount insured. To find the monthly income on this policy multiply the monthly income for each $5000, shown in the table, by the number of times five thousand insured by this policy. Two hundred and forty monthly payments, at least, will be paid, in any event, covering a period of twenty years, and the monthly income will continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, should the beneficiary survive said period of twenty years.

ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary shall be thirty years or last birthday, the amount of each monthly payment under this policy will be ten dollars and twenty cents ($19.20) for every five thousand dollars insured by policy, said monthly income continuing for at least twenty years and as much longer the beneficiary shall survive. The first monthly income will be paid at the date the insured hereunder becomes due, and succeeding incomes on the first day of each month thereafter. This method may not be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, or if the amount insured hereby is less than two thousand five hundred ($2,500) dollars.

GENERAL.—The insured may at any time change his selection of the "methods of payment of death benefit" under this policy; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. If, upon the selection of method two or method three above, the beneficiary die before all the payments thereunder shall have been made, the remainder of said payments will continue to be made as selected by the insured under this policy, or, if the insured has made no such selection, will be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and made in one sum to the executor, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If the insured so directs during his lifetime, the beneficiary may neither assign nor commute any payments hereunder while the same are due. No selection, change or revocation of any one of the above methods shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

Witness whereof The Continental Life Insurance Company, has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its home office in Salt Lake City, Utah, the 10th day of June, 1913.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5,000.

Cotton States Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED GRADED PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.30 AGE 35.

The Cotton States Life Insurance Company of Tupelo, Miss., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office, in Tupelo, Miss., as follows: To the beneficiary, Mary Cotton, wife of the insured, upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, during the continuance of this policy. The insured King Cotton of Tupelo, County of Lee, State of Mississippi.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTIONS.

This policy is issued on the guaranteed graded premium reduction, triple option, non-participating plan, and in the use of the coupons the insured may select one of the three following options:

OPTION 1. The insured may use the amount designated in the coupons hereto attached for the reduction of his premium payments from year to year.

OPTION 2. The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which case the company guarantees that after paying premiums in full for fifteen years and surrendering this policy and all attached coupons to the company, a policy paid-up for life for the same amount as the one surrendered will be issued to the insured.

OPTION 3. The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which case the company guarantees that this policy shall mature as an endowment after paying the premiums in full for twenty-five years; and on surrender of this policy and all attached coupons on the first anniversary of this policy after such payments are completed, the sum insured by the policy will be paid in cash to the insured.

In case the insured should elect to make this policy fully paid-up, and die while this policy is in force, but before it is fully paid-up either as a life or endowment policy, as above provided, all of the unused coupons bearing date prior to said death, will be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum in addition to the sum insured.

In case the insured shall not elect to make this a paid-up life or endowment policy, as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, pay premiums in full, the unused due coupons shall be payable on presentation at any time, with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum for each full year after dates thereof.

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS POLICY.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three of the accompanying table.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request herefor made by the insured within six months from default in payment and on surrender of this policy, the company will issue a policy paid-up for life for the amount specified in column two of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

SURRENDER FOR CASH.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request herefor within six months from such default in payment and on surrender of this policy the company will pay in cash the net value of either the paid-up or extended insurance hereunder which is the amount specified in column one of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

LOANS.—On or after the beginning of any policy year after two years from date hereof, and on demand in writing to the home office of the company, the insured may borrow on the sole security of this policy an amount not to exceed that specified in column one of the accompanying table for the year in which the loan is made.

This policy shall be assigned to the company as security according to the terms of the company's loan agreement and the premium on this policy and interest on the loan at rate of six per cent per annum shall be paid or deducted from the loan in full to the anniversary of the insurance next succeeding the date when the loan shall be made. The amount available at any time includes any previous loan then unpaid.

Unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy and then not until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any, failure to pay any loan or interest hereon shall not void this policy, but in the event of such default, when the premium becomes due and is not paid an amount of insurance equal to the face of the policy, less the indebtedness, shall automatically continue from the date of default as term insurance for the term, including the period of grace, which the excess of the cash value over the indebtedness will purchase at the then age of the insured according to the company's present table of single premiums; or in lieu of such term insurance, the company will (upon written request of the insured and surrender of this policy within one month from date of default) either pay said excess in cash, or issue a paid-up policy for the amount which said excess will purchase at the then age of the insured, according to the company's present table of single premiums.

RESERVE BASIS.—This policy is issued on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, and for the first year is one year term insurance. The values used for cash surrenders, loans, extended term and paid-up insurance, shown on accompanying table, are the reserves indicated by said Tables of Mortality and interest less a surrender charge which in no case exceeds two and one-half per cent of the amount insured under this policy.

The term insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans.

This policy is non-forfeitable from date of issue and incontestable after one year.

The figures in this table are independent of the coupons and the benefits shown in the table will be correspondingly increased in respect of any unused due coupons. The company reserves the right to require ninety days' notice before granting loans or paying the cash values as above provided for. Loan and cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy on the basis stated herein, the figures for which will be furnished on request to the home office of the company. No additional coupons will be issued in reduction of premiums after the twentieth year under Option No. 3.

If default occur after a fractional part of the current year's premium has been paid, the above values will be proportionately adjusted.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or at any time after January 1, 1914, Cotton States Life Insurance Company will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 00 fifty-five ⁰⁰/₁₀₀ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at home office.

The amounts of the coupons increase as follows, beginning with No. 2, $57.60, $59.90, $62.20, $64.50, $66.70, $69.10, $71.30, $73.50, $75.70, $77.90, $80.10, $82.30, $84.50, $86.60, $88.70, $90.90, $92.90, $94.90.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—Premiums on this policy will be paid by the company, if the insured be wholly disabled, as follows: After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he has been wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured such premiums as become payable during the continuance of disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the cash loans and the values of this policy, in the schedule as given herein, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If the insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of like total and permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will, without further action on the part of the insured, allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate, without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In any such case, the cash loans and the values of this policy on the schedule of values hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

N. B.—If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, during the premium paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums will cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this policy on the first premium due date following such recovery. Any medical adviser of this company shall have the privilege at any time to examine the insured regarding any alleged disability.

Upon endorsement of the policy under this clause, all coupons which have not matured will be removed from the policy and cancelled and the options granted in respect of the coupons shall not be available, but the company will continue liable for all unused due coupons, with current interest thereon.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which this policy will remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

REINSTATEMENT OF POLICY.—In case of default in the payment of any premium or interest, the company will reinstate this policy at any time, if not previously surrendered for its cash value, upon written application by the insured to the company at its home office with evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all premiums that would have been paid in the intervening time if no default had been made, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum computed from the premium due date, and payment or reinstatement, with interest at like rate, of any indebtedness existing at the time of default.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may, at any time and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary, to take effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are indorsed upon the policy, or attached thereto at the home office of the company, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there be no beneficiary living at the date of death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

MODIFICATIONS.—No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or extend the time for payment of premium, nor can this policy be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company signed by the president or one of the vice-presidents, and the secretary or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured was incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount insured and other benefits payable hereunder shall be the insurance and corresponding benefits which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof.

NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinafter provided.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing indorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

SUICIDE.—In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements of the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No statement of the insured shall void this policy unless contained in the application, a copy of which is attached hereto.

PLAN OF PAYMENTS.—The plan of premium payment can be changed so that premiums may be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, or changed from such form to annual, on any anniversary of this policy by application in writing to the home office of the company; the rate when so changed shall be on basis of company's published rate for plan desired.

The coupon in any event shall be available only with the payment which completes the annual premium.

PREMIUMS.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application hereof, which application is made a part hereof, the payment of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars in advance on the delivery of this policy for term insurance for one year from date hereof, and the further payment of a like amount, either at the home office of the company, at Tupelo, Miss., or upon delivery of a receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, on or before the first day of January, in every year hereafter during the life of the insured, until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid, after which this policy shall be continued in force during the life of the insured without further payment of premiums, unless the premium-paying period is extended by the insured under Option 3.

This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is paid and the policy delivered during the good health of the insured. It shall then relate back to the date of the policy and take effect as of that date.

The proceeds of this policy may be placed in trust to secure a guaranteed annual income.

The proceeds of this policy, if in excess of \$1,000, may be placed in trust with the company for one of the following purposes: (1) To pay to the insured as annuitant, if the proceeds become payable during his lifetime, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (2) To pay to the insured as annuitant during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant; or, (3) To pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, from the time when the proceeds are payable, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (4) To pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant.

If the trust is created by the insured for the benefit of the beneficiary, the beneficiary can not assign or commute the payments of life or limited income, nor, if the proceeds are placed in trust subject to interest, withdraw such proceeds or anticipate the interest, unless such right is given by the insured in writing and is indorsed upon this policy by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. If the trust is created by the insured for his own benefit, the insured may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. If the trust is created by the beneficiary, the beneficiary may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. No trust agreement shall be created or take effect other than by a writing subscribed by the company at its home office and by the person creating such trust. Where a trust is revoked and a new one is not created, and no other provision is made for the proceeds of the insurance, payment shall be made as directed in this policy. If the annuitant shall die before receiving all of the payments of life or limited income, the remainder thereof shall be made thereafter to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant; or if the proceeds are subject to annual interest only such proceeds or any part thereof remaining with the company shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant. The first payment of life or limited income shall be made as follows: Upon acceptance of satisfactory proof of death of the insured, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or upon the creation of the trust where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or where the trust is created by the beneficiary. The first payment of interest shall be made one year from the date of the acceptance of proofs of death, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or one year from the date of the creation of the trust, where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or the trust is created by the beneficiary.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any policy which may be issued upon this application that: (1) No statement, information or agreement made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company, unless reduced to writing, and then only if presented to and approved by the executive officers of the company at its home office. (2) Every statement made herein and in my answers to Medical Examiner is true, and that no information affecting the insurance sought has been withheld. (3) The insurance herein applied for shall not be in effect until the premium has been paid in full in cash, and the policy delivered to me during my good health. (4) If the premium be paid with this application, such payment is made subject to the conditions in receipt hereto attached. (5) All my declarations herein made, and my statements to the Medical Examiner, together with the policy, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

MODIFICATIONS, ETC.—No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived or modified in any respect except by the written agreement of the company in compliance with the laws of the state in which the policy is issued, signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or actuary, whose authority will not be delegated. No agent has the power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any other contract of insurance, to extend the time for payment of premiums, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promise, or making or receiving any representative information.

PARTICIPATION.—This policy shall not share in the surplus earnings of the company. INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance, but if premiums be made payable in quarterly or semi-annual instalments any future instalments of the premium for the current policy year remaining unpaid at the maturity of the policy shall be considered an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an agent of the company on or before the dates when due, in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company. If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

PRELIMINARY TERM PROVISION.—The first year's insurance under this policy shall be term insurance to the extent of the net premium on a twenty-payment life policy of the same age.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such an assignment unless the original or the duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company and its receipt therefor acknowledged. The company will not assume the responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured shall be true in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statements shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

SUICIDE.—In event of the death of the insured, within one year from the date hereof by his or her own hand, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be the amount of the premium paid.

NON-FORFEITURE PRIVILEGES.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES.—If this policy be legally surrendered to the company within one month from date of default, providing three premiums shall have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor in cash the sum indicated in the following table, less any indebtedness on account of this policy; which cash value shall be equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of paid-up or extended term insurance.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If this policy, after being in force for three full years, shall lapse for the non-payment of any premium, and if it be not surrendered for its cash value, the company will issue a non-participating paid-up policy as specified in the following table, upon the legal surrender of this policy within one month from date of default; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy, the amount of such paid-up policy will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the then cash surrender value of the policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If this policy lapse as specified above and be not surrendered for its cash value or for a paid-up policy, the company will write in lieu of this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, a non-participating paid-up term policy for the full amount of this policy, such term policy to be dated on the date to which the premiums have been duly paid and to continue in force for the term indicated in the following table; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness on account of this policy, the amount of such paid-up term policy will be the face amount of this policy less the indebtedness and the term shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, less the indebtedness, will equal the modified amount at single premium term rates according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent. The paid-up term policy will be delivered upon the legal surrender of this policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP AND TERM POLICIES.—If this policy shall lapse and a paid-up or term policy be issued as above indicated, such paid-up or term policy may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

*Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and are equivalent to the full reserve according to the modified preliminary term basis known as the Illinois standard. Values for later years will be computed upon the same basis and furnished upon request to the home office.

If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of year's premium paid over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that this application and the policy hereby applied for, taken together, all constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and I hereby declare at all the answers and statements made above and those that shall be made to the medical examiner are true, and that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health. To have the required medical examination made within thirty days by a physician appointed by the company, or at such other time thereafter as may be fixed in writing.

as if the premiums had continued so to be paid to the society regularly when provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by as satisfactory, if it shall appear at any time, or if the society has reason to believe such disability is not permanent, the insured shall, on demand, furnish to the society due proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the society that the insured is able to work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid in conformity with this policy. If the insured agrees that the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the loss of both hands at or above the wrists or of both feet at or above the ankles, or the loss of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total and permanent within the meaning of this provision, and the society upon due proof of such severance will waive the premiums thereafter becoming due under this policy, the privilege is granted in consideration of the payment of an additional premium of one dollar and forty cents with each annual premium payable, which is included in the whole premium charged for this policy. The insured may upon any anniversary of the date of issue of this policy discontinue this agreement by returning this policy to the society, and the society upon endorsement with a written request signed by the insured and thereafter the payment of the aforesaid additional premium shall not be required.

PRIVILEGE OF CONVERTING THIS CONTRACT INTO AN ENDOWMENT POLICY.—The premiums due under this contract, covering a period of twenty years, shall be paid, the insured may, if the policy is then in force, exchange it for an endowment policy for the same amount and continue the payment of premiums for eight years at the end of which period the society will pay the endowment (less any interest due on the society thereon) together with the cash value of any dividend additions then standing to its credit, to the insured or assigns, if the insured is living and the policy is then properly released. In the event of the prior death of the insured, the principal amount due under the contract is then in force, the principal amount due under the contract with any dividend additions be credited to it) will be paid to the beneficiary named in the policy of death and the surrender of the policy properly released.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY OF POLICY.—The insured (or the insured after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election) may, at any time, notice to the society at its home office, elect to have the net sum due under the contract at the death of the insured, either paid in cash; or, (option 1) left on deposit with the society during the lifetime of the beneficiary, to be paid upon the death of the insured to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. The society guarantees interest on this deposit during its continuance at the rate of three per cent. The average annual rate shall be earned by the society, the amount may be increased or decreased as determined and apportioned by the society. (Option 2) fixed number of annual instalments as set forth in the following table; or, (option 3) converted into a fixed income to the beneficiary for life, by the payment of a fixed sum annually for twenty years certain, said payments to be continued thereafter for life as shown by the following table, provided that if this option be availed of, the insured will require satisfactory evidence of the age of the payee. Under options 2 and 3, the amounts payable are based upon an assumed rate of interest of three per cent. The average annual rate shall be earned by the society, the amount of the instalments under option 2 and of the first twenty instalments under option 3 may be increased or decreased as determined and apportioned by the society. If one of the options is elected, this policy must be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary contract issued for the purpose of carrying out said option; under options 2 and 3, a supplementary contract is to be non-commutable, unless the insured otherwise directs during lifetime by written notice to the society at its home office.

Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $351.80. AGE, 35.

The Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached, and made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred fifty-one and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars, on or before its delivery, and the payment thereafter of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-one and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of June in every year until twenty full year's premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of John Doe, herein called the insured, of Des Moines, in the county of Polk, State of Iowa, promises to pay, at its home office in the city of Des Moines, Ia., to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, (designated as beneficiary with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided) the sum of ten thousand dollars together with any paid-up additions, upon the legal surrender of this policy, and upon receipt at its said office of due proofs of the death of the insured while this policy is in full force; any unpaid portion of the current year's premium and other indebtedness to the company on account of this policy being first deducted therefrom.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured may, at any time, subject to the rights of any assignee, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company. Such change shall take effect only upon its endorsement on the policy by the company, at its home office, and must be completed during the lifetime of the insured. If more than one beneficiary shall survive the insured, their shares in the proceeds of the policy shall be considered as equal, unless otherwise directed by the insured. The interest of any beneficiary who dies before the insured shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise provided by endorsement on this policy at the direction of the insured.

THE RESERVE on this policy shall be based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest, and the full amount of such reserve, or the present value of any unpaid instalments, shall be secured by deposits of interest bearing securities with the Insurance Department of the State of Iowa, as required by law.

THIS POLICY is issued and accepted by all parties in interest with the express understanding that the contents of all of its pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa has, by its president or vice-president, and secretary, signed this contract, in the city of Des Moines, Ia., this first day of June, A.D., 1913

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

THE POLICY CONTRACT.—This policy, together with the application therefor, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder, unless it is contained in the written application, a copy of which is endorsed upon, or attached to, this policy when issued. No agent is authorized to make, modify, or discharge contracts, or to waive forfeitures.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from the date hereof, except for non-payment of premium.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age and under the company's rates at date of issue, unless the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered shall prescribe another method of settlement.

SUICIDE.—If, within one year, from the date hereof, the insured shall commit suicide, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of cash premiums paid on the policy.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—If, within one year, from the date hereof, the insured shall reside in any part of the Torrid Zone; or shall be personally engaged in the occupation of blasting; underground mining; submarine operations; aerial ascensions; handling electric wires or dynamos, where the voltage used is over 800; or as lineman; or in ocean or lake navigation; or working upon railroad trains as engineer or fireman; or in switching or coupling cars; or as conductor or brakeman upon freight trains; or in the production or transportation of highly explosive substances; or the manufacture or sale of spirituous or malt liquors (except as druggist); or shall engage in the military or naval service in time of war, this policy shall become null and void, and all payments thereon forfeited.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums after the first, are due and payable in advance at the company's home office, but may be paid elsewhere to an authorized collecting exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, or secretary and signed by such agent. Failure to pay any premium, or any note accepted thereon due and payable, shall cause this policy to cease and determine and, unless paid, all payments made thereon shall remain the property of the company, except as hereafter provided. The mode of premium payments may be changed, on any part of the policy, from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa, at any time in use; but the payment of any premium shall not maintain the policy in force after the date on which the next payment is due.

GRACE IN PAYMENT.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which the policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed for the payment of any premium, after the first; and if, within the thirty-one days of grace, the unpaid portion of the then current premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered, may be reinstated at any time within five years after date of default in premium payment, upon furnishing satisfactory proof to the company of the insurability of the insured, together with payment of all premium arrears, with interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum, or payment or reinstatement of all indebtedness existing against the policy, at the date of such default, with accumulated interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless the original or a duplicate thereof shall be filed at its home office; but in no case shall the company be responsible for the sufficiency or validity of any assignment. Any assignment against the company, arising under this policy, made by an assignee, shall be void unless accompanied by satisfactory proof of interest, and to any indebtedness to the company hereon.

DIVIDENDS AND HOW APPLIED.—Upon payment of the second annual premium, and thereafter, this policy shall, at the end of each year to which premiums have been paid, be credited with a dividend as apportioned by the company from the dividends of policies of the same age and class. Dividends, at the option of the owner of the policy, may be either: (First) applied to purchase paid-up additions to the policy; (second) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or, (third) paid in cash, or, (fourth) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with compound interest at the rate of not less than three and one-half per cent per annum, as determined by the company, and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable at any time at the option of the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise, within one month after the dividend is due, the dividend shall be paid in cash, or applied under such other option as may be required by the laws of the State in which this policy is issued. Apportionment of dividends, as above, shall include the allotted surplus from paid-up additions while this policy is kept in full force, but not otherwise. Paid-up additions may be surrendered for their net value at any time.

PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTIONS.—On written request and return of this policy to the company, any existing dividend additions hereon may, upon proper release, be converted into a fully paid-up participating policy for its face amount, or the reserve on this policy and on such dividend additions equals the net single premium at the attained age of the insured, (on the reserve basis of this policy) for such paid-up policy of the same kind and amount. Any indebtedness to the company, against this policy, will continue as a lien against the paid-up policy. When this policy is converted into a paid-up policy, and on any existing dividend additions, equals the face amount of the policy, the company will, upon due surrender of this policy and release of such additions, pay the face amount of this policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company thereon.

EXCHANGE TO OTHER FORMS.—At any time, upon legal surrender while in force, this policy may be exchanged, without medical re-examination, for a participating policy of the same amount, bearing the same date and based upon the same plan (except the continuous monthly income) now issued by the company at the same premium rate. The payment to the company for such exchange shall be the difference between the premiums paid on this policy and those required for the new policy at the company's present rate, with compound interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum, and with adjustment of corresponding dividends.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT.

At the time this policy becomes due and payable either by maturity, surrender, or the death of the insured, and there be no existing assignment, the insured, or the beneficiary, or the estate of the insured, in case the insured shall not have otherwise directed, may, by written notice to the company and due surrender of this policy at its home office, have the net proceeds of this policy paid in cash in one sum, or applied in one of the methods described in the following options, provided the amount to be paid under any one of such options is not less than $1000.

GUARANTEED INCOME.—The payment of interest at the rate of three per cent of the amount left with the company as a principal sum, payable at the end of each year for the lifetime of the payee, and the payment, upon the death of the payee, of said sum together with any accrued interest for the then current year, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the payee's executors, administrators or assigns.

PAID-UP INSTALMENTS.—The payment of a specified number of equal annual instalments, the first being payable immediately, and subsequent instalments on the anniversary of the first—the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the amount stated in table "B" herein set forth for each $1000 to be applied under this option corresponding with the number of instalments so to be paid.

CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS.—The payment of equal annual instalments for 10, 15, 20, 25 years certain, and continued thereafter so long as the payee shall live, the amount being payable immediately, and subsequent instalments on the anniversary of the first—the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the amount stated in table "B," herein set forth for each $1000 to be applied under this option, corresponding Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $351.80. AGE, 35

The Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa in consideration of the application for this policy, a copy of which is hereto attached, and made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred fifty-one and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, on or before its delivery, and the payment thereafter of the annual premium of three hundred fifty-one and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, on or before the first day of June in every year until twenty full year's premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of John Doe, herein called the insured, of Des Moines, in the county of Polk, State of Iowa, promises to pay, at its home office in the city of Des Moines, Ia., to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, (designated as beneficiary with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided) the sum of ten thousand dollars together with any paid-up additions, upon the legal surrender of this policy, and upon receipt at its said office of due proofs of the death of the insured while this policy is in full force; any unpaid portion of the current year's premium and other indebtedness to the company on account of this policy being first deducted therefrom.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured may, at any time, subject to the rights of any assignee, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company. Such change shall take effect only upon its endorsement on the policy by the company, at its home office, and must be completed during the lifetime of the insured. If more than one beneficiary shall survive the insured, their shares in the proceeds of the policy shall be considered as equal, unless otherwise directed by the insured. The interest of any beneficiary who dies before the insured shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise provided by endorsement on this policy at the direction of the insured.

THE RESERVE on this policy shall be based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with three and one-half per cent interest, and the full amount of such reserve, or the present value of any unpaid instalments, shall be secured by deposits of interest bearing securities with the Insurance Department of the State of Iowa, as required by law.

THIS POLICY is issued and accepted by all parties in interest with the express understanding that the contents of all of its pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Equitable Life Insurance Company of Iowa has, by its president or vice-president, and secretary, signed this contract, in the city of Des Moines, Ia., this first day of June, A.D., 1913

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

THE POLICY CONTRACT.—This policy, together with the application therefor, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy or be used in defense to a claim thereunder, unless it is contained in the written application, a copy of which is endorsed upon, or attached to, this policy when issued. No agent is authorized to make, modify, or discharge contracts, or to waive forfeitures.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from the date hereof, except for non-payment of premium.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age and under the company's rates at date of issue, unless the laws of the State in which this policy is delivered shall prescribe another method of settlement.

SUICIDE.—If, within one year, from the date hereof, the insured shall commit suicide, whether sane or insane, the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of cash premiums paid on the policy.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—If, within one year, from the date hereof, the insured shall reside in any part of the Torrid Zone; or shall be personally engaged in the occupation of blasting; underground mining; submarine operations; aerial ascensions; handling electric wires or dynamos, where the voltage used is over 600; or as linemen; or in ocean or lake navigation; or working upon railroad trains as engineer or fireman; or in switching or coupling cars; or as conductor or brakeman upon freight trains; or in the production or transportation of highly explosive substances; or the manufacture or sale of spirituous or malt liquors (except as druggist); or shall engage in the military or naval service in time of war, this policy shall become null and void, and all payments thereon forfeited.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums after the first, are due and payable in advance at the company's home office, but may be paid elsewhere to an authorized collector.

If so requested in the written notice of election, settlement under any of the above provisions will be made in semi-annual, quarterly or monthly instalments of the same aggregate annual amount, provided the amount of each instalment will be at least ten cents.

NON-FORFEITURE, LOAN AND CASH SURRENDER PROVISIONS.

1st. AUTOMATIC PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If, after the payment of premiums for three or more full years, default is made in the payment of a subsequent premium, this policy shall, upon such default, without action on the part of the insured, continue as a reduced, paid-up non-participating policy for the amount set forth in Table A below, together with any outstanding paid-up additions; or,

2nd. EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Upon written application of the insured and assigns, and, and the presentation of this policy at the home office for endorsement, within six months after the date of such default, the company will continue the full amount of this policy as non-participating, extended term insurance for the term stated in Table A below, counting from the date of default in premium payment. Any outstanding paid-up additions shall remain in force, unless surrendered for cash. Any existing indebtedness to the company, on account of this policy, if not paid, will reduce the amount of paid-up or extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the cash value of this policy at the time of default in premium payment as shown in Table A.

3rd. CASH SURRENDER.—Upon request of the insured and assigns, if any, and the release and surrender of this policy at its home office, at the end of the third or any subsequent policy year, or within the thirty-one days' grace provided herein, premiums having been paid in full to the end of such year, the company will pay in cash, the legal owner hereof, the amount stated in Table A below, together with the value of any existing dividend additions, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy. Payment of such cash surrender value may, in case of necessity, be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after application therefor made.

4th. POLICY LOANS.—After the payment of premiums for three or more full years, and being no default in any premium payment, the company will, at any time, loan, upon proper assignment and deposit of this policy, and on the sole security thereof, to the insured, not to exceed six per cent per annum interest, (which interest, if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest) a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of this policy, less than, the amount stated in Table A below, together with the value of any existing dividend additions; deducting therefrom interest advanced to the end of the current policy year and all existing indebtedness to the company hereon. Failure to repay any policy loan and interest shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon shall equal or exceed the cash value hereof, in which case the policy shall immediately cease and become void; but such termination shall not take effect until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the company to the last known address of the insured and assigns, if any, on record at the home office. Such loan may, in case of necessity, be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. The whole or part of a loan may be repaid at any time while the policy is in force.

In case this policy shall, according to its terms, become a reduced, paid-up, non-participating policy, its cash and loan value shall be the full reserve, less not to exceed one per cent, one-half per cent of the amount insured thereunder.

The following table shows the values guaranteed under this policy, upon the assumption that premiums have been fully paid in cash for the completed years stated, except that outstanding dividend additions, if any, will increase, and any existing indebtedness to the company, on account of this policy, will diminish said values, in the manner above stated. Values for intermediate periods, after the third year, will be proportionately reduced.

PARTICIPATING SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT ISSUED.—A supplementary contract shall be issued for each option elected, which shall provide that the guaranteed income under Option 1; and the instalments under Option 2, or for the specified number of years certain under Option 3, on each anniversary after the payment of the first instalment, shall be increased by such annual dividends as may be apportioned by the company.

SURRENDER OF SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—Any instalments payable for the specified years certain under Options 2 or 3, remaining unpaid at the death of the payee, shall, on due surrender of the supplementary contract, be commuted at the rate of three per cent per annum compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators, or assigns of such payee, unless otherwise provided by the insured in the written notice of direction for settlement. Unless otherwise specified in said notice, the payee may, at any time, surrender any contract issued under Option 1, and withdraw the principal sum and accrued interest thereon; and may, at any time, surrender any contract issued under Option 2 and receive the commuted value of the instalments yet to be paid, computed upon the basis above specified. A contract issued under Option 3 cannot be surrendered for a commuted value except after the death of the payee, occurring within the specified years certain, as above required.

Equitable Life Insurance Company (D. C.)

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $297.70. AGE, 35.

Equitable Life Insurance Company, of the District of Columbia, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is made a part of this contract, and of the payment of premiums as herein-after provided, hereby insures the life of George Washington, of the District of Columbia, (herein called the insured), in the sum of ten thousand dollars for the term of life, payable at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., to Mary Washington, his wife, if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. Any error made in stating the age of the insured will be adjusted by paying such amount as the premium paid would purchase at the correct age. Any indebtedness to the company on this policy and any unpaid instalments of the then current year's premium will be deducted from the sum insured.

The annual premium of two hundred and ninety-seven dollars and seventy cents will be payable by the insured on delivery hereof and on the first day of January in each year at the company's office in Washington, D. C., or to agents in exchange for receipts signed by the president or secretary, until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the death of the insured, should that event sooner occur. In lieu of the annual premium the company will accept one hundred and fifty-four dollars and eighty cents semi-annually in advance, or seventy-eight dollars and ninety cents quarter-annually in advance.

Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable.

This policy together with the application, a copy of which is attached hereto, contains the entire contract between the parties hereto, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used as a defence to a claim thereunder unless it be contained in the application for the policy. The provisions and benefits printed or written by the company on the following pages hereof are a part of this policy.

After delivery of this policy to the insured, it takes effect as of January 1, 1911 and said date shall be taken as the beginning of the first policy year and of the insurance hereunder.

INCONTINGENTLY.—Self-insurance within one year from the date hereof, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company; but in such case the company will pay the amount of the net reserve held against this policy. This policy will be incontestable after two years from the date hereof, except for non-payment of premium.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to do so has been reserved in the application for this policy, the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, may change the beneficiary at beneficiaries at any time while this policy is in force, by written notice to the company at its home office accompanied by the policy or suitable endorsement thereon, such change to take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company and not before. Wherever the insured shall be domiciled or the beneficiary shall reside, provided, however, the insured shall be a citizen of the United States, the laws of the State in which he is domiciled or the beneficiary resides, shall govern. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of one month, not less than thirty days, without interest, will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force. If the death of the insured occur during the grace in grace, the sum necessary to complete payment of premium for the then current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

RESERVE FUND AND RATES.—The rate and insurance under this policy is based on the basis of the American Experience Mortality Table, and there are included in premium charges, not premium and the net value of any such surrender shall be a sum equal to the net reserve of this policy, according to the foregoing standard, less a percentage not more than two and one-half of the premium insured by the policy.

THREE PERCENTS.—After two full years' premiums shall have been paid the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will pay up to the limit insured for the cash surrender value, upon receipt of the policy and a certificate of loss satisfactory to the company. The rate of interest charged shall not exceed six per cent per annum.

The loan may be paid off at any time while the policy is in force. If interest be not paid when due it shall be added to the principal provided the entire indebtedness then outstanding shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value; otherwise non-payment of interest shall render the policy null and void after one month's notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—After two full years' premiums shall have been paid, then, upon the written request of the owner hereof, if received before default in the payment of any premium, the company will charge up such premium (and any subsequent premium or premiums not paid in cash), with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, against the then loan value of this policy, as stated above, provided that the then loan value shall be sufficient to cover such loan. Any premium or premiums so charged against the loan value of this policy, shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as any loan made under the terms of the provision "cash loans." Such charging up of premiums will be discontinued at any time on receipt of a satisfactory request therefor. While this policy is thus kept in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed, without furnishing any evidence of the good health of the insured.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS. CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—If this policy is legally surrendered to the company within three months after the end of the second year from its date or of any year thereafter, and all premiums, required by the terms of this policy, to the end of that year have been paid in full, the company will pay therefor the sum indicated by the accompanying table, less any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY.—If default be made in the payment of any premium after two full years' premiums shall have been paid, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash surrender value, the company will issue a paid-up life policy as specified in the accompanying table, upon the legal surrender of this policy within three months after the date to which premiums shall have been duly paid; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up life policy will be reduced in the proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the then cash surrender value of this policy.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If default be made in the payment of any premium after two full years' premiums shall have been paid, and if the policy be not surrendered for its cash surrender value or for a paid-up life policy, the company will write in lieu of this policy, without any action on the part of the insured, a paid-up term policy for the full amount insured by this policy, such paid-up term policy to be dated on the day to which premiums shall have been paid, and to continue in force for the term indicated by the accompanying table; provided, however, that if there be any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy the amount of such paid-up term policy shall be the face amount of this policy less the amount of such indebtedness and the term for which such paid-up term policy shall run shall be changed to that term for which the cash surrender value of this policy herein specified, after deducting such indebtedness, will carry the modified amount at single premium term rates according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest. The paid-up term policy will be delivered on the legal surrender of this policy.

CASH SURRENDER VALUES UNDER PAID-UP LIFE AND PAID-UP TERM POLICIES.—If there be default in any premium payments, as above, and a paid-up life policy or a paid-up term policy be issued in lieu thereof, such paid-up life or such paid-up term policy may be surrendered at any time for its full reserve value at the time of such surrender.

INCREASED VALUES FOR SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS.—As the payment of an annual premium increases the non-forfeiture values herein described, so the payment of each semi-annual or quarterly premium, due after two years from the date hereof, will make a proportionate increase in the values (all fractions being omitted) which the company will allow at the end of any full paid half or quarter of a partially paid policy year.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of lapse of this policy, provided it has not been surrendered to the company for its cash value, it may be reinstated at any time upon satisfactory evidence of insurability and the payment of all arrears of premiums, with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum on such premiums and on any indebtedness to the company existing against this policy at time of lapse, which indebtedness and arrears of premiums and interest, at the option of the owner, shall be repaid in cash, or, to the extent allowed by the loan value, remain as an indebtedness against this policy.

CONVERTIBLE INTO OTHER FORMS OF POLICY.—At any time within five years from the date hereof this policy, if in force and not assigned, may be surrendered by the sured to the company at its office in Washington, District of Columbia, for a new life or endowment policy of equivalent amount, requiring the payment of a higher rate of premium yearly, without re-examination. The new policy will bear the date of the surrender of this policy and the premium thereon will be according to the tables then in use and the attained age of the insured. If upon surrender of this policy as above the insured shall pay to the company the difference between the premiums which would have been payable on the new policy if it had been issued at the same time as this policy, and the premiums paid hereunder for the same amount of insurance, with interest on such difference at not to exceed six per cent yearly, the new policy will be treated as if it bore the date of this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its head office. The company assumes no liability as to the validity of any assignment. Satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest must be produced on making claim.

ALTERATION AND ENDORSEMENT.—No modification or alteration hereof or endorsement hereon will be valid unless made by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, or the actuary, and no other person is authorized on behalf of the company to make, alter or discharge this contract or to waive forfeiture. Agents are not authorized to modify or waive any of the terms and conditions of this policy nor to extend the time for payment of premiums or other moneys due to the company, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

OPTIONS AT SETTLEMENT.—Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee under this policy, whether the claim is on account of the death of the insured or the surrender of the policy, may elect to have the net sum payable hereunder paid or applied in any method described in the following options:

1. CASH.—The payment in cash.

2. GUARANTEED INCOME.—The payment of interest, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, on the amount left with the company as a principal sum, which interest is to be payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the payee, and the payment of said principal sum, with any accrued and unpaid interest thereon, on the death of the said payee, to his or her executors, administrators or assigns. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may secure the payment of the principal sum in cash at any time upon satisfactory release therefor.

3. LIMITED INSTALLMENTS.—The payment of a specified number of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately), the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the following table of rates, which table gives the amount of the instalments promised for each $1000 left with the company for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may commute in one payment, discounting at the rate of three and one half per cent per annum, any of the unpaid instalments. If the payee should die before all of the specified number of instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of said specified number of instalments, or their commuted value, shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

4. CONTINUOUS INSTALLMENTS.—The payment of equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately) for twenty years and as many years thereafter as the payee shall live, twenty such instalments being paid whether the payee lives or dies, the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the following table, which table gives the amount of the instalments promised for each $1000 left with the company for that purpose. Unless otherwise provided by special endorsement, the payee may commute in one payment, discounting at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, any of the unpaid instalments certain; subsequent payments being in no wise affected by such commutation. If the payee should die before twenty such annual instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of said twenty instalments, or their commuted value shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. At any time while this policy is in force and unassigned the company, upon written request of the insured, will by endorsement limit the payment of any claim by death to any one of the above described "options at settlements." If the policy is assigned, the signature of the owner will be required. Revocation of such limitation may be similarly secured.

Under either instalment option, annual instalments may be taken in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $8.45 paid monthly.

ILLUSTRATION.—The equivalent of $214 in annual instalments is ($214 x .0845) $18.08 paid monthly.

OPTION 3. LIMITED INSTALLMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.

ITEMS ON POLICY WILL BE PAID BY COMPANY IF INSURED IS WHOLLY DISABLED.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, wholly and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation, profit, or from following any gainful occupation, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured the subsequent premium, if any, as they shall become due. In any such case the premiums so paid shall be a lien on this policy and the values provided for under non-forfeiture provisions of this policy in the table on the second page hereof shall be same as if the premiums being paid by the insured. If the insured shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company of like total and permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company will allow the subsequent premiums, if any, to accumulate without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In such case the values provided for under non-forfeiture provisions of this policy in the table on the second page hereof shall be same as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. Provided in any case, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof, or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. In the event of or independent of all other causes of total and permanent disability, the end of irrevocable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one foot will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. On any anniversary of this contract this provision may be cancelled by the company, in which event subsequent annual premiums will be reduced $5.00 and such reduction shall be endorsed hereon.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true and I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby made. For, and it is further agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted by the company on the provisions and benefits therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full, while my health is in the same condition as described in the application, and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted and become effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance begins. I expressly waive, on behalf of myself and of any person who may have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law relating to any physician or other person who has attended or examined me, or who may hereafter attend or examine me, from disclosing any knowledge or information which may be acquired.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

Equitable Life Insurance Company (Tex.).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309.00. AGE 35.
 The Equitable Life Insurance Company, San Antonio, Tex., promises to pay ten thousand dollars, which is the face amount of, upon receipt of due proof of the death of David Crockett, hereinafter called the insured, while this policy is in full force, to Alice Crockett, wife of the insured.

RE ANNUITY.—The insured may surrender this policy within thirty days after the end of the twentieth policy year, provided all premiums theretofore falling due shall have been paid, and receive an annual cash income for life of $411.40.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable after one year from date of issue, for any reason except non-payment of premium. It contains no restriction whatever upon the insured, in respect to travel, residence or occupation.

ASSIGNMENT OF BENEFICIARIES.—Provided the insured has reserved the right to change the beneficiary in the application hereof the insured may, subject to the rules of the company governing beneficiaries, and at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary by written notice to the company, to be filed in the home office on the company's form therefor, such change to take effect on the death of the insured on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

REGULARITY IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable at the office of the company, San Antonio, Tex., on the date or dates named herein, but may be paid to an authorized agent producing receipts therefor, signed by the president, a vice-president or secretary, and countersigned by such agent. If any premium installment thereof is not paid on or before the day when due, this policy shall become void, and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as otherwise provided. Premiums may be paid annually in advance, or in semi-annual or quarterly installments thereof in advance, in accordance with the company's table. The company will allow a change from one to another of such modes of payment by written request therefor by the insured.

GRACE PERIOD OF GRACE.—In the payment of the second or subsequent premiums, a grace of thirty-one days will be allowed, without interest charge, and if the insured die within said period of grace, the unpaid premium will be deducted from the amount payable under the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—If any premium is not paid on the date when due or within the period of grace and this policy has not been surrendered, the company will reinstate the policy as of said due date at any time thereafter, upon satisfactory evidence of insurability, payment of all arrears of premiums with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, together with the reinstatement or payment of any indebtedness on this policy as of said due date, with interest.

CHANGE OF FORM.—At any time while this policy is in full force, it may be changed, without medical examination, to any other form of policy in use by the company at the time this policy was issued, provided the rate of premium be not diminished thereby, upon payment of such an amount not to exceed the back differences in premiums with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum and the execution of such papers as the company may require to effect such changes. The new policy shall be for the same term, bear the same number and date, and be written at the same age as this policy.

ASSIGNMENT PRIVILEGE.—The mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a result of death may be changed from payment in one sum to payment by installments, as provided below.

LOANS ON THE SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY.—At any time after three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, within thirty-one days of application therefor the company will loan, upon proper assignment of the policy to the company upon its assigned form, and on the sole security hereof, with interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable in advance, a sum not exceeding the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the then current policy year, as stated in the table of values herein provided, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unexpired installments of premium for the balance of said policy year. If interest is not paid due it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to pay such loan or interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and any record of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and, after the giving of such notice, shall render this policy void.

FORFEITURE IN EVENT OF NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUM.—This policy, after payment of it of three full annual premiums, shall not be forfeited or become void by reason of non-payment of premium, but, if any subsequent premium or installment thereof is not paid on the date when due, and remains unpaid during the period of grace, the owner during the period of grace, have the choice of one of the following

OPTIONS.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—The company will, if the owner shall not have made choice of the option to surrender this policy for its cash surrender value, or if the owner under this policy shall not have been extended as term insurance, as herein provided, automatically continue the insurance under this policy as paid-up life insurance.

for such an amount as is stated in column 1 of the table of values for the end of the year for which premiums shall have been paid (with the right to cash and loan values equal to the amount of the entire reserve thereon); or,

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Upon written request therefor by the owner, the company will extend the insurance under this policy for its face amount from such due date, as term insurance, for the period stated in column 2 of the table of values for the end of the year for which premiums shall have been paid (but without the right to loans thereon); or,

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—The company will, upon written request of the owner hereof, purchase this policy within thirty-one days of such request, and pay therefor, upon surrender with release of this policy, its cash surrender value as stated in column 3 of the table of values for the end of the year for which premiums shall have been paid. From said cash surrender value any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby will be deducted.

NOTE.—A statement of the values for succeeding years will be furnished upon application to the company.

* Loan value equal in amount to cash surrender value.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—Instalment benefits will be substituted for payment in one sum as follows:

A. TWENTY-FIVE INSTALMENTS AND CONTINUOUS INSTALMENTS THEREAFTER.—The whole or any part not less than $1,000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured, may be paid in twenty-five specified annual instalments, of an amount corresponding in the following table to the then attained age of the person entitled thereto, provided that if said person shall survive to receive all of said twenty-five instalments, then similar instalments shall be continued throughout the lifetime of such person. The table shall apply pro rata per $1,000 of the amount to be so paid.

If there be more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid, unless otherwise directed by the insured, shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined in accordance with the following table, for the age attained:

AGE.	Amount of Each Annual Instalment.	AGE.	Amount of Each Annual Instalment.	AGE.	Amount of Each Annual Instalment.

30 to 32.....	44	44 or 45.....	50	60 or over....	56
33 or 34.....	45	46 or 47.....	51

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of the policy be $10,000 and the age of the beneficiary be 40 years (last birthday), at the death of the insured the beneficiary would be paid twenty-five annual instalments of $480 each, and thereafter annual instalments of $480 each during the remainder of life.

B. LIMITED INSTALMENTS.—The whole or any part not less than $1,000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured may be paid in a specified number of annual instalments, as per the following table, which shall apply pro rata per $1,000 of the amount to be so paid:

Number of instalments.....	25	20	15	10	5	4	3	2
Amount of each instalment.....	$ 58	$ 68	$ 83	$ 116	$ 214	$ 263	$ 344	$ 509

STRATION.—If the proceeds of the policy be $10,000, and if payment is made by 20 cents, the amount of each instalment will be $680.

—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of 100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or paid monthly.

CHOICES OF INSTALMENT SELECTION.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force, for an amount not less than $1,000, and not assigned, may notify the company in writing of a desire to choose one of the above-mentioned methods of settlement, and if no choice is not made by the insured, the same choice may be exercised by the beneficiary at the time this policy becomes a claim. After making selection of manner of payment the insured can revoke his selection and select another manner by notifying the company in writing. The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments. Such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary when payment by instalments is elected. After the death of the insured (selection of instalment benefit having been made) the payment of the first instalment under either of the above-mentioned benefits, the policy shall be surrendered to the company, and in its place the company will issue a new policy contract in accordance with the instalment benefit selected. The first instalment shall be paid upon receipt of due proof of death by the company, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter upon the anniversary of the first instalment payment; any indebtedness to the company under this policy and any payment made by the insured shall be deducted from the first instalment or instalments due. If the claim under the policy amounts to less than $100,000, payment by instalments shall be made, and any choice of instalment settlement previously made shall be void, but the amount due under this policy shall be paid in one sum, the beneficiary under this policy, surviving the insured, die before receiving all the specified instalments, the then present value of all such instalments shall be paid to the executors or administrators of the said beneficiary.

DISABILITY BENEFIT.

IF THE INSURED BECOMES TOTALLY AND PERMANENTLY DISABLED.—If at any time after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty years shall furnish the company satisfactory proof that he has become totally disabled by injuries or disease and is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly precluded from performing any work for compensation or profit or from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing upon the policy will agree to pay for the insured the subsequent premiums, if any, as they shall become due. In any such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy and the loans and the values of this policy in the table of values on the second page hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. However, that as often as required by the company the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of the disability; that should the insured so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay further premiums shall cease and the insured shall then be required to pay all subsequent premiums as originally provided in this policy. The irrecoverable loss of either sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or both feet above the ankles, or one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

Any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby will reduce the amount of the cash value of the insurance, and the amount at risk under extended insurance, in the proportion that such indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value. The reserve under this policy shall be determined upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The values in the table of values above, are for full paid policies, and will be adjusted proportionately for additional instalments of premium the full paid policy year. Any deduction from the reserve made in determining the cash value as stated in columns 1, 2 and 3 is in no case in excess of two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder.

If the insured was misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as if the insured would have purchased at the correct age.

Assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and both copies sent to the company, one to be retained by the company for a record and the other to be returned to the assignee. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity or sufficiency of any assignment of this policy.

Any claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. The policy and the application hereof taken together constitute the entire contract. Payments made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

This policy is payable at the home office of the company, San Antonio, Tex., and no interest of any claim will be required; any indebtedness to the company hereon elected hereby shall be deducted in any cash settlement of this policy or will reduce proportionately any other benefit hereunder. Any unpaid balance of the current year's premium shall be deducted in any settlement of this policy as a death claim. Only the president, a vice-president or secretary has power on behalf of this company to make or alter any contract of insurance, or to extend the time for paying any premiums, or to grant any forfeiture, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter made, unless made in writing by one of the said officers. In the event of the suicide of the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of issue, the liability of the company shall be limited to double the amount of the pre-

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $295.30. AGE, 30

Farmers and Traders Life Insurance Company of Syracuse, N. Y., in consideration of the payment of the first premium of two hundred, ninety-five and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, constituting payment for the period terminating on the fourteenth day of December in the year nineteen hundred and fifteen, and the payment of a like sum on said date, and on the fourteenth day of December in every year thereafter during the continuance of this policy until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay at the home office of the company, in the city of Syracuse, N. Y., upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of Mr. John Doe, of Syracuse county of Onondaga, State of New York, herein called the insured, to Mrs. John Doe, beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year, upon surrender of this policy properly received.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation of the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy made as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary with or without reserving the right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable, on or before the date due, at the home office of the company, or to an authorized agent of the company, upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, a vice-president, a second vice-president, a secretary or the treasurer of the company, and countersigned by said agent. The premium is always considered as payable annually, in advance, but by agreement in writing and not otherwise may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly payments. Any unpaid premiums required to complete the payments for the current policy year in which death occurs shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. The payment of a premium shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next payment is due, except as herein provided.

GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days shall be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the death of the insured occur during the period of grace, the overdue premium and any unpaid portion of the premium with interest, for the then current policy year, will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

RESTRICTIONS.—The company shall be released from all liability under this policy if the insured shall, within one year from the issue thereof, become engaged in or connected in any manner with the manufacture or sale of ale, wine, beer or liquor, unless so engaged at the date hereof and so stated in the application for this policy. If the insured within one year from the date hereof die by his own hand or act, whether sane or insane, the company shall not be liable for a greater sum than the premiums which have been received on this policy. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures or to make, modify or discharge contracts, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from the date of its issue, except for non-payment of premiums. All statements made by the insured shall in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall avoid this policy or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless they are contained in the written application, a copy of which was attached to this policy when delivered. The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured by this policy. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age.

NON-PARTICIPATION.—This policy is not entitled to participate in the profits or divisible surplus of the company.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will loan on the sole security thereof up to the limit secured by the cash surrender value, on proper and lawful assignment and delivery of this policy. The loan will bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum and may be repaid at any time while the policy is in force. If interest be not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal, provided the entire outstanding indebtedness shall be within the limit secured by the cash surrender value; otherwise non-payment of interest shall render this policy null and void after thirty-one days' notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any. At the expiration of the premium payment period, interest in advance to the end of

to the company of the insurability of the person upon whose life this policy was issued and upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, compounded annually on such premiums, and on any indebtedness to the company existing against the policy at date of default, which indebtedness and arrears of premiums and interest shall at the option of the insured be paid in cash, or to the extent of the loan value at the date to which reinstatement is made, remain as an indebtedness against the policy.

PRIVILEGE OF CHANGING TO OTHER FORMS OF POLICIES.—This policy while in force may be changed at the end of any policy year upon due release, without need for re-examination of the insured, to any other plan in use at the time this policy was issued requiring a higher rate of premium. The new policy shall be written at the same age, bear the same number and date and be for the same amount as this policy, and shall be effective upon the payment of a sum equal to the difference between the reserve on the new policy and the reserve on this policy on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—Providing this policy is not assigned, the insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, may elect, and in case no such election has been made prior to the death of the insured, the beneficiary may elect to have the whole or any part of the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid as follows instead of in one sum: (1) By the payment of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent on the amount retained, payable at the end of each year for a specified number of years or during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and at the end of the specified period or upon the death of the beneficiary by the payment of the amount retained together with any accrued interest for the year then current, to the person as designated in said notice, or, if there be no person so designated, to the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns. (2) By the payment of equal instalments covering a specified number of years, in accordance with option 2 in the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum, the first instalment being payable upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years thereafter as the beneficiary survives, in accordance with option 3 in the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum, the first instalment being payable upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured. Any instalments payable under option 2 or option 3 which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary shall, unless otherwise directed in said notice, be paid to the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns.

In lieu of annual instalments under option 2, or annual instalments under option 3, semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments thereof in proportionate parts may be elected provided that no such proportionate payment be for less than $10. This policy shall be surrendered and a supplementary non-participating contract will be issued for the option elected. The above modes of settlement are not applicable to a policy which is payable to a corporation or to a co-partnership or association, nor to a policy under which the net sum payable is less than one thousand dollars. Unless otherwise specified in a written notice making such election, the supplementary contract on loan release thereof may at any time be surrendered for the amount retained, with any accrued interest under option 1, or for the commuted value of the stipulated instalments to be paid under option 2, or for the commuted value of any of the first twenty instalments then remaining unpaid under option 3; such commutation under this option shall, however, in no wise affect the payments conditional upon the lifetime of the beneficiary after the term during which the instalments certain would have been payable; such commuted value under either option to be the amount as calculated by the company on the basis of three and one-half per cent compound interest.

OF PREMIUMS. DISABILITY BENEFITS. EXTRA ANNUAL PREMIUM $0.41
 00 INSURED.—In consideration of the extra premium above stated, receipt of hereby acknowledged, these provisions for disability benefits are hereby to and made a part of the above numbered policy.

OF PREMIUMS—(a) UNDER AGE SIXTY.—If, after this policy shall have been one full year and before default in the payment of any premium, the company due proof that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years has become sabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be presumably, thereby sily and continuously prevented from engaging in any occupation whatsoever nation or profit, the company shall waive payment of each premium as it r becomes due during the insured's said disability. In making any settlement is policy the company shall not deduct any part of the premium so waived, loan and cash surrender values provided for in the policy shall increase from ear in the same manner as if the premiums so waived had been paid in cash.
 AGE SIXTY (b).—Under all the conditions aforesaid, except that the insured e attained the age of sixty years before becoming disabled, the company shall yment of each premium thereafter becoming due during such disability; but int insured in the policy shall be reduced by the amount of each such waived
 , and the loan and cash surrender values as provided for in the policy shall be on said reduced amount of insurance in the same manner as if the premium for ced amount of insurance had been duly paid.

ERY FROM DISABILITY.—Should the company accept under this policy proofs lity, it may, nevertheless, at any time thereafter, and from time to time, but er than once a year, demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such
 , and upon failure to furnish such proof, or, if it appears that the insured has ble to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, no remium shall be waived.

L PROVISIONS.—Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire overable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above s, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, onsidered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

CONTINUANCE OF DISABILITY BENEFITS.—This disability benefit may be discontinue the insured's option; if so discontinued, or if insured attain age sixty, premiums shall be reduced by four and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars annually, being the additional annual charged for such benefit.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree as follows. 1. That the insurance hereby applied for shall not take ess the first premium is paid and the policy is delivered to and received by me y lifetime and good health, and that unless otherwise agreed in writing, the ill then relate back to and take effect as of the date of this application. 2. That ent made by me before delivery of the policy to, and its receipt by, me as aforebe binding on the company only in accordance with the terms of the company's erior on the receipt form which is attached to this application and contains e of the agreement under which said payment has been made and is the only e agent is authorized to give for such payment. 3. That only the president, sident, a second vice-president, a secretary or the treasurer of the company s, modify or discharge contracts, or waive any of the company's rights or re-ts, and that none of these acts can be done by the agent taking this application.
 I. I declare, on behalf of myself and of every person who shall have or claim est in any insurance made hereunder, that I have carefully read each and all ove answers, that they are each written as made by me, that each of them is lete and true, and that to the best of my knowledge and belief I am a proper r life insurance. Each and all of my said answers are made by me to obtain nce, and I understand and agree that they are each material to the risk and mpany believing them to be true will rely and act upon them.

Farmers National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $369.40. AGE, 35.

The Farmers National Life Insurance Company of America, home office, East Chicago, Ind., executive offices, Chicago, Ill., hereby insures the life of John Thomas Thrifty (hereinafter called the insured), of East Chicago, State of Indiana, and agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars at the executive office of the company at Chicago, Illinois, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this contract to Mary Belle Thrifty, his wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, subject to the right of the insured to change the beneficiaries as hereinafter provided.

This contract of insurance is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part hereof, and in the further consideration of the sum of three hundred sixty-nine dollars and forty cents to be paid in advance to the company on or before the delivery of this policy and of the further annual payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the fifteen day of March in each year until twenty full years' premiums have been paid, including the first, or until the prior death of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from the date hereof, except for non-payment of premiums and for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military and naval service in time of war. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy unless it is contained in the written and printed application therefor. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—At any time after one full annual premium has been paid and before the default in payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has been wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injuries or disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement thereon, will waive payment of the subsequent annual premiums, if any, as they shall become due. In such case, the premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under this contract and the values provided for in the table given herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid by the insured.

Provided, however, that as often as required by the company the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of the disability; that should the insured so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, he shall then resume payment of subsequent premiums in accordance with the contract on the first premium due date following such recovery.

The irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

If the insured, after attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory evidence of a like permanent and total disability, the company, without any further action on the part of the insured, will waive the subsequent premiums becoming due and charge the same, without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In such case, the values provided in the table herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid by the insured.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company, except such times as it may be in force as extended insurance, and the proportion of the divisible surplus accruing on this policy shall be ascertained and apportioned by the company as a dividend at the end of the second policy year and annually thereafter. The dividend so accredited, at the option of the owner may be either: (1) withdrawn in cash; or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up non-participating additions payable at the maturity of the policy; or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of its date. Unless the owner shall elect otherwise, in writing, the apportioned dividends shall be held to the credit of the policy in accordance with the fourth option.

Whenever the reserve on existing paid-up additions, together with the reserve under this policy, shall be equal to or greater than the net single premium by the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, for an amount of insurance equal to the face value of this policy at the attained age of the insured, at the written request of the insured, the company will issue a paid-up non-participating policy for the full amount insured hereby (provided this policy is free from indebtedness) upon the surrender of this policy to the company.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, no default having been made in the payment of any premium hereunder, the company will loan, except such time as the policy shall be in force as extended insurance, upon the sole security hereof upon the execution of a proper loan agreement, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the following table opposite the current policy year, plus the reserve on any dividend additions to the policy; provided, (1) that the policy shall be duly assigned to the company as security for such loan; (2) that interest at the rate of six per cent per annum shall be paid in advance for the remainder of the current policy year; interest at the same rate will be due and payable annually in advance thereafter, which interest, if not paid, will be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate; (3) that in determining the loan available, there shall be deducted from the loan value herein all existing policy indebtedness; (4) that failure to repay said loan, or interest thereon when due, shall not void this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, or to the assignee, if any.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After this policy has been in force for three full years, upon default or within thirty-one days after default in the payment of any premium, the owner may select any of the plans of surrender settlements named in the following table, namely:

CASH SURRENDER.—(A) To surrender this policy to the company for its cash surrender value as shown in the table of loan and surrender values for the end of the last year for which complete annual premiums have been paid, less any indebtedness, if any, to the company on account of this policy, which cash value shall not be less than the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended insurance.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—(B) To surrender this policy to the company for the amount of paid-up non-participating insurance as shown in the table of loan and surrender values opposite the number of years for which complete annual premiums have been paid, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, provided that any existing indebtedness on account of this policy, if not paid in cash, will reduce proportionately the amount of paid-up insurance.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—(C) If this policy is not surrendered as above, the insurance without any action on the part of the insured will be automatically extended as paid-up non-participating term insurance, without loan or cash values from the date of default in premium payments for a sum equal to the face amount of this policy, for the period specified in the table of loan and surrender values, opposite the number of years for which complete annual premiums have been paid, provided, any existing indebtedness to the company on account of or accrued by this policy, if not paid in cash, will reduce the amount of the extended insurance in the ratio which such indebtedness bears to the net value of such extended insurance.

Dividend additions to the policy will increase the values of the table in the proportion of the increase in the reserve from such additions.

The reserve upon this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest; the values in the above table are based upon the said reserve and in no case does the surrender charge exceed two and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The values after the years shown in the table shall be equivalent to the full reserve on the policy and will be furnished upon application.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

DEATH CLAIMS.—When this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy has been in force for one year a grace of thirty-one days, subject to an interest charge of five per cent per annum, will be granted in the payment of premiums, during which time the policy shall remain in force. Should the death of the insured occur during the period of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

CHANGE OF FORM.—At any anniversary of this policy, upon a written notice to the insured by the insured and while the policy is in full force and provided the insured is less than sixty years of age, this policy may be exchanged without medical re-examination for any form of policy issued by the company; provided the amount of insurance under such policy shall not be greater nor the rate of premiums less than under this policy.

Such change shall be effective upon a payment of a sum equal to the difference between the annual premiums on the two policies, with interest compounded at five per cent per annum from the date of each payment to the date of the change; the company may issue a new policy to date concurrently with the date of this insurance upon the surrender and cancellation of this policy; or the company will issue a new policy to date concurrently with the date of exchange, in which case the net reserve value of this contract shall be applied towards the payment of premiums on the new contract.

REPAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are payable in advance at the executive office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by such agent. Premiums may be paid semi-annually or quarterly in advance at the company's rate; therefore, the payment of a premium or installment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or installment thereof is payable.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of a lapse or forfeiture of this policy it may be reinstated at any time during the life of the insured, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and the payment of unpaid premiums to the date of reinstatement with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum and the payment of or reinstatement of indebtedness which existed at the time of such default with five per cent interest thereafter.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it is accepted by the company at its offices. The company will not assume responsibility for the validity of any assignment. All claims under assignment are subject to satisfactory proof of the assignee's interest in the life of the insured.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, while this policy is in force, provided it has not been assigned, and subject to the rules of the company regarding assignments of beneficiaries, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time by written notice to the company; such change will take effect only upon the endorsement of the same on this policy by the company.

RISKS.—Suicide or death in consequence of violation of law, the insured being sane and within one year from the date hereof, are not risks assumed by the company, and such cases the liability of the company shall be limited to the amount of premiums received.

PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy will be deducted in any settlement thereof or any benefit thereunder. In the event of the death of the insured, any unpaid premiums for the then current policy year shall be deemed a policy indebtedness. No agent is authorized to make, modify or waive any provision of this contract of insurance, to extend the time for paying any premium, to arrange for the payment of the same, or to bind the company by making any promise or representation not expressed in this contract. This policy shall not become binding on the company until the first annual premium is actually paid during the lifetime and health of the insured; and the possession of this policy is not evidence that the first premium has been paid. In case of death from service in war without permission from the company, only the reserve on this policy at the time of the death will be paid.

RESIGNMENT PRIVILEGES.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured made no election, provided there is no assignment of the policy as shown by the records of the company, may elect to give notice upon the company's form, to have each thousand dollars of insurance on maturity of this policy by death paid to the beneficiary in annual installments as provided in the options below, subject to the following provisions:

PAID INSTALLMENT.—For each $1,000 payable at maturity.—Option 1. Ten annual payments of $116.17 each, amounting to $1,161.70. Option 2. Fifteen annual payments of $83.88 each, amounting to $1,258.20. Option 3. Twenty annual payments of $67.98 each, amounting to $1,359.60. Option 4. Payment of $10,000 the face of this policy in twenty equal annual installments and an additional payment of half the face amount $5000 in one sum twenty years after the payment of the last installment.

PERIODIC INSTALLMENTS.—The amount of the installments to be determined by the beneficiary's nearest birthday at the death of insured. Option 5. Twenty annual installments certain, but installments to continue during the lifetime of the insured and as shown by the following table for this option. If the beneficiary should die before the twenty installments have been paid, the remainder of the twenty installments will be paid to the estate of the beneficiary. Option 6. Annual installments to be paid during the life of the beneficiary and as shown by the following tables for this option.

Amount of each installment per $1,000 of insurance opposite attained age of insured at death of the insured.

The first installment under any option will be payable upon the acceptance of due proof of death of the insured and subsequent installments will be payable on the succeeding anniversaries.

The insured, or the beneficiary as before provided, at any time subsequent to such selection may change to any other installment option named, and may also revoke any selection made, thereby making the policy payable in one sum.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid installments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured, in writing, and endorsed on the policy by the company at its executive office during the lifetime of the insured.

In witness whereof, the Farmers National Life Insurance Company of America has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its executive offices in the city of Chicago, Illinois, this fifteenth day of March one thousand nine hundred thirteen.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that the company will incur no liability until this application has been approved by the company at its executive offices, Chicago, Illinois, and that the policy issued hereon shall not take effect until the first year's premium has been paid during my good health. I declare I am temperate in my habits, and have no diseases or ailments not fully stated in my medical examination and that all my statements and answers in this application and to the medical examiner are and will be, full and true and I agree that they shall be the basis of the contract of insurance issued hereon. I agree to complete the application within thirty days by taking a medical examination of the company's examiner, which examination is hereby made a part of this application. I agree to accept the policy named herein when the risk is accepted by the company.

Federal Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $362.20. AGE, 35—

Federal Life Insurance Company, Chicago, hereby insures the life of John Blank (hereinafter known as the insured), and agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, to Mary Blank, his wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns, upon receipt at its home office, in the city of Chicago, Illinois, of due proof of the death of the said insured, this policy being then in force.

This policy is issued with the express understanding that the insured may, provided that it has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries at any time during the continuance hereof by filing with the company a written request, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy, such change to take place upon the endorsement of the same hereon by the company. Without the consent of the beneficiary the insured may receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred on him by this policy.

OPTIONS OF SETTLEMENT AT END OF TWENTY YEARS.—(1st.) Surrender this policy and receive $5,661.50 plus any dividends then due and unpaid. (2d.) Surrender this policy and receive in lieu thereof a paid-up life policy for $10,000 and receive any dividends then due and unpaid in cash. (3d.) Surrender this policy and receive in lieu thereof an annual income of $140 for life, and receive any dividends then due and unpaid in cash.

This policy contains all the standard provisions required by the laws of Illinois and contains no provisions prohibited by such laws.

OPTIONS AND PROVISIONS.

PREMIUMS. WHEN AND WHERE PAYABLE.—All premiums after the first are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of Chicago or to suitable persons authorized to receive such premiums, at other places on or before the due dates, but only on the production of the company's receipt therefor, signed by its secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by the authorized person to whom the payment is made. Although this contract is based on the receipt of premiums annually in advance, the renewal premiums may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments, in advance, the amount of which will be named by the company on application. If any premium or part thereof be settled by the note of any person, and the same or interest thereon shall not be paid when due, or any premium or part of a premium shall not be paid when due or within the period of grace, this policy shall become void, except as otherwise herein provided, without notice to any person interested. In any settlement of this policy on account of the death of the insured or upon the payment of the cash surrender value hereof, any indebtedness hereon will be first deducted including any unpaid balance of premium for the current policy year.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after two years from the date of issue for the amount due except for non-payment of any premium, provided however that if the age was mis-stated in the application, then the company shall be liable for such an amount as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age.

Should death occur as a result of any illegal act or from suicide, sane or insane, intentional or unintentional, within two years from the date hereof, the liability of the company shall be limited to the premiums actually paid hereon.

GRACE IN THE PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) without interest, will be allowed for the payment of any premium hereon, except the first, and during such time this policy will continue in full force and effect.

AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—If any premium hereon shall not be paid when due or within the period of grace, prior request therefor having been made by the insured, the company shall charge the same as a loan with interest at not to exceed 6% per annum against this policy, if the loan value specified on the third page herein be sufficient to cover such loan in addition to the existing indebtedness and accrued interest, otherwise the company shall apply the available loan value to pay the premium for a proportionate period, and at any time while this policy is thus sustained in force the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical examination. This provision may be revoked by the insured in writing at any time prior to default in premium payment.

DIVIDENDS.—The proportion of surplus to which this policy may be entitled shall be provisionally calculated at the end of the third year and annually thereafter, and dividends shall be apportioned therefrom at the end of the fifth year and annually thereafter, and at the request of the insured may be used in any of the one following ways, viz.: (1) Applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (2) To purchase paid-insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy upon satisfactory evidence of good health, or (3) Left to accumulate to the credit of this policy with interest compounded annually at 3½% payable at the maturity of this policy but withdrawable at any time in cash upon thirty days' written notice to the company, or (4) Received in cash. In case no option is selected by the insured the dividend shall be paid in cash.

PREMIUMS MAY BE PAID UP WITH SURPLUS.—Whenever at the end of any policy year the surplus is sufficient to prepay all premiums, no further premiums will be required.

SURPLUS TO BE PAID IN EVENT OF DEATH.—In event of the death of the insured all surplus which has been apportioned as herein provided, and not withdrawn or applied, will be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the sum insured.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after any default, this policy will be reinstated upon written application therefor, subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and also subject to any indebtedness existing against the policy at the date of default with interest thereon and the payment of past due premiums with interest thereon at not to exceed 6% per annum.

ASSIGNMENT OF POLICY.—Any assignment hereof must be made in duplicate on blanks furnished by the company. Both duplicates, with the policy, must be sent to the home office, one to be there filed, the other attached to the policy, after which the policy will be returned. The claim of any assignee shall be subject to proof of interest, the company assuming no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

POLICY AND APPLICATION THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof taken together constitute the entire contract, which cannot be varied nor any of its terms waived except in writing endorsed hereon and signed by the president or secretary of the company at its home office, Chicago. The statements of the insured, in the absence of fraud, shall be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall void the contract unless contained in said application. No agent has authority to waive, modify or change any of the terms hereof or to deliver any policy contrary to its provisions or the agreements contained in the application hereof.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—Upon default in the payment of any premium after three full years' premiums shall have been paid in cash, and while this policy is in force the reserve value at the end of any policy year, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent (less a deduction in no case exceeding one per cent of the amount of the insurance hereunder and decreasing 1-10 of such deduction annually until the thirteenth year, after which there will be no such deduction), may be used at the option of the insured in any one of the following ways (all of equal value) as set forth in the following tables, provided there be no indebtedness against this policy.

OPTION 1.—Received in cash upon surrender of this policy before the expiration of the days of grace. (Column 1, table below.)

OPTION 2.—Applied to the purchase of paid-up non-participating insurance on written request and the surrender of this policy before the expiration of the days of grace. (Column 2, table below.)

OPTION 3.—Applied to the extension of this policy as non-participating term insurance from the date to which premiums have been paid in cash without any further payments and without the right to loans or cash surrender values. (Column 3, table below.) If no request has been made by the insured for the extension of this policy under the automatic non-forfeiture provisions thereof, and if no option has been exercised by the insured during the days of grace, this policy will be continued under option 3.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after premiums for three years shall have been paid hereon and while this policy is in full force, upon proper assignment thereof and execution of proper loan agreement by the insured on forms furnished by the company, the company will loan on the sole security thereof with interest at not to exceed six per cent per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, the whole or any part of the loan value of the policy, as hereinafter set forth in table below; provided that from such loan the company will deduct any indebtedness hereon and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or interest thereon, shall not render this policy void unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

The guaranteed values in the above tables will be increased by the equivalent of the full reserve on any dividend addition hereon.

The values for the years not specified in the tables will be the equivalent of the full reserve according to the above standard and will be furnished the insured upon written request, this policy being then in force. Should there be any indebtedness hereon to the company, the same will be deducted from the cash value and the amount of extended and paid-up insurance will be such as the reduced cash value will purchase at net cash premium rates.

If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, allowance will be made in computing benefits for that portion of a year's premium paid in addition to the full number of years' premiums paid.

INSTALMENT BENEFITS.—Without change of premium this policy, if not assigned, may be made payable in instalments of a definite number or in continuous instalments as provided in the table on the following page.

MONTHLY INSTALMENT PROVISION.—By request of the insured in writing the proceeds of this policy payable as a death benefit may be made in 240 instalments of $5.75 each for each $1,000 payable hereunder, the first one payable immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the said insured and one each on the first day of each successive month until 240 such instalments shall have been paid. In case the beneficiary at the time of the death of the said insured hereunder shall not live to receive all of the instalments the remaining instalments shall be commuted on the basis of three and half (3½) per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to the estate of the said beneficiary. This policy being for $10,000 the monthly instalments so payable hereunder would be $57.50 each.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and in consideration of the payment of three hundred sixty-two and ²⁰/₁₀₀ dollars, payable in advance, and in further consideration of the payment of a like amount on the seventeenth day of September in each and every year for nineteen years, or until the prior death of the insured. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

FREEDOM OF TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE.—This policy is absolutely free from restrictions as to occupation, residence, travel or place of death. No extra premium will be required from the insured for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

TABLE OF INSTALMENTS.—Upon written request of the insured made to the company at its home office at any time when this policy is not assigned, the insurance payable hereunder will be converted into instalments under one of the rights described below. And similarly the insured will be privileged to change the manner of payment from time to time, from one right to another, as shown below, or again have the policy made payable in one sum as originally provided. No change shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. After endorsement the policy will be returned to the insured. One instalment shall be paid immediately upon the maturity of this policy or upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, and annually thereafter till all are paid. Unpaid instalments can neither be assigned nor commuted by the beneficiary unless such right is given by the insured in writing to the beneficiary.

RIGHT No. 1.—In ten annual instalments of $116.20 each, amounting in all to $1,162.00.

RIGHT No. 2.—In fifteen annual instalments of $83.90 each, amounting in all to $1,258.50.

RIGHT No. 3.—In twenty annual instalments of $68.00 each, amounting in all to $1,360.00.

RIGHT No. 4.—In twenty-five annual instalments of $58.60 each, amounting in all to $1,465.00.

RIGHT No. 5.—In annual instalments to continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, the amount of each instalment to be as shown below, based on the age of the beneficiary at the birthday last preceding the death of the insured. Should the beneficiary die before twenty such payments shall have been made, the company will pay to the estate of the insured or of the beneficiary as requested, or to a second beneficiary if one be nominated by the insured, a sufficient number of instalments to make twenty in all; and when so paid this policy shall be surrendered to the company and be deemed satisfied in full.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

that no statements, promises, representations, notice or information made by or to the person soliciting or taking this application or by or to any other all be binding on said Federal Life Insurance Company or in any manner affect its rights unless the same be reduced to writing, made a part of this application and approved in writing by the president, vice-president or secretary of said company.

PART II.—I hereby authorize any physician to disclose to the said Federal Life Insurance Company, its successors or assigns, any facts or information communicated to him or acquired by him as my physician or in any other manner; and I expressly waive any and all provisions of law now existing, or that may hereafter exist, exempting or prohibiting any physician from disclosing any facts acquired in a professional capacity as otherwise, or rendering any such physician incompetent as a witness. I agree that each and all of the statements and answers contained in this application, consisting of Parts I and II, are full, true and complete in every respect, and are offered to said company as a consideration for a contract of insurance, which shall not take effect until the policy shall have been actually delivered to me and the first premium shall have been actually paid during my life and while I am in good health. I further agree, that my distribution of surplus or dividends on any policy issued hereunder, shall be in accordance with the plan and method then in use by said company for such distribution, and its determination of any and all distributions under said policy shall be and hereby is ratified and accepted by me and by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under said policy. In case any premium shall not be paid when due I hereby authorize the company to charge the same as a loan against the policy according to its terms, unless otherwise requested by me in writing prior to the due date of such premium. I hereby certify, that before signing I have read each and all of the above questions, statements, answers and agreements in this Part II of my application.

Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $374.90. AGE,

The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay (face amount of) ten thousand dollars (beneficiary) to Mary Doe, wife of insured (with the right on the part of the insured to change beneficiary as hereinafter provided) upon receipt, at its head office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., of due proof of the death, when this policy is in force, (insured) of John Doe.

This contract is made in consideration of the application of above-named insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and the payment to said company the delivery of this policy, of (premium) three hundred, seven and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars (premium date) and a like sum upon each fifteenth day of January thereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

INCONTESABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premium.

There are no restrictions under this policy as to residence, trade, occupation or military or naval service. The benefits, conditions and provisions stated on the second, third and fourth pages hereof are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary at its head office in Philadelphia, Pa., this fifteenth day of January, 1914.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Every premium is due and payable at the head office of the company in the city of Philadelphia, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the date when due upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president and treasurer of the company and countersigned by said agent. The premiums are payable annually in advance, but by request in writing, and not otherwise, may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly instalments. Except as herein provided, payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment of premium.

DAYS OF GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days will be granted for the payment of a premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If insured shall die within the days of grace, the amount of such premium together with unpaid instalments of premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company annually. Upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and each subsequent policy year while this policy is in force, the company will determine and apportion the divisible surplus accruing hereon. The owner of this policy shall, each year on the premium date specified on the first page hereof, have the right to elect dividend arising from such participation either (a) paid in cash, or (b) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (c) applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to this policy, or (d) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, at such rate of interest as the company may declare on such funds, but not more than 3 per cent, compounded and credited annually, and payable at the maturity of the policy or withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of the policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of written notice requiring the election of one of the four options recited above, the dividend shall be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to this policy. Any outstanding paid-up additions may be surrendered at any time for a cash value which shall not be less than the original cash dividend.

POLICY LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums shall have been paid and while this policy is in force the company will advance upon proper assignment of the policy and upon the sole security thereof, a sum which, together with interest to the end of the current policy year, and any unpaid portion of the premiums for the current policy year, and all other indebtedness hereon to the company, shall not exceed the cash surrender value of this policy at the end of the current policy year. Interest on such advance shall be at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable annually on the premium date specified on first page hereof, and any interest not paid when due shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Any advance with accrued interest may be repaid whole or in part at any time while this policy is in force. The granting of any advance may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor, unless the advance be solely for the purpose of paying premium on other policies in the company. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the to whom the advance was made and of the insured and of the assignee, if any; of record at the head office of the company.

This table shows the maximum values at end of policy years if premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated and if there are no outstanding dividends nor any indebtedness to the company under this policy. Loans may be obtained during policy years as herein provided. Values not stated will be furnished on application to the head office.

BENEFITS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid, the owner at any time within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, may surrender this policy: (a) For its cash surrender value less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (b) for participating paid-up insurance payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy, with the right to loans and cash values computed in accordance with the provisions contained in the "Basis of Values" section, or (c) if the policy be not surrendered as above, the insurance shall be automatically continued for the face amount of this policy for such a term as is hereinafter provided, but without the right to participation in surplus, loans or cash surrender value.

BASIS OF VALUES.—The cash surrender value shall be at least equal to the entire reserve on this policy at date of default plus the reserve on any paid-up additions thereto, and any dividends standing to the credit of this policy, less a surrender charge during the first twenty years only, not exceeding 2 and one-half per cent of the sum insured. The reserve shall be computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at 3 per cent, and on the select and ultimate basis which assumes that the rates of mortality during the first five policy years will be the following percentages of the rates shown by the American Experience Table, to wit, first insurance year 50 per cent, second insurance year 65 per cent, third insurance year 75 per cent, fourth insurance year 85 per cent, and fifth insurance year 95 per cent.

The amount of paid-up insurance, or the term for which the insurance will be continued, shall be such as the cash surrender value less any indebtedness to the company hereon will purchase as a net single premium at the age of the insured at date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at 3 per cent. The payment of the surrender value in cash may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor.

MATURING AS ENDOWMENT.—After twenty full annual premiums shall have been paid as herein provided the insured may continue thereafter to pay such annual premiums until such time as the additional premiums, with interest at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, compounded annually, together with the reserve upon the policy and upon any paid-up additions hereto, shall equal the face amount of the policy, at which time the company will, upon surrender of the policy and all paid-up additions, pay to the insured said face amount of the policy in cash. If the insured shall die before the maturity of this policy as an endowment as herein provided, all such additional premiums paid, with interest thereon at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, compounded annually, shall be paid to the beneficiary hereunder in addition to the sum insured hereunder and any paid-up additions hereto. If the insured shall continue the payment of premiums after twenty years as herein provided, and there are no paid-up additions hereto, this policy will mature as an endowment on the fifteenth day of April 1941, and prior thereto if there are any paid-up additions. If the policy be surrendered for its cash value after twenty annual premiums shall have been paid and before maturity hereunder as an endowment, the additional premiums paid, with interest thereon at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, compounded annually, will be paid in addition to such cash surrender value.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation the insured, while this policy is in force and if there be no existing assignment, may designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof with the company accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect when endorsed on the policy by the company, and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise expressly specified in this policy.

REVIVAL.—This policy may be revived at any time within three years from date of default in payment of premium, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all over-due premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy, with interest at a rate not exceeding 6 per cent per annum.

Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
 AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $374.90. AGE, 35.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay (face amount of policy) ten thousand dollars (beneficiary) to Mary Doe, wife of the insured (with the right on the part of the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided) upon receipt, at its head office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., of due proof of the death, while this policy is in force, (insured) of John Doe.

This contract is made in consideration of the application of the above-named insured, a copy of which is attached hereto and made a part of this contract, and the payment to said company on the delivery of this policy, of (premium) three hundred, seventy-four and $\frac{90}{100}$ dollars (premium date) and a like sum upon each fifteenth day of January thereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue except for non-payment of premiums.

There are no restrictions under this policy as to residence, travel, occupation or military or naval service. If the insured shall die within the days of grace, the amount of such premium together with any unpaid instalments of premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company annually. Upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and each subsequent policy year while this policy is in force, the company will determine and apportion the divisible surplus accruing hereon. The owner of this policy shall have the right, each year on the premium date specified on the first page hereof, to have the current dividend arising from such participation either (a) paid in cash, or (b) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (c) applied to the purchase of a participating paid-up addition to this policy, or (d) left to accumulate to the credit of this policy, at such rate of interest as the company may declare on such funds, but not less than 3 per cent, compounded and credited annually, and payable at the maturity of this policy or withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four options recited above, the dividend shall be applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to this policy. Any outstanding paid-up additions may be surrendered at any time for a cash value which shall not be less than the original cash dividend.

POLICY LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums shall have been paid and while this policy is in force the company will advance upon proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, a sum which, together with interest to the end of the current policy year, and any unpaid portion of the premiums for the current policy year and all other indebtedness hereon to the company, shall not exceed the cash surrender value of this policy at the end of the current policy year. Interest on such advances will be at the rate of 6 per cent per annum, payable annually on the premium date specified on first page hereof, and any interest not paid when due shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Any advance with accrued interest may be repaid in whole or in part at any time while this policy is in force. The granting of any advance may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding ninety days after receipt of application therefor, unless the advance be solely for the purpose of paying premiums on policies in the company. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, not until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the person whom the advance was made and of the insured and of the assignee, if any, of record at the head office of the company.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be revived at any time within three years from date of default in payment of premium, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all over-due premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy, with interest at a rate not exceeding 6 per cent per annum.

FIVE-YEAR NON-RENEWABLE CONVERTIBLE TERM POLICY.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $131.30. AGE, 35.

The Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Philadelphia, Pa., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars upon receipt at its head office in the city of Philadelphia of due proof of the death of John Doe, of Philadelphia, county of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania (the insured under this policy), to his wife, Mary Doe, or if the insured survive the aforesaid beneficiary to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured, subject to all the requirements, privileges and provisions stated on the following pages, which are conditions precedent, and are a material part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

This contract is made in consideration of the written application of the above-named insured, which is made a part hereof, a copy of which is hereto attached, and the payment in advance to said company of one hundred thirty-one and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars on the delivery of this policy, and thereafter to the company at its head office in the city of Philadelphia, upon the first day of the month of February in every year during the life of the above-named insured for the period of five years.

This policy expires at twelve o'clock noon on the first day of February, 1918, but may be exchanged at any time while in force for a policy of equal amount on another plan, as provided on the second page hereof.

In witness whereof, the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance Company has caused the signatures of its president and treasurer to be affixed, at its head office in Philadelphia, attested by its secretary, this first day of February, 1913.

For requirements, privileges and provisions as to change of beneficiary, assignment, days of grace, incontestability, limitations, payment of premiums and instalment privilege, see preceding policy with necessary modifications as to payment of premiums $67.00 semi-annually or $34.80 quarterly.

Except when this policy is valued on the select and ultimate basis, as herein provided, the insurance hereunder for the first year is term insurance, and upon payment of the second and subsequent annual premiums the policy is continued as a four-year term policy at an age one year greater than the age of actual issue. The select and ultimate method of valuation herein referred to is on the basis that the rate of mortality during the first five years after issuance of the policy shall be calculated according to the following percentages of the rates shown by the American Experience Table of Mortality, to wit, first insurance year fifty per cent thereof, second insurance year sixty-five per cent thereof, third insurance year seventy-five per cent thereof, fourth insurance year eighty-five per cent thereof, and fifth insurance year ninety-five per cent thereof.

PARTICIPATION IN SURPLUS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company annually. Upon payment of the second year's premium and at the end of the second and each subsequent policy year while this policy is in force, the company will determine and apportion the divisible surplus accruing hereon. The owner of this policy shall have the right, each year on the premium date specified on the first page hereof, to have the current dividend arising from such participation either (a) paid in cash, or (b) applied to the payment of any premium or premiums, or (c) left to accumulate to the credit of this policy at such rate of interest as the company may declare on such funds, but not less than three per cent, compounded and credited annually, and payable at the maturity of this policy or withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the three options recited above, the dividend shall be paid in cash.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be revived at any time within three years from date of default in payment of premiums upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all over-due premiums and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon this policy with interest at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum.

CONVERTIBLE OPTIONS.—Upon the surrender of this policy at any time while in force, it may be exchanged, without medical examination, for a policy of equal amount on any full rate participating life, limited payment or endowment plan issued by the company, by payment of premium for attained age then in use by the company on plan selected; or, upon surrender at any time within five years from the date hereof, and payment of the difference between the premiums paid on this policy and those which would have been paid on such other plan, with five per cent interest, this policy may be exchanged without medical examination, for a policy of equal amount on any such other plan, and the new policy will be treated as if issued at the same date as this policy. Such difference in premiums and interest may be carried as a loan against the new policy to the extent of the loan value stated therein as of the date of exchange.

National Life and Accident Insurance Co.

NON-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED ACCUMULATIVE.
F, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

National Life and Accident Insurance Company, Pierre, agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to his wife, Mary Doe, or any or to such beneficiary or beneficiaries as may have designated in the manner herein provided, upon receipt at the office of the company at Pierre, S. D., of due proofs of death, during the continuance of this policy, of John Doe, of the State of South Dakota, the insured, less all indebtedness of the company on this policy or secured thereby, together with unpaid premium or portion of premium for the then current year.

Insured, if living on the first day of January, 1932, may obtain a full discharge of the company's obligation hereunder, by exercising the options designated on the second page of this contract. This policy is issued in consideration of the application therefor, the receipt of which is endorsed hereon, and the sum of three hundred and thirty-three and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and the payment of a like sum on or before the first day of January in every year until twenty full years' premium shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for the non-payment of premiums and as otherwise provided in this policy.

RIGHT OF BENEFICIARY.—Where the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved by assignment of this policy exists, the insured may, from time to time, change the beneficiary named herein, whether original or substituted, without his or her consent, provided that any proposed beneficiary shall have an insurable interest in the insured. The right, however, is given the insured to surrender said policy and receive the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable, in which event the insured shall not have the right to change that beneficiary without his or her consent. Any change or irrevocable designation must be made by filing a written notice at the home office of the company, and shall not take effect until endorsed by the president or secretary of the company.

The proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the insured, or to his or her heirs, administrators or assigns of the insured. The conditions, benefits and privileges, written and printed on the following pages, shall be made a part of this policy as fully as if they were recited at length over the hereunto affixed.

STATE OF SOUTH DAKOTA.—I,, insurance commissioner of the State of South Dakota, hereby certify that, as required by law, approved securities equal in value to the legal reserve value are on deposit with the State of South Dakota as security for the policy.

I further certify that in addition to the above mentioned deposit approved securities amounting to at least $100,000 are kept on deposit with the State of South Dakota for the further security and benefit of all policyholders of this company.

In my hand and the official seal of the insurance department of the State of South Dakota, at Pierre, S. D., this.... day of, A. D. 191

BENEFITS, PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in Pierre, S. D., but may be paid to an agent of the company authorized to receive such payments in exchange for the company's receipt therefor signed by the president, secretary or treasurer and countersigned by said agent. Failure to pay any premium, when due, will void this policy without further notice. All premiums shall be paid in advance, but they may be paid semi-annually or quarterly. The company's published rates therefor if the insured shall in writing change; but no premium or instalment thereof shall continue the policy beyond the period for which said payment is made. After this policy shall be in force one year, a grace of one month in payment of premium will be allowed, an interest charge not in excess of six per cent per annum for the days of grace, and during the period of grace this policy will remain in force, but if the insured during said period the overdue premium will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

REDEMPTION OPTIONS.—After the premiums have been paid on this policy in advance for a period of three years, the insured may avail himself, within thirty days after the date of the payment of a subsequent premium, of one of the following options: (a) To surrender the policy in each case to the accompanying table of values: (a) To surrender the policy, properly assigned, and receive its value in cash. The company may defer the payment of such cash surrender value for not exceeding six months application therefor is made. (h) To exchange this policy for a paid-up policy at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for such an amount cash value, less any indebtedness thereon or secured thereby, would purchase single premium at the attained age of the insured. At no time shall a paid-up be granted, the amount of which is in excess of the face value of this policy. (i) The insured shall furnish evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. (j) The insurance continue in force from the due date last past for its face amount, out the right to loans, for such term as the cash value, less any indebtedness or secured thereby, will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured. Unless the holder within thirty days from default shall surrender for cash, or elect, by a writing filed with the company at its home office, to the B, this insurance will be binding upon the company from the date of default any further stipulation or act, as provided in Option C.

TWENTIETH YEAR OPTIONS.—At the end of the twenty years the insured if there shall be no indebtedness to the company, in lieu of all other benefits one of the following options: (1) A cash payment of $8500. (2) A paid-up $15,010, provided the insured shall furnish evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. (3) An annuity of $656.20 payable annually during the natural life of the insured, upon each succeeding anniversary date of the policy. (4) A paid-up for $10,000 and an annuity of $210.30 payable annually during the natural life of the insured. (5) A paid-up policy for $10,000 and a cash payment of $2540.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of default of premium payments on this policy be reinstated at any time within three years from date of default, upon the evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of due premiums, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, and the reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company, with interest at said rate, provided the cash value has not been duly paid, or used in the payment of premiums, or the period of extended insurance has not expired.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed from the American Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent on the year's insurance provided herein is term insurance.

LOANS.—After three full annual premiums have been paid, the company upon the sole security of this policy, while continued in force and properly up to the limit secured by the specified cash and loan values at the end of year within which application for the loan is made. The rate of interest on such loan shall not exceed six per cent per annum, and if such interest be not paid when due shall be added to the principal until the limit of said cash surrender value has been reached, whereupon, if then the interest be not paid, the policy shall become null and void until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the known address of the insured, and of the assignee, if any, of record at the time of the company.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the event of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statements shall be used in defense of a claim upon it, unless contained in the written application hereon endorsed. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the actual premium paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

If the insured shall die by his own act, whether sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, it shall be null and void, but in such case the company shall pay the net premium payments made thereon.

Military or naval service, in time of war, are permissible only at the option of the company, for which an extra premium may be charged.

POWERS OF OFFICERS.—No one except the president, a vice-president or a director of the company has power in behalf of the company to make or modify this policy, to extend the time for paying any premium, to waive any forfeiture, or to bind the company by making any promises, or by accepting any representation or information contained in the application for this policy. These powers will not be delegated to any other officer or agent of the company.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. The claim of any assignee shall be subject to the claim of the insured, and no assignment shall be valid if it be for the purpose of insurable interest.

OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, if the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company or its office, elect to have the net one sum payable under this policy, upon the death of the insured, paid either in cash, or as follows: (1) By the payment of equal instalments, for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the table printed on the fourth page of this policy. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments, the first instalment being payable immediately, at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years, and for years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the printed instalment payments. (3) By the payment of an annuity equal to three and one-half per cent of one sum, payable at the end of year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, upon the death of the beneficiary, of the said one sum, with any accrued portion of the annuity for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns. Any sum payable under (1) or (2) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the legal representatives or assigns. In case of election of instalments, if the beneficiary is the widow or minor child of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be held by the company as trustee, in trust to pay the instalments, free from all claims of creditors, interference, and control of the creditors of the insured.

DISABILITY.—After one full annual payment shall have been made, and before the insured is in the payment of any subsequent premium, and before the insured shall have reached the age of sixty years, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become totally disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously, and wholly prevented thereby, for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupation, by an indorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the period of such disability. In any such case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien upon this policy, and the values of this policy, in the schedule as given above, shall in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall terminate, and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this policy at premium due date following such recovery.

—As a consideration for the issuance of a policy of insurance by The First Life and Accident Insurance Company of Pierre, South Dakota, upon the within application, I hereby represent that the statements and answers as written or printed in Part 2 of this application are full, complete and true, and agree that any untruth or concealment shall render the policy wholly void, and that there is no contract of insurance until this application has been accepted and approved by any duly authorized officials, I promise not to engage in active naval or military service during the time of war without the written consent of an executive officer of this company, or to pay such additional premium therefor as the company may determine. I agree to submit to a regular Medical Examiner of the company and to submit to examination with-

—I hereby further declare, that I am the identical person described above; that I have read and understand all the above questions put to me by the medical examiner and the answers thereto, and that each and every one of said answers is full, complete and true. I also hereby authorize any and all physicians, who may have attended or been consulted by me or who may hereafter attend or be consulted by me, to disclose any and all information acquired by such consultation or attendance, and I hereby expressly waive any and all provisions of law forbidding any person to disclose any such information. I further declare and agree that the statements contained in my application shall be the basis and become part of any policy of insurance issued by this company shall issue hereunder; that no information or statement not contained in my application received or made at any time by any person, shall be binding upon the company; and that the company is not responsible for the preparation of the policy applied for or for anything contained therein, or omitted therefrom. I further agree that the policy applied for shall be of a form now in use by the company, and that the policy contained in such policy and my application shall be construed according to the laws of the state of South Dakota, it being understood and agreed that the place of contract is the home office of the company, at Pierre, S. D.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—COUPON REDUCTION.AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

The general provisions of this policy are identical with those of the Guaranteed Accumulative mentioned above.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION COUPONS.—This policy is issued on the Guaranteed Premium Reduction Plan, and if kept in force by the payment of premiums in cash the company guarantees that the amounts payable hereunder shall be as shown on the coupons hereto attached.

If the insured shall elect to pay all premiums in full, without reduction, and leave with the company the amounts represented by the coupons on this policy, the company guarantees that this policy will be fully paid up after paying the premiums in cash for fourteen full years and delivering all attached coupons to the company.

In case the insured shall elect to leave the coupons to make this a fully paid-up policy in fourteen years and dies while this policy is in force, but before it is fully paid up, as above provided, all the coupons bearing date prior to said death shall be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum in addition to the sum insured. In case the insured shall not elect as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, leave said coupons with the company, the same shall be payable, on presentation at any time, with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum for each full year such coupons are left with the company.

In event of default of any premium payment, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, if there be any attached coupons that have become due, the value of such coupons, with interest, will be added to the cash paid-up, or automatic extended term insurance as provided in the table of values of Policy No. to which this is attached, and made a part thereof.

The guaranteed values and settlement options under this contract are as follows:

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING
 AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $314.50. AGE, 35.

First National Life Assurance Society of America (hereinafter called the company), Tacoma, Wash., hereby insures the life of Thomas G. Brevans, hereinafter called the insured, of Tacoma, State of Washington, and immediately after receipt of due proofs of death of said insured, while this policy is in force, agrees to pay Eva D. Brevans, wife (hereinafter called the beneficiary), the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness due the company hereon.

STATE OF WASHINGTON—DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE, OLYMPIA.—I,, do hereby certify that I am the Commissioner of Insurance of the State of Washington, and that the First National Life Assurance Society of America, a corporation located at Tacoma, Wash., has made and maintains, with the State Treasurer, through this department, a deposit of securities in an amount equal to the full legal reserve on its policies; that said deposit is held in trust for the policyholders of the company, and consists of approved securities of the class contemplated and permitted by section twenty-three of the Insurance Code, and that I am satisfied such securities are within the values required by law.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the official seal of the insurance department of the State of Washington, this ... day of 19

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premium and except for military or naval service in time of war, without a permit first being obtained from the company. Suicide, whether sane or insane, within one year from date hereof, is not a risk covered hereby for an amount greater than the actual cash premiums paid hereon.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon has actually been paid in cash during the good health of the insured.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount of insurance payable hereunder shall be the amount which the premium would have purchased at the premium rate for the correct age.

CONTRACT AND APPLICATION.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the company and the insured. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defense to a claim hereunder unless such statement is contained in the written application herefor, a copy of which application is attached hereto.

ALTERATIONS.—Any alteration or modifications of this contract must be made in writing and be signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company. Any indebtedness hereon with interest at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum, shall be paid in cash or will be allowed to remain as a loan on the policy, if less than the loan value at date of reinstatement.

BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred on the insured by this policy, including the right to change the beneficiary by written notice to the company on the company's form, such change to take effect, however, only upon endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company. If the last nominated beneficiary shall not survive the insured, the sum insured shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company, unless a certified copy thereof be filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

TOTAL DISABILITY CLAUSE.—After one full annual payment shall have been made and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if satisfactory proof shall be furnished that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years, has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease, and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this contract on the first premium due date following such recovery.

LOAN VALUE.—At any time after the end of the second policy year and while this policy is in full force, the owner hereof may borrow from the company on the sole security of this policy, properly assigned to and deposited with the company, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner hereof, less than, the entire reserve hereon at the end of the then current policy year, as specified in column 1 of the table on the third page hereof; provided, however, any indebtedness hereon and unpaid premiums for the then current policy year will first be deducted. The company will furnish the form for the assignment required hereunder and upon completion of the loan will issue its official certificate of deposit of the policy. Interest at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the then current policy year, and thereafter be payable annually in advance. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not ... policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed reserve hereon, nor until at least one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any is recorded on.

THIS POLICY IS NON-FORFEITABLE FROM DATE OF ISSUE, AS FOLLOWS:

GRACE PERIOD.—If any premium due hereon during the second policy year is not paid on or before the date when due, the insurance will continue in force from such due date for the term of one month (not less than thirty days); if any premium due hereon during the third policy year is not paid on or before the date when due, the insurance will continue in force from such due date for the term of three months; if any premium due on or after the third policy year is not paid on or before the date when due, the insurance will continue in force from such due date for the term of one month (not less than thirty days); during which term the payment of the overdue premium will be accepted, subject to interest charge at a rate not to exceed six per centum per annum.

CASH VALUE—PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE—EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—After full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon the insured's written request and surrender of this policy within the period of grace, the cash value hereof will be paid the amount specified in column 1 of the table on the third page hereof; or the insured will be entitled to a paid-up life policy payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy, for the amount specified in column 2 of the table on the third page hereof; or the insured shall be entitled to an extended term insurance policy for the full face of his policy, the term of which is specified in column 3 of the table on the third page hereof. The amounts of the cash values and paid-up life insurance and the term of the extended insurance shall be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy, at the time of default, without any surrender charge, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum. A guaranteed surrender option has been chosen by the insured, as above provided, in the period of grace after default in payment of premium, the company will, without cost, on the part of the insured, apply to this policy the paid-up life insurance option shown in column 2 of the table on the third page hereof.

METHODS OF PAYMENT OF DEATH BENEFIT.—The face of this policy, unless otherwise directed by the insured, will be paid in one sum as provided on page one hereof. The insured, however, during his lifetime, or the beneficiary after the death of the insured, if the insured has made no selection, may, if this policy is not then assigned, and upon request to the company on the proper form, change the method of payment hereof, by selecting any one of the benefits shown on page four hereof.

on-forfeiture values for this policy for years not included above will be equal or equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy, and semi-annual or quarterly premiums paid in addition to payments for entire policy years will cause an increase in the above values. All forfeiture values hereon are in excess of any legal requirements.

This policy is issued in consideration of the application hereof, and in further consideration of the sum of three hundred fourteen ($140) dollars premium in advance, for one year's term insurance, and the further payment of a like amount on or before the tenth day of January in each year hereafter, until twenty full years' premiums in all have been paid or until the prior death of insured.

In witness whereof, the First National Life Assurance Society of America has caused this policy to be signed by its president or vice-president and secretary, at its office in the city of Tacoma, Wash., this fifteenth day of January, 1914.

BENEFIT ONE. TRUST FUND.—The amount insured, or any portion thereof not less than one thousand ($1000) dollars, may be left during the lifetime of the beneficiary, in trust with the company, and the company will annually pay interest thereon at the rate of three and one-half per centum per annum, so long as the said amount insured or said portion thereof remains with the company. The said trust fund will be paid at the death of the beneficiary to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary, and may be withdrawn at any time with accrued interest, unless the company is otherwise directed in the request selecting this benefit. The trust fund privilege may not be selected if the beneficiary under this policy be a corporation or a firm.

BENEFIT TWO. ANNUAL INCOME FOR NUMBER OF YEARS STATED.—The following table is for each $1000 of the amount insured. To find the annual income on this policy multiply the annual income per $1000 shown in the table by the number of thousands insured by this policy:

NUMBER OF YEARS.....	30	25	20*	15	10	5	4	3	2

*ILLUSTRATION.—If an annual income for twenty years is selected, the amount of each annual payment will be sixty-eight ($68.00) dollars for each one thousand dollars insured by this policy.

Any term of years shown in the above table may be selected.

The first income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of death of the insured, and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

BENEFIT THREE. MONTHLY INCOME DURING LIFETIME OF BENEFICIARY.—The following table is for each $5000 of the amount insured. To find the monthly income on this policy multiply the monthly income for each $5000 shown in the table by the number of times five thousand insured by this policy. Two hundred and forty monthly payments at least, will be paid, in any event, covering a period of twenty years, and the monthly income will continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, should the beneficiary survive said period of twenty years.

*ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary shall be thirty years of age last birthday, the amount of each monthly payment under this policy will be nineteen dollars and twenty cents ($19.20) for every five thousand dollars insured by this policy, said monthly income continuing for at least twenty years and as much longer as the beneficiary shall survive.

The first monthly income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of death of the insured and succeeding incomes on the first day of each month thereafter. This benefit may not be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, nor if the amount insured hereby is less than two thousand five hundred ($2,500) dollars.

GENERAL.—The insured may at any time change his selection of the "Methods of Payment of death benefit" under this policy; the insured may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. If, upon the selection of benefit two or benefit three above, the beneficiary shall die before all the payments due thereunder have been made, the remainder of said payments will continue to be paid as selected by the insured under this policy, or, if the insured has made no such selection, will be commuted at three and one-half per centum compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If the insured so directs during his lifetime, the beneficiary may neither assign nor commute any payments hereunder before same are due. No selection, change or revocation of any one of the above benefits shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

* Adopted January 1, 1909.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Florida Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $317.80. AGE, 34.

Florida Life Insurance Company, Jacksonville, Fla., promises to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in Jacksonville, Fla., upon the receipt and approval of satisfactory proofs of the death of John Doe, hereinafter referred to as the insured, of Jacksonville, county of Duval, State of Florida, while this policy is in force, to Mary Doe, wife of insured, (hereinafter referred to as the beneficiary) if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, subject to any change of beneficiary as provided on the third page hereof.

This policy is issued in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application and medical examination which are hereby made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred seventeen and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars in advance, being the premium for one year term insurance for one year from the date hereof; upon the payment in advance of a like amount each year for nineteen years on or before the 29th day of January as a renewal premium, the insured may continue this policy after the first insurance year without medical re-examination as a nineteen payment life policy in conformity with the requirements hereof.

The privileges, conditions and provisions set forth on the following pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto attached.

Dated at Jacksonville, Fla., this twenty-ninth day of January, 1909.

PRIVILEGES, CONDITIONS AND PROVISIONS.

1. TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION.—From the date of issue this contract shall be without restriction as to travel, residence and occupation.

2. INCONTESTABILITY.—Suicide, whether the insured be sane or insane, is a risk not assumed by the company during the first year of this policy. With this exception the policy will be incontestable from any cause from the date of its issue provided the premiums required have been duly paid.

3. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse for non-payment of premiums within three years from the date of its issue, it may at any time be reinstated upon the insured furnishing satisfactory evidence of good health, and the payment of past due premiums and any indebtedness with five per cent interest thereon.

4. AUTOMATICALLY NON-FORFEITABLE.—If after three years from the issue of this policy any premium hereon shall not be paid when due, the same shall be charged against the policy as a loan at five per cent interest if the loan value be sufficient to provide for it after deducting existing loans and accrued interest. If after deducting same the balance is not sufficient to cover one annual premium, a premium for a shorter period but not less than a quarterly premium shall be charged. Notice of such advance shall be mailed to the insured, and at any time while this policy is thus kept in force the payment of premiums may be resumed.

5. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy has been in force one year, thirty days of grace will be allowed on payment of premiums, without interest, during which time this policy will remain in force for the full amount. An additional thirty days will be granted the insured upon application, with five per cent interest.

6. TOTAL DISABILITY.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured shall and whenever required furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled, and will be permanently, continually and wholly disabled for life, by bodily injuries or disease from pursuing any and all gainful occupation, the company by an endorsement in writing upon the contract, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any such case the paid-up values shall increase in like manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation for wages or profit during the lifetime of the insured or has the ability to pay, the obligation on his part to make payment of premiums in accordance with the contract shall recommence, but only from date of recovery, with the same force and effect as if this provision were not contained herein.

7. PAID-UP AND EXTENDED INSURANCE.—At any time after this policy has been in force three full years the company will grant upon application to it and the legal surrender of this policy, non-participating paid-up life insurance for the amount stated in the table below of paid-up insurance opposite the full number of years for which premiums have been paid or a non-participating paid-up insurance for the full amount of the original policy for a term of years shown in the same line in the table below, provided that application for three options be made within sixty days from the date of the non-payment of premium.

8. LOANS.—After this policy has been in force three full years and while it is still in full force and effect, upon written application by the insured and legal assignment of this policy to the company as collateral security, the company will loan thereon the amount of the loan value as specified in the table below; any indebtedness to the company being first deducted. The company will charge five per cent interest on all loans in advance.

9. CASH VALUES.—After this policy has been in force three full years and while still in force, upon written application by the insured and legal surrender of this policy, the company will pay therefor the amount stated in the table of cash values for the end of the last year for which complete annual premiums have been paid, less any indebtedness to the company.

Figures for later years will be supplied upon request. Should any indebtedness exist it shall be deducted from the cash value of this policy and the other values shall be diminished proportionately.

10. INSTALLMENT OPTION.—The insured may change the mode of payment of policy as a death claim, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum to payment by annual instalments, as stated below. The following table is based upon a policy of $1000 and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this policy, provided the amount is not less than $1000. These instalments do not apply to a policy for less than $1000, which is payable on one sum only.

11. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change the beneficiary at any time upon written application to the company, provided this policy has not been assigned. No change of beneficiary shall take effect until endorsed on the policy by the company at the home office.

12. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company on or before the date when due, upon production of premium receipts signed by the president or secretary. Upon failure to pay any of the premiums within the grace period herein allowed, except as herein provided, this contract shall be null and void and all payments hereunder shall be forfeited to the company. If the premiums under this policy are paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments the balance of any premiums necessary to complete the policy year will be deducted from the amount of any claim hereunder.

13. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless made in the form prescribed by the company and a duplicate filed with it, the original being attached to this policy. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

14. MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured be misstated the amount payable under this policy shall be the amount of insurance which the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

15. POLICY AND APPLICATION, THE ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, and the statements made to the medical examiner, taken together, constitute the entire contract, which cannot be altered, varied or modified, except in writing, duly signed by the president or secretary of the company by authority of the board of directors.

* Adopted October 1, 1914.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5,000.

Fort Worth Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $304.50. AGE, 35.

The Fort Worth Life Insurance Company, of Fort Worth, Tex., hereby agree to pay ten thousand dollars at its home office in Fort Worth, Tex., immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of Andrew Jackson, Fort Worth, Texas, the insured, provided this policy is then in force, to Rachael Jackson, wife (the beneficiary), if living, otherwise to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns. The beneficiary may be changed at any time by the insured (if this policy be not then assigned), upon written application to the company, accompanied by this policy and endorsement of the change hereon.

This policy is incontestable after one year from date, if all premiums have been duly paid.

This policy is free from conditions as to residence, travel and occupation, and no extra premium will be required for military or naval service.

THE STATE OF TEXAS. Austin, 19

This policy is registered and approved securities equal in value to the legal reserve on are held in trust by the commissioner of insurance and banking of the State of Texas.

CASH LOANS AFTER THE FIRST YEAR.—The insured is entitled to cash loans on the sole basis of this policy at the end of the first or at any time after the end of the second year, if premiums are fully paid in cash to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made, upon executing a proper loan agreement and assignment of this policy on which is provided by the company and the policy deposited with the company, or the amount of the loan endorsed hereon by the company. The aggregate of all loans or indebtedness on this company account this policy shall not exceed the sum stated as loan value in the table of guaranteed values for the end of the policy year last completed. The loan shall bear interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable in advance. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not void the policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed its loan value.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium or premium note after payment of premiums for three full years, then, on the legal end of this policy to the company at its home office within sixty days from the date of such default:

CASH VALUE.—Pay the cash value named in table of guaranteed values, less any indebtedness to the company hereon; or

PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—Issue the insured in place hereof a paid-up non-participating life policy; or PAID-UP TERM INSURANCE.—Issue the insured in place hereof a full-paid non-participating term insurance policy, of the face amount hereof, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The duration of the paid-up term insurance, to be reckoned from the date of the unpaid premium, and the amount of the paid-up life policy under the above provisions, provided there be no indebtedness hereon, is shown in the table of guaranteed values. Any indebtedness against this policy will operate to decrease the paid-up life policy and the duration of the paid-up term insurance. In case of default in the payment of premium due at an intermediate period the non-forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired. The cash values after the twentieth policy year will be the full reserve of this policy.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—This policy is non-lapsable after three years' premiums have been paid, as follows: In the event the insured fails to pay any subsequent premium, the company does not elect one of the guaranteed surrender options hereunder, the company will pay the unpaid premium against the cash value hereof, as a loan, continuing the policy in full force the same as if the premium had been paid by the insured in cash. Such premium loans shall be continued as long as the cash value, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, will meet the premiums as they fall due, and interest thereon at six per centum per annum. The policy shall not lapse while the cash value, less all prior loans or indebtedness and accrued interest, so applied, will suffice for a quarterly premium. At any time while the policy is thus in force the insured may pay all loans with interest, or redeem such loans as a lien against this policy, and resume the payment without medical examination.

THIS POLICY COVERS death from any cause, but in case of the death of the insured by destruction, whether sane or insane, within one year from date of issue, a sum equal to the total premiums paid by the insured, and no more, shall be paid.

THIS POLICY MAY BE REINSTATED (unless previously surrendered) at any time after its termination in the payment of any premium, provided the insured applies therefor on the company's form and furnishes evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and pays in full all past due premiums with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from when due; and provided, also, that any indebtedness to the company at the date of reinstatement with interest thereon at the rate of six per centum per annum to the date of reinstatement shall be a first lien against this policy.

ed with express understanding that the insured may, without the con-the beneficiary, receive every benefit, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon him (or her) by this policy.

INCOME WHEREOF.—The Fort Worth Life Insurance Company has caused this policy of insurance to be signed by its president or vice-president, and its secretary, at Fort Worth, as of the first day of January, 1914.

CHOICE FOR INCOME TO BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this contract as a death claim, at any time, if not then assigned, by instrument in one sum, as provided on the first page, to payment by annual instalments as stated below:

The following tables are based upon a contract of $1000 and will apply pro rata to the amount payable under this contract, provided the amount is not less than $1000; if the amount is less than $1000, these instalment benefits shall not apply, but the proceeds of death claim will be payable in one sum only.

CHOICE FOR INCOME.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below, any number less than twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

ILLUSTRATION.—If payment is to be made by twenty instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $68 for each $1000 of insurance; total amount payable $1360.

INCOME TO BENEFICIARY.—Twenty-five annual instalments at least to be paid, instalments to continue during entire lifetime of beneficiary. (Payment in this case cannot be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this contract.)

of each instalment,	$ 51	$ 52	$ 53	$ 54	$ 55

ILLUSTRATION.—If at the death of the insured the beneficiary is thirty years of age or under, the amount of each annual instalment will be $43 for each $1000 of insurance payable during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, but if the beneficiary should die before the twenty-five instalments shall have been paid, the remainder of the twenty-five instalments will continue to be paid annually to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary; the total amount thus payable cannot therefore be less than $1075.

The insured having changed the mode of payment to annual instalments, may at any time, if not then assigned, change the number of instalments, entirely revoke any change, or again change the mode of payment to annual instalments, or assign the proceeds of this contract payable in one sum. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. If the beneficiary should die before all instalments have been duly paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be paid thereafter to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the beneficiary. No change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, shall take effect until endorsed in writing by the company at its home office. The beneficiary can neither assign nor revoke unpaid instalments, unless such right is given by the insured to the beneficiary in writing, and is endorsed on this contract, by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured.

THIS POLICY IS UNRESTRICTED AS TO TRAVEL, RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION OF THE INSURED IN TIME OF PEACE OR WAR, AND AFTER ONE YEAR FROM DATE OF ISSUE IS INCONTTESTABLE IF PREMIUMS SHALL HAVE BEEN DULY PAID. This policy covers death from any cause, but in the event of the death of the insured (whether sane or insane) by self-destruction, within a year from date of issue, a sum equal to the premiums received hereon, and no more, shall be paid.

CHANCE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may change any designated beneficiary any time during the continuance of this policy, subject to the written consent of the company, if any, by filing with the company a written request accompanied by this such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company, whereupon all interest of the former beneficiary shall cease. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured the policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

INSTALLMENT PRIVILEGE.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the principal sum insured under this policy, if it is not assigned, from payment in one lump sum by installments as provided on the fourth page hereof.

THE INSURED IS ENTITLED TO CASH LOANS ON THE SOLE SECURITY OF THIS POLICY AT ANY TIME DURING THE FIRST POLICY YEAR IF NO PREMIUM IS IN DEFAULT. The aggregate loan under shall not exceed the sum stated in column three of the table below for the current policy year. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy shall be executed on forms provided by the company, and the policy deposited with the company, or the amount of the loan endorsed hereon by the company. Any unpaid loan or the premium for the current policy year shall be deducted by the company in payment of the loan. Interest shall be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. The granting of any loan hereunder, unless such loan is entirely for the purpose of paying premiums under this policy, may be deferred by the company for a period not exceeding three months from date of receipt of application for such loan. Failure to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon exceeds the cash value of the policy, or the loan value of this policy, nor until one month notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

* Loan value is available at any time during the policy year stated, if pre-paid to end of such year.

In case of default in the payment of a premium due at an intermediate period forfeiture values will be computed on the same basis as the corresponding values end of the policy year last expired. The values shown in this table are equal to the entire reserve less an amount not exceeding two and one-half per cent of the insured and the cash value is not less than the value of the continued insurance policy continues after the twentieth policy year, cash and loan values will be equal to the entire reserve; figures will be furnished on request to the home office of the company.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

- Only the president or secretary has power in behalf of the company (and in writing) to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend or for paying any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by any agent or person other than the president or secretary.
- If the age of the insured is misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be the premium paid would have purchased under this policy at the true age of the insured.
- This policy is non-participating and therefore does not participate in the surplus nor in profits or dividends earned or apportioned by the company.
- No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless duplicate at the home office, one to be retained by the company and the other returned. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.
- This policy is payable at the home office of the company in Springfield, Ill. Any amount shall be paid hereunder, proof of the interest of the claimant and any independent person to the company, including the amount necessary to complete the premium for the current policy year, shall be set and the application hereof (a copy of which application is attached to the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made shall in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties, and no statement shall void the policy unless it is contained in such application. Hereof, the Franklin Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed and attested by its president and secretary, and countersigned by its actuary, at Springfield, May of January, 1915.

BENEFITS.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the principal under this policy, if the policy is not assigned, from payment in one sum to the first payment by any one of the instalment methods.

The insured may subsequently change any selection of instalment method, or selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. Any change or revocation must be made by the insured in writing and filed with the company at its home office accompanied by this policy before any instalment has been paid. It shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company. The insured is not required to apply any method that produces instalments of less than $100 each under this policy. The payee, if a person other than the insured, may assign or commute unpaid instalments unless such right is given by the policy or payment by instalments is directed. If this policy has become payable in one sum, and no instalment method has been selected, the company may, at the option of the insured, upon proper application will allow the beneficiary to select an instalment method from the said instalment methods. When the policy shall become payable in one sum, and an instalment method has been selected, the company, upon proper application, will issue in place thereof a supplementary contract, which shall be payable at the time the principal sum insured would otherwise have been payable, and subsequent instalments shall be payable annually thereafter.

In the event of the death of the payee after having received one or more instalments, the company, as otherwise directed by the insured, upon proper application and legal assignment, will, if the policy has become payable in one sum, and a supplementary contract, will commute any instalments remaining unpaid and one-half per cent compound interest and pay such commuted value to the executor or administrators. Any annual instalment may be made payable annually, quarterly or monthly parts equal respectively to one-half, one-twelfth of the annual instalment.

The tables show the annual instalment payable in lieu of $1000 payable in one sum will apply pro rata according to the amount payable in one sum under DISABILITY BENEFIT.—If the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years after the issuance of said policy and the payment of at least one full annual premium thereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall be totally and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is unable to continue to be for life totally and permanently prevented thereby from the performance of any work or the transaction of any business for compensation or profit, and furnish proof satisfactory to the company of such disability, the company agree to waive further payment of premiums under said policy, such agreement to become operative only after endorsement of the same has been made on said policy by the company, premiums so waived shall not be deducted from the sum payable under said policy; the waiver of premium payments shall have the effect of providing the same value and benefits as though the premiums waived had been actually paid in cash.

It is further provided that notwithstanding proof of said disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall furnish at any time on demand proof satisfactory to the company of the continuance of such total and permanent disability. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if he has become unable to perform any work or to transact any business for compensation or profit, all premiums falling after such disability shall have ceased to be total or permanent must be paid by the insured in accordance with the terms of said policy.

The total and permanent disability benefit hereunder and the continuance thereof are conditioned upon the company being permitted to have a physical examination of the insured made with respect to such disability by a medical examiner designated by it as often as it may require.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, (1) the entire and irrevocable loss by the insured of the sight of both eyes, or (2) the severance of both hands at the wrists, or (3) the severance of both feet above the ankles, or (4) the severance of one hand above the wrist and one foot above the ankle, will be treated in the same manner as total and permanent disability within the operation of this agreement.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I declare on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereon that each of the statements and answers contained herein is full, complete and true.

I agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued hereon (1) that the company shall not incur any liability upon application until the policy has been issued by the company and the first premium actually been paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent, and (2) that any policy issued hereon shall be on the "non-participating" plan, that is to say, it shall not participate in the company's surplus nor in any profit or dividend or be apportioned by the company; (3) that if within one year from the date of any policy issued hereon I shall die by self-destruction, sane or insane, there shall be payable the amount of the premiums received by the company under such policy and no more; and that this instrument marked Part I and the answers made to the medical examination marked Part II together form the application for and shall be construed as a part of the policy issued thereon.

Dividend addition of $10 per $1000 insured allowed annually. † Adopted Oct. 1908.

† Formerly Southern States Mutual.

George Washington Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE PREFERRED DIVIDEND POLICY.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $381.10. AGE, 35

George Washington Life Insurance Company, of Charleston, W. Va., in consideration of the payment of the premiums hereinafter specified promises to pay at the home office of the company in Charleston, West Virginia, upon receipt of due proof of the death, within one year from the date hereof, of Richard Roe of Charleston, county of Kanawha, State of W. Va., herein called the insured, to Rachel Roe, beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars less any indebtedness to the company, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year; and, in further consideration of the payment of the premiums hereinafter stated, the George Washington Life Insurance Company will renew said insurance from year to year, and promises to pay to the beneficiary above named, upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death of the insured, the said sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness to the company, and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year. The first year's insurance under this policy is modified preliminary term insurance.

Premium, three hundred, eighty-one and $\frac{10}{100}$ dollars (\$381.10), payable on delivery of this policy and thereafter annually at the home office of the company in exchange for the company's receipt on or before the first day of February in every year during the continuance of this policy until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

PREFERRED DIVIDEND ADDITIONS.—In further consideration of the premiums payable under this policy, it shall be preferred to the stock of the company in the distribution of the surplus earnings each year as follows:

Before any dividend shall be paid or credited upon the capital stock, this policy shall be entitled to a preferred dividend addition out of the surplus earned by this policy, of $10.00 for each $1,000.00 insured, in the form of an addition to the face value of this policy, payable at death. The first of such preferred dividend additions shall be made on payment of the second year's premium, or instalment thereof, and subsequent additions each year out of surplus, if earned, as subsequent premiums are paid. These preferred dividend additions shall continue after the premium paying term ceases and during the entire lifetime of the insured.

FURTHER DIVIDENDS.—There shall be added to the preferred dividends under this policy each year after the third a share of any further surplus earned by this policy as determined and apportioned by the company.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—Dividends, at the option of the owner of this policy, shall, when allotted, be either:—(1) Paid in cash; or (2) Applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy as above indicated; or (3) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, with interest at 3 per cent. per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise, within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

CHANGE IN BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, or in case of the death of any beneficiary under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, the insured, subject to any existing assignment of the policy, may designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation, by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured's executors, administrators, or assigns.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of the official receipt of the company, signed by one or more of the following officers, viz.: president, vice president, secretary, assistant secretary, actuary or treasurer, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month, not less than thirty days, subject to an interest charge at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace, the overdue premium, with accrued interest, will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—After two full years' premiums have been paid on this policy, if any subsequent premium due hereon be not paid within the month of grace allowed herein, the company will advance the amount of the then current policy year's premium or any unpaid portion thereof, as a lien on the policy with interest in advance at the rate of 6 per centum per annum, if, after deducting all existing indebtedness and in-interest thereon to the end of the then current policy year from the loan value of the policy plus the loan value of any existing dividend additions at the end of such year, the balance shall equal or exceed the unpaid portion of the then current policy year's premium, with interest to the same date. This provision is automatic, and will be carried out by the company without any action on the part of the insured. Any indebtedness thus created shall be a first charge against the policy and all proceeds thereof, ranking in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee. If the loan value, or balance thereof, as defined above, shall not be sufficient to pay the then current policy year's premium or any unpaid portion thereof and interest, the company will continue this insurance in force until such value is exhausted (that is for a period which bears the same ratio to the number of days in the unpaid portion of the then current policy year as such net value bears to the premium or the unpaid portion of such policy year), and if prior to the expiration of such reduced period the last due premium be not paid in full, all liability of the company on this policy shall thereupon terminate, subject to one month's notice having been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the same office of the company. At any time while this policy is thus maintained in force, the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical re-examination of the insured, and the accumulated loans may be paid off, or allowed to stand as a lien against the policy. These automatic premium loans shall bear interest at 6 per centum per annum in advance from the dates the respective premiums loaned become due, and shall be compounded yearly on the anniversary of premium payments in each year, if unpaid.

LOANS.—After two full years' premiums have been paid, the company, at any time while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, with interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than, the reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy and on any dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Mortality Table, and interest at the rate of $3\frac{1}{2}$ per centum per annum, less a surrender charge not to exceed 1 per centum of the amount insured by this policy and of any dividend additions thereto. The loan values available from year to year are given in the schedule below. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless such assignment or a certified copy thereof be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment. All indebtedness on account of this policy, outstanding at the time of settlement, will be deducted from the reserve used in the calculation of the value above specified, and will reduce said continued insurance or paid-up value by the proportion that such indebtedness bears to said reserve. If the premiums on this policy be paid in quarterly or semi-annual installments, due allowance will be made in computing benefits from the above table for that portion of a year's premium paid over and above the full number of years' premiums indicated. If this policy be continued in force beyond the twentieth year, a table of cash surrender and loan values, as above, after the twentieth year, will be furnished on application to the home office.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years, if there be no indebtedness against the policy, the owner, within one month after any default, and on the proper surrender of this policy to the company at its home office, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or (b) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, or (c) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default, without future participation and without the right to loans, for its face amount, including any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon. The amounts of cash surrender value, and paid-up insurance, exclusive of the value of any undrawn dividend additions, also the periods of continued insurance, are as shown in the table of loan and surrender values on the second page hereof.

INCONTTESTABILITY.—This policy, including the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, constitutes the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except as otherwise provided in this policy. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of the issuance of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance under the above provisions, this policy, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at 6 per centum per annum.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows:—(1) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (1) or (2) which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise, the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured, the payee may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (1) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under option (2) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that all the statements and answers herein are warranted to be true; that this contract shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid during my good health and within sixty days of the date of the policy hereby applied for. The company will apply all dividends upon my policies of insurance towards the purchase of paid-up insurance additions until otherwise ordered. I hereby request that the company's automatic loan privilege shall become operative, should that privilege be available under the policy hereby applied for.

German-American life Insurance Company (Col.)

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $317.80. AGE 35.

The German-American Life Insurance Company of Denver, Col., does hereby promise to pay at the home office of the company, in the city of Denver and State of Colorado, ten thousand dollars, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, if living, herein named the beneficiary, or, if no beneficiary is then living, then to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured, immediately after the receipt of due proof of the decease of John Doe, the insured, while this policy is in force.

This policy is issued and accepted in consideration of the application hereof, a copy thereof being attached hereto or endorsed hereon when issued, and of the sum of three hundred and seventeen dollars and eighty cents, paid in advance for term insurance for the first policy year ending on the first day of October, 1914, and of a like sum to be paid on the first day of October in every year hereafter until full annual premiums have been duly paid for twenty years from the date hereof, or until the prior death of the insured.

The following pages of this policy are a part of this contract as fully as if shown at length over the signatures endorsed hereunder.

In testimony whereof, the said company has hereto affixed its corporate seal, with the signature of the president, duly attested by the signature of the secretary, at Denver, Col., this first day of October in the year of our Lord, 1913.

SPECIAL DISABILITY BENEFIT.—In the event of the total and permanent loss of sight of both eyes, or loss of both arms, or both legs, or one arm and one leg, or one eye and one limb, of the insured, such payment being in lieu of all other benefits designated in this policy, the company agrees to pay ten thousand (\$10,000) dollars, in twenty equal annual instalments of five hundred (\$500) dollars each, the first instalment being payable immediately after receipt at the home office of the company of due proof of such disability. If the insured shall die before all of the stated twenty instalments have been fully paid, then, in such event, the remaining instalments, at the option of the beneficiary, may be continued to such beneficiary hereunder or may be commuted at three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) compound interest and paid to said beneficiary in one sum. This benefit shall be null and void after the period for the payment of premiums hereon.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium hereon, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he is wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which thereafter shall become payable during the continuance of such disability, provided that the insured, whenever requested by the company, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company of the continuance of such disability. In any such event the premiums so paid shall not be an indebtedness on this policy, and the table of non-forfeiture values stated herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with this policy, on the first premium due date following such recovery.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after the end of the second policy year and while this policy is in full force, the owner hereof may borrow from the company on the sole security of this policy, properly assigned to and deposited with the company, any sum within the loan value specified in Column 1 of the table below, from which loan value any indebtedness hereon and any unpaid premiums for the then current policy year shall first be deducted. The company will furnish the form for the assignment required hereunder and upon completion of the loan will issue its official certificate of deposit of the policy. Interest at a rate not to exceed 6 per cent per annum will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the then current policy year, and thereafter be payable annually in advance. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value hereon; nor until at least one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any is recorded hereon.

LOANS WITHOUT REQUEST OF INSURED.—If any premium hereon be not paid when due and if no non-forfeiture value has been requested during the month of grace, as hereinafter provided, the company, without request therefor, will pay the said premium and charge the same as a loan hereon, with interest not exceeding 6 per cent per annum in advance, against the loan value as provided in the table below, thereby continuing this policy in force, subject to such indebtedness, as though the premium had been paid in cash. Such premium loans shall be continued so long as the balance of the increasing loan value hereunder will meet the premiums as they fall due, with interest.

not exceeding 6 per cent per annum added, in default of which, this policy shall be continued in full force as long as the loan value so applied will pay for one day's additional insurance on a pro-rata basis. Notice of any such loans, when made, will be mailed to the insured and to the assignee hereunder, if any is recorded on this policy. At any time while the policy is thus maintained in force the insured may resume payment of premiums hereon, without any medical re-examination, and the accumulated indebtedness may be either paid in cash or allowed to remain as a loan against the contract. This policy is non-forfeitable from date of issue, as follows:

GRACE PERIOD.—If any premium after the first is not paid on the date when due, the insurance will continue in force from such due date for the term of one month, which the period of grace allowed hereunder, without interest charge in the payment of any such premium.

CASH VALUE.—PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—After the full years' premiums have been paid hereon, upon the insured's written request and legal surrender of this policy within the month of grace, the cash value hereof will be paid for the amount specified in Column 1 of the table below; or the insured shall be entitled to a paid-up life policy payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy, for the amount specified in Column 2 of the table below; or the insured shall be entitled to an extended term insurance policy, for the full face of this policy, the term of which is specified in Column 3 of the table below. The amounts of a paid-up life insurance and the term of the extended insurance shall be equivalent to the entire reserve on this policy at the date of default, without any surrender charge, and the amounts of the cash values shall be equal to such reserve, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

Cash or loan values for this policy after the twentieth policy year will be equal to the entire reserve hereon, and semi-annual or quarterly premiums paid in addition to payments for entire policy years will cause an increase in said values. All non-forfeiture values hereon are in excess of any legal requirements.

FACILITY IN PAYING PREMIUMS.—All premiums after the first are payable in advance either at the home office of the company in Denver, Col., or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or the secretary and countersigned by the authorized agent. If any premium or note or other obligation given for all or a part of any premium or other indebtedness is not paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company hereunder shall cease, without any notice or action by the company, notwithstanding any receipt which may have been given for any such premium, except as otherwise provided in this policy.

ANNUAL, SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS.—After the first policy year, premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly in advance in accordance with the premium rates shown hereon, and the company will allow a change from one of the premium rates shown hereon, upon the insured's written request therefor on the company's form; should the insured not survive to complete the premium payments for the then current policy year, the amount necessary for such completion will be deducted from the amount payable at death. This policy is unrestricted after the first policy year as to travel, residence, or occupation in time of peace or war. In case of death by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue or as a result of the violation of law, the company shall be liable only for the amount of premium paid hereon. This policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue.

AGE.—If the age of the insured is mis-stated the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have been purchased at the correct age of the insured.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof, taken together, constitute the entire contract. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement or statements shall avoid the policy or be used in defense of a claim thereunder unless contained in the written application therefor.

REINSTATEMENT.—If the value of this policy shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up life or extended term insurance and if such insurance is in force, the company will reinstate the policy as of said due date at any time within the period for payment of premiums, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and payment of all arrears of premiums with interest not exceeding 6 per cent per annum, or said value, if not exceeding the free loan value of the policy, may be allowed to remain on as a loan.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $5000.

nineteen dollars and twenty cents ($19.20) for every five thousand dollars insured by this policy, said monthly income continuing for at least twenty years and as much longer as the beneficiary shall survive.

Any term of years shown in the above table may be selected. The first income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and the remaining payments annually thereafter.

MONTHLY INCOME DURING LIFETIME OF BENEFICIARY—BENEFIT THREE.—The following table is for each $5000 of the amount insured. To find the monthly income on this policy multiply the monthly income for each $5000 shown in the table, by the number of times five thousand insured by this policy. Two hundred and forty monthly payments at least, will be paid, in any event, covering a period of twenty years, and the monthly income will continue during the entire lifetime of the beneficiary, should the beneficiary survive said period of twenty years.

The first monthly income will be paid immediately after receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured and succeeding incomes on the first day of each month thereafter. This benefit may not be selected if there is more than one beneficiary under this policy, nor if the amount insured hereby is less than two thousand five hundred ($2500) dollars.

GENERAL.—The insured may at any time change his selection of the "methods of payment of death benefit" under this policy; he may also revoke all selections, thereby making this policy again payable in one sum. If upon the selection of Benefit Two or Benefit Three above, the beneficiary shall die before all the payments due thereunder have been made, the remainder of said payments will continue to be paid as selected by the insured under this policy, or, if the insured has made no such selection, will be commuted at three and one-half per cent compound interest and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. If the insured so directs during his lifetime, the beneficiary may neither assign nor commute any payments hereunder before same are due. No selection, change or revocation of any one of the above benefits shall take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at its home office. After endorsement this policy will be returned to the insured.

SIGHT DRAFT.—This is to certify that the German-American Life Insurance Company will pay to the beneficiary under policy No. . . . issued by said company, the sum of one hundred dollars within three days after the receipt of this certificate, in the event of the death of said insured while said policy is in force for the full face amount thereof; provided said certificate is accompanied by an affidavit, stating the fact of the death of the insured thereunder, and the time, place and cause thereof, duly executed by the said beneficiary and by the judge or clerk of any court of record of the county in which the said insured resides at the time of his death, or by any reputable physician, clergyman in good standing, or postmaster, residing in said county. The said payment shall apply on account of any amount due under said policy, and, being made in advance of the receipt of the customary detailed proofs of death, is made and accepted without any admission by the company of its liability on said policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree that if, within one year from the date of any policy issued by The German-American Life Insurance Company as a result of this application, I shall travel or reside outside of the Temperate Zone without the written consent of the company or be personally engaged in blasting, mining, sub-marine operations or aerial ascensions, of any character, or in the production of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or in handling electric conductors, apparatus or dynamo-electric machinery, or in handling liquors in any way, either as employer or employee, or in switching or coupling or uncoupling cars, or be employed in any capacity on the trains of a railroad, except as passenger or sleeping-car conductor, mail agent, express messenger, or baggage master, or on any steam or other vessel, then and in every such case any policy issued on this application shall be null and void.

I also agree that death by my own hand or act, whether sane or insane, or in violation of law, or as a result thereof, within one year from the date of any policy issued hereon shall not be a risk assumed by the company for a greater amount than the premium actually paid to the company on said policy.

I also agree that any policy issued hereon shall not be binding upon the company until said policy shall have been delivered to me during my lifetime and good health and the amount of premium thereon has been received by said company or its authorized agent.

I also further agree that if the answers as written to the questions hereon are or shall hereafter become in any respect untrue, the company may, at its option, cancel the policy hereby applied for within one year from its date by mailing written notice thereof to me or my personal representatives and to the beneficiaries under said policy at their addresses last known to the company, and upon condition that the company in such written notice shall offer to repay to me or my personal representatives in trust for the person or persons making the same, all premiums that have been paid upon said policy.

I also represent and agree that all the preceding statements and answers, as well as those I make to the company's medical examiner in continuation of this application, are true, full and complete, and are offered to the company as a consideration of the contract to be issued hereon.

I also agree that the company may re-insure all or any part of any policy issued hereon. I also agree to complete this application for insurance by submitting to a medical examination at once. Otherwise the settlement made with the agent is to be returned to me only at the option of the company.

I have verified each of the foregoing answers on this page and on the first page hereof and I adopt them as my own, whether written by me or not, and declare and represent that they are full, complete and literally true answers to the questions against which they are written; I also agree that proof of the fact that either the agent taking this application or the examiner, has knowledge of facts contrary to any of the answers or declarations hereon, shall make invalid any policy or contract of insurance issued hereafter.

German-American Life Insurance Company (la.).

TWENTY PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $340.70. AGE, 35.

The German-American Life Insurance Company of Iowa, Burlington, Iowa, will pay ten thousand dollars at its home office in the City of Burlington, Iowa, upon receipt of due proof of the death of George Archer, the insured, while this policy is in force, to Grace Archer if living, otherwise to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy is granted in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, and is hereby made a part of this contract, and the payment of three hundred and forty dollars and seventy cents in advance, being the premium for one year's term insurance, and the payment of a like amount on or before the _____ day of _____ in every year thereafter during nineteen years of the life of the insured, as premiums to complete this contract.

The privileges, provisions and conditions, loan and surrender values stated on the following pages form a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures hereto. Burlington, Iowa, February 15, 1915.

PRIVILEGES, PROVISIONS AND CONDITIONS.

INTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums.

THIRTY-ONE DAYS' GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS AND REINSTATEMENT.—If any premium be not paid when due, this policy shall be extended and remain in force for thirty-one days from such due date, and if not then paid, this policy shall be absolutely void, and all premiums paid shall be forfeited to the company, except as hereinafter provided in the non-forfeiture provision, and after said period of thirty-one days this policy can be reinstated only if the insured furnish evidence of good health satisfactory to the company and pays all past due premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum, but not otherwise. The sending of a notice of premium payment or other notice after the forfeiture or lapse of this policy shall not be a waiver or evidence of waiver of such lapse or forfeiture.

AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years, then in the event of default in payment of any premium when due, this insurance shall be automatically continued in force for its face amount during the term (including the period of grace) specified in column two (2) of the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon, provided that any existing indebtedness on this policy will correspondingly reduce the period of extension set forth in said table; and the policy may be reinstated at any time after such non-payment, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of arrears of premiums with five per cent interest.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, and while it continues in force under its original conditions the company will loan to the insured on the proper assignment of this policy, and on the sole security thereof, a sum not to exceed the amount named in column one (1) of the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon. Interest on any loan shall be payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, and annually in advance thereafter. The company will, however, deduct from such loan any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or interest on the same shall not void the policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice of such failure shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and assignee, if any.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, and provided it has not been extended as term insurance for more than four months, the company will, upon written application therefor and a full and valid surrender of this policy, issue a paid-up policy for the amount stated in column three (3) of the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon, less the paid-up insurance value of any indebtedness against this policy.

CASH VALUE.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid on this policy, and provided it has not been extended as term insurance for more than four months, the company will, upon a full and valid surrender of this policy, pay the insured as a cash surrender value the amount stated in column one (1) of the table of loan and surrender values endorsed hereon, less any indebtedness against this policy.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary named in this policy acquires no vested interest herein during the life time of the insured, but the insured, with the written consent of the president or secretary of the company endorsed hereon, may change the beneficiary, or with such consent may assign this policy; but the company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any such change or assignment.

REPRESENTATIONS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud,

MENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or tent thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the remium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance l home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of the official receipt company, signed by one or more of the following officers, viz., president, vice- ent, or secretary, and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month (not an thirty days), subject to interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, e granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which month urance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace, erdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settle- reunder.

OMATIC NON-FORFEITURE.—If any premium due hereon be not paid before the on of the grace for payment of same, it shall be charged against the policy as a ith interest in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum, provided the loan as stated herein, at the due date of the premium, less any existing loan or other edness with accrued interest, shall be at least equal to the amount of said pre- and interest. If the loan value or balance thereof shall not be sufficient to pay re premium due and interest, then it shall be used, if sufficient, to pay the pre- for a shorter period, but not less than an entire quarterly premium, and if not nt to pay a quarterly premium this policy shall cease to be in force, and any ex- the loan or cash value hereon over the indebtedness shall be paid in cash on sur- of this policy. In default of such surrender any such excess will be applied to ae continued term insurance as defined on the next page. This provision is auto- and will be carried out by the company without any action on the part of the . Any indebtedness thus created shall constitute a first charge against the in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee; and at any time while licy is thus maintained in force, the insured may, without medical examination, payment of premiums, and continue the policy in force. policy is free from conditions as to residence, travel and occupation.

ICIPATION.—If this policy is in force on the eighteenth day of February, 1916, the end of each year thereafter, during the continuance of this contract, the ay will allot thereto a dividend, consisting of this policy's share of the divisible profits of the participating business of the company.

DEND OPTIONS.—Dividends, at the option of the owner of this policy, shall, when d, be either: (1) Paid in cash, or (2) applied toward the payment of any premium um, or (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy, without e re-examination, or (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest e and one-half per cent per annum. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect ise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice ng such election, the dividends shall be left to accumulate to the credit of the

ICATION OF DIVIDENDS.—If the dividends be left to accumulate to the credit of licy as per option (4) above: (1) The insured may on any anniversary with- he accumulated amount; or (2) the insured may on any anniversary apply the elated amount to shorten the period during which premiums are payable hereunder; whenever the accumulated dividends together with the reserve on this policy shall equal the sum insured, the company will upon surrender of this policy, and upon legal release of all claims hereunder, pay the amount of said policy, deducting any existing indebtedness.

LOANS.—After two full years' premiums have been paid, the company, within ninety days after application is made, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment and delivery of this policy, and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually, shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than, the cash value at the end of the current policy year of this policy. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to repay any such advance, or to pay interest, shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any. No condition other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a prerequisite to any such advance.

TRUST FUND OPTION.—The insured, by instruction in writing to the company at its home office, may direct that the proceeds of this policy shall be retained by the company during the lifetime of the beneficiary, or for a specified term of years, and interest on the amount so retained shall be paid at a rate not less than three per cent per annum in quarterly instalments, the first instalment being due three months after the date when such proceeds shall have become payable. Quarterly interest payments shall be increased by such dividends as may be apportioned by the company from additional interest earnings. Upon the death of the beneficiary, or the expiry of the specified term agreed upon, the amount so retained with accrued interest (if any) shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years the owner, within three months after any default, and on proper surrender of this policy to the company at its home office, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash; or (b) to have the insurance continued in force as term insurance from date of default, for its face amount, including any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, without participation in surplus and without the right to loans; or (c) to purchase participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the reserve at the date of default on this policy computed by the modified preliminary term method adopted by the company, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with three and one-half per cent interest, less a surrender charge not to exceed one per cent of the amount insured by this policy, and less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the reserve less a surrender charge as aforesaid and less any existing indebtedness will purchase when applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured, according to the said table of mortality and rate of interest. The amounts of cash surrender value, paid-up insurance and the period of continued insurance, are as shown in the following:

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.—The figures in the following table give the values available at the end of complete policy years, if there be no indebtedness against the policy, and provided premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated. If there be any indebtedness to the company, the figures will be modified as hereinbefore provided. These values will be increased on account of any dividends which have been allotted and have not been withdrawn in cash up to the date of surrender or loan.

The loan values provided for in this table for the end of policy years can be obtained (less interest) during such policy years, as set forth under caption "loans."

Values for later years (if any) will be computed upon the above stated basis and will be furnished upon request.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance under the above provisions, this policy, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is oned, by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum, the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness with interest thereon.

PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFIT.—If, after one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured, on attaining age sixty, shall furnish to the company satisfactory proof that he has become totally disabled and will, in consequence of bodily injury or disease, be permanently, continuously and wholly incapacitated for life, and thereby prevented from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company by an endorsement hereon will agree to pay the premiums, if any, which may thereafter fall due under this policy during the continuance of such disability. Should the company assume the payment of premiums as herein provided, the insured shall furnish proof of continued disability, if and for, as each succeeding premium falls due, and failure to submit such proof shall render this clause null and void. The irrecoverable loss of sight in both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by accident or disease of the use of both hands or both feet or one hand and one foot, shall constitute total disability within the meaning of this contract without prejudice to any other cause of disability.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS.

FREE FROM CONDITIONS.—This policy, with the application hereof, constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, and is free from conditions as to residence, occupation and military or naval service. All statements made by the insured, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no statement shall avoid this policy, or be used in defense of a claim hereunder, unless contained in the written application and unless a copy of such application be endorsed on or attached to the policy when issued.

UNCONTESTABLE.—This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date of issue.

VICIDE.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of the issuance of this policy, is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract, and the company's liability shall in such case be restricted to a refund of any premiums paid.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. But if the insured be over sixty years of age at the time of making application for insurance, he shall understate his (or her) age, such misstatement shall make this policy null and void.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until the same is filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

ENDOWMENT OPTION.—If this policy becomes paid up by its terms after payment of twenty annual premiums, the insured may at his option continue to pay the annual premiums of three hundred sixty-one and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars (reducible by dividends like the other premiums) from and after the twentieth year, during the continuance of the contract, including the disability premium. And it is hereby agreed that in consideration of such continued payment of premiums, the sum insured of ten thousand dollars, (\$10,000), shall become payable after nine years from that date (that is nine years from February 1st, 1934), if the insured be then living, or at his death if earlier, as provided in the policy, and in event of survivorship the further sum of three hundred sixty dollars (\$360). This option be elected this policy shall be surrendered and a new policy shall be issued in accordance with the conditions above indicated, which shall not be entitled to the disability benefit.

OPTIONAL MODES OF SETTLEMENT.

The insured, or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum, payable at the maturity of this policy, paid as follows instead of in one sum.

1. FIXED INSTALLMENTS.—In equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; or

2. INSTALLMENTS 20 YEARS FIXED, LIFE THEREAFTER.—In equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years, and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum; or

3. ANNUITY.—As an annuity during the life of the payee, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said net sum, the first payment due one year after purchase of said annuity, and the last annuity payment to be the regular payment immediately preceding the death of the payee.

SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity, and a supplementary contract shall be issued for the option elected, which shall specify to whom any unpaid instalments shall be paid in event of the death of the payee. Supplementary contracts for fixed payment periods shall participate in surplus annually as apportioned by the company. Less otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee under options 1 or 2 may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the guaranteed payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option 1 in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under option 2, except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Germania Life Insurance Company.

NTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY BENEFIT.

NT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $365.60. AGE, 35.

e Germania Life Insurance Company of the City of New York, in consideration of the payment of premiums as herein provided, agrees to pay at the home office of the company in the city of New York upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the death during the continuance of this contract of (hereinafter called the insured), to (Beneficiary) Mary Doe, with the right to the insured to change the beneficiary as hereinafter provided (Face amount of policy) the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year.

PREMIUM.—The first premium of three hundred sixty-five dollars and sixty cents will be payable on delivery hereof, and thereafter premiums of like amount annually on the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this policy. Premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years from January 1, 1913, or until the prior death of the insured.

INTESTATE.—This policy is free from conditions as to death, travel, occupation or military or naval service, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except on payment of premium.

Benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this policy as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

Witness whereof, the Germania Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed this first day of October, 1913.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company. A proportion of divisible surplus accruing hereon shall be ascertained and distributed annually.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—At the option of the insured or the owner dividends declared at the end of the first and each succeeding policy year, without any condition as to the amount of premium, be (a) paid in cash; or (b) applied toward payment of premium; or (c) left on deposit with the company to accumulate with interest compounded annually at such rate, not less than three per centum per annum, as the company may from year to year determine. Such deposit will be payable with the policy maturity, but may be withdrawn at the end of any policy year; or (d) applied to the purchase of a paid-up addition to the sum insured hereunder, with participation in surplus. In addition may at any time be surrendered for a cash value, which shall be equal to the reserve thereon (increasing yearly), but in no case less than the amount of the cash dividend, provided such reserve is not included in any value granted under the provisions of paragraph 4, "loans," or of paragraph 5, "options on surrender or maturity."

Unless the insured or the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividend will be applied according to option (d) above.

PAID-UP AND ENDOWMENT OPTIONS.—When the reserve on this policy and on standing dividend additions (paragraph 2, option (d)) according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per centum per annum, together with any accumulated dividends held at interest (paragraph 2, option (c)), equal or exceed the reserve on the same mortality and interest basis for a fully paid-up policy of the same amount and payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, at the then attained age of the insured, the company will make the policy paid-up in full with participation in surplus, any indebtedness to the company thereon to be a lien against such paid-up insurance; or, when such aggregate amount equal or exceed the face amount of this policy, the company will mature this policy for such amount as an endowment less any indebtedness to the company hereon, and in either case that a proper request be made therefor together with a satisfactory release.

LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will loan on proper assignment and delivery of the policy and on the sole security thereof an amount which, at the option of the insured owner, shall be equal to or less than the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the current policy year. Any unpaid portion of the premium for said policy year, together with any existing indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy, shall be paid out of the proceeds of such loan. Interest on the loan will be at the rate of five per centum per annum payable in advance to the end of the current policy year, and in advance for each year thereafter, principal and interest to be payable at the home office of the company. If interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the existing loan and bear interest at the same rate. The whole or any part of a loan may be repaid to the company at any time while this policy is in force. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon when due shall not avoid this policy, unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash surrender value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice to that effect shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured or the owner and of the assignees of record at the home office of the company, if any.

5. OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After premiums shall have been paid on this policy for two full years, then in case of default in the payment of any subsequent premium or instalment of premium, if such default continues after the period of grace herein provided for, the policy will have one of the following optional values:

(a) AUTOMATIC PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—Without any action on the part of the insured or the owner, the policy will be continued in force as paid-up life insurance of a reduced amount, payable at the same time and under the same conditions as this policy, with participation in surplus and with increasing loan and cash surrender values; or

(b) CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—Upon due surrender of the policy by the insured or the owner, its value will be paid in cash and the insurance terminated. The cash surrender value shall be equal to the reserve at the date of default for the face amount of this policy and for any outstanding dividend additions thereto, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per centum per annum, less an amount having a maximum of one and four-tenths per centum of the sum insured at the end of the second policy year, and decreasing annually thereafter. Beginning with the end of the tenth policy year the cash surrender value shall be equal to the full reserve. Any indebtedness to the company on the policy existing at the time of surrender shall be deducted from any such cash surrender value; or

(c) PAID-UP EXTENDED TERM INSURANCE.—Upon written request made by the insured or the owner and received at the home office of the company together with the policy duly surrendered within three months from the due date of the premium in default, the company will grant paid-up term insurance reckoned from said date, without participation in surplus and without the right to loans, for an amount equal to the face amount of this policy and any outstanding dividend additions thereto, less any indebtedness hereon to the company. The amount of the automatic paid-up life insurance under option (a) above, or the term of paid-up extended insurance obtainable under option (b) above, will be such as the cash surrender value obtainable under option (b) above, less any indebtedness hereon to the company, will purchase when applied as a net single premium on the mortality and interest basis as stated above.

The paid-up life insurance and the paid-up term insurance above provided for will be entitled to cash surrender values, which shall be equal to the full reserve thereon at the time of surrender, computed on the basis above mentioned, less any indebtedness to the company on account of such paid-up insurance.

Any accumulated cash dividends (paragraph 2, option (c)) standing to the credit of this policy at the date of surrender or lapse shall then be payable in cash in addition to the payment of the cash value or the granting of the paid-up life or extended term insurance above provided for.

The insured will be entitled to receive any cash dividends declared on this policy or the loan value or the cash value above provided for, except when the interest of any beneficiary hereunder is without revocation, in which case the right to receive any such payment shall vest in the insured and the beneficiary jointly.

While any owner of this policy, either by the terms hereof or by assignment, is a minor, no loan can be made by the company except for the purpose of paying premiums; and before a cash surrender value can be paid, the interest of such minor must be legally released by a duly appointed guardian.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

The figures in the following table represent the minimum values available at the end of completed policy years, if there be no indebtedness against the policy and provided premiums have been paid for the full number of years stated or for the full number of years required by this policy if less than the number stated. These values will be increased on account of any outstanding dividend additions. If there be any indebtedness to the company on this policy the figures will be modified as herein provided.

later years will be computed upon the above stated basis, and will be furnished to the cash surrender value or the loan value set forth in the above table of a policy year, less interest thereon at the rate of five per centum per annum of such policy year, may be obtained at any time during such policy year, premiums shall have been duly paid as required. The values provided above table will be proportionately increased by the payment of additional of premium beyond the full paid policy year.

ST OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums hereunder are payable on or before the date at the home office of the company or to a duly authorized agent or agency holding the official receipt signed by an executive officer (president, vice-president, or secretary) and countersigned by such agent or agency. Premiums paid one month or more before the date when due a discount shall be made at the rate of three per centum per annum from the date of payment when due. Premiums are payable annually in advance, but the company may elect to pay in semi-annual or quarterly instalments according to its published table in this policy was issued. A change in the method of payment herein may be made at the end of any policy year, upon a written request for such change filed at the home office of the company before the anniversary date on which the change is to take effect. Except as herein expressly provided, the payment in cash or in instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the next premium or instalment thereof is due.

—A grace of one month (not less than thirty days) shall be allowed for the payment of every premium after the first without any interest charge, during which the policy shall continue in force. If the death of the insured occur during the grace, the overdue premium and any unpaid portion of the premium for the policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

EXTENSION BEYOND GRACE PERIOD.—If a request therefor is made in writing by the insured or the owner and received at the home office of the company before the expiration of the grace, an extension for a further period not later than ninety days shall be granted by the company for the payment of any overdue premium and subject to the conditions of an extension agreement in any form and, if required, upon the payment of a deposit on account of the extension. Any cash dividend then available may be used to decrease the deposit. The extension period the premium less the deposit, if any, is payable thereon at five per centum per annum for the extension period granted beyond the period of grace.

LOAN PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon a satisfactory request therefor made by the insured or owner and received at the home office of the company before default in the payment of premium, and until a written revocation of such request has been duly received by the company at its said home office, the amount of any premium or interest cash when due, less any dividend applicable thereon, will, without further request, if any, and charged as an indebtedness secured by this policy, subject to the above specified in paragraph 4, "loans," provided that the net loan value of the policy (after deducting any indebtedness hereon to the company) then available is sufficient to pay the premium and interest thereon due.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS BY DIVIDENDS.—If a premium is unpaid at the end of the period of grace and provision for its payment shall not have been made by the insured or owner, or by the company, then if any accumulated dividends (a) or (b) are standing to the credit of the policy at least equal to the premium due, such payment will be made by the application of an equal amount of such dividends; or if such credit be less than the required payment, then out of the dividends, if sufficient, shall be paid semi-annual or quarterly instalment of the premium due; and such application shall be a proper discharge to the company for the dividend paid.

AGE.—If the age of the insured was misstated in the application for the policy and there has been no adjustment on account of such misstatement, the premium hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the age.

RESERVE.—If the insured shall, within one year from the date hereof, commit suicide by his or her own hand or act, whether sane or insane at the time, the benefit payable to the company shall be limited to the amount of the reserve for this policy, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of five per centum per annum.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not previously surrendered may be restored at any time after default in payment of any premium, upon evidence satisfactory to the company of the insurability of the person upon whose life this policy was issued, and upon payment of arrears of premiums with interest at the rate of five per centum compounded annually on such premiums and on any indebtedness then existing against the policy at date of default, which indebtedness and interest shall be paid at the option of the insured be paid in cash, or by the cash surrender value at the date to which reinstatement is made, or by a loan on the policy in accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4, "loans." The company will state upon request in what form evidence of insurability is required and will bear the cost thereof.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

RIGHT OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved in the policy, he may, if of full age, at any time during the continuance of this policy, successively change the beneficiary hereunder whether original or substituted, without the consent of such beneficiary, but the interest of the newly substituted beneficiary shall be subject to the interest of the original beneficiary.

Salary shall be subject to the terms of any then existing assignment of this policy. The insured may declare the designation of any beneficiary to be irrevocable. During the lifetime of any irrevocably designated beneficiary the insured shall not have the right to revoke or change the designation of that beneficiary without the written consent of said beneficiary filed with the company. If any beneficiary, revocable or irrevocable, die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise specifically provided. Every change of beneficiary or change from revocable to irrevocable designation must be made by a written notice to the company at its home office, accompanied by the policy, and will take effect only when endorsed on this policy by the company.

16. PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORMS OF POLICIES.—This policy while in full force may be changed at the end of any policy year upon due release, without medical re-examination of the insured, to any other plan in use at the time this policy was issued requiring a higher rate of premium, except the continuous instalment or life income plan. The new policy shall be written at the same age, bear the same number and date and be for the same amount as this policy, and shall be effective upon the payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums on the new policy and the premium paid on this policy with compound interest at the rate of five per centum per annum from the due date of each premium to the date when the change is made, provided, however, that the amount to be paid to secure such change shall in no case be less than the difference in the reserves for the respective policies according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three per centum per annum. Any accumulated cash dividends held at interest, paragraph 17, option 1st, and the cash value of any outstanding dividend additions, paragraph 18, option 1st, as well as any dividends that would have accrued on this policy had it originally been issued on the new form chosen, in excess of the cash dividends actually declared on this policy, may be used in settlement of the amount so payable.

17. POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereto constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured as the basis for the contract shall in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall void this policy or be used in defense to a claim hereunder, unless it is contained in the written application hereto and unless a copy of the application is endorsed hereon or attached hereto when this policy is issued.

18. NOTICE.—Agents have no authority to extend the time for payment of a premium or interest or to make, alter or discharge a contract or to waive a forfeiture or to bind the company by any statement or promise.

19. OPTION OF METHOD OF SETTLEMENT.—Unless otherwise provided by written notice filed at its home office, the company will at the option of the payee, make settlement under this policy as a death claim or as a matured endowment according to one of the following methods:

(1) CASH.—Pay the net proceeds of the policy in cash.

(2) GUARANTY INVESTMENT.—Retain the net proceeds of the policy as a principal sum and pay interest thereon at the rate of four per centum during the lifetime of the payee at a rate not less than three per centum per annum, and pay said principal sum with any interest or unpaid interest thereon upon the death of the said payee to his or her executor, administrators or assigns.

(3) INSTALMENT LIFE INSURANCE.—Pay the net proceeds of the policy in equal monthly instalments, provided the amount of each such instalment is not less than ten dollars, the first instalment to be payable immediately and the amount of each instalment to be in conformity with the accompanying table.

any time while this policy is in force and unassigned, the insured, or, if the interest beneficiary hereunder is irrevocable, the insured and beneficiary jointly, upon request to the company filed at its home office, may elect any one of the above options of settlement. If the policy is assigned, the signatures of the owners are required. A revocation of any such election may be effected in like manner.

Otherwise provided by written notice filed at the company's home office, if at of this policy is made under option (b), the payee or payees may secure the of the principal sum in cash at any time upon giving a satisfactory release. If settlement is made under option (c) or option (d), the payee or payees may in one payment, discounting at the rate of three per centum per annum, any unpaid instalments under option (c) or any of the unpaid instalments certain option (d), subsequent payments, if any, under such options being in no wise by any such commutation. Any instalments payable under option (c) or option (d) shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall be paid, unless as provided, by written notice filed at the home office of the company, to the administrators or assigns of the payee. The above methods of settlement (d) are not available if the beneficiary be a corporation, a co-partnership or an individual.

USE OF INTEREST INCOME OR INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—In addition to the income under option (b) or the instalments payable under option (c) or within a period of twenty years under option (d), there will be allowed by the company and of each year on the fund retained such excess interest as the company shall elect to year declare on such funds.

ANNUAL, SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY INSTALMENTS.—At the option of the owner a may be made for paying in lieu of monthly instalments, annual, semi-annual or quarterly instalments, which shall be the equivalent in value of the monthly instalment specified, but will be slightly less than such instalments in the aggregate payable each year.

ASSIGNMENT OF INTEREST INCOME OR INSTALMENT CERTIFICATE.—This policy, upon its maturity as a death claim or as an endowment, if any of the above elections shall have been made, shall be surrendered to the company and, except in the case of option (a), a certificate evidencing the rights and benefits under the option selected shall be issued to the insured therefor.

WAIVER OF PREMIUMS IN CASE OF DISABILITY.—If, after payment of premiums on the policy for at least one full year and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, a satisfactory proof shall be furnished to the company that the insured before the age of sixty years has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease (the cause originating after the delivery of this policy) so that he is and will probably be permanently and continuously prevented thereby from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, the company, by endorsement hereon, may elect to waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due during the continuance of such disability. If premiums are so waived, they shall not be deducted from the amount payable hereunder and the policy shall participate in surplus and the values thereof as set forth in paragraph 4, "loans," and in paragraph 5, "options on surrender or loan," shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums had continued to be paid to the company regularly when due. Any dividends declared on the policy during its continuance after the provisions of this paragraph have taken effect shall be paid in cash.

It shall always be understood that notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall as often as required by the company furnish satisfactory proof of continuance of such disability. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured has so far recovered as to be able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, the premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid as originally provided in this policy.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists or of both feet above the ankles or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered total and permanent disability within the meaning of this paragraph.

At the end of any policy year, upon the written request of the insured or the company, the provisions of this paragraph may by endorsement on this policy be made inoperative. After such a change, or if no such change has been made, after the insured has attained the age of sixty years, provided premiums are then still payable, the premiums required by this policy will be reduced to three hundred sixty-two dollars and twenty cents annually.

NOTE.—The foregoing printed paragraphs contain all the benefits and provisions referred to on the first page hereof. Any additional benefits or provisions will be set forth below over the signature of an executive officer of the company.

AGE, 35.

The German Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Louis by this policy of insurance promises to pay ten thousand dollars, at its home office in the city of St. Louis, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, upon receipt of due proof of the death during the continuance of this policy of John Doe (herein called the insured), of St. Louis, county _____, State of Missouri.

This contract is made in consideration of the statements and agreements in the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and in further consideration of the annual premium of three hundred forty-six dollars and ninety cents, to be paid to the company on or before the delivery of this policy, and of the payment thereafter of a like sum on or before the first day of March in every year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy is issued and accepted subject to the special benefits and provisions stated on the following pages hereof, which are a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the German Mutual Life Insurance Company of St. Louis has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary at its office in the city of St. Louis, State of Missouri, this first day of March, 1914.

SPECIAL BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable after one year from date of issue, for any cause except non-payment of premium.

FREEDOM OF RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy contains no restrictions whatever upon the insured, in respect to residence and travel.

INSTALLMENT BENEFITS.—The proceeds of this policy as a death claim may be converted into a continuous monthly income to the beneficiary, as provided in the table on the third page hereof.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable at the home office of the company in the city of St. Louis, on the date or dates named on the first page hereof, but may be paid to its authorized agent producing receipts therefor, signed by the president, a vice-president or secretary, and countersigned by such agent. If any premium or instalment thereof is not paid on the day when due, this policy shall become void, and all payments previously made shall remain the property of the company, except as herein otherwise provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of the second and subsequent premiums, a grace of thirty-one days will be allowed, without interest charge, and if the insured die during the said thirty-one days, the unpaid premium will be deducted from the amount payable under this policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated on written application therefor, within five years after non-payment of any premium (provided the cash surrender value shall not have been paid or its extension period expired), subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, upon payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and payment of delinquent premiums, with interest at not to exceed five and one-half per cent per annum to date of restoration.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy is written upon the annual dividend plan. Beginning with and upon the payment of the premium for the second policy year, and annually thereafter upon payment of the premium for each succeeding policy year, it will be credited with a dividend as apportioned by the company. Dividends will be continued hereon after the policy has become fully paid up by the payment of all premiums required by the terms of this policy to be paid. Dividends may, at the option of the owner, be applied in any of the following ways: (1) To reduce the premium. (2) To purchase, without re-examination, paid-up additions to the policy payable with the policy. Paid-up additions may, at any time, be re-converted and surrendered for cash. (3) Taken in cash. (4) Dividends may be left with the company to accumulate at a rate of interest not less than three per cent per annum. Such dividend fund may be withdrawn at any time upon satisfactory release, or, if not withdrawn, will be payable with the policy. (Under the insured or the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the four above options, the dividends shall be applied to the purchase of paid-up additions as per (2).)

BENEFICIARIES—CHANGE OF.—Provided the insured has, in the application hereof, reserved the right to change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, the insured may, at any time, if this policy is not then assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, upon filing a written request therefor with the company at its home office, in such form as it may require; but no such change shall take effect unless and until endorsement thereon shall have been made hereon by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

CHANGE OF PLAN.—At any time while this policy is in full force, it may be changed.

without medical examination, to any other form of policy in use by the company at the time this policy was issued, provided the rate of premium be not diminished thereby, upon the payment of such an amount and the execution of such papers as the company may require. The new policy shall be for the same amount, bear the same number and date, and be written at the same age as this policy.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, the company will loan, within thirty-one days of the application therefor, upon proper assignment to the company upon its prescribed form, and on the sole security hereof, a sum not exceeding the cash surrender value of the policy at the end of the then current policy year, as stated in the table of values herein contained, plus the value of all paid-up additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid instalments of premium for the balance of said policy year. Interest at a rate not to exceed five and one-half per cent per annum will be collected out of the amount of the loan to the end of the current policy year and thereafter be payable annually in advance. If the interest is not paid when due, it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. Failure to repay such loan or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid this policy unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured and of any assignee of record at the home office; but failure to repay such loan, after the total indebtedness, as aforesaid, shall equal said loan value and after the giving of such notice, shall render this policy void.

NON-FORFEITABLE.—This policy, after the payment upon it of three full annual premiums, shall not be forfeited or become void by reason of the non-payment of premium, but, upon the non-payment of any subsequent premium or instalment thereof on the date when due, the owner shall have the choice of one of the following options:

1. PAID-UP VALUE.—Upon written request therefor of the owner hereof within sixty days after such due date and the surrender of this policy, the company will issue a policy of non-participating paid-up life insurance for such an amount as the cash surrender value will purchase when used as a net single premium by the table referred to below (such commuted policy to have cash and loan values equal to the amount of its entire reserve); or,

2. SELF-ACTING EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Without action on the part of the owner, the company will extend the insurance under this policy from such due date, by applying the cash surrender value at such time as a net single premium, by the table referred to below, to the purchase of non-participating term insurance for the face amount of this policy (but without the right to loans thereon); or,

3. CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—The company will, upon request of the owner hereof and surrender of this policy within sixty days from such due date, purchase this policy and pay therefor, within thirty-one days of such request, its cash surrender value. Said cash surrender value at date of default in payment of premium will be the full reserve on the policy and on any existing paid-up additions less a sum equal to one per cent of the face amount of the insurance hereunder, up to and including the fifth policy year, and thereafter said per cent will be decreased by one-tenth of one per cent each policy year, and less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby. After the fourteenth year, said value will be the full reserve, less any indebtedness as aforesaid.

TABLE OF MINIMUM VALUES.

Guaranteed under "non-forfeitable" provisions, provided all premiums due prior to the period designated are paid and no indebtedness exists.

These values will be increased by the then value of any paid-up additions standing to the credit of this policy, and will be decreased by any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby. The insurances under Options 1 and 2, in the table above, are the mathematical equivalents of the cash surrender value as stated under Option 3 in the table.

The reserve under this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The values in the policy under the several options, which are stated in the table of values above, are for full-paid policy years—and will be adjusted proportionately for additional instalments of premium beyond the full-paid policy year. While any owner of this policy is a minor, no loan can be made by the company except for the purpose of paying current premiums; and before the cash surrender value can be paid, the interest of such minor must be released by a duly authorized legal guardian.

* Loan values are the same as cash values, and subject to "cash loans" clause, are available at any time after three full years' premiums have been paid.

NOTE.—A statement of the values for the succeeding years will be furnished upon application to the company.

INSTALLMENT BENEFITS.—Instalment benefits may be substituted for payment in one sum as follows:

A. CONTINUOUS MONTHLY INSTALLMENTS.—The whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured, may be paid in three hundred specified monthly instalments, of an amount corresponding in the following table to the then attained age of the person entitled thereto, provided that if such person shall survive to receive all of said three hundred instalments, then similar instalments shall be continued throughout the lifetime of such person. The table shall apply pro rata per $1000 of the amount to be so paid.

If there be more than one beneficiary, the amount to be so paid, unless otherwise directed by the insured, shall be considered as divided into equal parts and the amount of each beneficiary's monthly instalment shall be determined in accordance with the following table, for the age attained:

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of the policy be $10,000 and the age of beneficiary be forty years (last birthday), at the death of the insured the beneficiary would be paid three hundred monthly instalments of $40.60 each, and thereafter monthly instalments of $40.60 each during the remainder of life.

B. LIMITED INSTALLMENTS.—The whole or any part not less than $1000 of the proceeds of this policy at the death of the insured may be paid in a specified number of annual instalments, as per the following table, which shall apply pro rata per $1000 of the amount to be so paid:

Number of instalments	25	20	15	10

Number of instalments	5	4	3	2
Amount of each instalment	$ 211.99	$ 261.19	$ 343.23	$ 507.89

ILLUSTRATION.—If the proceeds of this policy be $10,000, and if payment is made by twenty instalments, the amount of each instalment will be $652.50.

NOTE.—Under any instalment benefit, annual instalments of $100 and over may be taken in equivalent semi-annual payments; those of $200 or over, in equivalent quarterly payments; those of $300 or over, in equivalent monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual instalment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly, or $8.45 paid monthly.

PROVISIONS OF INSTALLMENT SELECTION.—The insured at any time while this policy is in force, for an amount not less than $1000, and not assigned, may notify the company in writing of a desire to choose one of the above-mentioned methods of settlement, and if such choice is not made by the insured, the same choice may be exercised by the beneficiary at the time this policy becomes a claim. After making selection of manner of payment, the insured can revoke his selection and select another manner by notifying the company in writing. The mode of instalment settlement selected by the insured shall not be varied by the beneficiary.

the death of the insured (selection of instalment benefit having been made) payment of the first instalment under either of the above mentioned benefits, shall be surrendered to the company, and in its place the company will issue a new policy contract in accordance with the instalment benefit selected, which shall provide that on all instalments remaining unpaid from year to year, there shall be allowed such share of interest earned in excess of three and one-half per cent per annum as may from year to year apportion. The first instalment shall be paid on the date of the policy. Any indebtedness to the company on the date of the policy shall be deducted from the first instalment or instalments due.

claim under this policy amounts to less than $1000, no settlement by instalment shall be made, and any choice of instalment settlement previously made shall be of no effect.

the amount due under this policy shall be paid in one sum. If the beneficiary under this policy, surviving the insured, die before receiving the full amount of the policy, the then present value of all such instalments shall be paid to the executors or administrators of the said beneficiary.

the president, a vice-president or secretary has the power on behalf of the company to make or modify this or any policy of insurance, or to extend the time for the payment of any premium, and the company shall not be bound by any promises or representations heretofore or hereafter given by any person, other than the above. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium hereon shall have been actually paid. This policy actually delivered to the insured during the lifetime and good health of the insured.

assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate, and both copies sent to the company for consent and record, one of them to be retained there; but the company shall not be responsible for the validity of any assignment. Any claim against this policy arising under this policy, made by any assignee, shall be subject to satisfactory proof of interest and extent thereof.

company, upon request, will furnish blanks for proof of death under this policy; if must be furnished to the company at its home office, in the city of St. Louis, Missouri, within the balance of the current year's premium, and any indebtedness hereon to the company shall be deducted in any settlement of this policy or of any benefit hereunder. If the insured, or of suicide of the insured, whether sane or insane, within one year from date of this policy, the liability of the company shall be limited to double the amount of the premium paid hereon.

policy and the application hereof, taken together, constitute the complete contract. The statements made by the insured in the application hereof shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed to be representations and not warranties.

year after date of issue of this policy, engagement in any of the following occupations or employments—blasting, underground mining, sub-marine labor, aerostatics, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon railway trains (except as conductor, baggage master, press clerk on passenger trains), or in switching or coupling of cars, or in ocean navigation, or electrical employment where the voltage is over 600, will render the policy void.

age of the insured was misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as to make the premium paid would have purchased at the true age.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree as follows: 1. That the statements and representations contained in this application, together with those contained in the declarations made by the company's medical examiner, in continuation of this application, shall be the basis of the contract between me and The German Mutual Life Insurance Company; that I hereby represent the same to be full, complete and true, whether made by my own hand or not; said representations are conditions precedent to, and the basis of, the policy which may be issued hereon. 2. That such policy shall be subject to the conditions and stipulations therein contained, and shall not be valid until the first premium shall have been actually paid thereon, and the policy shall remain in force during my lifetime and good health. 3. That inasmuch as only the officers of the company, in the city of St. Louis, have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, and as they act on the written application and representations referred to, no statements, representations, promises or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on said company, or in any manner affect the rights, unless such statements, representations, promises or information be re-written, and presented to the officers of said company, at the home office, in St. Louis. 4. That in any distribution of surplus or profits, the principles and methods which may be adopted by said company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this policy, shall be and are hereby ratified and accepted by and for every person who is insured under or claim any interest under such policy. 5. That the contract, contained in this application, shall be construed according to the law of the State of Missouri, the place of said contract being agreed to be the home office of said company in St. Louis. 6. That no suit shall be brought against said company under this policy after the lapse of three years from the time when the cause of action accrues.

IGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be filed at the home office of the any in Paris, Texas. The company will assume no responsibility for the validity of assignment.

INSTATEMENT.—If any premium is not paid when due, or within the period of grace, his policy has not been surrendered, the company will re-instate the policy as of said ate any time thereafter, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company ayment of all arrears of premiums with interest, together with the payment, or reement, of any indebtedness on this policy on said due date, with interest. The rate erest shall be five per cent per annum in advance.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If default shall be made in the payment of any premium or pre-note after payment of premiums for three full years, then, (1) Without any action part of the insured, this policy shall be extended as a policy of paid-up term insurance out loan or surrender values) for the full amount thereof and for such a term, beng at the due date of the unpaid premium, as that the net value thereof shall equal et value of the paid-up term insurance stated in column four of the table on the third hereof, less all existing indebtedness to the company on the policy, or, (2) If this y shall be legally surrendered to the company at its home office within one month from ate of such default the company will pay therefor, in cash, the sum stated in column f the table on the third page hereof, less all existing indebtedness to the company on policy; or, (3) Upon written application therefor made to the company at its home within one month from the date of such default the company on legal surrender of policy, will issue in exchange therefor, a policy of paid-up life insurance, in such a sum at the net value thereof shall equal the net value of the paid-up life insurance stated lumn three on the third page hereof, less all existing indebtedness to the company on olicy. The reserves on this policy and all the net values above mentioned will be computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent. per annum.

PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid, and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty years, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby, for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability, provided such disability does not result directly or indirectly, in whole or in part, from self-inflicted injury, or from injury received while engaged in any unlawful act, and does not result in any way from injury received or disease contracted while engaged in military or naval service in time of war. In such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy and the guaranteed values of this policy in the table on the third page hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums in accordance with the contract from the first premium due date following such recovery.

LOAN AGREEMENT.—The insured is entitled to cash loans on the sole security of this policy at any time after the first policy year if premiums are paid in cash to the end of the policy year in which the loan is made. The aggregate loans hereunder shall not exceed the sum stated in column one of the table below for the end of the policy year last completed. A proper loan agreement and assignment of the policy must be executed by the insured on form provided by the company, and the policy deposited with the company, or the amount of the loan endorsed hereon by the company. Interest shall be at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value of this policy.

Loan and cash values available after the twentieth policy year will be the entire legal reserve of this policy, less all existing indebtedness to the company thereon. The amount of any such value available will be stated upon application to the home office of the company.

All insurance provided by this policy is based upon the written and printed application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached and made a part hereof, and upon the payment of three hundred six dollars on the 1st day of January, 1912, as the premium for one year's insurance. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance and the policy will be continued in force upon the further payment of three hundred six dollars on or before the first day of January in each and every year hereafter until premiums shall have been paid for twenty full years from date hereof or until the prior death of the insured.

In witness whereof, The Gibraltar Life Insurance Company has by its president, or vice-president, and secretary signed this contract at its home office at Paris, Texas, as of the first day of January, A. D. nineteen hundred and fifteen.

INSTALLMENT BENEFIT.—The insured or owner, or the beneficiary after the insured's death, in case the insured shall have made no election, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured paid either in cash or as follows: 1. Payment of the face of the policy, in twenty equal annual instalments (the first instalment being payable immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured), and a further amount equal to one-half of the face of the policy twenty years after the payment of the first instalment. 2. By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately in accordance with the table set out below and headed "Limited Instalments." 3. By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at inning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the table set out below and headed "Continuous Instalments." The following tables are based upon a policy, the net sum of which is one thousand dollars, and will apply pro rata to this policy. If the net sum is more than one thousand dollars the proceeds will be paid in one sum only. If the beneficiary should die before all instalments certain have been paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the beneficiary's legal representatives or assigns.

REDUCED INSTALMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected.

Girard Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.90. AGE, 35.

Girard Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., by this contract of insurance, agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars and in addition thereto such fully paid additions as may have been credited to this policy, as provided on page three hereof, at its home office in Philadelphia, Pa. to Polly Lun Girard, wife, or to such other beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled to receive the payment (as hereinafter provided), upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured, Stephen Girard, of Philadelphia, County of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania, provided this policy is in force at the time of the death of the insured.

THIS POLICY SHALL BE INCONTESTABLE AFTER ONE YEAR from the date hereof, provided the premiums shall be paid as stated herein and the condition as to military and naval service is not violated, and it is issued and accepted by all the parties in interest, subject to the conditions, privileges and benefits stated on the following pages, which are hereby made a part of this contract.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right to change the beneficiary has been reserved, the insured may at any time, and from time to time, during the continuance of the policy subject to any existing assignment of the policy, make such change by filing with the company a written request, using the company's form for that purpose, duly acknowledged and accompanied by the policy; the change to take effect upon the endorsement hereof upon the policy by the company. If no beneficiary shall survive the insured, then the proceeds of this policy shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

In witness whereof, the Girard Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and its secretary, at its office in Philadelphia, Pa., this third day of November, A. D., 1914.

CONDITIONS, PRIVILEGES AND BENEFITS REFERRED TO IN THIS POLICY.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Premiums hereunder are payable annually in advance, but may be paid in amounts and at times other than as stated on the last page hereof, as follows: $193.70 on the third day of November and May, or $98.80 on the third day of November, February, May and August. After the first year these rates will be reduced as provided by the coupons on the third page hereof. Except as hereinafter provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at the home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of the official receipt of the company, signed by one or more of the following officers, viz., president, vice-president, treasurer or secretary, and countersigned by said agent.

GRACE FOR PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty-one days subject to an interest at the rate of five per cent per annum shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the period of grace the overdue premium and interest will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any unpaid balance the premium for the current policy year, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy of any benefit hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse by non-payment of any premium, it if it is not running as extended term insurance, it may be revived at any time within three years from the date of such lapse, the insured furnishing evidence of insurability, satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all overdue premiums with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENT.—The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment, and shall not be held to have notice thereof until the original assignment, or duplicate thereof, is received at the home office of the company; all assignments shall be subject to the company's interest in the policy.

RISKS NOT ASSUMED.—(a) Self destruction, sane or insane, within one year from the date of this policy, will make it void. (b) Military or naval service of any kind in time of war by the insured without the written consent of the company is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract.

ERROR IN AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured as the basis for the contract shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defence to a claim hereunder unless it is contained in the written application hereof, a copy of which is attached hereto or endorsed hereon.

MODIFICATIONS OR ALTERATIONS.—No modification or alteration hereof will be valid unless made for the company, by the president, vice-president, secretary or treasurer, and no other person is authorised to make, alter or discharge this contract or to waive its seizure. Agents are not authorized to waive or modify any of the terms and conditions of this policy, nor to extend the time for payment of premiums or other moneys due to the company, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, and while the policy is in full force by the payment of premiums, and provided it is not continued as extended term insurance, on a proper assignment of the policy upon its prescribed form, the company will, within thirty days of the application therefor, loan on the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum (payable annually in advance), a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured, less than, the reserve at the end of the current policy year on the policy and dividend additions thereto, if any, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less not more than two and one-half per cent of the amount insured hereunder, and less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby, and any unpaid instalments of premium for the balance of the policy year. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy, unless and until the total indebtedness hereon or secured hereby shall equal the loan value, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee of record at the home office, if any.

PARTICIPATION.—In addition to the reduction in the premium, as per coupons attached, this policy shall participate in the surplus earnings of the company. Its proportion of such surplus shall be determined by the directors and distributed at the end of each five-year period from date hereof, provided the premiums have been paid in full to that date and the policy is then in full force and effect, and may be used as follows: (First) Withdrawn in cash. (Second) Applied to purchase additional paid-up insurance. (Third) Applied to reduce the premium hereon. (Fourth) Left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable, either in full or in part, in cash on demand by the owner of this policy. Unless the owner of this policy shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring such election, the dividends shall be paid in cash.

NON-FORFEITURE BENEFITS.

PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After the payment of premiums for three or more years, if default shall be made in the payment of any subsequent premium, this policy shall secure, without action on the part of the insured, non-participating paid-up insurance, as per table below.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In lieu of the paid-up insurance, the insured, by writing filed with company at its home office within two months from the due date of the premium in default, after the payment of premiums for three or more years, may elect to have the policy continued in force as a non-participating extended term insurance, in accordance with the table below.

CASH VALUE.—In lieu of the paid-up and extended term insurance provisions, upon the legal surrender of the policy to the company at the end of the third or any year thereafter, or within two months from the due date of any premium in default, after the payment of premiums for three or more years, a cash value will be paid as per table below. Each of these non-forfeiture benefits shall be the equivalent of the reserve value of this policy and dividend additions thereto (if any) at the date of the default in premium payments, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum less any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

Values for years, if any, not stated in this table will be as follows, viz.: cash value the full reserve, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest three and one-half per cent per annum, paid-up insurance, the equivalent of the said reserve; extended insurance, the equivalent of the said reserve applied according to the said mortality table, but with interest at three instead of three and one-half per cent per annum; loan value, the full cash value. The above values will be correspondingly increased if there are any paid-up dividend additions to the credit of this policy, and diminished if there be any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—In lieu of the payment in one sum, the insured, subject to the assent of any assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, may elect by a writing filed with the company, with the right of revocation and re-election, to have the proceeds of this policy including paid-up additions and dividend accumulations, if any, if not less than one thousand dollars, paid in equal annual instalments according to one of the following options, beginning upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured or at the maturity of the policy. No such instalments may be assigned, alienated, or commuted by any beneficiary, except upon the written authority of the insured filed with the company. If the insured shall not have made such election the beneficiary or beneficiaries entitled to receive said proceeds may, when the same become payable, exercise the same right of election. If no beneficiary survives the insured, said proceeds will be paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured. If there be more than one beneficiary, the right of any deceased beneficiary shall pass to the surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries upon satisfactory proof of such decease, except that under Option B the rights of the surviving beneficiary or beneficiaries shall be limited to such of the first twenty instalments, if any, as remain unpaid at the death of such beneficiary. At the death of the last surviving beneficiary, occurring subsequently to the death of the insured or at the maturity of the policy, any of the limited instalments under Option A, or any of the first twenty instalments under Option B, then remaining unpaid, will be commuted on the basis of three per cent compound interest and paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of such last surviving beneficiary.

OPTION B. CONTINUOUS INSTALLMENTS.—Table of instalments payable for the amount corresponding to the age attained by the beneficiary or beneficiaries at the death of the insured or at the maturity of the policy. Amount of each instalment is guaranteed throughout twenty years and so much longer as the beneficiary or beneficiaries may live. If there be more than one beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy to be paid in instalments shall be considered as divided into equal parts, and the amount of each beneficiary's annual instalment shall be determined by the age attained.

These tables are based upon a policy, the proceeds of which are one thousand dollars, and apply pro rata to this policy.

CONSIDERATION FOR THIS POLICY.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the payment in advance of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for one year's term insurance for the first policy year ending on the third day of November, 1915. After the first year the policy will be continued as a limited payment life policy upon the payment of the annual premium of three hundred seventy-nine and $\frac{80}{100}$ dollars, less the amount provided by coupons on the third page hereof, on or before the third day of November in every year, until twenty full years' premiums in all, including the first year, shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.—If this policy be in force the company guarantees that the premium for the second year, and for each year thereafter, will be reduced by the amount as evidenced by the coupons hereto attached. If any premium be paid semi-annually or quarterly, instead of annually, the coupon will be allowed with the last payment for the policy year.

GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS.—In lieu of the premium reduction provided above, the company guarantees to increase the cash surrender, loan value, paid-up insurance, term of extended insurance and amount payable in event of death to the amounts stated in the following table. The additional paid-up insurances, given in lieu of the guaranteed reductions in the premium, may be surrendered at any time for their cash value, which shall be their full reserve value at date of surrender.

Values for years, if any, not stated in this table will be as follows, viz.: cash value, full reserve; paid-up insurance, the equivalent of the said full reserve, on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum; extended insurance, the equivalent of the said cash value, applied according to the same mortality table, but with interest at three instead of three and one-half per cent per annum; loan value, the full cash value. The above values will be correspondingly increased if there are any paid-up dividend additions to the credit of this policy, and diminished if there be any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

SAMPLE COUPON.—On or after November 3, 1915, Girard Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, Pa., will allow to the insured under policy No. 00,000 (or to the assignee if said policy be assigned), upon receipt of this coupon by the company, forty-five per cent in reduction of premium due this date.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—It is hereby declared and agreed by the undersigned that all the foregoing statements and answers, as well as those made to the company's medical examiner in connection with this application are complete and true, and that if a policy of insurance shall be issued by said company under this application the same shall constitute the basis of and be a part of the contract expressed in said policy. I further agree that the insurance hereby applied for shall not be in force until the acceptance and approval of application by the company at its home office, the delivery of the policy to me, or my agent, and the payment of the first premium as required therein during my present continuance; and that upon such delivery said policy shall be taken and accepted as being effective upon the date stipulated in the policy as the date on which the insurance

Great Northern Life Insurance Company (

 AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309.40. A

The Great Northern Life Insurance Company of Wausau agrees to pay ten thousand dollars upon receipt at the home of the company in Wausau, Wis., of due proof of the death of Norton, the insured, and of the interest of the claimant to Norton (wife), the beneficiary, or to such other beneficiary have been duly designated, otherwise to the executors, a trustees or assigns of the insured. Any indebtedness hereof company will be deducted from the amount payable hereof.

The provisions and agreements on the following pages are made a part of this contract.

In witness whereof, the said Great Northern Life Insurance Company, at its h in the city of Wausau, Wis., has caused this policy to be signed by its president tary this first day of April, 1914.

Provisions and agreements referred to on the preceding page.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy is issued in consid of the application therefor, and of the annual premium c hundred, nine dollars and $\frac{40}{100}$, and in further consideration payment of a like amount, in advance, upon the first day c in every year hereafter until premiums have been paid for years from the date of this policy or until the prior death insured.

All premiums are payable at the home office of the company or to any author upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president or secretary of the company and signed by the designated agent.

Premiums may be paid annually, semi-annually or quarterly in advance, at any of the company's table rates. The mode of payment may be changed at any time. Except in case of death, the payment of an annual semi-annual or quarterly premium keep this policy in force beyond the date when the next premium is due.

This policy will not take effect until the first premium is actually paid during health of the insured.

GRACE.—A grace of one month will be granted for the payment of every premium due, during which time this insurance will continue in force. If the premium is not paid, this policy shall thereupon cease and determine, except as herein provided, death occur within the period of grace, the overdue premium will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder; but in no case will any semi-annual or quarterly premium after the date of death, be deducted from the amount payable under this policy, said death occur within the period of grace or at any other time while this policy is in force.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company will loan, on the proper assignment of this policy, a sum equal to, or at the option of the owner of the policy, the cash value specified in the table hereinafter given, less the amount of any unpaid premium or premiums for the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred for not exceeding ninety days, and shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent, per annum, payable in advance to the company. Failure to repay a loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void this policy while the total indebtedness including interest, is less than the loan value, nor until one month after notice has been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured an assignee, if any. Thereupon this policy shall cease and determine.

PREMIUM LOANS.—Upon application, in writing, on or before the time when a premium is due, the time for payment of such premium will be extended, and interest on the deferred payment as a loan, and subject to the provisions in the foregoing paragraph.

INDEBTEDNESS.—The foregoing options will be applicable in full, only in case of death, the indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy. If there be such indebtedness, the cash surrender value and the amount of paid-up insurance will be reduced in proportion that the total indebtedness bears to the cash surrender value. In the case of death, the indebtedness will be deducted from the net value of the policy at the time of death, the remainder applied, as a net single premium, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, to continue the term of this policy for a correspondingly shorter term.

SURRENDER VALUE.—Upon default in the payment of any premium, after a premium has been paid for three full years, and upon legal surrender of this policy to the company within one month after any default, the insured will be entitled to one of the following options as specified above and in the foregoing table: (1) The company will pay the cash surrender value as above specified; or (2) The company will issue a policy for a reduced amount, as above specified, payable in the same manner as the original policy, but without further payment of premiums; or (3) The company will issue a insurance policy, for the face amount of this policy and for the term of years and days above specified, beginning with the first day of the month of grace.

TABLE OF LOANS AND SURRENDER VALUES.

The following table shows the values guaranteed by this policy, provided there is no indebtedness to the company hereon; any such indebtedness will modify the values, as hereinafter provided. These values are based on the reserves, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, and three and one-half per cent interest, on the basis of one year modified preliminary term insurance. The values in each case are the equivalents of such reserve for the end of the policy year, and will be proportionately adjusted, on the same basis, for fractional periods in excess of full years. Payment of the cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding ninety days after the application therefor is made. Cash surrender and loan values for later years are computed on the same basis and will be stated on application.

AUTOMATIC OPTION.—If this policy be not surrendered for one of the foregoing options, the insurance will be carried as extended insurance, subject to modification on account of any indebtedness, as above specified, but without action on the part of the insured.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, if not surrendered to the company and cancelled, or if carried as extended insurance, may be reinstated at any time after default in payment of any premium, upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and upon payment of all premium arrears, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum. The reinstated policy will also be subject to the payment or reinstatement (within the loan value of this policy) of any unpaid indebtedness at the time of default, with interest.

VALUATION.—The first year's insurance under this policy is modified preliminary term insurance.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured, subject to any existing assignment of this policy, may designate a new beneficiary by filing notice at the home office of the company, accompanied by this policy for suitable endorsement, whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary or beneficiaries shall cease. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be in writing, and the company shall not be deemed to have knowledge of such assignment unless the original or a duplicate thereof is filed at the home office of the company and its receipt duly acknowledged. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder will be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age; or the premium may be adjusted and credit given to the insured or to the company, according to the company's published rate at the date of this policy.

SUICIDE.—If within one year from the date hereof the insured shall, whether sane or insane, die by suicide or in consequence of his or her own criminal action, the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of the premiums paid on this policy.

OCCUPATION, RESIDENCE, TRAVEL.—This policy shall be free from any restriction as to residence, travel, military or naval service or other occupations of the insured.

MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured, or after the death of the insured (if he shall have made no election), the beneficiary, may, by written notice to the company, at its home office, with the consent of the assignee, if any, elect to have the net sum payable under this policy upon the death of the insured (if not less than $1000) paid as provided in the options below, otherwise payment will be made in one sum only, as hereinbefore provided. (1) By the payment of an annuity equal to three per cent of such net sum, payable at the end of each year during the lifetime of the beneficiary, and by the payment, upon the death of the beneficiary, of said net sum, together with any accrued portion of the annuity for the year then current, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary, unless otherwise directed in said notice; or (2) By the payment of equal instalments at the beginning of each annual, semi-annual, quarterly or monthly period for a specified number of years, according to the following table of limited instalments; or (3) By the payment of equal instalments at the beginning of each annual, semi-annual, quarterly or monthly period, for a fixed period of twenty years, and as for as many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table of continuous instalments.

Any instalments payable, which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the beneficiary, shall be paid to the beneficiary's executors, administrators or assigns, unless otherwise directed in said notice.

Unless otherwise specified in the written notice of such election, the beneficiary may at any time receive, in full settlement and commutation of the payments yet to be made under the limited instalment option the commuted value of such payments, computed on the basis of three per cent compound interest; no such commutation will be made under the continuous instalment option except after the death of the beneficiary within the fixed period of twenty years, and in that case such commutation shall extend only to the remainder of the instalments payable within such fixed period of twenty years.

CONTESTABILITY.—This policy together with the application therefor, a copy of which is hereto attached, constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and warranties, and no such statement shall void this policy unless it is contained in the written application herefor. No agent is authorized to modify this policy or to extend time for paying a premium.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree that if the amount of the premium on the insurance herein applied for is not paid when this application is made, no contract of insurance shall be deemed made and no policy on the part of said company shall arise until a policy shall be issued and delivered to me, nor until the first premium thereon shall be actually paid while I am in good health; and that if the amount of said premium is paid at the time of making this application, the policy for advance payment of premium given me shall determine the conditions upon which and the time when the insurance applied for shall take effect.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

* Adopted November, 1914.

Great Republic Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE COUPON POLICY—WITH THREE EXTRA BENEFITS—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $418.40. AGE, 35.

Great Republic Life Insurance Company, Los Angeles, Cal., by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars to the home office of the company, Los Angeles, Cal., to Mary Doe, the beneficiary, wife of the insured, immediately upon receipt at the home office of due proof of the death during the continuance of this policy of John Doe, the insured.

This insurance is granted in consideration of the application therefor, which is hereby made a part of this contract and of the payment in advance of four hundred eighteen and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, being the premium for the period ending on the fifteenth day of August, 1915, and the payment of a like sum on the fifteenth day of August in every year thereafter until premiums for twenty full years, including the first, shall have been paid, or until the prior death of the insured.

The insured shall have the right to change the beneficiary named herein.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

The benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof the Great Republic Life Insurance Company has by its proper officers caused this policy to be signed this twentieth day of August, 1914.

BENEFITS AND VALUES.

LOAN VALUE.—At any time after one year from the date hereof and while this policy is in force, the company will loan at five per cent annual interest on the sole security of this policy, up to the amount stated in the table of guaranteed values opposite the current policy year, upon a satisfactory assignment of the policy to the company as security. The company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy, any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year and interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Failure to pay any loan or interest thereon shall not avoid this policy until the total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed the loan value stated in the table of guaranteed values, nor until thirty-one days after legal notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—At any time after two annual premiums have been paid hereon, and within one month from date of default in payment of any premium, the company will, upon written request by the insured, with a full and valid surrender of this policy and all claims hereunder, pay the cash surrender value stated in the table of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid. Any indebtedness on or secured by this policy shall be deducted from such payment. If the insured defaults in the payment of any premium, the amount of paid-up life insurance or the term for which the insurance will be extended, shall be such as the cash surrender value stated in the table of guaranteed values, less any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy, will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

INDEBTEDNESS.—The amount of paid-up life insurance and the term for which the insurance will be extended as set forth in the two following paragraphs and in the table of guaranteed values, is based upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on or secured by this policy. If there is any such indebtedness, the amount of paid-up life insurance and the extended insurance will be determined by the rule prescribed in the last preceding paragraph.

PAID-UP LIFE INSURANCE.—At any time after two annual premiums have been paid hereon and within one month from date of default in payment of any premium, the company will, upon written request by the insured, convert this policy into paid-up non-participating life insurance in the sum shown in the table of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—At the expiration of two years from the date hereof, if any subsequent premium be not paid when due, the company will, without action on the part of the insured, extend this policy as non-participating term insurance without loan cash value, for the term provided in the table of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid.

PLAN AND BASIS.—This policy is issued on the non-participating plan, on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, and for the first year is one year term insurance. The reserve on this policy, and all surrender values contained therein shown on the above table of guaranteed values, are based on said tables of mortality and interest, less surrender charge, which in all cases is less than that permitted by law.

LOAN INSURANCE.—Any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy may be insured. Upon due proof of the death of the insured, such loan insurance shall be applied in cancellation of any such indebtedness. Such loan insurance shall be in effect only after the insured has furnished evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, paid the premiums hereon based upon the rate at the attained age at the date of granting or renewing such insurance in accordance with the following schedule, and has received a certificate of loan insurance from the company:

SCHEDULE OF PREMIUM RATES FOR LOAN INSURANCE.

Attained age of insured.....	18 to 29	30 to 39	40 to 49
Annual premium per $100 of loan insurance.....	$ 0.80	$ 0.90	$ 1.00
Attained age of insured.....	45 to 49	50 to 54	55 to 59
Annual premium per $100 of loan insurance.....	$ 1.20	$ 1.60	$ 2.00

For periods of less than one year the premium shall be at the rate of one-tenth of the annual premium for each month and fraction of a month. Loan insurance shall be granted for any period extending beyond the next premium paying anniversary of this policy, but may be renewed from year to year subject to evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, and the payment of the premium for such loan insurance at the attained age, but no loan insurance shall be granted or renewed after the age of sixty. Whenever the loan insurance exceeds the indebtedness, the company shall cancel that portion of the loan insurance in excess of the indebtedness and refund the unearned premium.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

1. PERMITS OR MODIFICATIONS.—Only the president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary (and they only in writing signed by them) have power in behalf of the company to issue permits, or to make or modify this or any contract of insurance, or to extend the time of any premium payment. This authority will not be delegated nor shall the company be bound by any promise or representation given at any time by any person other than the above named officers, and by them only in writing and as stated.

2. REINSTATEMENT.—At any time, after any default upon written application of the insured and upon presentation at the home office of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, this policy may be reinstated together with any indebtedness in accordance with the loan provisions of the policy, upon payment of arrearage of premiums with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

3. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—This contract is made with the person whose life is insured hereby and the beneficiary shall have no interest in this policy until after the death of the insured. The insured during lifetime reserves the right, without the consent of the beneficiary, to surrender this policy to the company for cancellation, cash paid-up or extended insurance. The insured may change the beneficiary named herein provided this policy has not been assigned. Such change will take effect when announced hereon by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured, the amount which would have been payable to such deceased beneficiary shall be payable to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

4. GRACE.—A grace of thirty-one days (without interest), during which time this policy will remain in force, will be allowed for the payment of any annual, semi-annual terly renewal premium; provided, that if the insured shall die within such period the unpaid premium for the current policy year will be deducted in any settlement under the policy.

INCONTTESTABLE.—If the premiums are duly paid as required, this policy shall be incontestable after it has been renewed beyond the first year.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The full annual premium is due and payable in advance at the same office of the company, in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., or to a designated collector, but in any case only in exchange for the company's receipt therefor, signed by secretary and countersigned by such collector. Upon default in payment of any premium, or any note or interest thereon, this policy shall be null and void and all premiums forfeited to the company, except as herein provided.

1. The premium may be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, or changed from such form to annual, by application in writing to the home office of the company; premium when so changed shall be on the basis of company's published rates for desired use by the company at the date hereof, but such semi-annual or quarterly payments shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than the months or three months covered by such payment, subject to the above provisions as to grace. Any change in the mode of payment of premium can be made only by application to the company. It is agreed that this policy becomes a claim for which the company shall have the right to deduct any part or parts of the entire year's premium unpaid.

POLICY TO CONTAIN ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof, of which application is attached hereto) shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of deemed representations and not warranties, and no statement made by the insured shall avoid this policy unless it is contained in the written application therefor. No action at law or suit in equity shall be commenced or maintained hereon, nor recovery had, unless such action or suit is commenced within five years from the day of death of the insured.

PROOFS OF DEATH.—Proofs of death of the insured and of the interest of any claimant be furnished to the company at its home office in the city of Los Angeles, Cal., five years after the death of the insured. Failure to furnish such proof in such time shall render void all claims on this policy. Any indebtedness, including any balance of the current year's premium remaining unpaid, will be deducted in the settlement.

AGE.—If the age of the insured was understated in the application on which this was issued, the amount payable shall be the insurance which the premium paid have purchased at the correct age of the insured.

NOTICES.—All notices required by law, which shall be addressed and mailed to insured, or assignee, if any, at the last post office address as it appears on the books of the company, shall be deemed, and for all purposes held to be, sufficient notice.

SUICIDE.—In the event of death of the insured within one year from the date by his or her own hand, whether he or she at the time be sane or insane, the amount payable shall be limited to the premiums which have been paid on this policy.

ASSIGNMENT.—Any assignment of this policy must be made in duplicate and one filed with the company at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility for the validity of any assignment.

WHEN POLICY TAKES EFFECT.—This policy will not take effect nor be in force until its delivery to and acceptance by the insured during the lifetime and good health of the insured, nor until the first premium has been paid.

At Republic Life Insurance Company guarantees that if this policy is kept in force the payment of premiums on the dates named therein, due or past due coupons with accumulated interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, compounded annually, will be paid or may be used under any one of the following options:

SECTION I.—Cash, gold coin of the United States.

NOTE II.—Applied towards the payment of the annual premium.

mon III.—Upon request of the insured in writing, coupons as they become due, within thirty-one days thereafter, may be applied as a single premium at the insured's attained age to purchase paid-up non-participating insurance.

tion IV.—Upon payment of fifteen premiums hereon in full in cash, and upon considering to the company the nineteen coupons hereto attached, this policy becomes up for the full face amount hereof. Upon death of the insured, due and unused amounts with their accumulated interest, will be paid to the beneficiary in cash in addition to the sum insured. If coupons are applied continuously in reduction of premium, this policy will have the values shown in the table of guaranteed values on page two of this id and subsequent coupons are for $60.50; $63.10; $65.70; $68.40; $71; $73.00; $78.80; $81.40; $84; $86.70; $89.30; $91.90 and last five $94.50 each.

LE COUPON.—On or after August 15, 1915, Great Republic Life Insurance Com Los Angeles, Cal., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. ten and ⁹⁰/₁₀₀ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including have been paid.

LE EXTRA BENEFITS—ADDITIONAL INDEMNITY FOR ACCIDENTAL DEATH OF THE D.—In the event of the death of the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty by bodily injury affected exclusively by external, violent and accidental means, sane or insane excluded) and occurring within ninety days after such injury, the company will pay to the beneficiary in lieu of all other settlements provided for by policy ($10,500) ten thousand five hundred dollars, immediately upon receipt of proofs of death, and nineteen additional payments of five hundred dollars each thereafter on the anniversary of the first payment.

LE AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—The company will pay the premiums on this beginning with the next annual premium following the receipt of satisfactory of the total and permanent disability of the insured, provided that such total and ent disability is due solely and entirely to bodily injuries or disease occurring while this policy is in full force, and that such disability is such as to prevent the insured at all times thereafter from engaging in any gainful occupation, provided, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligations to pay further premiums hereon shall cease and the insured shall be required to pay all future premiums becoming due hereon after the date of such recovery, and any such premiums paid by the company shall not be a lien hereon and the cash values shall continue to increase and progress from year to year in the same manner as if the insured had paid the premiums hereon. Should the insured suffer death through external, violent and accidental means, resulting in the severance of both hands at or above the wrist; or the severance of both feet at or above the ankle; or the severance of one hand and one foot at or above the wrist and ankle; or the total loss of sight of both eyes; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of both hands at or above the wrist; or the total loss of the sight of one eye and the severance of both feet at or above the ankle; the insured shall be deemed totally disabled. The company shall not be available if the disability occurs after the insured has attained the age of sixty years. At any time after the occurrence of such total disability, and during the continuance thereof, the insured may elect in lieu of all other benefits provided for by policy to receive, and upon such election the company will pay, the sum of ($50,000) dollars, at the end of each month during the continuance of such total disability, exceeding two hundred such monthly payments, during which period the payment of premiums shall not be required; provided, that in case the insured shall die during the two hundred such monthly payments shall have been made, the remaining payments shall be made to the beneficiary of the insured. Should the insured, after having received as aforesaid, recover from such total disability, this policy may be restored into full force by the payment of premiums thereafter becoming due hereon; provided, that the sum so paid in disability benefits accumulated at five per cent interest per annum, compounded, shall be a charge upon this policy, to be deducted in any settlement hereunder.

ANCE OF THE BENEFICIARY.—In the event of the death of the beneficiary (prior to the beneficiary attaining the age of sixty years), and occurring during the life of the he insured, and such death of the beneficiary being caused by bodily injury not self-inflicted, effected directly and exclusively by external, violent and accidental means suicide, sane or insane excluded), while riding as a passenger in or upon a railroad passenger car (including the platform, steps and running board thereof), or while a passenger in an elevator provided for passenger service only (elevators in mines excepted) or while a passenger on board a steam vessel licensed for the regular transportation of passengers for hire, or as the result of a cyclone or tornado, and such death occurring within ninety days after such injury, the company will pay to the insured ($500) five hundred dollars, immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of said beneficiary, and nineteen additional payments of a like amount annually thereafter on the anniversary of the first payment. The approval by the company of a claim for the death of a beneficiary shall render this provision thereafter null and void, but in all other respects this policy may be continued to maturity by a payment of the premium in the manner and form and at the times required by the policy. Fatal injuries sustained by both the insured and beneficiary in the same accident render this beneficiary insurance null and void, and no payment shall be made on account of the death of such beneficiary. When the beneficiary is changed, insurance of such beneficiary hereunder immediately ceases and the insurance of a second or subsequent beneficiary shall continue only until the first would have attained the age of sixty years. When there are two or more beneficiaries, each beneficiary shall be insured hereunder in the proportion that such beneficiary's interest bears to the face amount of the policy.

The three extra benefits mentioned above shall be void and no recovery shall be had thereon if the death or disability occurs after the expiration of the premium-paying period of this policy, or while the insured is in default for the payment of any annual premium.

Good only when attached to and forming a part of policy No.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

That the foregoing, together with declarations made to medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for; that the policy issued shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions contained therein.

It is understood and agreed that if the entire amount of the first annual, semi-annual or quarter annual premium on the insurance herein applied for is not paid in cash at the time of making this application, this policy shall not take effect nor be in force until delivery to and acceptance by me during my lifetime and good health, nor until the first premium has been paid.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED ANNUAL DIVIDEND.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

The Great Southern Life Insurance Company, Birmingham, Ala., by this contract of insurance agrees to pay, at its head office the city of Birmingham, Ala., immediately upon receipt and approval of proofs of death of John T. Morgan, the insured, ten thousand dollars, to Cornelia, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary or beneficiaries as may be designated by the insured in the manner herein provided.

GUARANTEED DIVIDENDS.—This contract is issued on the guaranteed annual dividend, and if kept in force by payment of premiums in cash, the company guarantees that dividends shall be as shown on the coupons hereto attached, and the policy shall otherwise participate in the profits. If the insured shall elect to pay premiums in without reduction, and leave the dividends with the company, the company guarantees that after premiums have been paid for fifteen full years, the company will, upon surrender and cancellation of all the past, present and future coupons, endorse upon policy that it is fully paid up, and premiums shall then cease and paid up values shall be returned. In case insured should elect to leave the coupons to make this a fully paid-up policy, and should die while this contract is in force, but before it is fully paid-up, as above provided, all of the coupons bearing date prior to said death shall be paid to the beneficiary with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum in addition to the sum insured. In case the insured shall not elect as above provided, but nevertheless, leave said dividends with the company, the same shall be payable, presentation of the coupons at any time with compound interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum for each full year such dividends are left with the company.

STATE OF ALABAMA.—Department of insurance. This is to certify that this policy is issued by the insurance department, and that the legal reserve hereon is secured by bonds, mortgages and other approved securities certified to and on deposit with the state auditor, under Section 4565 of the Code of Alabama, 1907.

RANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—This policy is issued with the understanding that the insured may, upon written request to the company, at any time while this policy is in force, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, provided this policy, or any interest therein, has been assigned. No such change shall take effect until it has been endorsed on this policy by the company at its head office. If all designated beneficiaries die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured. The insured may exercise this right under this policy without the consent of the beneficiary.

DISABILITY CLAUSE.—After two full annual premiums shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premiums, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that physically he has become wholly disabled by the loss of limbs, total blindness or paralysis, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, at the end of six months from acceptance of such proofs, by an endorsement in writing upon this contract, agree that it will advance to the insured, on account of this policy, annually one-half of the amount insured hereunder, less the premiums due, during such disability, the amount insured, less premiums due, and other indebtedness, is paid in full. If, however, the insured shall recover, the annual advance shall cease and the advances so made may be returned in cash or remain charges against this policy.

THIS POLICY SHALL BE NON-FORFEITABLE AS FOLLOWS.—If premiums have been paid two or more years, the company, upon failure of insured to pay any premiums, will continue the premiums as they fall due, as loans against this policy until the loan value of the accumulated unused coupons if any are consumed, and this policy shall thereby remain in full force. At any time while the policy is thus sustained, the payment of premiums may be resumed without medical re-examination, and the accumulated debits be paid or stand as a loan against the policy.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—The insured has the right at the time any premium falls due, the first, to pay an annual, a semi-annual, or a quarterly premium, according to the company's schedule for the kind of policy held, and such premiums will continue the policy in force for the time paid for in accordance with the privileges and conditions of this policy.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty days without interest, will be given in payment of premiums after this policy has been in force one full year.

CONTESTABILITY.—This contract is incontestable after one year from date of issue, except for non-payment of premium, or mis-statement of age, and military and naval service in time of war without a permit.

REINSTATEMENT.—If default in payment of premiums has occurred and the loan value of accumulated unused coupons if any have been consumed in the payment of premiums as described above; or, if this policy, upon the request of the insured, has been surrendered for a paid-up policy; or if this policy has been extended as a term policy, the payment of premiums may be resumed at any time and this policy will be re-instated with the payment of the defaulted premiums with interest at six per cent, and upon compliance with the company's health requirements.

PAID-UP POLICY.—The insured may leave the dividends with the company for the purpose of having the policy become paid-up, which shall occur when such dividends together with the reserve under this policy shall amount to the single premium at the attained age of the insured at the time and thereafter no payment will be required from the insured. But the insured may continue premium payment for the purpose of having this policy become paid-up as an endowment in accordance with the following privileges:

CONTINUOUS ENDOWMENT.—The dividends may be left with the company for the purpose of having this policy become paid-up as an endowment, which shall occur when the accumulations, together with the reserve under this policy, shall become equal to the face of the policy, at which time the whole amount shall become due and payable in cash, and may be paid to the insured to the exclusion of the beneficiary.

LOANS.—On demand in writing to the home office of the company, the insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary, borrow on the sole security of this contract the amount specified in the accompanying table for the year in which the loan is to be taken, subject to the interest, in advance, at not over six per cent per annum, provided the contract shall have been in force two years; the contract shall be assigned to the company as security according to the terms of the company's loan agreement, and the premiums on the contract shall be paid in full to the end of the next policy year. The amount available at any time includes any previous loan then unpaid.

EXTENDED OR PAID-UP INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including the period of grace, specified in column three of the accompanying table; or in lieu of such term insurance, the company will endorse on this contract the amount of paid-up insurance, if any, specified in column two of the accompanying table, upon written request therefor made by the insured within three months from said due date. If there shall be an indebtedness to the company, and if any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, an amount of insurance, equal to the face amount of this contract less the indebtedness, will automatically continue from said due date as term insurance, for the term, including the period of grace, which the excess of the cash value of the contract, if any, over the indebtedness, will purchase at the then age of the insured, according to the company's present table of single premiums. In lieu of such term insurance, provided the insured shall make written request therefor within three months from said due date, the company will endorse on this contract the amount of paid-up insurance, which said excess will purchase at the then age of the insured, according to the company's present table of single premiums.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—(1) No agent can make, alter or discharge this contract or extend the time for payment of premiums, nor can this contract be varied or altered or its conditions waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president, one of the vice-presidents, secretary or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated. (2) If the age of the insured was incorrectly stated in the application for this contract, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof. (3) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinafter provided. (4) No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing endorsed upon this contract or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished forthwith to the company upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof. (5) Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this contract or of any benefit thereunder. (6) In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid. (7) For military or naval service in time of war a permit from the company will be required. (8) For failure to comply with any of the provisions of this policy the company will be liable for not over the reserve on the policy.

Any indebtedness existing against this policy at the time of any settlement thereof shall be deducted from the cash surrender value of the policy, and the other values shall be diminished proportionately.

The cash value of this policy at the end of twenty years is guaranteed to be five thousand six hundred and sixty dollars.

This policy shall not take effect until the first premium shall have been paid during the life and good health of the insured. After said event shall be considered as in force from the date hereof. This agreement is made in consideration of the payment of three hundred eighty-three and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, constituting the premium for the period terminating on the first day of June, 1909, during which period the insurance hereunder is in force, and in further consideration of the renewal payment of a like sum on said date and thereafter on the first day of June in every year until twenty full payments shall have been made, or until death, should it occur sooner.

In witness whereof, the Great Southern Life Insurance Company has caused this agreement to be signed by its president, secretary and countersigned by its registrar, this 10th day of June, 1908.

AMPLE GUARANTEED DIVIDEND COUPON.—On or after June 1, 1909, the Great Southern Life Insurance Company of Birmingham, Ala. will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 000 (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned) a dividend of forty-five and $\frac{21}{100}$ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office. The dividends are as follows: \$45.30; \$49.80; \$54.30; \$58.80; \$63.40; \$68; \$73.40; \$77.30; \$82; \$86; \$90.80; \$95.20; \$99.60; \$104.10; \$108.70; \$113.30; \$117.90; \$122.50; \$127.10.

INSTALLMENT PRIVILEGE.—Written request specifying the number of instalments in which the amount insured under this policy is to be paid must be made by the insured while this policy is in force; such request may subsequently be withdrawn or the number of instalments changed at any time during the continuance of this policy upon notice to the company in writing, such request or subsequent notice to be operative only upon endorsement by the company upon the policy. The first instalment shall be payable the same time the original amount would have been payable under this policy and subsequent instalments shall be made payable on the succeeding anniversaries thereafter.

Amount of each.....	$ 2,120	$ 1,140	$ 810	$ 650

At the time any instalment is due the remaining instalments, if any, may be commuted, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing, at the rate of three per cent per annum, compound interest, and the equivalent value withdrawn in one sum. The legal holder hereof at the time the policy becomes a claim shall have the privilege of having the amount insured under the policy payable in instalments as herein provided, unless the company shall have been otherwise directed by the insured in writing.

PROVIDO.—The instalment privilege shall be inoperative if the amount payable under this policy be less than $1000.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I agree, on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have or claim any interest in any policy issued under this application, as follows: Any policy issued under this application shall be governed by the laws of the State of Alabama. 1. That inasmuch as only the officers at the head office of the company have authority to determine whether or not a policy shall issue on any application, no statements, promises or information made or given by, or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights, unless such statements, promises or information be reduced to writing, and presented to the officers of the company at the head office, in this application. 2. That in any distribution of surplus or apportionment of profit, the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution or apportionment and its determination of the amount equitably belonging to any policy which may be issued under this application, shall be conclusive upon the insured under said policy and upon all parties having or claiming an interest thereunder. 3. That the insurance under any policy issued on this application shall take effect as of the date of this application unless otherwise agreed in writing. 4. That the insurance issued in pursuance of this application shall in no event take effect or be binding until the written policy is delivered to the assured while in good health and the initial premium paid to the president, secretary or cashier of the company at its principal office. 5. That any policy that may be issued in pursuance of this application shall be in consideration of my promises made in this application. I agree that active service in the army or navy in time of war shall invalidate the insurance unless a permit for such service shall have been applied for and granted by the company, and the extra premium paid on notification; and it is agreed that the insurance shall be void and all renewals thereof shall become void if at any time within one year after the date of issuance of the policy the applicant shall travel or reside in the Torrid Zone, or engage in any of the following occupations, to wit: Handling electric wires or dynamos, mining, mining submarine labor, aeronautic ascension, the manufacture, handling or transportation of inflammable or explosive substances, service upon any railroad train in switching or coupling cars, or on any steamboat and that self-destruction, sane or insane, and death in consequence of violation of law, within the above period, are risks assumed by the company in the contract.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company (Texas).

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $310.60. AGE, 35.

Great Southern Life Insurance Company, Houston, promises to pay ten thousand dollars to Mary Doe, wife (herein called the beneficiary), at its office in Houston, Tex., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death, during the continuance of this policy, of John Doe, of Houston, county of Harris, State of Texas, (herein called the insured), less any indebtedness of the insured or beneficiary to the company.

This contract is made for the term of one year in consideration of the payment of the first premium of three hundred ten and $\frac{7}{10}$ dollars, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, and may thereafter be renewed and continued as a limited payment life policy upon payment of a like sum on the first day of January in every year during the continuance of this contract, until the death of the insured, or until premiums for twenty years shall have been paid; but after one full annual premium has been paid, the company, by endorsement on this policy, will waive payment of premiums under the conditions stated in Section 7 on the next page, entitled "waiver of premiums."

* Loans will be granted at the beginning instead of at the end of the year, if so desired, provided the entire premium for the year has been paid.

The benefits and provisions printed or written by the company on the following pages are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited at length over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, Great Southern Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its authorized officers at its office in the city of Houston the first day of January, 1911.

BENEFITS AND PROVISIONS.

1. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its date of issue, except for non-payment of premiums, and except, further, that there will be a limited liability as provided in Section 14 hereof.

2. PREMIUMS.—All premiums on this policy shall be payable in advance either at the office of the company or to an agent of the company upon the delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company, and duly countersigned by such agent. Unless otherwise provided all premiums are payable annually, but by contract in writing, they may be made payable in semi-annual or quarterly installments. Any unpaid part of the premium or premiums for the current policy year in which death occurs will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. If any premium or any note or other obligation given therefor shall not be paid when due, this policy shall thereupon cease, except as herein provided.

3. GRACE.—One month's grace is allowed for the payment of every premium after its due date without interest charge, during which month this insurance shall continue in force. If the insured should die during the period of grace the entire premium for the current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

4. REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in premium payments and termination of the value of this policy to the purchase of other insurance, and if such insurance shall be in force and the original policy shall not have been surrendered, company and canceled, this policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums, at the rate of six per cent per annum.

5. PREMIUM LOANS.—Whenever the cash surrender value of this policy in section 9, entitled "non-forfeiture provisions," shall be sufficient to pay on premium, with six per cent interest thereon for one year, the company will, upon expiration of the days of grace, accept a premium lien note signed by the insured in lieu of cash for premium; said note to be a first lien against the policy, at the same terms and conditions as cash loans, (including the right to deduct from any subsequent cash surrender value) except that the policy shall be deposited with the company as a pledge.

6. PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORM OF POLICY.—At any time, in force, and provided the insured is then less than sixty years of age, this policy may be exchanged, without medical re-examination, for a policy payable in like manner and for the same amount upon any plan then issued by the company, at a higher rate of premium. Such change shall become effective upon payment equal to the difference between the premiums paid on this policy and what would have been required at the said higher rate with compound interest at six per cent on the difference between the two premium rates, computed from the date of the premium payment to the date when the change is made, and upon the value of this policy. The new policy will take effect as of the date of this policy, and its premium will be based on the same age as this policy.

7. WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—The company, by endorsement hereon, will waive the payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented from performing any work for compensation or profit or from following any gainful occupation. The premiums so waived will not be a charge against the policy, and the benefits as shown in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon shall be the same as if the premiums were paid in cash. Provided that, notwithstanding any proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall, at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the fact of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any gainful occupation for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due shall be paid in conformity with this contract. The company shall have the right to examine the insured's person, in case total disability is claimed, and to cause a medical examination without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered total disability within the meaning of this provision.

8. CASH LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid, while this policy is in full force, no default in premium payments having occurred, the company will advance upon proper assignment of this policy and upon the payment of a cash loan not exceeding the amount named in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon, the loan to bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum in advance; if interest is not paid when due it shall be added to the principal and interest at the same rate. The company reserves the right to deduct any interest due on this policy from said loan. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay the interest thereon shall not render this policy void unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall exceed its loan value. Whenever the total indebtedness against this policy shall exceed its loan value, the policy shall thereupon become void and such indebtedness shall thereby stand canceled. The company, if it so elects, may defer, as a condition of the making of any loan, or the paying of any cash surrender value, for not more than six months after application therefor is made.

NOTE.—The loan value of this policy equals its cash surrender value as defined in section 9.

9. NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If this policy should lapse on account of non-payment of premium payments, after premiums shall have been paid for two full years, the company will, within one month from the date of such default elect: either, (a) to accede to the cash surrender value, which will be an amount equal to the reserve on this policy at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less any indebtedness to the company on this policy and less a surrender charge, which in no case shall be more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy; or, (b) to secure a new policy payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for an amount as said cash surrender value, as above defined, will purchase as much premium at the age of the insured at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Loans may be obtained on such paid-up policy subject to the provisions of section 8, entitled "cash loans," or it may be surrendered to the company at any time for its cash surrender value; or, (c) to have insurance for the term of this policy continue in force from the date of default for such term as said cash surrender value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium, at the rate of the insured at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per the right to loans or cash surrender value. If the insured shall not within one year after such default surrender this policy to the company at its home office, for the surrender value as provided in option (a), or, for a paid-up policy, as provided in option (b), the insurance will be automatically continued as term insurance as provided in option (c).

VALUES.—The figures contained in the "table of values and options" appearing here represent the amounts available after deduction of surrender charges, if any, computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and are based upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated in the table and that there is no indebtedness against this policy. Values for later years than those shown in said "table of values and options" will be computed on the same basis and will be furnished on request.

INSTALLMENTS.—The proceeds of this policy may, by written request of the insured, be paid in installments. If the policy is in force, be made payable: (First) In a limited number of annual installments, as per following Option 1:

If the insured has requested that the proceeds of this policy shall be paid in installments, the company can neither assign nor commute unpaid installments unless the written consent of the insured has been filed with the home office, and endorsement made on this policy by the company during the lifetime of the insured.

RANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, at any time and from time to time during the continuance of this policy, if the policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by giving notice to the company at its home office, such change to take effect on the death of the insured on the policy by the company. The right is reserved to the insured, without the consent of the beneficiary, to receive every benefit, exercise every privilege granted by this policy. If any beneficiary should die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—The insured has a right to assign this policy. Any assignment made in duplicate, upon blanks furnished by the company, and one original to be filed with the company at its home office. The company will assume no liability as to the validity of any assignment. Any claim arising under an assign-

4. REINSTATEMENT.—In the event of default in premium payments and the application of the value of this policy to the purchase of other insurance, and if such other insurance shall be in force and the original policy shall not have been surrendered to the company and canceled, this policy may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and payment of arrears of premiums, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

5. PREMIUM LOANS.—Whenever the cash surrender value of this policy, as defined in section 9, entitled "non-forfeiture provisions," shall be sufficient to pay one full annual premium, with six per cent interest thereon for one year, the company will, before the expiration of the days of grace, accept a premium lien note signed by the insured alone in lieu of cash for premium; said note to be a first lien against the policy, and subject to the same terms and conditions as cash loans, (including the right to deduct same in ascertaining any subsequent cash surrender value) except that the policy need not be deposited with the company as a pledge.

6. PRIVILEGE OF CHANGE TO OTHER FORM OF POLICY.—At any time, while in full force, and provided the insured is then less than sixty years of age, this policy may be exchanged, without medical re-examination, for a policy payable in like manner as this policy and for the same amount upon any plan then issued by the company, and having a higher rate of premium. Such change shall become effective upon payment of a sum equal to the difference between the premiums paid on this policy and what would have been required at the said higher rate with compound interest at six per cent per annum on the difference between the two premium rates, computed from the due date of each premium payment to the date when the change is made, and upon the surrender of this policy. The new policy will take effect as of the date of this policy, and the premium will be based on the same age as this policy.

7. WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—The company, by endorsement hereon, will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, if the insured, before attaining the age of sixty years and after paying at least one full annual premium and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from performing any work for compensation or profit or from following any gainful occupation. The premiums so waived will not be a charge against the policy, and the values and benefits as shown in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon shall progress each year the same as if the premiums were paid in cash. Provided that, notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall at any time, on demand, furnish the company satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability; and if the insured shall fail to furnish such proof or if it shall appear to the company that the insured is able to perform any work or to follow any occupation whatsoever for compensation, gain or profit, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in conformity with this contract. The company shall have the right and opportunity to examine the insured's person, in case total disability is claimed, as often as it desires. Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot will be considered as total disability within the meaning of this provision.

8. CASH LOANS.—At any time after two full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in full force, no default in premium payments having been made, the company will advance upon proper assignment of this policy and upon the sole security thereof, a cash loan not exceeding the amount named in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon, the loan to bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance; if interest is not paid when due it shall be added to the principal and bear interest at the same rate. The company reserves the right to deduct any indebtedness against this policy from said loan. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not render this policy void unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall exceed its loan value. Whenever the total indebtedness against this policy shall exceed its loan value, the policy shall thereupon become void and such indebtedness shall thereby stand canceled. The company, if it so elects, may defer, as provided by law, the making of any loan, or the paying of any cash surrender value, for a period not more than six months after application therefor is made.

NOTE.—The loan value of this policy equals its cash surrender value as hereinabove defined.

9. NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—If this policy should lapse on account of default in premium payments, after premiums shall have been paid for two full years, the insured may within one month from the date of such default elect; either, (a) to accept the cash surrender value, which will be an amount equal to the reserve on this policy at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy and less a surrender charge, which in no case shall be more than one per cent of the amount insured by this policy; or, (b) to secure a paid-up policy payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy for such amount as said cash surrender value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium at the age of the insured at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. Loans may be obtained on such paid-up policy subject to the provisions of section 8, entitled "cash loans," or it may be surrendered to the company at any time for its cash surrender value; or, (c) to have insurance for the face amount of this policy continue in force from the date of default for such term as said cash surrender value, as above defined, will purchase as a net single premium, at the age of the insured at the date of default, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, for right to loans or cash surrender value. If the insured shall not within one year after the death of the insured surrender this policy to the company at its home office, for the cash value as provided in option (a), or, for a paid-up policy, as provided in option (b), the insurance will be automatically continued as term insurance as provided in option (c).

RES.—The figures contained in the "table of values and options" appearing hereon represent the amounts available after deduction of surrender charges, if any, computed in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality with the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum and are based upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated in the table, but there is no indebtedness against this policy. Values for later years than those shown in said "table of values and options" will be computed on the same basis as those shown and furnished on request.

Great-West Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—QUINQUENNIAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $354. AGE, 35.

The Great-West Life Assurance Company, head office, Winnipeg, Manitoba, insures the life of John Doe, Winnipeg, Man. (hereinafter called the insured) under this policy of insurance as follows:

1. Plan of insurance; life, 20 payments. 2. Amount of this policy ($10,000) ten thousand dollars. 3. Premium $354 payable in advance every twelve months during the first twenty years of this contract, commencing the first day of January, 1915. 4. Policy matures on the death of the insured. 5. Participation in profits (see provision 6 within) on the first day of January, 1920, and quinquennially thereafter. 6. Beneficiary (subject to provision 13 within) Mary Doe (wife of the insured).

The terms, conditions, privileges and options endorsed hereon form a part of this contract as fully as if the same were stated over the seal and signatures hereunto set.

Signed and sealed at Winnipeg, Manitoba, this first day of January, 1915.

PROVISIONS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—This policy shall not take effect until the same is delivered and the first premium thereon paid to the company while the insured is in sound health. All premiums are due and payable at the company's head office, in the city of Winnipeg, Manitoba, but will be accepted if paid to any agent in exchange for receipt signed by the managing director or the secretary of the company and countersigned by the agent designated thereon. If default be made in the payment of the first or any subsequent premium or any part thereof, or of any note, cheque or other obligation given on account thereof, this policy shall be void (subject, however, to certain rights in respect of policies on which three full years' premiums have been duly paid, as herein otherwise provided).

2. GRACE.—The insured is entitled to a grace of thirty-one days, within which the payment of any premium other than that of the first year may be made. The policy shall continue in force during the period of grace, but if death occurs during such period, any unpaid premium or premiums for the then current policy year shall in settlement of the claim be deducted from the sum insured. The policy years for this contract shall be computed as from the due date of the first regular premium hereon.

3. RESIDENCE AND OCCUPATION.—The insured may reside or travel in any part of the world and engage in any occupation including military or naval service within the Dominion of Canada. The insured may engage in any other military or naval service on behalf of the British Empire provided that if such service be entered upon within two years from the date hereof notice thereof shall be given by or on behalf of the insured to the company and an extra premium of five per cent of the amount insured (taken at the commuted value of the policy if payable in instalments) shall be paid to the company, in advance or within ninety days after the insured's engaging in such service, and further provided that if the insured shall so enter any such service other than the militia of Canada this policy shall be reduced automatically to one hundred dollars (if originally in excess of that amount) and all benefits hereunder shall be proportionately reduced and the company shall refund the part of any premiums paid hereon proportional to the amount of insurance discontinued, but the notice and extra premium referred to above, will nevertheless be required. No other military, naval or aeronautic service in time of war is permitted within the first two years of this contract unless with the consent of the company. If any of these provisions be violated by the insured this policy shall be null and void.

4. INCONTESTABILITY.—The policy shall be incontestable after one year from date of issue except for fraud or for non-payment of premiums or for violation of the preceding provision. This policy and the endorsements hereon, which include a copy of such parts of the application as are material to the contract, constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall be used in defence to a claim under the policy unless it is contained in the said parts of the application. The company shall not be liable hereunder in the event of the insured's death by suicide whether sane or insane, during the period of one year after the issuance of this policy.

5. AGE.—The age of the insured shall be admitted by the company on due proof, but if the age of the insured has been mis-stated, the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age.

6. PROFIT OPTIONS.—This policy shall participate (at the times stated on the first page hereof) in the profits set aside for distribution by the company, in the manner described in option (a) following, the said option having been selected by the insured in his application. If this policy participates quinquennially and should the insured die after the fifth policy year, an interim profit as determined by the company shall be allowed for the period elapsing since the last preceding participation in profits. (a) A payment in cash. (b) A paid-up addition to the policy. (c) A premium reduction. (d) The automatic paid-up option. That is to say: The profits will be retained and accumulated with interest at the average net rate received and earned by the company on its funds from year to year during such accumulation (at least four per cent compounded annually being guaranteed), and when sufficient for the purpose the accumulated profits will be used to convert this contract into a fully paid-up participating life policy. (Not available on endowment policies or on life policies subject to less than nineteen annual premiums). (e) The Automatic Endowment Option.—That is to say: The profits will be retained by the company, under the terms set out in option (d) above, and when the accumulated profits added to the reserve become equal to the amount insured, then this policy shall be deemed to have matured as an endowment, and shall be paid to the insured or other person entitled upon legal surrender of the policy. (Not available on endowment policies.) Should the insured die prior to the application of the accumulated profits as provided in options (d) and (e) above, the amount payable hereunder shall be increased by the accumulated profits at that time at the credit of the policy.

7. LOANS.—After three full annual premiums or their equivalent half-yearly or quarterly premiums have been paid hereon, the company will lend on the sole security of this policy at interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, any amount up to ninety-five per cent of the cash value stated in Table A less any indebtedness to the company, such policy being first deposited with and assigned to the company. "Provided, however, that such loan may at the option of the company be deferred for a period not exceeding three months from the time the policyholder applies therefor." (Clause 95 (g) Insurance Act.)

8. AUTOMATIC NON-FORFEITURE CLAUSE.—After three full years' premiums have been duly paid hereon, if default be made thereafter, and if the reserve on this policy and on any outstanding profits credited hereto, in excess of any indebtedness, be sufficient to pay the premium then due, the company will without request advance the said premium as a loan bearing interest at seven per cent per annum compounded annually. In the event of further default, additional premium loans will, without request, be made, so long as the said reserve, less any indebtedness, is sufficient to pay at least one quarterly premium computed according to the company's rules, and all loans shall with accumulated interest be a first lien in the company's favor in priority to the rights of any beneficiary, assignee or other person. Should the said reserve, less the accumulated indebtedness, be insufficient, at the time of any default in premium payments, to pay at least one such quarterly premium, this policy shall thereupon lapse and become void, subject to the right of reinstatement as provided in provision 11. The reserve referred to in this provision shall be computed by the British offices' life table, 1893, Om (5), with interest at there and one-half per cent per annum.

9. SURRENDER.—After three full years' premiums have been paid hereon, the company will, upon surrender of this policy while in force by all legally interested therein and subject to deductions for any indebtedness hereon, grant either: (a) Cash value of the amount stated in Table A, or (b) a paid-up policy, non-participating, (maturing at the same time as this policy), for the amount stated in Table A; or (c) a paid-up (non-participating) term policy for the amount of this policy and for the time stated in Table A under "extended insurance."

Values for greater durations and for fractional numbers of premiums paid will be computed on the same basis. The surrender value, as determined by the company, of any profits at the credit of the policy will be paid in addition to the above guarantees. N. B.—Loan values (clause 7) are ninety-five per cent of cash values.

10. DISABILITY.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid hereon, if the insured prior to the attainment of age sixty and during the continuance of this contract shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has since such payment become wholly disabled by bodily or mental injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company (subject to what is hereinafter contained) will waive payment of the premiums thereafter becoming due, or at the option of the insured will, upon surrender of this policy by all legally interested therein, deliver to the insured a bond providing for the payment to the insured, his executors, administrators or assigns, of one-twentieth of the amount of this policy less any indebtedness thereon and a similar sum yearly thereafter until in all twenty yearly payments have been made; also providing that should the insured or his representatives subsequently fail at any time to produce such proof as the company may require of continuing disability as aforesaid, the company's obligation to waive further premiums or to make further payments under the bond (as the case may be) shall cease. In addition to or independently of all other causes of total and permanent disability, the company will consider the entire and irrevocable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists or both feet at or above the ankles or of one entire hand and one entire foot as total disability within the meaning of this provision.

10 (a). The words "amount of this policy" used in this contract shall mean the amount stated in clause 2 of the schedule on the first page hereof and shall refer to the commuted value if the policy be payable in instalments.

11. REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse, it will be reinstated at any time unless the cash value has been duly paid, paid-up insurance granted or the extended insurance period expired, upon the production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the company upon the policy with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, compounded annually from the date of lapse.

12. MATURITY.—If this policy becomes a claim by death the company will pay the proceeds hereof, or the first of any instalments provided herein, upon receipt at its head office of proofs satisfactory to it of the death of the insured and of the insured's age if not previously admitted. The balance, if any, of the premium for the current policy year and any indebtedness to the company will be deducted from the claim.

13. BENEFICIARY.—If any person legally designated as beneficiary hereunder shall die before this policy becomes a claim by death, the interest of such beneficiary shall, in the absence of any law to the contrary, vest in the other existing beneficiaries equally, if there be any, otherwise in the insured, and after his death in his executors, administrators or assigns.

14. ASSIGNMENT.—If this policy be assigned, an original duplicate of such assignment must be delivered to the company at its head office.

15. No provision of this contract may be waived or modified except by written agreement, signed by the president and the managing director, secretary or actuary of the company.

SETTLEMENT OPTIONS.—The payee hereunder shall have the privilege of withdrawing any proceeds hereof due on maturity hereof either as provided on the first page hereof, or in accordance with one of the following options: (a) The proceeds hereof may be left with the company during the lifetime of the payee subject to prior withdrawal on demand in whole or in part, in sums of not less than one hundred dollars. The company shall pay interest on the proceeds so left with it at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum or at such higher rate as may be allowed by the company. (b) The proceeds hereof may be withdrawn in equal instalments payable yearly in advance as shown in Table B hereon, or payable monthly in advance as shown in Table C hereon. (c) The proceeds hereof to which any payee may be entitled may be withdrawn in the form of an annuity payable yearly in advance to the payee for twenty years certain and for such longer period as the payee may survive, in accordance with Table D hereon where the age refers to the age of the payee at the maturity hereof and the annuity is shown on the basis of proceeds of $1000.

The payments under any instalment settlement provided herein shall be increased by application of the profits apportioned by the company from its surplus interest earnings. This will not apply to the payments falling due in the first year of any such settlements or after the expiration of the term-certain in any settlement of the type described in option (c) above.

The payee shall have the privilege of commuting any unpaid instalments hereunder on an interest basis of three and one-half per cent compounded yearly, except under a settlement of the type described in option (c) above. But the insured with the consent of the beneficiary may restrict in any way the beneficiary's rights under the above instalment options.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—It is HEREBY DECLARED AND AGREED: THAT all statements, representations and answers in this application, including those made or to be made to the medical examiner as part of this application, are a consideration for and a basis of the contract for insurance made between me and the said company, and whether written by hand or not, are declared to be true, full and complete; THAT any untrue statement, or representation, or any suppression of facts material to the contract shall void the policy applied for and forfeit all payments made thereon; THAT no other statement, representation or information, unless contained in this application, and in my answers and statements hereon to the medical examiner, shall be binding upon or affect the rights of the company; THAT if a note, cheque, draft or other obligation be given for the first or a subsequent premium or any part thereof and the same be not paid at maturity, such policy shall thereupon become void, but the note, cheque, draft or other obligation must nevertheless be paid; THAT the company shall not be liable under the said policy in the event of my death by suicide, whether sane or insane, during the period of one year after the issuance of the said policy; THAT the place of contract for all purposes shall be the head office of the company at Winnipeg; THAT I am to the best of my knowledge and belief in sound physical condition and a proper subject for insurance; and that I will accept said policy when presented, subject to the terms therein contained, and will pay the first premium thereon.

PART II.—I hereby declare that my answers and statements to the foregoing questions, all of which form part of my application for insurance which I have already signed, are correctly recorded by the medical examiner.

* Adopted January 1, 1914. † $100 cash and $10 monthly for two hundred and sixty months; commuted value $1132.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $7,500.

Guarantee Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $335.60. AGE, 35.

The Guarantee Life Insurance Company, in consideration of the annual premium of three hundred thirty-five and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars, hereby insures the life of Richard Roe, the insured, of Houston, in the State of Texas, for the term ending with the first day of January one year from the date hereof, and agrees that such insurance shall be renewed for the whole period of the insured's life by the payment of three hundred thirty-five and $\frac{60}{100}$ dollars on or before the first day of January, 1915, and on each succeeding anniversary of said date until twenty full annual premiums in all shall have been paid; and by such insurance, promises upon surrender of the policy to pay ten thousand dollars, to his wife, Mary Roe, if living, otherwise to his executors or administrators, at the home office of the company in the city of Houston, Texas, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this contract.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office, or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary, assistant secretary or treasurer and countersigned by said agent. A grace of one month, subject to an interest charge at the rate of six per cent per annum, shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first during which month the insurance shall continue in force. If the insured shall die during the month of grace the overdue premium will be deducted from any amount payable hereon in any settlement hereunder.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT—STATE OF TEXAS.

AUSTIN, TEXAS, August 10, 1907.

This is to certify that the Guarantee Life Insurance Company, of Houston, Texas, has this day deposited with this department, one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in approved legal securities for the benefit of all policyholders alike.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The beneficiary or beneficiaries under this policy may be changed by the insured at any time, and from time to time, during its continuance, unless prohibited by legislative enactment, provided the policy has not been assigned, by filing with the company the written request of the insured, duly acknowledged, accompanied by this policy for endorsement, such change, however, to take effect only on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary the proceeds of this policy shall be payable to the insured's executors, administrators or assigns.

SUICIDE.—This policy does not insure against the death of the insured caused by his or her own hand or act while sane or insane during the first year from the date hereof, but in such event the actual premium paid will be returned.

INCONTTESTABILITY.—This policy is incontestable after one year from its date, except for non-payment of premiums. This policy contains the entire contract between the parties and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud be deemed representations and not warranties and no such statements shall be used as a defense to a claim under this policy unless it be contained in a written application and a copy of such application shall be endorsed upon or attached to this policy when issued. This policy shall not take effect until the first premium is paid and the policy actually delivered during the life and good health of the insured.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any balance of the premium for the current policy year and all other indebtedness to the company shall at all times be a lien upon this policy and will be deducted from any settlement thereunder. If any premium or any note given for any premium is not paid on or before the day when due, this policy shall terminate except as herein provided and the amount of such note or notes shall be considered as fully earned.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company until it be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

REINSTATEMENT.—In case of continued temporary insurance as provided below, this policy upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, may be reinstated within the first three years of the term for which the insurance is continued by payment of arrears of premiums with interest at six per cent per annum. If however the company shall accept any note or notes for such reinstatement this policy shall be forfeited in the event of failure to pay such note or notes at their respective maturity, and in the event of such forfeiture the amount of such note or notes shall be considered as fully earned.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, while this policy is in force, will advance, on proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum equal to, or, at the option of the owner of the policy, less than the full net reserve at the end of the current policy year on this policy, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. Such loan may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure and until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and of the assignee, if any. No conditions other than as herein provided shall be exacted as a pre-requisite to any such advance.

OPTIONS ON SURRENDER OR LAPSE.—After this policy shall have been in force three full years the owner, within one month after any default, may elect (a) to accept the value of this policy in cash, or (b) to have the insurance continued in force from date of default without the right to loans, for its face amount, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, or (c) to purchase non-participating paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy. The cash value will be the full reserve at the date of default on this policy computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, less any existing indebtedness to the company on this policy. Payment of such cash value may be deferred by the company for not exceeding six months after the application therefor is made. The term for which the insurance will be continued or the amount of the paid-up policy will be such as the cash value will purchase as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. If the owner shall not, within one month from default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for a cash surrender value or for paid-up insurance as provided in options (a) and (c), the insurance will be continued as provided in option (b). The figures in the following table are computed in accordance with the above provisions and upon the assumption that there is no indebtedness on the policy.

Values for years not specified in the above table will be based upon the full reserve on this policy according to the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest. Figures for later years will be furnished upon request.

OPTIONS AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company at its home office, and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By the payment of interest thereon at three and one-half per cent per annum, payable annually, to the payee under this policy at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum and accrued interest to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee, unless otherwise directed in said notice. (2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. (3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year, for a fixed period of twenty years or for so many years longer as the payee shall survive in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Instalments payable under options (2) or (3), which shall not have been paid prior to the death of the payee, shall be paid, unless otherwise directed in said notice to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall not have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice, and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified by the insured the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under option (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as option (2) in the following table, provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Agents are not authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time for paying premiums.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of January, 1914.

SPECIAL DISABILITY FEATURE.—After one full annual premium shall have been paid and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured prior to attaining the age of sixty years, shall furnish to the company satisfactory proof that he has become totally and permanently blind; or that he has suffered the loss of both legs, or of both arms; or that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and is and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy will agree to pay for the insured the subsequent annual premiums, if any, as they shall become due. Provided, however, that as often as required by the company the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of the disability; and, should the insured so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation he shall then resume payment of subsequent premiums as originally provided in the policy, and that, in case of such recovery the premiums so paid by the company, with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum from the dates of the respective payments shall constitute an indebtedness on the policy and will be deducted from the amount payable in event of death or from any settlement under this policy. This rider attached to and made a part of policy No., dated this first day of January, 1914.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Guaranty Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $308. AGE, 35.

The Guaranty Life Insurance Company, of Davenport, Ia., by promises to pay ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness on to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium due then current policy year, at its home office in the city of Davenport, upon receipt of due proof of the death of George H. Lynch, the insured, during the continuance of this policy, to the Lynch, wife of the insured, beneficiary, with the right of election.

This policy is granted in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which application is endorsed hereon or attached to and is hereby made a part of the contract, and of the premium in advance of three hundred and eight dollars, as the premium for term insurance terminating on the first day of March, 1913, and in further consideration of the payment of a like sum before the first day of March in every year hereafter until twenty full years' premiums in all shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured.

The contents of the succeeding pages of this policy and the privileges, provisions and values set forth therein are made a part of this contract as fully as if recited over the signatures to be affixed.

In testimony whereof, the Guaranty Life Insurance Company, at its office in the city of Davenport, Ia., has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, and the same to be duly attested this first day of March, 1913.

PRIVILEGES AND CONDITIONS.

INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto and shall be incontestable after one year from date, except for non-payment of premium or for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service in time of war. All statements made by the insured in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties and no statement shall void this policy unless it is contained in the written application, and if which is endorsed on or attached to this policy when issued. If the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the rate for the correct age of the insured. Military or naval service in time of war is not a risk assumed under this policy, unless a permit to engage in such service shall have been granted by the company. If the insured's death occurs from such service and without such permit, the liability of the company shall not exceed the reserve value of the policy when death occurs. If within one year from the date of the insured shall die by suicide, whether sane or insane, or in consequence of her criminal action, the liability of the company shall not exceed the amount of premiums paid.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—The insurance under this policy is based upon annual premiums in advance, but renewal premiums may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly payments in advance in accordance with the rates endorsed hereon. Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable; and any failure to pay the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid at the death of the insured shall be considered an indebtedness to the company on account of this policy and shall be deducted in any settlement hereunder. Premiums are payable at the home office of the company, but may be paid to an authorized agent or collector of the company on or before the dates when due in exchange for official receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by a general agent or collector of the company. If any premium is not paid when due this policy shall be null and void and all premiums paid shall be forfeited to the company except as herein otherwise provided.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, if the first, a grace of one month without interest will be allowed, during which time the policy will remain in force. If death occur within the month of grace the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

REINSTATEMENT.—Unless the cash value has been paid or unless otherwise surrendered to the company, this policy may be reinstated at any time within five years after default in the payment of any premium upon presentation at the home office of evidence of the insurable interest of the insured satisfactory to and approved by the company, and the payment of all past due premiums and payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness existing at the time of such default with interest not to exceed six per cent per annum.

RIGHT OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, the beneficiary shall have the right to assign the policy, if there be no existing assignment filed with the company as herein provided.

may, while this policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If any beneficiary shall die before the insured and the insured shall not have designated a new beneficiary, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured; and if no beneficiary shall survive the insured, then payment shall be made to the administrators, executors or assigns of the insured.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be executed upon blanks furnished by the company and filed with the company at its home office in the city of Davenport. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

RESIDENCE, TRAVEL AND OCCUPATION.—This policy is unrestricted as to the residence, travel and occupation of the insured except as provided in the first paragraph on this page.

AUTHORITY.—Agents are not authorized to make, modify or discharge contracts; to grant permits, extend the time for paying a premium, waive any of the provisions of this policy or to bind the company in any way. No such agreement shall be valid unless made in writing and signed by either the president or the secretary of the company.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company on this policy shall be deducted from any money payable or in any settlement under this policy.

NON-PARTICIPATION.—This policy is issued at a non-participating premium rate and therefore is not entitled to share in the surplus earnings of the company.

PROOF OF DEATH.—If this policy shall become a claim by death of the insured, settlement shall be made according to the terms of the policy upon receipt by the company at its home office of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant.

CASH LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in full force the company will loan, on proper assignment and delivery of the policy, and on the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured less than the cash value at the end of the current policy year, as stated in the following table of values, deducting therefrom any indebtedness to the company and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. Interest on any such loan will be at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum and will be payable in advance to the end of the current policy year and annually in advance thereafter. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice of such fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS AND VALUES.

CASH VALUE, EXTENDED INSURANCE, PAID-UP INSURANCE.—After premiums have been paid for one or two full years, if further premiums are not paid the company will continue in force the insurance under this policy as stated in the following table for two months or four months respectively, from the date the unpaid premium became due; provided, however, that if death occur during said extension period the unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder. After premiums have been paid for three full years the insured, within three months after any default in payment of premium, may elect either, (a) to surrender this policy to the company for its cash value, or (b) to have this policy endorsed by the company for a reduced amount of paid-up insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, or (c) to have the insurance for the face amount of this policy extended as term insurance from date of default for such term as is herein provided, but without the right of loans or cash value. The cash value will be equal to the entire reserve on this policy at date of default computed according to the American Experience Mortality table and interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, and less a charge not greater than two and per cent of the amount insured by this policy. The amount of the paid-up term of the extended insurance will be such as the cash value obtainable on (a) will purchase applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured according to the aforesaid standard. If the insured shall not, within three years after default in payment of premium, surrender this policy to the company at office for its cash value as provided in option (a), or for paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), the insurance will be automatically continued as provided in (c). If there be no indebtedness hereon the values of these options computed in accordance with the above provisions will be as stated in the following table of loan and maturity values at the end of respective years. After premiums have been paid full years should default be made in the payment of a premium due at any time after the anniversary date of the policy, the non-forfeiture values will be computed at the date of such default and upon the same basis as the corresponding values for the end of the policy year last expired and subject to the same conditions.

SETTLEMENT AT MATURITY.—The insured, by written notice to the company's home office and with the written consent of the assignee and irrevocable beneficiary, if any, may elect to have the net sum payable under this policy paid either as follows:

STEADY INCOME.—(1) By the payment of interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum on such net sum payable at the end of each year during the life of the payee and by the payment upon the death of the payee of the said net sum together with any accrued interest for the year then current, unless otherwise directed in said notice, to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee.

PERIODIC INSTALLMENTS.—(2) By the payment of equal annual instalments for a specified period of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum.

PERMANENT INSTALLMENTS.—(3) By the payment of equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years thereafter as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each one thousand dollars of said net sum. Any instalments payable under (2) or (3) which have been paid prior to the death of the payee shall, unless otherwise directed in said notice, be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the payee. If the insured shall have directed otherwise the beneficiary may, after the death of the insured, by like written notice and with the written consent of the assignee, if any, select either of the above options. Unless otherwise specified in the written notice making such election the payee may on any interest date receive the amount yet due under (1), and may at any time receive the commuted value of payments yet to be made, computed on the basis as (2) in the following table; provided that no such commutation will be made under (3) except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty

PAID-UP LIFE POLICY TO PARTICIPATE.—If this policy be continued in force by premium payments for twenty years, it may then be surrendered to the company in exchange for a fully paid life policy. Such paid-up policy from and after its date of issue shall participate annually in the distribution of the surplus of the company as ascertained and ap-

DISABILITY BENEFITS.

Agreement attached to and forming a part of policy No.....issued on the life of WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—At any time after one full year's premium has been paid hereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium if the insured shall furnish due proof to the company at its home office that he has become totally disabled by bodily injury or by disease so that he is and shall be permanently, continuously and wholly incapacitated for life and prevented thereby from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company by endorsement hereon will agree to waive the payment of premiums which may thereafter fall due during the continuance of such disability. Waiver of premiums by the company under this provision shall not affect the right of the insured to any benefits provided for in this policy, the loan and non-forfeiture values of which shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid in cash by the insured, and the premiums waived shall not be an indebtedness against this policy unless the disability occurs after the insured shall have attained the age of fifty-five years, in which event each premium waived shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance in force, and the loan and non-forfeiture values provided for herein shall be calculated for the reduced amount of insurance on the basis provided in the section entitled "non-forfeiture provisions and values."

INSTALMENT PAYMENTS.—If the company shall be furnished with due proof that such disability occurred before the insured attained the age of fifty-five years, upon the written request of the insured and of the beneficiary and assignee, if any, instead of agreeing to pay premiums for the insured during the period of disability, the company will agree to pay the insured in lieu of all other benefits herein provided and in full settlement of this policy, the full amount insured hereunder in twenty equal annual instalments. Should there be any indebtedness hereon to the company it shall be deducted from the amount otherwise payable and the balance paid in twenty equal annual instalments. If the insured die before all the twenty instalments shall have been paid, the remaining instalments shall be paid to the beneficiary as they become due. Each instalment shall reduce to that extent the amount of insurance in force, and the loan and non-forfeiture values provided for herein shall be calculated for the reduced amount insured on the basis provided in the section entitled "non-forfeiture provisions and values."

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands at or above the wrists, or of both feet at or above the ankles or of one entire hand and one entire foot, will be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision. Proof of disability from any other cause having been accepted by the company as satisfactory, it may nevertheless at any time require of the insured due proof of continued disability. If the insured fails to furnish such proof or if it be established that he has so far recovered as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to waive premiums or to pay further instalments shall immediately cease, and the insured shall thereafter resume payment of premiums on the amount of insurance then in force.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that I am in good health and of sober and temperate habits and that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and I agree that the foregoing, together with this declaration, as well as the statements and answers made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, shall constitute the application and become a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, and I further agree that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and that said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and delivered by the said company, and the first premium paid thereon in full while my health is in the same condition as described in this application.

Home Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-YEAR ENDOWMENT POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS— DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $501.30. AGE, 35.

The Home Life Insurance Company of New York in consideration of the application for this policy, copy of which is attached hereto, and of the annual premium of five hundred one and $\frac{30}{100}$ dollars, and of the payment of a like amount upon each first day of January hereafter until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, promises to pay at the home office of the company in the city of New York to John Goodman, of New York, county of New York, State of New York, herein called the insured, on the first day of January, 1932, if the insured be then living, or upon receipt at said home office of due proof of the prior death of the insured, to Jane Goodman, his wife, beneficiary, with right of revocation, ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company and any unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year upon the surrender of this policy, duly released.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—When the right of revocation has been reserved, the insured, if there be no existing assignment of the policy filed with the company as herein provided, may, while the policy is in force, designate a new beneficiary, with or without reserving right of revocation by filing written notice thereof at the home office of the company, accompanied by the policy for suitable endorsement thereon. Such change shall take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company and not before. If any beneficiary, under either a revocable or irrevocable designation, shall die before the insured, the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured, unless otherwise herein provided.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Except as herein provided the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or instalment thereof is payable. All premiums are payable in advance at said home office or to any agent of the company upon delivery on or before date due of a receipt signed by an executive officer, to wit: President, vice-president, or secretary of the company and countersigned by said agent.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of one month (but not less than thirty days) without interest shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first, during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occur within the period of grace, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company and the proportion of the divisible surplus accruing hereon shall be ascertained and distributed annually by the company.

DIVIDEND OPTIONS.—At the option of the insured or the owner of this policy such dividends shall on the first day of January of each year be either (1) paid in cash; or, (2) applied toward the payment of any premium or premiums; or, (3) applied to the purchase of paid-up additions to the policy; or, (4) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy.

AUTOMATIC.—Unless the insured or the owner shall elect otherwise within three months after the mailing by the company of a written notice requiring the election of one of the options above stated, the dividends shall be applied as per Option (3) to purchase paid-up additions which may be surrendered for cash at any time. The cash value thereof shall not be less than the original cash dividend as per Option (1).

APPLICATION OF DIVIDENDS.—If the dividends be left to accumulate to the credit of the policy as per Option (4) above: (a) The insured may on any anniversary apply the accumulated amount to shorten the period during which premiums are payable hereunder. (b) Whenever the accumulated dividends together with the reserve on this policy shall equal the sum insured the company will upon the surrender of this policy, accompanied by legal release of all claims hereunder, pay the amount of said policy deducting any existing indebtedness.

SEMI-ANNUAL OR QUARTERLY PREMIUMS. MODE OF PAYMENT CHANGED.—The mode of premium payments may be changed by the owner of this policy by written notice to the company at its home office not less than forty-five days prior to any anniversary date, from annual payments to semi-annual or quarterly instalments, or vice versa, at the premium rates and on the conditions in force at the date hereof. Surrender and loan values are quoted in the table below for completed years only; but if a policy be continued in force by semi-annual or quarterly payment for a fraction of an additional year, the surrender values will be proportionately increased for the additional time the policy is thus maintained in force.

LOANS AND SURRENDER OPTIONS. LOANS POLICY SOLE SECURITY.—After two full years' premiums have been paid and while this policy is in force the company will advance, within ninety days after an application for loan is received, on the due assignment or pledge of the policy and on the sole security thereof, an amount which with any existing loan hereon, and with interest to the end of the current policy-year on the total loan, and with any unpaid portion of said current policy-year's premium, shall be equal to or, at the option of the owner, less than the cash value at the end of such current policy year; interest on the loan will be at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable in advance, and this interest if not paid annually shall be added to the existing loan and shall bear interest at the rate at which the loan is made. Failure to repay any such advance or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the total indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed the cash value at the time of such failure, nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee of record, if any, at the home office of the company.

SURRENDER OPTIONS.—After this policy shall have been in force two full years, the owner, within three months after any default in payment of premium, but not later, may elect (a) to surrender the policy for its cash value; or, (b) to have the insurance continued in force as term insurance from the date of such default, without future participation and without the right to loan or cash values, for an amount equal to the face amount of this policy and any outstanding dividend additions, less any indebtedness to the company hereon, and in addition thereto, if the value be sufficient, as herein set forth to purchase non-participating paid-up pure endowment; or, (c) to purchase participating paid-up endowment insurance payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy.

CASH VALUE.—The cash value under Option (a) after premiums have been paid for two full years or more shall be the entire reserve at the date of default, according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three per cent per annum, subject to the deduction of a surrender charge which in the second and third years shall be not more than one and one-half per cent of the amount insured by this policy and which will diminish in subsequent years until, after premiums have been paid for ten full years or more, there shall be no surrender charge. From such cash value any indebtedness to the company existing at date of surrender shall be deducted.

PAID-UP; OR EXTENDED INSURANCE.—The term for which the insurance will be continued under Option (b), or the amount of the paid-up participating endowment insurance obtainable under Option (c), shall be such as the cash value less indebtedness obtainable under Option (a) will purchase at the attained age of the insured at date of default when applied as a net single premium according to the reserve basis aforesaid. If the cash value less indebtedness so applied to the purchase of term insurance shall be more than sufficient to continue the insurance to the end of the endowment period named in this policy, the excess of the cash value over the sum of the indebtedness and the single premium for the term insurance shall be used as a net single premium according to said table of mortality and rate of interest to purchase non-participating paid-up pure endowment, payable at the end of said endowment period if the insured be then living, but not otherwise.

TABLE OF MINIMUM LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

The figures in the following table give the minimum values available at the end of complete policy years if there be no indebtedness against the policy and provided premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated. These values will be increased on account of any dividends which have been allotted and have not been withdrawn in cash up to the date of surrender or loan. If there be any indebtedness to the company the figures will be modified as hereinbefore provided.

The loan values provided for in this table for the end of policy years can be obtained (less interest) during such policy years, as set forth above under caption "loans and surrender options."

Values for later years will be computed upon the above stated basis and will be furnished upon request.

AUTOMATIC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—On default in the payment of any premium here-the insurance shall be continued, without action on the part of the insured, as paid-up participating term insurance as provided in Option (b) aforesaid if the insured shall within three months after such default surrender this policy to the company at the office for its cash value, or paid-up insurance.

REINSTATEMENT. FIVE YEARS AFTER DEFAULT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time within five years from the date of default in the payment of any premium, upon proof of insurability satisfactory to the company and upon the payment of the arrears of premiums and of any cash surrender value allowed to the insured with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum, and, at the option of the insured, either (a) upon payment in cash to the company of any indebtedness which existed at said date of default together with interest thereon at the above rate, or (b) upon reinstatement of such indebtedness increased by the amount of interest thereon at the above rate, provided such total increased indebtedness does not exceed the loan value at the date to which reinstatement is made.

PERMANENT TOTAL DISABILITY. WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—If, after one full annual premium shall have been paid hereon and before default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the insured shall, before attaining the age of sixty years, furnish due proof to the company that he has become totally disabled by bodily injury or by disease, so that he shall be permanently, continuously and wholly incapacitated for life and precluded thereby from pursuing any gainful occupation, the company by endorsement hereon shall agree to waive the payment of premiums which may thereafter fall due during the continuance of such disability. If premiums shall have been waived as herein provided, the insured shall on demand furnish to the company due proof of continued disability at the date when any premium would have fallen due. Failure to submit such proof shall operate as a cancellation of this benefit, and premiums thereafter falling due must be paid in accordance with the conditions of the policy. The insured agrees to keep the company informed of every change in his address and residence, and to give immediate notice should he recover from his total disability. The irrevocable loss of sight in both eyes, or the total and permanent loss by accident or disease of the use of both hands or both feet or of one hand and one foot, shall constitute total disability for the meaning of this contract without prejudice to any other cause of disability. The payment of premiums by the company under the foregoing provision shall not affect the right of the insured to any dividend or other benefit provided for in this policy, the surrender of which, as well as dividends and all other benefits, shall continue with the same and effect as if the premiums were duly paid by the insured. This disability benefit shall be discontinued at the insured's option; if so discontinued, or if the insured attains sixty years, premiums thereafter will be reduced by two dollars and eighty cents annually for the additional premium for such benefit.

PREMIUM LIENS. UNPAID PREMIUMS ADVANCED.—In lieu of automatic extended term insurance the company will, on receipt of a satisfactory request from the owner hereof at any time prior to default in payment of any premium, advance the amount of any unpaid premium as a lien on the policy with interest, in advance at the rate of six per cent per annum if, after deducting from the cash value all existing indebtedness and interest on to the end of the period to which the unpaid premium applies, the balance shall be less than or exceed the overdue premium with interest to the same date. Subsequent premiums will in like manner be advanced from time to time as they fall due until the cash value as aforesaid is not sufficient to cover the accumulated indebtedness and advance premium. Any indebtedness thus created shall be a first charge against the policy and all proceeds thereof, ranking in priority to the claim of any beneficiary or assignee. The cash value or balance thereof be not sufficient to pay the entire premium and interest all be used to pay a quarterly premium and if insufficient to pay an entire quarterly premium any excess of the cash value hereon over the indebtedness shall be used to purchase extended term insurance as aforesaid. At any time while the policy be thus continued the insured without medical re-examination may resume payment of premiums.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS. FREE FROM CONDITIONS.—This policy and the application thereon for constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and is free from conditions as to residence, travel, occupation, or military or naval service. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid this policy, or be used in defence of a claim under, unless contained in the written application and unless a copy of such application be endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued. This policy shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date of issue.

AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

SUICIDE.—This policy shall become null and void if within one year from its date of issue the insured shall commit suicide.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless assignment or a certified copy thereof be filed with the company at its said home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

OPTIONAL MODES OF SETTLEMENT.—The insured or the beneficiary after the insured's death in case the insured shall have made no election, may by written notice to the company at its home office, elect to have the net sum payable either upon the death of the insured or on survival of the endowment term, paid as follows instead of in one sum:

FIXED INSTALLMENTS.—In equal annual instalments for a specified number of years, the first instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum; or

INSTALLMENTS 20 YEARS CERTAIN, LIFE THEREAFTER.—In equal annual instalments payable at the beginning of each year for a fixed period of twenty years and for so many years longer as the payee shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum; or ANNUITY.—As an annuity payable at the end of each year during the life of the insured, in accordance with the following table for each $1,000 of said net sum, the last payment to be the regular payment immediately preceding the death of the payee.

SUPPLEMENTARY CONTRACT.—When any option calling for annual payments is elected, this policy shall be surrendered upon its maturity and a supplementary contract shall be issued for the option elected, which shall specify to whom any unpaid instalments shall be paid in event of the death of the payee. Supplementary contracts for fixed instalment periods shall participate in surplus annually, as apportioned by the company. Unless otherwise specified by the owner or by the beneficiary in making such election, the payee under options (1) or (2) may at any time surrender the contract guaranteeing the payment of instalments for the commuted value of the payments yet to be made, computed upon the same basis as Option (1) in the following table; provided that no such surrender and commutation will be made under Option (2), except after the death of the payee occurring within the aforesaid twenty years.

Agents are not authorized to modify this policy or to extend the time for paying a premium.

In witness whereof, the company has caused this policy to be executed this first day of January, 1912.

DIVIDEND PARTICIPATION.—When cash dividends are applied to the purchase of paid-up additions, or left to accumulate to the credit of the policy, the amount thus left shall participate in the surplus interest earnings at such rate or rates as may be apportioned from time to time by the directors.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

Do you understand and agree that no statements, representations, or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application for a policy, or by or to any other person, shall be binding on the company or in any manner affect its rights unless such statements, representations or information be reduced to writing, and presented to and approved by the president, vice-president or secretary of the company; and that the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved, and a policy issued thereon and delivered during your life and continuance in good health, and until the full premium has been duly paid to and accepted by the company or its authorized agent, except that when the premium has been paid in advance to an authorized agent of the company and a conditional receipt on the company's authorized form has been given by such agent, the liability of the company shall be as stated in such conditional receipt.

ADDITIONAL OPTIONAL MODE OF SETTLEMENT.

In compliance with the request of the insured it is agreed that if the above mentioned policy shall become a claim during the lifetime of the beneficiary, the proceeds of the policy shall be retained by the company until the death of the said beneficiary. Interest on the amount retained, at the rate of three per cent per annum, together with such annual dividends as may be apportioned, will be paid in quarterly instalments, the first instalment being payable three months after the policy shall have become a claim. Upon the death of the beneficiary, the amount retained by the company together with a proportionate interest payment from the quarterly date immediately preceding the death of the beneficiary, shall be payable to the executors or administrators of the beneficiary. The insured, having reserved the right to revoke this clause, may by instruction to the company in writing make provision for any other form of settlement in accordance with the terms of the policy contract, such change to become effective only when endorsed hereon by the company. Further the Home Life Insurance Company agrees that it will neither discount the amount so retained or any payments to be thus made under the policy, nor consent to any assignment, hypothecation, or sale of the whole or any part of the sums payable hereunder.

ENDORSEMENT FOR TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—AGE 35—$10,000.

ENDOWMENT OPTION.—If this policy becomes paid up by its terms after payment of twenty annual premiums, the insured may at his option continue to pay the regular annual premium of three hundred, sixty-two and $\frac{20}{100}$ dollars (reducible by dividends like the earlier premiums) from and after the twentieth year, during the continuance of the contract, excluding the disability premium.

And it is hereby agreed that in consideration of such continued payment of premiums, the sum insured of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), shall become payable after eight years from that date, (that is twenty-eight years from July 4, 1913), if the insured be then living or at his death if earlier as provided in the policy, and in event of survivorship the further sum of one hundred dollars ($100).

If this option be elected this policy shall be surrendered and a new policy shall be issued in accordance with the conditions above indicated which shall not be entitled to the disability benefit.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $25,000.

Home Life Insurance Company of America.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $297.60. AGE, 35.

The Home Life Insurance Company of America by this policy of insurance agrees to pay ten thousand dollars at the executive offices of the company in Philadelphia, Pa., as follows:

THE BENEFICIARY.—To the estate of the insured immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the fact and cause of death of the insured during the continuance of this contract, and upon the surrender of this policy.

THE INSURED.—John Doe, of Philadelphia, county of Philadelphia, State of Pennsylvania.

VALUES OF THIS POLICY AT END OF TWENTY YEARS.—The insured, if living on the third day of February, 1934, provided the premiums theretofore payable in each insurance year shall have been paid in cash, may select one of the following options: (1) Continue contract without further payment of premiums. (2) A cash payment of $5660. (3) An annual income of $441.80. Payable during the natural life of the insured.

STATE OF DELAWARE.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

This policy is registered and secured by a deposit of approved securities deposited with this department as provided by law.

CONSIDERATION.—This insurance is granted in consideration of the written and printed application for this policy, which consists of Part I, and the statements made to the medical examiner, designated as Part II, copies of which are hereto attached, and made a part of this contract, and the delivery of this policy during the lifetime and good health of the insured, and the payment of $297.60 on or before the third day of February in the year 1914, being the premium for one year's term insurance. It is further agreed that at the expiration of this period of one year, this policy shall become a limited payment life policy from that date upon the payment to the company of a like premium on or before the first day of February in each year during the continuance of this policy or until renewal premiums for nineteen complete years in all shall have been paid.

RESERVE.—The reserve on this policy is computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, on the basis of a one year term insurance for the first year, and thereafter on the nineteen limited payment life plan at an advance of one year in the entry age of the insured.

LOANS.—At any time after three full years' premiums have been paid, and while this policy is in full force, the company will loan, upon proper assignment of the policy, and upon the sole security thereof, an amount, which, with interest thereon to the end of the current policy year shall not exceed the cash surrender value, at the end of the said year; deducting therefrom any unpaid portion of the premium for said current policy year, any existing indebtedness on the policy, and interest on the loan to the end of the current policy year; interest on the loan will be at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable annually in advance. Failure to repay any of the loan, or to pay interest, shall not avoid the policy, unless the total indebtedness thereon to the company shall equal its cash surrender value, nor until thirty-one days after notice of the fact shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the owner of the policy.

PREMIUM LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, if any premium on this policy or instalment thereof, be not paid when due, or within thirty-one days, the company will charge against the loan value of this policy, in accordance with the provisions for loans, such premium with interest, at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable annually in advance, provided that such loan value is sufficient. The balance of value, if any, not thus used, shall be applied in accordance with the non-forfeiture provisions in the policy. This action of the company is contingent upon the filing of a request for such premium loan by the owner of the policy at the executive offices, while there is no default in the payment of any premiums, and such request is revocable as to any future premiums.

INSURANCE BEGINS on February third, 1914, at twelve o'clock noon and the insurance years, the provisions for cash loans, cash values, paid-up and extended term insurance are computed from that date.

NON-FORFEITURE.—If this policy shall lapse through non-payment of premium, after premiums shall have been paid for three full years, the company will secure to the owner of the policy, a form of insurance, the net value of which shall be the reserve on the policy at the date of lapse, computed according to the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, less a sum not to exceed one-fifth of the said reserve, nor one per cent of the face of the policy, less any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy. At the end of the tenth and succeeding years, said net value shall be the full reserve, without any surrender charge. The net value shall constitute the cash surrender value of the policy. This non-forfeiture value shall be secured to the owner of the policy through one of the following provisions: (First)

The automatic extension of the net amount insured by this policy, is shown in the table on the third page, for the number of years and months, at the expiration of which time the insurance shall cease, or (second) the issue of paid-up insurance, payable at the same time and on the same conditions as this policy, for the amount shown in the table on the third page upon the written application therefor by the owner of the policy, and the legal surrender of all claims thereunder to the company at its executive offices, within thirty-one days after lapse, or (third) the payment of the cash surrender value shown in the table on the third page, upon the written application therefor by the owner of the policy, and the legal surrender of all claims thereunder to the company at its executive offices within thirty-one days after lapse.

The figures in the tables on the third page are computed according to the provisions of this policy and upon the assumption that premiums have been paid in full for the number of years stated above, and that there is no indebtedness on the policy. The stipulated value shall be correspondingly increased for any fractional portion of a year's premium which has been paid. Should any indebtedness exist, it shall be deducted from the cash value of the policy and the other values shall be correspondingly reduced. The cash value of the paid-up or extended insurance granted upon the lapse of this policy will be the full reserve at the time of surrender, less any indebtedness to the company under the policy, and will be paid to the owner thereof, upon written request and proper release.

PROVISIONS.

1. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—(a) Premiums are due and payable on the first day of the month of February each year, but may be paid in semi-annual instalments of $153.30, or quarterly instalments of $78.90. Except as herein provided, the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment of premium. (b) Notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereon is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Premiums are payable in advance at the executive offices, or to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before the date due, of a receipt signed by the president, secretary or treasurer of the company and duly countersigned by said agent. (c) A grace of thirty-one days (without interest) shall be granted for the payment of every premium after the first year during which time the insurance shall continue in force. If death occurs within the thirty-one days of grace, the unpaid portion of the premium for the current policy year, shall be deducted from the current amount payable hereunder. (d) If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall only be as herein provided.

2. RE-INSTATEMENT.—In case of default in the payment of any premium or interest, the company will reinstate the policy at any time, upon written application by the insured to the company at its executive offices with evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, payment of all premiums that would have been paid in the intervening time, if no default had been made, with interest thereon at a rate not exceeding six per cent per annum, computed from the premium due date, and payment or re-instatement, with interest at a like rate of any indebtedness existing at the time of default, or of any sum paid as a cash surrender value.

3. CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, at any time, change the beneficiary under this policy, with the written approval of the company, and with corresponding endorsement upon the policy whereupon all rights of the former beneficiary shall cease. If there shall be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

4. ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless it be filed with the company at its executive offices. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignments.

5. MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof.

6. ALTERATION OF CONTRACT.—No person except the president or secretary of the company has power to modify or, in the event of lapse, to re-instate this policy, or to extend the time for paying a premium.

7. INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid will be deducted in any settlement of this policy or any benefit hereunder.

8. INCONTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application herefor, taken together, constitute the entire contract between the parties and shall be incontestable, except for non-payment of premiums, after one year from its date. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations, and not warranties and no such statement shall avoid this policy unless it be contained in a written application and a copy of such application endorsed upon or attached to the policy when issued. No permit or extra premium will be required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

9. SUICIDE.—In case of suicide committed, while sane or insane, within one year from the date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premiums paid.

No suit or action at law or in equity shall be maintained hereon unless actually begun within two years after the cause of action shall accrue.

10. INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The insured may, at any time, change the payment of this policy from one sum to such instalments as are desired, with the written approval of the company, and with the corresponding endorsements upon the policy.

DISABILITY BENEFITS.—Extra annual premium, $1.60. In consideration of the extra premium above stated, receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, these provisions for disability benefits are hereby attached to and made a part of the above numbered policy.

WAIVER OF PREMIUMS.—(a) Under age sixty. If, after this policy shall have been in force one full year and before default in the payment of any premium, the company receives due proof that the insured before attaining the age of sixty years has become wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease so that he is and will be presumably, thereby permanently and continuously prevented from engaging in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, the company shall waive payment of each premium as it thereafter becomes due during the insured's said disability. In making any settlement under this policy the company shall not deduct any part of the premiums so waived, and the loan and cash surrender values provided for in the policy shall increase from year to year in the same manner as if the premiums so waived had been paid in cash. (b) Over age sixty. Under all the conditions aforesaid, except that the insured shall have attained the age of sixty years before becoming disabled, the company shall waive payment of each premium thereafter becoming due during such disability, but the face amount of the policy shall be reduced by the amount of each such waived premium, and the loan and cash surrender values as provided for in the policy shall be based upon said reduced amount of insurance in the same manner as if the premiums for such reduced amount of insurance had been duly paid.

RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—Should the company accept under this policy proofs of disability, it may, nevertheless, at any time thereafter, and from time to time, but not oftener than once a year, demand of the insured proof of the continuance of such disability, and upon failure to furnish such proof, or, if it appears that the insured has become able to engage in any occupation whatsoever for remuneration or profit, no further premiums shall be waived and no further instalment payments will be made by the company.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS.—Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree for myself and for any person who may have or claim an interest in any contract which may be issued upon this application, as follows: (1) That no statements or information made or given by or to the person soliciting or taking this application or by or to any other person shall be binding upon the company or shall in any manner affect its rights, unless reduced to writing and presented to and approved by the officers of the company at its home office. (2) That in case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from date of the contract issued, the limit of the recovery thereunder, shall be the premiums paid. (3) That every statement and answer hereinabove contained and every statement I make to the company's medical examiner in Part II of this application is true; and that the contract issued hereupon shall not take effect unless the first premium shall be actually paid while I am in good health.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $50,000.

* Adopted January 1, 1908.

Illinois Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.90. AGE, 35.

Illinois Life Insurance Company agrees to pay the principal amount of ten thousand dollars together with such fully paid additions as may have been credited to this policy, as provided on the second page hereof, to Martha Priscilla Brown, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, at the head office of the company, in Chicago, Ill., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Gordon Brown, the insured, of Chicago, county of Cook, State of Illinois, provided this policy is in force at the time of the death of insured.

YEARLY SURRENDER OPTIONS.—All premiums hereon having been paid in full in cash, and this policy being free from indebtedness, the insured, upon surrender and cancellation thereof on the second anniversary of its date of issue, or upon the date upon which any subsequent annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium may become due, a thirty days' previous notice in writing of insured's intention so to surrender having been furnished to the company at its head office, will be entitled to one of the following options, the respective values or extensions thereof being shown in the tables of values on the fourth page hereof, which said tables, with the explanation, illustration and statements prefatory thereto are a part of this policy: First option, cash; second option, paid-up insurance; third option, extended insurance.

NOTE.—The election of the second or third option will be evidenced by the issuance of a new policy in lieu of this policy.

Cash loans, as provided on second page hereof.

This is to certify that Illinois Life Insurance Company will pay to the beneficiary under policy No., issued by said company, the sum of one hundred dollars within three days after the receipt of this certificate, in the event of the death of said insured while said policy is in force for the full face amount thereof, provided said certificate is accompanied by an affidavit, stating the fact of the death of the insured thereunder, and the time, place and cause thereof, duly executed by the said beneficiary and by the Judge or clerk of any court of record of the county in which the said insured resides at the time of his death or by any reputable physician, clergyman in good standing, or postmaster, residing in said county. The said payment shall apply on account of any amount due under said policy and being made in advance of the receipt of due proofs of death, is made and accepted without any admission by the company of its liability on said policy.

ONE MONTH'S GRACE.—A grace of one month from the due date of any premium, during which period of grace the insurance shall remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of premiums hereon during the second and subsequent policy years subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum. In case of the death of the insured during said month, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the proceeds hereof.

POLICY AUTOMATICALLY CONTINUED.—Should the insured fail to pay any premium hereon, after premiums for three years have been paid, without having exercised any one of the several options set forth on the first page hereof, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, grant the third option (extended insurance) mentioned on the first page hereof. The company will revive and reinstate this policy at any time within five years of the date of default, upon being furnished with evidence satisfactory to it of the then insurability of the insured and payment of arrears of premiums and payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

As provided on the fourth page hereof, the term of automatic extended insurance will be increased if, at the time of default, there are any fully paid additions to the credit of this policy.

OPTIONAL CASH SETTLEMENT.—As provided by the laws of the State of Illinois, the right is reserved to the insured hereunder to surrender this policy to the company within thirty-one days of default in payment of any premium and receive in cash the full legal reserve value (American Experience three and one-half per cent basis) of the extended insurance automatically available under the above provisions.

CASH LOANS.—The company will make loans on the sole security of this policy at any time, and from time to time after it has been in force one full year, charging interest in advance at not to exceed five per cent per annum. The company may require a thirty days' previous notice at its head office before making any loan, and will require the execution of a proper loan agreement and a proper assignment and delivery of this policy. The amount of loan available from time to time, as indicated on the fourth page hereof, shall be increased by the amount of the legal reserve (American Experience three and one-half per cent basis) on any fully paid additions to the credit of this policy, and shall be subject to the deduction of any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy, together with any unpaid balance of the premium for, and interest in advance on the loan. In the end of, the policy year in which the loan is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay renewal interest thereon, shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness on said policy shall equal or exceed the amount of loan available at the time of such failure; nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of any assignee of record at the head office of the company. In computing said "total indebtedness" interest if not paid when due shall be added to the principal of such loan and shall bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

SUICIDE.—Death by the insured's own hand or act, whether sane or insane, within two years from the date hereof, is a risk not assumed by the company, and in event of death as aforesaid, the liability of the insurer hereunder shall be limited to an amount equal to the premiums actually paid hereon.

MILITARY OR NAVAL SERVICE IN TIME OF WAR.—Shall not invalidate this insurance, but the insured shall be bound to pay to the company a single extra premium of fifty dollars for each one thousand dollars insured to cover the risk of such service, which extra premium, if not paid in cash, shall be a lien upon this policy with interest in advance at five per cent per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without expense, at any time, and from time to time, during the continuance of this policy, provided it is not then assigned, change the beneficiary, or beneficiaries, by written notice to the company, at its head office, accompanied by this policy, such change to take effect only upon approval of the application therefor by the company and upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If the beneficiary last designated shall not be living at the death of the insured, the amount then insured by this policy shall be paid to the estate of the insured.

PREMIUMS, WHEN AND HOW PAYABLE.—All premiums hereon are due and payable in advance at the head office of the company in Chicago, Ill., but may be paid to agents of the company, in advance, in exchange for the company's official receipt, signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent. A premium other than an annual will be accepted according to the table of payments endorsed hereon and made a part hereof; provided that the receipt of any such premium, less than a full annual, shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than three months in case of a quarterly premium, or six months in case of a semi-annual premium. Failure to pay any premium when due shall, except as herein otherwise provided, void this policy and forfeit all premiums paid hereon to the company, and terminate and forfeit the insured's right to pay any further premiums hereunder.

INSTALLMENT OPTION.—The insured may at any time, provided this policy is not then assigned, change the manner of payment of the insurance hereunder from one payment to payment in limited annual instalments, or continuous annual instalments, in accordance with the provision headed "instalment benefits" and the appropriate table thereunder. Such change will take effect upon endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

YEARLY ADDITIONS TO AMOUNT INSURED.—During twenty years from the date hereof, upon renewal of this policy at the end of each year by payment of premium for the policy year then beginning, it shall be credited with fully paid additions to the amount insured hereunder payable upon receipt of due proofs of death of the insured, to the beneficiary herein, in addition to the principal amount of this policy. The amount of this policy and the fully paid additions credited thereto, from time to time, and which includes additions previously credited, is shown in the table below opposite the number in the first column indicating the full years for which premiums have been paid.

The same privileges and conditions herein that apply to the surrender of this policy for a cash value shall apply also to the surrender of the fully paid additions hereon, and upon surrender of such fully paid additions the insured shall be entitled to receive as a cash value for such additions, the then full legal reserve value thereof according to the American Experience three and one half per cent basis.

THE COMPANY GUARANTEES.—(1) That when all premiums hereon, without reduction, have been paid for sixteen years, the then fully paid-up insurance value of this policy (available upon its surrender as elsewhere herein provided) and the additions thereto, payable upon the death of the insured, shall be $19,070. (2) That when all premiums hereon, without reduction, have been paid for twenty years; (a) That the then fully paid-up insurance value of this policy and the additions thereto, payable upon the death of the insured, shall be $12,460. (b) The total cash surrender value of this policy and the additions thereto payable in cash to the insured upon surrender of this policy on the twentieth anniversary of its date of issue shall be $7500.

At the option of the insured, upon a written notice to the company at its head office thirty days prior to the due date of the second or any subsequent annual premium hereon

Illinois Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE—GUARANTEED ANNUAL ADDITIONS.
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.90. AGE, 35.

Illinois Life Insurance Company agrees to pay the principal amount of ten thousand dollars together with such fully paid additions as may have been credited to this policy, as provided on the second page hereof, to Martha Priscilla Brown, wife of the insured, or to such other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, at the head office of the company, in Chicago, Ill., immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of Richard Gordon Brown, the insured, of Chicago, county of Cook, State of Illinois, provided this policy is in force at the time of the death of insured.

YEARLY SURRENDER OPTIONS.—All premiums hereon having been paid in full in cash, and this policy being free from indebtedness, the insured, upon surrender and cancellation thereof on the second anniversary of its date of issue, or upon the date upon which any subsequent annual, semi-annual or quarterly premium may become due, a thirty days' previous notice in writing of insured's intention so to surrender having been furnished to the company at its head office, will be entitled to one of the following options, the respective values or extensions thereof being shown in the tables of values on the fourth page hereof, which said tables, with the explanation, illustration and statements prefatory hereto are a part of this policy: First option, cash; second option, paid-up insurance; third option, extended insurance.

NOTE.—The election of the second or third option will be evidenced by the issuance of a new policy in lieu of this policy.

Cash loans, as provided on second page hereof.

This is to certify that Illinois Life Insurance Company will pay to the beneficiary under policy No. issued by said company, the sum of one hundred dollars within three days after the receipt of this certificate, in the event of the death of said insured while said policy is in force for the full face amount thereof, provided said certificate is accompanied by an affidavit, stating the fact of the death of the insured thereunder, and the time, place and cause thereof, duly executed by the said beneficiary and by the judge or clerk of any court of record of the county in which the said insured resides at the time of his death or by any reputable physician, clergyman in good standing, or postmaster, residing in said county. The said payment shall apply on account of any amount due under said policy and being made in advance of the receipt of due proofs of death, and made and accepted without any admission by the company of its liability on said policy.

ONE MONTH'S GRACE.—A grace of one month from the due date of any premium, during which period of grace the insurance shall remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of premiums hereon during the second and subsequent policy years subject to an interest charge at the rate of five per cent per annum. In case of the death of the insured during said month, the unpaid premium shall be deducted from the proceeds hereof.

POLICY AUTOMATICALLY CONTINUED.—Should the insured fail to pay any premium hereon, after premiums for three years have been paid, without having exercised any one of the several options set forth on the first page hereof, the company will, without any action on the part of the insured, grant the third option (extended insurance) mentioned on the first page hereof. The company will revive and reinstate this policy at any time within five years of the date of default, upon being furnished with evidence satisfactory to it of the then insurability of the insured and payment of arrears of premiums and payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

As provided on the fourth page hereof, the term of automatic extended insurance will be increased if, at the time of default, there are any fully paid additions to the credit of this policy.

CASH LOANS.—The company will make loans on the sole security of this policy at any time, and from time to time after it has been in force one full year, charging interest in advance at not to exceed five per cent per annum. The company may require a thirty days' previous notice at its head office before making any loan, and will require the execution of a proper loan agreement and a proper assignment and delivery of this policy. The amount of loan available from time to time, as indicated on the fourth page hereof, shall be increased by the amount of the legal reserve (American Experience three and one-half per cent basis) on any fully paid additions to the credit of this policy, and shall be subject to the deduction of any existing indebtedness on or secured by this policy, together with any unpaid balance of the premium for, and interest in advance on the loan to the end of, the policy year in which the loan is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay renewal interest thereon, shall not void this policy unless the total indebtedness on said policy shall equal or exceed the amount of loan available at the time of such failure; nor until one month after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the Independent Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.
 AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $307. AGE, 35.

The Independent Life Insurance Company of America, in consideration of the application for this policy, which is hereby made a part of this contract, and of the advance payment of three hundred and seven dollars, and the payment of a like amount on or before the first day of April in every year hereafter until twenty yearly premiums shall have been paid, does insure the life of George Graham, herein called the insured, of Nashville, county of Davidson, State of Tennessee, in the amount of ten thousand dollars, for the term of life, and promises to pay at its home office in the city of Nashville, Tenn., the amount of said insurance to his executors, administrators or assigns, upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured during the continuance of this policy. Any indebtedness to the company hereon, and any unpaid premium or unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall first be deducted.

DISABILITY PROVISION.—The company will pay for the insured the premiums required hereon for every policy year following the date of approval by the company of proof that the insured has become totally and permanently disabled as hereinafter defined, if premiums have been duly paid in cash by the insured to the end of the policy year in which such proof is approved. The premiums paid by the company in conformity with this provision will not be an indebtedness hereon, and this policy will continue in full force towards maturity, and with loan, cash and other guaranteed values increasing and progressing from year to year, in like manner as if the premiums were being duly and regularly paid by the insured. The total and permanent disability of the insured must be due to bodily injuries or disease occurring while this policy is in full force, and must be such as to prevent the insured then and at all times thereafter from engaging in any gainful occupation; provided, that if the insured should recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, the company's obligation to pay further premiums shall cease and the insured be required to pay all premiums becoming due hereon after the date of such recovery. The irrecoverable loss of the entire sight of both eyes or of both feet, or such loss of the use of one hand and one foot, will be deemed total and permanent disability within the meaning of this provision.

This policy is issued by the company, and accepted by the insured, upon the express conditions and agreements printed on the second page of this policy. The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

CONDITIONS AND AGREEMENTS.

I. PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company, or they may be paid to agents on or before dates when due in exchange for receipts signed by the president or secretary and countersigned by agent. No agent is authorized to waive forfeitures, to make, alter or discharge contracts, or to waive or postpone payment of premium. Should default be made in the payment of any premium within three years from the date hereof, this policy shall cease and determine and unless reinstated, all payments thereon shall remain the property of the company.

II. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which the policy shall remain in full force, will be allowed in payment of all premiums except the first, subject to an interest charge of not exceeding six per cent. In the event of death during said period the overdue premium will be deducted.

III. INCONTTESTABILITY.—This policy and the application therefor, attached hereto, constitute the entire contract between the parties, and shall be incontestable after one year from its date except for non-payment of premiums and except for engaging in military or naval service in time of war without a written permit from the company; but if within one year from the date hereof the insured shall, whether sane or insane, die by his own hand, the liability of the company shall be limited to the return of one-half of the first year's premium on this policy.

IV. AGE.—Any error in statement of the age of the insured will be adjusted by the payment of such amount as the premium actually paid would have purchased at the correct age, or by return of any excess of premium which may have been paid.

V. STATEMENTS.—All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No such statement shall avoid or be used in defense to a claim under the policy unless it is contained in the application, a copy of which is hereto attached.

VI. RESERVE.—The reserve of this policy shall be in accordance with the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent.

VII. REINSTATEMENT.—This policy, at any time, within three years succeeding default in payment of any premium, will be reinstated, unless previously surrendered, upon request and production of evidence satisfactory to the company of insurability, and the payment of all overdue premiums, and the payment or reinstatement of any other indebtedness to the company upon said policy, with interest at the rate of not exceeding six per cent per annum.

VIII. MODE OF PAYING PREMIUMS.—The mode of premium payment may be changed from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa, at the premium rates in use by Independent Life Insurance Company.

* Adopted January, 1911.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Indiana National Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—GUARANTEED PREMIUM REDUCTION.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $399.50. AGE, 35.

Indiana National Life Insurance Company, Indianapolis, in consideration of the application for this policy, copy of which is attached hereto and which together with this policy constitutes the entire contract between the parties hereto, and of the payment in advance of three hundred ninety-nine dollars and fifty cents, hereby insures the life of John Doe, the insured, for the term of one year from the date hereof, and upon due proof of the interest of the claimant and upon approval of satisfactory proof of the death of said insured while this policy is in force, and within sixty days after receipt of said proof, agrees to pay at its head office in the city of Indianapolis, Ind., ten thousand dollars (less any indebtedness due the company on this policy), to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, if living; otherwise, to the administrator, executors or assigns of the insured, subject to the privileges and conditions stated on the following pages hereof, which are hereby made a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In further consideration of the premium for the first year this contract will be renewed on like terms as a limited payment guaranteed premium reduction policy by the payment of three hundred ninety-nine dollars and fifty cents on or before the first day of July, in each and every year hereafter, until premiums have been paid for twenty years from date of issue, or until the prior death of the insured.

STATE OF INDIANA—OFFICE OF THE AUDITOR OF STATE.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., July 1, 1909.

I, John C. Billheimer, auditor of the State of Indiana, do hereby certify that the Indiana National Life Insurance Company has complied with the laws of the State of Indiana, and maintains with this department a deposit of the legal reserve on each policy as required by law.

In witness whereof, the Indiana National Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary and affixed its seal hereto at its head office in the city of Indianapolis the first day of July, A. D., 1909.

PROVISIONS, BENEFITS AND SPECIAL ADVANTAGES.

INCONTESTABLE.—After one year from date of issue this policy shall become incontestable if the premiums have been duly paid, except in case of self-destruction within two years, whether sane or insane, and except that military or naval service in time of war without a permit from the company is a risk not assumed under this policy at any time; but the legal reserve hereunder will be due and payable in case of death while in such service.

GRACE.—In payment of any premiums hereunder after the premium on this policy has been paid for one full year, a grace of thirty days will be allowed; provided, that if the insured shall die within such period of grace the unpaid premium for the current policy year may be deducted in any settlement under the policy.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse for non-payment of premium, or any note or interest thereon, it may be reinstated at any time, upon payment of over-due premiums with interest at five per cent per annum, subject to evidence of good health satisfactory to the company.

RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy is free from any provisions as to residence and travel.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by written notice to the company, at its head office; such change to take effect upon the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company.

COUPON CREDIT.—An amount equal to twenty per cent of the annual premium due and paid the previous year as provided in the coupons attached hereto may be drawn in cash or used in reduction of annual premium, or may be left with the company to accumulate, in which event interest at the rate of three per cent per annum will be paid thereon until the settlement period.

POLICY PAID-UP.—Should the insured elect to pay all premiums in full, without reduction, and leave with the company the credits represented by the coupons on this contract, the company guarantees that this contract will be fully paid-up after paying the premiums in cash for sixteen full years and delivering all attached coupons to the company.

ADDITIONAL SURRENDER.—Should the insured be living, all premiums having been paid, and no indebtedness existing, the following options will be given at the end of the

[illegible][illegible][illegible]

the insured, and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the com-address.

INSURANCE.—At any time after three annual premiums have been paid while this policy is in force, the company will, upon written request by the owner, convert this policy into paid-up non-participating insurance in the sum shown on the schedule of guaranteed values opposite the number of years for which annual premiums have been paid.

EXTENDED INSURANCE.—In the event of default of premium payment, the insured shall be entitled, without payment of premium, to the full amount of the cash value of the policy on his part, to the extended insurance shown in the table of guaranteed values of the last year for which full annual premiums have been paid; provided, that the amount of the cash value of the policy shall be reduced by the amount of unpaid note given for premium and any existing indebtedness to the company or of secured by this policy shall reduce the amount or term of such extended insurance in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such extended insurance; provided, that the policy may be surrendered to the company at its home office at any time, and in the event of default for a specified cash value at least equal to the sum of the cash value of the policy and the amount of the unpaid note; and provided further, that the company may defer payment for not more than six months after the application therefor is made.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby make application for insurance and agree that the statements and herein and the statements to the medical examiner in Part 2 of application for the purpose of securing this insurance and declare that all such statements are true without exception unless such exception is indicated.

—As a part of the application, and as the basis of the contract, which shall not be void until a policy shall have been delivered, and the first premium paid thereon.

represent all the statements and answers herein made, and also the written made by me to the agent. I also agree: That the whole of any part of the

Maximum amount carried on one life, $6000.

Indianapolis Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $348. AGE, 35.

The Indianapolis Life Insurance Company agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, to Mary Marion, wife of the insured, or to her other beneficiary as may have been duly designated, at the home office of the company, in the city of Indianapolis, immediately upon proof of the interest of the claimant and the receipt of due proofs of the death of Francis Marion, the insured, of the county of Marion, State of Indiana, and the surrender of this policy properly receipted.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, without expense, at any time during the continuance of this policy, provided the policy is not then assigned, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries, by written notice to the company, at its home office, accompanied by this policy. Such change to take effect on the endorsement of the same on the policy by the company. If there shall be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

THIS POLICY PARTICIPATES ANNUALLY IN THE PROFITS OF THE COMPANY.—Beginning with the payment of the second annual premium and annually thereafter, upon the payment of premiums, this policy while in force will be credited with a dividend from the surplus as apportioned by the board of directors of the company; but such dividends shall be due and payable only upon payment of the premium for the succeeding year. The owner of this policy shall elect otherwise in writing the dividend shall be applied to the payment of premiums if any be due, otherwise will be held to the credit of the policy as provided in option four below.

THE DIVIDENDS SUBJECT TO THE FOREGOING SHALL BE.—(First) Paid in cash, or (second) applied toward the payment of the premium for the succeeding year, or (third) applied to the purchase without re-examination of participating paid-up additions to the policy, or (fourth) left to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three per cent per annum and payable at the maturity (by death or otherwise) of the policy, but withdrawable on any anniversary of the policy. When such accumulated dividends together with the reserve value of this policy shall amount to not less than the single premium for this insurance at the attained age, the insured shall have the option of converting this policy into a paid-up annual dividend participating policy for the full amount insured hereby, or may continue the payment of premiums until such time as the reserve and the accumulated dividends amount to not less than the principal sum insured by this policy, whereupon this policy shall mature as an endowment and the principal sum named herein shall be paid to the insured.

The reserve value of this policy shall be invested in approved interest bearing securities, which shall be deposited with the State of Indiana, in trust, for the benefit of this policy in accordance with laws of said State.

PROVISIONS AND BENEFITS.

PREMIUMS.—(1) This policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance and same are payable at the home office of the company in the city of Indianapolis, to any agent of the company upon delivery, on or before date due, of a receipt signed by the president, vice-president or secretary and countersigned by said agent. (2) On request the mode of premium payment may be changed, on any anniversary of the policy, from annual to semi-annual or quarterly, or vice versa. (3) In case any premium is not paid when due, according to the terms of this contract, then this policy shall cease and determine, except as otherwise herein expressly provided. That part of the year's premium unpaid at maturity of this policy shall be deducted from the amount due the claimant. Except as herein provided, the payment of premium or installment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the date when the next premium or installment thereof is payable. No premium shall be construed as paid, either wholly or in part, by reason of dividends remaining with the company.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After this policy has been in force one year, thirty days of grace will be allowed in payment of premiums, with interest for the time taken at a rate of six per cent per annum, during which time this policy will continue in force. If death occur within the days of grace the unpaid portion of the premium for the then current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid, the company at any time, at the request of the insured, will loan, on proper assignment of this policy and on the security thereof, at a rate of interest not greater than six per cent per annum, which interest if not paid annually shall be added to the principal and bear the same rate of interest, a sum not exceeding the loan value at the end of the current policy year on this policy, as provided in the table below, and on any dividend additions thereto. The company, however, will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness to the company on the policy and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year, and may collect interest in advance on the loan to the end of the current policy year. The insured to repay any such loan or to pay interest shall not avoid this policy unless the indebtedness hereon to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

LIMITED INSTALLMENTS.—Annual instalments limited to the number stated below; any number from two to twenty-five may be selected by the insured.

* ILLUSTRATION.—The amount of each annual instalment will be $45 for each $1,000 of proceeds, if at the death of the insured the beneficiary should be thirty years of age last birthday.

The insured, having changed the mode of payment to annual instalments, may at any time subsequently change the number of instalments as may be desired, and as above illustrated, or entirely revoke any change, thereby making the proceeds of this policy again payable in one sum. The payment of the first instalment shall be made immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of the insured, and subsequent instalments shall be paid annually thereafter. If the beneficiary should die before all instalments have been duly paid, the remainder of the instalments shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary. Each change of mode of payment, or revocation of any change, must be requested by the insured in writing, and shall not take effect until endorsed on this policy by the company at the home office.

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such right is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing, and is endorsed on this policy by the company at the home office, during the lifetime of the insured. If, however, the proceeds of this policy or any part thereof, are payable to executors, administrators or assigns, such proceeds shall be paid in one sum.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby declare that I am in good health, and of sober and temperate habits, and that all the statements and answers to the above questions are complete and true, and that the foregoing, together with this declaration, and also together with Part I of medical examination to be made in continuance of this application, shall constitute the application, and become a part of the contract for insurance hereby applied for. And it is agreed that the policy herein applied for shall be accepted subject to the privileges and provisions therein contained, and said policy shall not take effect until the same shall be issued and actually delivered by the said company, to me personally and the first premium actually paid in full to and accepted by the company while my health is in the same condition as described in this application and in Part I of said medical examination. I hereby waive any and all statutes that prohibit any physician from testifying in any court regarding my health, habits or any communication I may have made to him regarding same.

* Adopted September 1, 1913.

Maximum amount carried on one life, $10,000.

Intermediate Life Assurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ENDOWMENT AT 85—DISABILITY BENEFITS—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $309.40. AGE, 35.

The Intermediate Life Assurance Company of Evansville, Ind., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, upon the death of Bray I. Madison, the insured, to the estate, the beneficiary, or the company will pay the said sum to the insured, if this policy be in force at the end of the policy year nearest to age eighty-five, subject to the terms on this and the succeeding pages hereof.

This contract is made in consideration of the payment of a premium of three hundred nine and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars, on the delivery of this policy, and the payment of a like premium on the eighteenth day of October, in every year during the continuance of this contract, or until twenty full years' premiums, including the first, shall have been paid.

The guaranteed privileges, benefits and conditions on the succeeding pages hereof, form a part of this policy as fully as if recited at length over the signatures hereunto affixed.

In witness whereof, The Intermediate Life Assurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its president and secretary, at its home office, in the city of Evansville, State of Indiana, this eighteenth day of October, 1913.

STATE OF INDIANA—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.—I hereby certify that the net cash value of this and all other policies issued by the Intermediate Life Assurance Company and in force, is secured by the deposit with this department of securities as prescribed by and in compliance with the Indiana legal reserve compulsory deposit law.

GUARANTEED PRIVILEGES, BENEFITS AND CONDITIONS.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—Thirty-one days of grace without interest charge shall be allowed in the payment of any premium after the first during which time the policy shall remain in force. If death occurs within the period of grace the unpaid premium for the current policy year shall be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

CASH LOANS.—After three full years' premiums have been paid upon this policy, the company, at any time while the policy is in force, provided no premium be in default, will loan to the insured on the execution of a proper assignment of the policy and of the sole security thereof, any sum not exceeding the amount stated in the table of loan and surrender values for the end of the current policy year. From such loan value there will be deducted any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy and any unpaid balance of a premium for the current policy year. Interest, at a rate not to exceed five per cent per annum, will be collected on the loan to the end of the current policy year and shall thereafter be payable annually in advance. The company may, at its option, defer a cash loan (except where the proceeds are to be applied in payment of premiums on policies issued by this company) for not to exceed ninety days after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan or to pay interest thereon shall not avoid the policy unless the total indebtedness on the policy shall equal or exceed the loan value of the policy at the time of such failure, nor until thirty-one days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

ALL PREMIUMS are payable in advance at or before three o'clock p. m. on the day when due, and at the home office of the company in Evansville, Ind., but they may be paid to agents when not overdue in exchange for receipts signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary. Premiums after the first may be paid in semi-annual or quarterly instalments in accordance with the company's terms, therefor herein provided for, or if any note or other obligation given for any premium, or part thereof, is not paid when due according to the terms thereof, this policy and all payments made thereon shall immediately become forfeited and void, subject, however, to the company's non-forfeiture provisions as stated in table of loan and surrender values.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOANS.—If any premium or instalment thereof on this policy be not paid in cash on or before the due date thereof or within the period of grace, the company will charge up such premium or instalment and any subsequent premium or instalment not paid in cash, with interest in advance at not to exceed five per cent per annum to the end of the current policy year, against the then loan value of this policy as stated above, provided that such loan value be sufficient and provided that written request therefor has been made by the insured on the company's form at any time while there is no default in payment of any premium hereunder. Any premium or premium or instalments thereof so charged against the loan value of this policy shall be considered as a loan upon the policy and shall be subject to the same terms and conditions as a loan made in accordance with the "cash loans" provision above. Such request may be revoked at any time in writing by the insured, provided, however, that such revocation shall not affect any loan which may have been previously made hereunder.

DEATH CLAIMS.—When this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, settlement shall be made at the home office of the company immediately following receipt of due proofs of death and of the interest of the claimant.

RENEWAL.—Should this policy lapse it may be reinstated at any time upon furnishing evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and paying arrears with not to exceed five per cent interest per annum.

BENEFICIARY.—If there be no existing assignment of the policy made as provided, the insured may, with the consent of the company, at any time while the policy is in force, change the beneficiary by filing with the company at its home office a request therefor, duly acknowledged. Such change shall take effect when the policy is assigned by the company and not before. If any beneficiary shall die before the interest of such beneficiary shall vest in the insured unless otherwise provided herein.

MODE OF PAYMENT.—The insured may change the mode of payment of the amount of a death claim from payment in one sum to payment in equal annual instalments as provided hereinafter.

UNPAID PORTION OF PREMIUM.—Any indebtedness to the company on account of this policy (unpaid portion of the premium for the policy year current at death) will be paid in any settlement or payment under this policy.

ENDORSEMENTS.—No condition, provision or privilege of this policy can be waived in any case except by an endorsement hereon signed by the president, vice-president or secretary. No modification or change shall be made in this policy which is in accordance with the laws of the State in which such change is made, without the power in behalf of the company to make or modify this or any other policy, time for paying a premium, to waive any forfeiture or to bind the company by promise or making or receiving any representation or information.

APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application therefor, together with the schedule of rates attached hereto and endorsed hereon and made a part hereof, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto; and, in the absence of fraud, the application shall be deemed representations and not warranties.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—Self-destruction during the first policy year, whether insured be or not, is a risk not assumed by the company; but in such event the company will pay the premium paid.

STATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount of the death benefit shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age.

COPIES.—No assignment of this policy shall be binding upon the company unless a duplicate copy of the policy is made in duplicate and both copies filed with the company at its home office, when one copy will be returned bearing the company's acknowledgment and the company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment made otherwise.

EXCHANGE.—Upon written request of all parties in interest, this policy, or any part thereof, may be exchanged at any anniversary of issue, without medical examination, for any other form of policy then written, and not involving any other life, term or endowment insurance, for an amount whereby the actual insurance liability of the company shall not be increased, upon payment of the difference between the reserve for this policy and the reserve for the policy to which it is exchanged.

CONDITIONS OF PAYMENT.—This policy shall not take effect, until the first premium has been paid and the policy actually delivered during the lifetime and good health of the insured; and the delivery of this policy without such payment, or while the insured is not in good health, shall not be a waiver of the foregoing, or any part thereof.

RESTRICTIONS.—This policy is absolutely free from restrictions as to occupation, employment, or military or naval service, and is incontestable after one year from the date of issue except for the non-payment of premiums.

OPTION OF PREMIUMS.—If the insured is TOTALLY AND PERMANENTLY DISABLED AND THE INSURED HAS THE OPTION OF HAVING THE INSURANCE PAYMENT IMMEDIATELY PAYABLE IN INSTALMENTS,

then, after one full year's premium shall have been paid and before default of any subsequent premium, if the insured before attaining his sixtieth birthday shall furnish proof satisfactory to the company that he has become wholly and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease and will be permanently, completely and wholly prevented thereby for life from performing any work for compensation, or from following any gainful occupation, then (first) the company shall, upon written request of the insured and of the beneficiary and as by an endorsement on this policy, agree to pay for the insured, subject to conditions of the subsequent premiums, if any, as they shall become due, during the insured's total and permanent disability. Any premiums so paid shall not be a condition precedent to the payment of the death benefit, and the guaranteed values set out in the tables herein shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums had been paid by the insured. (Second) The company shall, upon written request of the insured and of the beneficiary and as by an endorsement on this policy, agree to pay, subject to the conditions of the subsequent premiums, in lieu of all other values, benefits or privileges herein provided, and in the event of this policy, one-twentieth of the sum insured immediately, and a like amount thereafter until twenty of such instalments in all shall have been paid, and the balance of the sum insured or secured by this policy will reduce the amount of the subsequent instalments in the same proportion that said indebtedness bears to three times the sum insured, plus dividend additions, if any. Should the insured die before the twenty annual instalments shall have been paid, the remaining instalments shall be paid to the beneficiary as they become due.

Notwithstanding proof of disability may have been accepted by the company as satisfactory, the insured shall as often as required by the company furnish satisfactory proof of the continuance of such disability. If the insured fails to furnish such proof, or if he shall so far recover as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, all premiums thereafter falling due must be paid as originally provided.

in the policy; and if the second option shall have been availed of, the company's obligation to pay any further instalments shall immediately cease, and the original policy shall be restored for its face amount, plus dividend additions, if any, less the sum of the instalments paid. Any indebtedness on or secured by the policy outstanding at the time of the payment of the first instalment shall be restored together with interest at five per cent per annum from that time, and the guaranteed values in the table attached hereto shall be reduced proportionately by the amount of the annual instalments paid and the original indebtedness, if any, with interest.

Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the entire and irrecoverable loss of the sight of both eyes, or the severance of both hands above the wrists, or of both feet above the ankles, or of one entire hand and one entire foot, shall be considered as total and permanent disability within the meaning hereof.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—The insured may elect at the end of the third policy year or at any time thereafter during the period of grace following any default in the payment of premiums, either (a) to surrender this policy at the home office of the company for its cash value; or, (b) to surrender this policy at the home office of the company for a policy of paid-up insurance payable at the same time and under the same conditions, except as to premium payments, as this policy, or, (c) to have the full amount of insurance continued in force as extended term insurance from the date of such default.

The cash value shall be the sum indicated in the table of loan and surrender values and shall be at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be available for the purchase of extended term insurance. At the option of the company, payment of the cash value may be deferred for not to exceed ninety days after application therefor is made.

The amount of paid-up insurance shall, in the absence of indebtedness, be the sum indicated in the table of loan and surrender values. If there be any indebtedness the amount of paid-up insurance otherwise available shall be reduced in the ratio of such indebtedness to the net value of such paid-up insurance.

The period of the extended term insurance shall, in the absence of indebtedness, be the period indicated in the table of loan and surrender values, and, if the insured survive to the end of such period, there shall be paid him in cash the amount of pure endowment, if any, stated in said table. If there be any indebtedness the same shall be deducted from the sum of the net values of the extended term insurance and pure endowment otherwise available and the amount of insurance continued for the period purchased by such difference applied as a net single premium; provided, that, if such difference be in excess of the net single premium which will purchase term insurance for the period indicated in the absence of indebtedness, such excess shall be applied as a net single premium to purchase pure endowment payable to the insured in cash if living at the end of such period.

If the insured shall not, during the period of grace after default, surrender this policy to the company at its home office for its cash value as provided in option (a) above, or for a policy of paid-up insurance as provided in option (b), the amount of insurance will be continued in force as extended term insurance as provided in option (c).

All net values and net single premiums herein mentioned shall be based on the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

Extended term insurance for face of policy, and cash if insured is living at expiration of extended insurance.

The reserve under this policy shall be computed on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum. The net value of each benefit in the table is equal to such reserve less a surrender charge in no case in excess of two and one-half per cent of the amount of insurance under this policy. If fractional premiums in addition to premiums for whole years be paid due allowance will be made in the above benefits. Values for each year after the twentieth not shown in the table, will be equivalent to the full reserve.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium to be received during the first policy year and the policy shall be valued according to its terms and the laws of the State of Indiana.

INSTALMENT PRIVILEGE.—A death claim under this policy is payable in one sum, as specified on the first page, but the insured during his lifetime, with the privilege of revocation, or, if the insured shall not have otherwise expressly directed, the beneficiary after the death of the insured, shall have the right to elect, in lieu of payment in a any one of the following options of settlement; provided, however, that the amount payable in one sum is not less than $1000, and provided that request for such change be made in writing to the company and the policy returned to its home office for appropriate endorsement.

The first instalment will be payable immediately on approval of the claim under this policy as hereinbefore provided. Subsequent instalments will be paid annually or monthly thereafter, until all instalments shall have been paid.

Should the beneficiary die before having received the full number of instalments elected under the first or second options, those remaining unpaid will be commuted at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum interest, and payment of the commuted amount will be made in one sum to the executors, administrators or assigns of the beneficiary.

The Second Option cannot be selected, if there is more than one beneficiary under policy.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

I hereby agree on behalf of myself and of any person who shall have any interest in policy issued upon this application that the charter of this company and the laws of the State of Indiana shall form the basis, and be a part of the contract of insurance applied for, and that the place of the contract shall be the home office of the company in the City of Evansville, in the State of Indiana, and that the policy shall be in the form now in use by this company, and that no statement, promise, or information made or given by the person soliciting this application or by any other person, shall be binding upon the company, or in any manner affect its rights or obligations, unless such statement, promise, or information shall be reduced to writing and be presented to the officers of the company at the home office, and that any policy issued upon this application shall not take effect until the first premium has been paid and the policy actually delivered to the person whose life is insured, while such person is alive and in good health; but the policy when so delivered shall take effect as of the date of the application, unless otherwise agreed in writing. Any payment in advance of premium or premiums shall be binding upon the company only in accordance with the agent's or cashier's receipt therefor on the company's authorized form.

I hereby expressly waive, on behalf of myself, and of any person who shall have any interest in any policy issued hereunder, all provisions of law, now existing, or that may hereafter exist, forbidding or preventing any physician or surgeon from disclosing or testifying to any information acquired while attending me in a professional capacity, and consent that any physician or surgeon may at any time testify to any information already acquired or that may be acquired hereafter while attending me in such capacity.

STATE OF MISSOURI.—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Sept. 15, 1909.

is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate with this department.

RED PREMIUM REDUCTIONS.—This policy is issued on the guaranteed graded reduction, triple option, non-participating plan, and in the use of the coupons may select one of the three following options:

—The insured may use the amount designated in the coupons hereto attached to his premium payments from year to year.

—The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which company guarantees that after paying premiums in full for fifteen years and this policy and all attached coupons to the company, a policy paid-up for same amount as the one surrendered will be issued to the insured.

—The insured may elect to pay all premiums without reduction, in which company guarantees that this policy shall mature as an endowment after payments in full for twenty-four years; and on surrender of this policy and all coupons on the first anniversary of this policy after such payments are complete amount hereof will be paid in cash to the insured. In case the insured to make this policy fully paid-up, and die while this policy is in force, but fully paid-up either as a life or endowment policy, as above provided, all of coupons bearing date prior to said death, will be paid to the beneficiary with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum in addition insured. In case the insured shall not elect to make this a paid-up life or policy, as above provided, but shall, nevertheless, pay premiums in full, the coupons shall be payable on presentation at any time, with compound interest at three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum for each full year after dates

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS POLICY.

IC EXTENDED INSURANCE.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insurance will by continue from said due date as term insurance during the term, including of grace, specified in column three (3) of the accompanying table.

INSURANCE.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request or made by the insured within six months from default in payment and on of this policy, the company will issue a policy paid-up for life for the amount in column two (2) of the accompanying table for the year to the end of which a full have been paid.

ER FOR CASH.—If any premium after the third shall not be paid on or before due, and if there be no indebtedness to the company, upon written request within six months from such default in payment and on surrender of this policy, y will pay in cash the net value of either the paid-up or extended insurance which is the amount specified in column one (1) of the accompanying table to the end of which premiums in full have been paid.

On or after the beginning of any policy year after two (2) years from date on demand in writing to the home office of the company, the insured may be sole security of this policy an amount not to exceed that specified in column of the accompanying table for the year in which the loan is made. This policy assigned to the company as security according to the terms of the company's and the premium on this policy and interest on the loan at the rate of t (5%) per annum shall be paid or deducted from the loan in full to the an- the insurance next succeeding the date when the loan shall be made. The able at any time includes any previous loan then unpaid. Unless the total s hereon shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy and then not until after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address ed and of the assignee, if any, failure to pay any loan or interest hereon shall is policy, but in the event of such default, when the premium becomes due paid an amount of insurance equal to the face amount of this policy, less the s, shall automatically continue from the date of default as term insurance , including the period of grace, which the excess of the cash value over the indebtedness will purchase at the then age of the insured according to the present table of single premiums; or, in lieu of such term insurance, the company (upon written request of the insured and surrender of this policy within one month after date of default) either pay said excess in cash, or issue a paid-up policy for the amount of said excess which will purchase at the then age of the insured according to the company's present table of single premiums.

RESERVE BASIS.—This policy is issued on the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and interest at three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) per annum, and for each year is one year term insurance. The values used for cash surrenders, loans, term and paid-up insurance, shown on accompanying table, are the reserves based on the company's tables of mortality and interest less a surrender charge which in no case exceeds two and one-half per cent ($2\frac{1}{2}\%$) of the amount insured under this policy.

ANNUITY OPTION.—At the end of twenty years, if this policy be in full force, the insured shall be entitled to the company, upon its surrender an annuity bond issued guaranteeing an annual income of four hundred forty dollars to the insured during his natural life, the first payment to be made on the fifteenth day of September following.

The term insurance specified above shall not be subject to cash loans.

This policy is non-forfeitable from date of issue and incontestable after one year.

SAMPLE PREMIUM REDUCTION COUPON.—On or at any time after September 1st, 1900, the International Life Insurance Company, St. Louis, Mo., will pay to the order of the insured under policy No. 000 (or to the order of the assignee if said policy is assigned) fifty-seven and $\frac{40}{100}$ dollars provided all premiums due on said policy up to and including said date have been paid. Payable at its home office.

The graded reductions are as follows: $57.40, $60.70, $64.10, $67.50, $70.90, $77.70, $81.10, $84.50, $85.50, $86.50, $87.50, $88.50, $89.50, $90.50, $91.50, $93.50 and $94.50.

TOTAL DISABILITY BENEFITS.—After one full annual payment shall have been made and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, if the insured, by attaining the age of sixty shall furnish satisfactory evidence that he has been disabled by bodily injuries or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and prevented thereby for life, from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company, by an endorsement in writing upon this policy, will agree to pay for the insured the amount of the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this policy, and the cash loans and the values of the policy, in the schedule as given herein, shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover and be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium-paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums will cease and the insured shall receive the amount of premiums in accordance with this policy on the first premium due date after such recovery. If the insured shall furnish satisfactory evidence of like total permanent disability occurring after he shall have attained the age of sixty years, the company, without further action on the part of the insured, allow the subsequent premiums to accumulate, without interest, as an indebtedness on this policy. In any such case the cash loans and the values of this policy in the schedule of values hereof shall be the same as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, during which the insured will remain in full force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

REINSTATEMENT OF POLICY.—In case of default in the payment of any premium, the company will reinstate this policy at any time, if not previously surrendered, for its cash value, upon written application by the insured to the Company at its home office with evidence of insurability satisfactory to the Company and the payment of premiums that would have been paid in the intervening time if no default had been made, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent (5%) per annum computed from the premium due date, and payment or reinstatement, with interest at like rate, of the indebtedness existing at the time of default.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy is not assigned, the insured may at any time and from time to time during its continuance, change the beneficiary effect only when such change and the written consent of the company thereto are upon the policy, or attached thereto at the home office of the company, where the rights of the former beneficiary shall cease.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

MODIFICATIONS.—No agent can make, alter or discharge this policy or its terms for payment of premium, nor can this policy be varied or altered or its terms waived or extended in any respect, except by the written agreement of the company, signed by the president or one of the vice-presidents, and the secretary or assistant secretary, whose authority will not be delegated.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of the insured was incorrectly stated in the application for this policy, the amount payable hereunder shall be the insurance which the actual premium paid would have purchased at the true age of the insured. Age will be admitted on satisfactory proof.

NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—If any premium shall not be paid on or before the date when due, the liability of the company shall be only as hereinbefore provided.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment hereof shall be binding upon the company unless made by an instrument in writing indorsed upon this policy or attached hereto, nor unless a duplicate shall be furnished to the company forthwith upon its execution. The company shall not be held responsible for the validity of any such assignment. Any claim made under an assignment shall be subject to proof of interest and extent thereof.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company, including any balance of the premium for the insurance year remaining unpaid, will be deducted in any settlement of this policy.

SUICIDE.—In case of suicide, committed while sane or insane, within one year from date on which this insurance begins, the limit of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid.

ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application hereof constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto. All statements of the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties. No statement of the insured shall void this policy unless contained in the application, a copy of which is attached hereto.

PLAN OF PAYMENTS.—The plan of premium payment can be changed so that premiums may be paid in quarterly or semi-annual instalments, or changed from such form to annual, at any anniversary of this policy by application in writing to the home office of the company; the rate when so changed shall be on basis of company's published rate for plan desired. The coupon in any event shall be available only with the payment which completes the annual premium.

PREMIUMS.—This policy is issued in consideration of the application hereof, which application is made a part hereof, the payment of three hundred eighty-three and ⁴⁰/₁₀₀ dollars in advance on the delivery of this policy for term insurance for one year from date hereof, and the further payment of a like amount, either at the home office of the company, at St. Louis, Mo., or upon delivery of a receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by an authorized agent of the company, on or before the fifteenth day of September in every year hereafter during the life of the insured until twenty full annual premiums, including the first, shall have been paid.

In witness whereof, the International Life Insurance Company has caused this instrument to be signed by its president and secretary, at the home office of the company, at St. Louis, Mo., this fifteenth day of September, 1909.

THE PROCEEDS OF THIS POLICY MAY BE PLACED IN TRUST TO SECURE A GUARANTEED ANNUAL INCOME.—The proceeds of this policy, if in excess of $1000, may be placed in trust with the company for one of the following purposes: (1) To pay to the insured as annuitant, if the proceeds become payable during his lifetime, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (2) to pay to the insured as annuitant during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant; or, (3) to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, from the time when the proceeds are payable, an annual life income or an annual income limited to a period of years, according to the accompanying tables; or, (4) to pay to the beneficiary as annuitant, during the continuance of the trust, the interest on such proceeds, or the part thereof remaining with the company, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum; such proceeds, or the remainder thereof, to be returned at the termination of the trust or the death of the annuitant. If the trust is created by the insured for the benefit of the beneficiary, the beneficiary cannot assign or commute the payments of life or limited income, nor if the proceeds are placed in trust subject to interest, withdraw such proceeds or anticipate the interest, unless such right is given by the insured in writing and is endorsed upon this policy by the company at its home office during the lifetime of the insured. If the trust is created by the insured for his own benefit, the insured may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. If the trust is created by the beneficiary, the beneficiary may at any time subsequently commute or assign the unpaid life or limited incomes, or at any time withdraw the said proceeds or any part thereof remaining unpaid with accrued interest. No trust agreement shall be created or take effect other than by a writing subscribed by the company at its home office and by the person creating such trust. Where a trust is revoked and a new one is not created, and no other provision is made for the proceeds of the insurance, payment shall be made as directed in this policy. If the annuitant shall die before receiving all of the payments of life or limited income, the remainder thereof shall be made thereafter to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant; or if the proceeds are subject to annual interest only such proceeds or any part thereof remaining with the company shall be paid to the executors, administrators or assigns of the annuitant. The first payment of life or limited income shall be as follows: Upon acceptance of satisfactory proof of death of the insured, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or upon the creation of the trust where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or where the trust is created by the beneficiary. The first payment of interest shall be made one year from the date of the acceptance of proofs of death, where the insurance is payable at the death of the insured, or one year from the date of the creation of the trust, where the proceeds are payable to the insured and the trust is created by him, or the trust is created by the beneficiary.

Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

AMOUNT, $10,000.

ANNUAL PREMIUM, $315.50.

AGE, 31

Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company, Louisville, Ky., hereby insures the life of John Doe, of Louisville, State of Kentucky hereinafter referred to as the insured, and agrees to pay the sum of ten thousand dollars (less any indebtedness to the company on or secured by this policy and any unpaid instalment of the current year's premium) at the executive offices of the company to Mary Doe, wife, if living, otherwise to the insured's administrators, executors or assigns, upon receipt, at the executive office of due proof of the death of the insured (provided this policy is in force at the time of the death of said insured and is then surrendered properly released).

This contract is made in consideration of the application therefor, a copy of which is set out on the third page hereof and made a part of this contract, and in further consideration of the sum of three hundred fifteen and $\frac{50}{100}$ dollars to be paid in advance on or before the delivery of this policy, which shall not take effect unless insured is alive and in good health at time of delivery, and the payment of a like sum hereafter on or before the eleventh day of January in each year until twenty full annual premiums including the first shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, after which this policy will be fully paid up.

This insurance is based on the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent annual interest, and for the first year is term insurance, and in consideration of the premium therefor as above required, will be continued as a twenty-payment life policy by the payment of premiums thereafter as herein required.

Upon the anniversary of the policy the insured may change the manner of payment of premiums to annually, semi-annually or quarterly except that the payment of a premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain the policy in force beyond the due date of the next premium or instalment of premium.

After one year, this policy is incontestable except for the non-payment of premium.

TOTAL DISABILITY.—Premiums on this policy will be paid by the company if insured is wholly disabled prior to attaining the age of sixty years, as follows: After one full annual payment shall have been made and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premiums, if the insured shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has been wholly disabled by bodily injury or disease and will be permanently, continuously and wholly disabled thereby for life from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, the company by endorsement upon this policy in writing, will agree to pay for the insured the premiums, if any, which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability. In any case, premiums so paid shall not be a lien against this policy as the values as given in the tables showing guaranteed values shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured. If, however, the insured shall recover, so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium payment period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums shall cease and the insured shall resume payment of premiums, in accordance with this policy on the next premium due date following such recovery.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—After the first, any premium on this policy will be accepted within thirty-one days from its due date. During said period the policy will remain in force, but in event of death the overdue premium will be deducted.

REINSTATEMENT.—Should this policy lapse, it may be reinstated at any time upon evidence of good health satisfactory to the company, and the payment of all premiums in arrears, with not to exceed five per cent interest per annum.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—The insured may, while this policy is in force, subject to the rules and approval of the company, change the beneficiary or beneficiaries by written request, accompanied by this policy for endorsement thereon.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall take effect until notice thereof shall have been given to the company on the proper form, which will be furnished by the company on request. The company by receiving or filing any assignment does not assume any responsibility for the validity thereof.

LOAN VALUES.—After two annual payments have been paid, and while this policy is in force, the company will loan on the sole security thereof, upon written application therefor, a sum equal to or less than the loan value as stated in Column 2 of the table hereon for the end of the current year, after deducting any existing indebtedness, with interest at five per cent per annum. This policy to be assigned to the company as security therefor. Failure to repay such loan or interest when due shall not void the policy unless the total indebtedness shall equal or exceed the cash value of this policy at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed to the known address of the insured or to the assignee if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address.

PREMIUM LIENS.—After two full annual premiums have been paid, the company, upon written request will apply the existing cash value to the payment of subsequent premiums, so long as the cash value in excess of all indebtedness hereon, be sufficient to pay a quarterly premium. The premiums so paid to be a lien against the policy, at five per cent interest per annum payable in advance. While this policy is thus carried in full force, all the non-forfeitable provisions thereof remain operative and the insured may, without furnishing any evidence of good health, resume the payment of premiums and continue this policy in force; and the accumulated premiums may be paid or stand as a lien against the policy.

GUARANTEED VALUES OF THIS POLICY.—After two full annual premiums have been paid, upon written request within one month of any anniversary date, the insured may elect to receive, subject to any existing indebtedness hereon, either a cash surrender value, Column 1, a paid-up value, Column 3, or extended insurance, Column 4, of the table for the end of the year for which a complete annual premium has been paid. If premiums on this policy are paid quarterly or semi-annually, a corresponding increase in guaranteed values will be allowed for that portion of the year's premium paid over the full number of years last expired. If no request has been received, the company will grant extended insurance for the full face value of the policy for the term of years and days set forth in Column 4 of the table hereon.

The above table of values in which are given the cash, loan, paid-up and extended insurance values, represents the full reserve according to the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent, less a deduction which does not at any time exceed one per cent of the amount insured. Values after twenty years will be furnished on application and will be on same basis.

INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The insured, by written request on the company's form, may change the mode of payment of the proceeds of this policy as a death claim, provided this contract is in force and has not been assigned, from payment in one sum as provided on the first page hereof, to payments by annual instalments as provided in the following table: For each $1000.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

PREMIUM PAYMENTS.—Premiums are due and payable in advance at the executive office of the company in Louisville, Kentucky, but may be paid to an authorized agent of the company in exchange for the company's receipt therefor signed by the president or the secretary.

MISSTATEMENT OF AGE.—If the age of insured has been understated, the amount payable under this contract shall be such a sum as the premiums paid would have purchased at the correct age. Should the age have been overstated, the sum payable will be the amount of the policy and in addition the excess premiums paid.

INDEBTEDNESS.—Any indebtedness to the company will be deducted in any settlement of this contract or any benefits thereunder.

SUICIDE.—Self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of this policy, and until the full second annual premiums shall have been paid in cash, is a risk not assumed by the company under this contract. In any such case the liability of the company shall be limited to the return of the premiums actually paid hereon.

MODIFICATIONS.—No change or modification of any of the provisions of this contract will be valid unless made at the executive office of the company either by the president, secretary or assistant secretary in writing and endorsed hereon, and the company shall not be bound by any promise or representation heretofore or hereafter given by an agent or other person than above. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

In witness whereof, the Inter-Southern Life Insurance Company has caused this policy to be signed by its duly authorized officers, at its executive offices in the city of Louisville, Ky., this eleventh day of January, 1913.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART I.—I agree to be examined by the company's medical examiner and that I will answer fully all questions asked me in such examination. I agree that the company shall incur no liability under this application until it has been received, approved and the policy issued and delivered and the premium has actually been paid to and accepted by the company during my lifetime while I am in good health, and that any delivery of the policy to an agent or other person or mailing same to me shall not be regarded as delivery to me until the policy has actually been received by me and the full first premium paid in cash. No statement made by the person soliciting this application shall be binding on the company, unless reduced to writing and presented to the executive officers with this application.

PART II.—As a further consideration for the issuance of this insurance, I agree that the statements, answers and agreements stated herein, and the statements, answers and agreements made to the company's agents, all of which shall be a part of the contract of insurance hereby applied for, are true; otherwise this insurance shall be void. For myself and all other persons who shall have an interest herein, I agree, that the policy shall be construed as a contract made and to be performed in the Commonwealth of Kentucky; that engaging in handling electric wires or dynamos, making or using explosives, blasting, mining, submarine labor, aeronautic ascensions, coupling or switching cars, employment on any steam or sailing vessel, or railroad train or engine, except as passenger or sleeping-car conductor, within one year from the date of the policy, without the written consent of the company, shall work a forfeiture of all rights under the policy issued hereon; that self-destruction, sane or insane, or death in consequence of violation of a law, within one year from the date of the policy, are risks not assumed by the company in the contract. That this application, and any policy issued in consideration thereof, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and that no suit shall be brought against said company under this contract after a lapse of six years from the time when the right of action accrues. That the company may furnish blank proofs of death to my beneficiary or representative without incurring any liability or waiving any of its rights, in any way, by so doing.

* Adopted July 1, 1913.

Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS—DISABILITY BENEFIT.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $350.70. AGE, 31.

Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company, Greensboro, N. C., does hereby insure John Washington Doe, hereinafter called the insured, in the sum of ten thousand dollars, payable at its home office in the city of Greensboro, N. C., unto Mary Elizabeth Doe (wife), immediately upon receipt of due proof of death of the insured within one year from the date hereof, and thereafter while this policy is in force. In event of the premature death of the beneficiary the benefits hereunder will be paid to the executors, administrators, or assigns of the insured.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY.—Upon receipt of due proof of the total and permanent blindness or deafness of the insured, or of the loss of both hands at or above the wrist; or of the loss of both feet at or above the ankle; or of the loss of one hand or one eye; or of the loss of one hand at or above the wrist and of one foot at or above the ankle; or that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries, loss of reason or disease, and will be permanently, continuously and wholly prevented thereby from pursuing any and all gainful occupations, after one full annual payment shall have been made and before a default in the payment of any subsequent premium, the company by endorsement in writing on this contract will agree to pay for the insured the premiums which shall thereafter become payable during the continuance of such disability, provided, however, that such total and permanent disability shall occur before the insured attains the age of sixty years. In any such case the premiums so paid shall not be a lien on this contract and the values in the table of values on the second page hereof shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured.

The company will grant, in lieu of paying for the insured the premiums as provided hereunder, an endowment for the face value of the policy, payable in ten equal annual instalments, the first instalment to be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof of any such disability or incapacity. If the insured should not live to draw the total sum of instalments, the remainder will be continued to the beneficiary, or commuted and paid in one sum.

If, however, the insured shall recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation during the premium paying period, the company's obligation to pay the premiums or instalments shall cease and the insured shall resume the payment of premiums in accordance with this contract on the premium due date following such recovery, and premiums already having been paid by the company not being charged as a lien thereon, but any instalments paid hereunder shall be counted a lien on this policy.

Proof of total and permanent disability of the insured will be required on forms prescribed by the company, and any medical adviser of the company shall be allowed to examine the person of the insured in respect to any alleged disability.

This contract is free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel or place of death in connection with the payment of the above insurance in case of death, no permit or extra premium being required for military or naval service in time of war or in time of peace.

STIPULATIONS AND AGREEMENTS.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy shares in the surplus earnings of the company, contributed by policies of its class, and an apportionment of its share of said surplus will be made by the company at the end of the first policy year and annually thereafter, and when so apportioned may be used, (1) in the reduction of the next annual premium; or (2) may be used in the purchase of paid-up additions to the face of this policy. Dividends will be due and payable only upon payment of the next succeeding annual premium.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES.—Instead of using the dividends annually as provided above, the insured may elect to leave the dividends with the company to be used as follows:

TO PAY UP ALL PREMIUMS.—Whenever at the end of any policy year the dividends together with the reserve equal the single premium at the attained age of the insured, this policy may become a fully paid-up participating policy, but the insured may continue the payment of premiums to the end of the premium paying period to increase the dividends or to mature this policy as an endowment. If the insured elect a paid-up participating policy, paid up by the application of dividends, or at the end of the premium paying period, the dividends will be paid annually thereafter in cash, unless left to mature this policy as an endowment.

TO MATURE THIS POLICY AS AN ENDOWMENT.—Whenever the dividends together with the reserve equal the face of this policy, it shall mature as an endowment and be payable at once to the insured. In the event of the death of the insured while this policy is in force, all dividends which have been left with the company under either of the foregoing options will be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the sum insured.

NON-FORFEITURE PROVISIONS.—This policy is non-forfeitable as follows: After that full years from the date hereof, if there be no indebtedness to the company, the insured shall, within sixty days from the date of the non-payment of any premium, after the be entitled to a surrender value—in cash, paid-up non-participating insurance, and insurance—as set forth in the table below. If paid-up non-participating insurance is selected, the policy will have a yearly increasing surrender value. If extension insurance is selected, the policy will have a decreasing surrender value, expiring at the end of the extension term. Values for years after those given in table below will be furnished upon application.

indebtedness existing against this policy at the time of any settlement thereof shall be deducted from the cash surrender value of the policy, and the other values shall be adjusted proportionately.

It is guaranteed that no surrender charge exceeding two and one-half per cent of the cash value of this policy has been deducted from the reserve in computing surrender values. The reserve under this contract is based on the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent.

OPTIONAL PRIVILEGE.—The insured, or after the insured's death, the beneficiary, may give notice to the company at its home office, may elect to have the total sum insured under this policy, paid either in cash or as follows: (1) By payment of equal annual instalments at the beginning of each year, for a specified number of years, the instalment being payable immediately, in accordance with the following table for $1000 of said total sum; or, (2) by payment of equal annual instalments, at the beginning of each year for twenty years certain and as many years longer as the beneficiary shall survive, in accordance with the following table for each $1000 of said total

The beneficiary can neither assign nor commute unpaid instalments, unless such assignment or commutation is given to the beneficiary by the insured in writing and is endorsed on this contract home office, during the lifetime of the insured.

The insured may subsequently change or revoke his selection under these instalment options by written notice to the company; such change or revocation to take effect upon receipt of such written notice at the home office of the company in Greensboro, N. C., and the endorsement of the same upon this policy, by the company.

LOANS.—After three full years from the date hereof, if premiums on this policy have been fully paid, the company will lend hereon at six per cent per annum—subject to its loan agreements then in use—the sum named in the table on second page. Any subsequent loan shall not exceed the amount in said table indicated for the year it is applied for, less the amount of any prior loan with interest.

AUTOMATIC PREMIUM LOAN.—If the insured does not elect one of the guaranteed options on second page, the company will charge the unpaid premium against the loan value hereon, as a loan, continuing the policy in full force the same as if the premium had been paid by the insured in cash. Such premium loans shall be continued as long as the loan value on the policy, less indebtedness, will meet the premiums as they fall due, with interest at six per cent added. When the loan value less all prior loans and accrued interest is insufficient to pay a full annual premium it shall be used to continue the policy in full force for that portion of the year that the remaining loan value bears to the full annual premium payable under this contract, at the expiration of which time this policy shall automatically terminate. At any time while the policy is in force the insured may pay up all loans with interest, or continue such loans as a lien against this policy, and resume the payment of premiums without medical examination.

GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—In the payment of any premium under this policy, except the first, a grace of thirty days will be allowed, subject to an interest charge of six per cent.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After one year from date, if premiums have been duly paid, this policy shall be incontestable for any cause.

SELF-DESTRUCTION.—In case of self-destruction committed, whether sane or insane within one year from the date hereof, the extent of recovery hereunder shall be the premium paid.

ADMISSION OF AGE.—The company will admit age upon satisfactory proof; otherwise, if the age is not truly stated in application, the benefits hereunder will be what the premiums actually paid would have purchased at the true age.

RE-INSTATEMENT.—Should this policy cease and determine for non-payment of any premium, it may be re-instated at any time by the payment of the defaulted premiums with six per cent interest, and by furnishing the company with satisfactory evidence of insurability.

ASSIGNMENT.—No assignment of this policy shall take effect unless made in writing in duplicate, the original attached to this policy, and the duplicate filed in the home office of the company. The company will not assume any responsibility for the validity of an assignment.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—Provided this policy be not assigned, the insured may at any time and from time to time change the beneficiary hereunder. Such change to take effect upon the written endorsement of the same upon the policy by the company.

NOTICE.—Only the president, vice-president, or secretary, whose authority will not be delegated, shall have the power to make, modify, or alter this contract, to bind the company by making any promise, or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy; and, if done by them, shall be binding only when in writing, duly signed and attached hereto.

PREMIUMS.—The insurance provided for by this policy is based upon the payment of premiums annually in advance, but after the first year the annual premium may be paid by instalments as follows: Semi-annually in advance, $182.40, or quarterly in advance, $92.90. The payment of any such instalment shall not have the effect to continue this policy in force longer than until the next instalment is due. This policy does not take effect until the first annual premium shall have been actually paid and the policy delivered during the lifetime and good health of the insured. Subsequent premiums are payable to the company at its home office, but may be paid to an authorized agent in exchange for an official receipt signed by the secretary and countersigned by the agent. In any settlement under this policy the remainder of the then current year's premium, if any, together with all indebtedness will be first deducted. In case of default in the payment of any premium or note given for any premium or portion thereof, this policy shall cease and determine, and the payments received hereon shall become the property of the company, except as specified on the second page hereof.

The insurance hereunder is granted in consideration of the application for this policy, which is a part hereof and copy attached hereto, and of the premium of three hundred fifty and ⁷/₁₀ dollars, to be paid on delivery hereof.

This policy will be renewed and extended as a limited payment life contract on the same terms and for the same amount, in the further consideration of the payment of a like sum, to be paid one year from date, and every year thereafter while the policy is in force until twenty such premiums, including the first, shall have been paid, after which no further premiums will be required.

In witness whereof, the Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Company has caused this contract to be signed by its president and secretary, at its home office in the city of Greensboro, N. C., on this the first day of August, 1913.

John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—DISABILITY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS
AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $348.70. AGE, 35.

In consideration of the representations in the application herofor, a copy of which is endorsed hereon or attached hereto, and made a part hereof, and of the premium of three hundred and forty-eight and $\frac{70}{100}$ dollars to be paid on delivery of this policy and of the payment of a like premium on or before the first day of October in each succeeding year until the premiums for twenty full years shall have been paid or until the prior death of the insured, the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company hereby insures the life of John Hancock of Boston, Mass., in the sum of ten thousand dollars.

If the insured shall die during the continuance of this policy the company will pay the sum insured, less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby and less any unpaid balance of premium for the uncompleted policy year, upon due proof of death and the surrender of the policy, at the company's home office in Boston, subject to the conditions and provisions hereinafter recited, to his wife, Dorothy Q. Hancock if living, or to such other beneficiary as may be finally substituted under the conditions hereof, or if no such beneficiary be then living, then to the executors or administrators of the insured.

POLICY AND APPLICATION ENTIRE CONTRACT.—This policy and the application herofor constitute the entire contract between the parties, and all statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no such statement shall avoid the policy or be used in defense to a claim hereunder unless it is contained in a written application herofor and unless a copy of such application is endorsed on or attached to this policy when issued.

WHEN IN EFFECT.—This policy shall not take effect until the first premium or regular instalment, as herein provided, shall be actually paid during the lifetime of the insured.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If the right has been reserved in the application herofor, the insured may change the beneficiary from time to time, subject to the rights of any assignee, by written request upon the blanks of the company filed at its home office, but such change shall take effect only upon endorsement hereon.

PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—All premiums hereunder are payable in advance, annually or in regular equivalent semi-annual or quarterly instalments at the company's published rates, at the home office of the company, or to a duly authorized agent presenting the official receipt signed by the president or secretary, and countersigned by the agent designated on such receipt. Except as herein expressly provided, the payment of any premium or instalment thereof shall not maintain this policy in force beyond the date when the succeeding premium or instalment becomes payable.

GRACE PERIOD.—A grace of thirty-one days, during which the policy shall remain in force, will be granted for the payment of premiums or regular instalments thereof, after the first. If the death of the insured occur during the days of grace, the sum necessary to complete payment of premium for the then current policy year will be deducted from the amount payable hereunder.

ADVANCE PREMIUMS.—Any premiums paid one year or more prior to the date when due will be discounted at the rate of three per cent per annum, and at the death of the insured any such premiums paid for a period beyond the then current policy year will be returned, discounted at the same rate of interest.

ANNUAL PARTICIPATION IN DIVISIBLE SURPLUS.—At the end of each policy year so long as this policy shall remain in force, there shall be distributed hereon the proportion of the divisible surplus contributed by this policy, but such distribution at the end of the first year shall be contingent upon payment of the next succeeding premium.

DISTRIBUTION OPTIONS.—Such surplus distributions may be (a) taken in cash, (b) applied in abatement or premium payments, (c) left on deposit with the company to accumulate with interest at the rate of not less than three per cent per annum, payable with the policy or withdrawable in cash on demand by the holder, or (d) applied to purchase participating paid-up additions payable with the policy, which may be surrendered at any time for their cash value. Election of options may be made annually by the holder by writing filed with the company, and any option so elected shall remain in effect until a new option shall be duly substituted. If no such election is in effect on any anniversary, the distribution for that anniversary shall be held on deposit, as provided in option (c), and if any premium remains unpaid at the expiration of the grace period the company will apply the deposit to the payment of the premium in default, if said deposit be sufficient for that purpose, otherwise to the payment of such smaller regular instalment as the deposit may be sufficient to pay in full, and any such application of such deposit shall be a discharge to the company for the amount so applied. Surplus apportioned to this policy while it is running as extended insurance shall not be available to maintain the policy in force beyond the extension term.

APPLICATION OF SURPLUS DISTRIBUTIONS TO SHORTEN TERM OF PREMIUM PAYMENTS OR MATURE POLICY.—Whenever the surplus accumulations under this policy, or the reserve under any outstanding paid-up additions hereunder, or both, together with the policy reserve, shall equal the reserve on the same basis for a fully paid-up policy of the same kind and amount at the then attained age of the insured, the company will, upon written request of the insured and upon due release, endorse the policy, subject to any indebtedness, as paid up in full with participation; or when the aggregate amount of said reserves and accumulations shall equal the face amount of this policy, the company will on request pay the policy as an endowment, less any existing indebtedness hereunder, upon due surrender.

LOANS.—At any time, while the policy is in force, after three full years' premiums shall have been paid, the company (unless the policy is running as extended insurance) will loan, upon proper assignment, and upon the sole security of this policy, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, a sum not exceeding the cash surrender value at the end of the then current policy year, of the policy and of any outstanding dividend additions, less any outstanding indebtedness and interest on the total amount loaned to the next policy anniversary, and less any unpaid balance of premiums for the current policy year. Any interest in default will be added to the principal of the loan.

PREMIUM LOANS.—Such loans when made to pay premiums only, may be effected upon the sole signature of the insured except that if the policy be assigned, the signature of the assignee will be required. Upon written request by the insured and any assignee upon the company's prescribed forms, provision may be made by endorsement hereon for automatic application of the premium loan provision to the payment of future premiums.

REPAYMENT OF LOANS.—The whole or any part of a loan may be repaid at any time. Failure to repay the loan or to pay interest thereon, shall not avoid the policy while the indebtedness is less than the cash surrender value. When the indebtedness equals such value, the policy shall become void thirty-one days after notice has been mailed to the insured and any assignee.

CONVERSION PRIVILEGE.—At any time while this policy is in full force it may be exchanged without medical re-examination, upon due release, for a policy of not greater amount upon any plan having a higher premium rate, except a continuous monthly instalment or joint life or corporation plan, which the company issues at the date hereof, but without the right to disability benefits. The new policy shall bear the date of this policy, premiums shall be at the rate in use for the age at said date for the form chosen, and the cost to change shall be the difference between the premiums under the new policy and the premiums paid under this policy (exclusive of the special premiums paid for disability benefits) for the same period and the same amount of insurance, with interest compounded annually at the rate of six per cent per annum, and with proper adjustment of differences between the amounts of surplus distributions under the two forms of policies.

REINSTATEMENT.—At any time after default in payment of premium (unless the cash surrender value shall have been paid, or the extension term expired, if the policy shall have been so carried), this policy may be reinstated, upon production of evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and approved at its home office, and upon payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby, and payment of arrears of premiums, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

ASSIGNMENTS.—No assignment hereof shall be binding on the company until filed at its home office. The company assumes no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

LIMITATIONS.—The liability of the company hereunder during the first policy year shall be limited to the premium paid hereon if the insured shall die by suicide, while sane or insane, during said year; or if he shall die during said year as the result of military or naval service in time of war or as the result of making or undertaking an aerial flight, without a permit for such service or flight from the company, signed by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, or an assistant secretary.

INCONTESTABILITY.—After this policy shall have been in force for one full year from the date of issue it shall be incontestable except for non-payment of premium, but in case the age has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be that which the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age at the rate in use at the date hereof. No suit shall be maintained under this policy unless commenced within six years from the time when the cause of action accrues.

ALTERATION AND ENDORSEMENT.—No modification or alteration hereof or endorsement hereon will be valid unless made by the president, a vice-president, the secretary, or an assistant secretary, and no other person is authorized on behalf of the company, to make, alter or discharge this contract or to waive forfeiture. Agents are not authorized to modify or waive any of the terms and conditions of this policy nor to extend the time for payment of premiums or other moneys due to the company, or to bind the company by making any promise or by accepting any representation or information not contained in the application for this policy.

NON-FORFEITURE OPTIONS.—After three full annual premiums shall have been paid hereon, then in case of default in the payment of any subsequent premium or instalment continued after the days of grace.

OPTION A.—Without action on the part of the holder, the policy will be continued for its value in participating paid-up life insurance (without disability benefits) which will have a yearly increasing surrender value; or

OPTION B.—If the holder so elect, the policy will be terminated and the surrender value paid in cash; or

OPTION C.—Upon written request by the holder filed at the home office of the company within ninety days from the due date of the premium in default, the policy will be continued at its face amount, including any outstanding additions and less any indebtedness the company hereon or secured hereby, for its value in participating extended term insurance (without loan privilege or disability benefits) dating from said due date. Such insurance will have a decreasing surrender value expiring with the extension term. Upon due request of the holder filed at the home office of the company while no premium is in default under this policy, extended term insurance may be made the automatic-forfeiture option by endorsement hereon. The surrender value due under any loan will be paid upon proper surrender of the policy with the written assent of the person to whom it is made payable. Said surrender value at date of default in payment of premium will be the full reserve on the policy and any outstanding additions, less a sum having a maximum at the end of the third year not in excess of six-tenths of one per cent of the face amount of the policy, and thereafter decreasing, and less any indebtedness to the company hereon or secured hereby.

The legal reserve under this policy is computed upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum. The paid-up and extended insurances under Options A and C are such as will be purchased by the surrender value as herein defined, applied as a net single premium at the attained age of the insured upon the mortality and interest basis adopted for the reserve computation hereunder.

TABLE OF NON-FORFEITURE VALUES.—The values as herein stated are for full paid policy years, and will be increased by outstanding additions and by payment of instalments of premiums beyond the full paid policy year, but will be decreased by any indebtedness hereon or secured hereby.

SETTLEMENT OPTIONS.—In lieu of payment in one sum, the insured, subject to the rights of any assignee, and with the right to change, or the beneficiary after the insured's death if no election has been made by the insured, may, subject to the terms and conditions which follow, elect, by written notice to the company, to have the net proceeds of this policy, or any part thereof, not less than $1000, paid as provided in any of the following options. The mode of payment elected by the insured shall not be varied by the payee, but if payment is being made under an election by the beneficiary, such beneficiary may, except as to Option 2, revoke the election and receive the unpaid amounts in one sum; but if the stipulated instalments under Option 1 or Option 3 remaining unpaid at any time are commuted and paid in one sum they shall be discounted at the rate of three per cent per annum. Any portion of the net sum due hereunder which may be payable to an assignee, shall be paid in one sum, and the remainder, if not less than $1000, shall be paid according to the terms of the option elected. The amounts of the several instalment and annuity payments for each $1000 of the net sum so payable are shown in the table of instalments and annuities herein, and under Options 2 and 3 the amounts of such payments will be based on the attained age of the beneficiary at the date of death of the insured. The first instalment under Options 1, 2 and 3 will be payable upon due date of death of the insured. If an instalment option becomes effective this policy may be exchanged by the company for a supplementary contract which shall provide for settlement according to the option elected, and shall further provide that there will be allowed upon the funds held for the payment of the stipulated instalments under Option 1 and under Option 3 remaining unpaid from year to year such share of interest earned in excess of three per cent per annum as the company may from year to year determine.

OPTION 1.—Payment by a stipulated number, either 5, 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 equal annual instalments.

OPTION 2.—Payment by an annuity during the life of the beneficiary.

OPTION 3.—Payment by a stipulated number, either 10, 15, 20, 25 or 30 equal annual instalments and by an annuity for as many years thereafter as the beneficiary shall live.

OPTION 4.—The net sum due under this policy, or any part thereof not less than $1000, may be left on deposit and the company will pay interest thereon annually at such rate not less than three per cent as may from year to year be determined by the company, the payment to be made one year after the death of the insured. The amount of said sum may be withdrawn on any interest date if so provided when the option is elected.

but if not so withdrawn, then upon the death of the person last entitled to receive income payments under the terms hereof, the company will pay the amount of said deposit together with any accrued interest for the then current year, in such manner as may be directed when the option is elected.

NOMINATION OF PROVISIONAL PAYEE.—The insured, with the right to change, may, by written notice to the company at its home office, name a provisional payee to receive in accordance with the terms of the option elected, any stipulated payments remaining unpaid under Option 1 or Option 3, or interest payments under Option 4, upon death of the death of the beneficiary after such beneficiary has become entitled to payment. The privilege of nomination of a provisional payee shall not apply under Option 1, and shall the beneficiary have the right to name a provisional payee under any option. If there be no provisional payee living at the death of the beneficiary after becoming entitled to payment under Option 1 or Option 3, or if a provisional payee shall die after becoming entitled to such payment, any stipulated payments under said Options 1 or 3 then remaining unpaid shall be commuted and paid in one sum to the executors or administrators of the one so entitled. If there be no named beneficiary or provisional payee entitled to receive payment under this policy at the death of the insured the net sum payable hereunder will be paid in one sum. Annual payments of $100 and over under the terms of any option or under the disability provision herein, may be taken in equivalent semi-annual, quarterly or monthly payments. The equivalent of each $100 of annual payment is $50.40 paid semi-annually; $25.30 paid quarterly; or $8.45 paid monthly.

TOTAL AND PERMANENT DISABILITY BENEFIT PROVISION.

PAYMENT BY INSTALMENTS.—After one full year's premium shall have been paid this policy, then if at any time, while no premium is in default, the company shall receive due proof that the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty years, has become totally and permanently disabled by bodily injury or by disease sustained or contracted on or after the date hereof, and that thereby he will be wholly, continuously and permanently disabled from the pursuit of any form of mental or manual labor for compensation, or profit whatsoever, and has been so disabled for not less than sixty days, the company will waive, after the then current policy year, payment of further premiums for the continuance of the disability, and, at the end of one year from the date on which said disability is proved, provided the disability then exists, will pay to the insured, or the assignee, if any, one tenth of the face amount of this policy, and one tenth annually thereafter during the continuance of the disability, until the said face amount, less any indebtedness, shall have been paid in full, or until the maturity of the policy when any unpaid remainder of the sum insured, less any indebtedness, will be paid as provided in the policy. In case there are any accumulations or policy additions from surplus distributions then outstanding they shall be payable with the final payment. The sum insured shall be reduced by each annual instalment paid and the cash surrender and loan values from year to year will be those shown in the table of non-forfeiture values in the policy, reduced proportionately to the reduced sum, less any existing indebtedness. Whenever the existing indebtedness shall be paid, the cash surrender value of the reduced insurance, the succeeding instalment shall be reduced by the amount of such excess, and the indebtedness correspondingly reduced. Whenever the instalments paid and credited together with the indebtedness, shall equal the face amount of the policy and of any accumulations or additions from surplus distributions, the liability of the company shall cease. The policy must be presented to the home office for endorsement of the payment of each disability instalment.

WAIVER OF PREMIUMS AFTER AGE 60.—If the company, while no premium is in default, shall receive due proof that the insured after attaining the age of sixty years has become disabled as aforesaid and has been so disabled for not less than sixty days the policy will be maintained in force, without payment of further premiums during the continuance of the disability, for a decreasing sum, which shall be the face amount of the policy less the premiums waived, and less any existing indebtedness. The amount of the premium waived yearly will decrease in proportion to the decreasing sum insured, and the cash surrender and loan values from year to year will be those shown by the table of non-forfeiture values in the policy, reduced proportionately to the reduced insurance less any existing indebtedness.

3. RECOVERY FROM DISABILITY.—The company shall have the right to require at any time, but not oftener than once a year, due proof of the continuance of the disability. If the insured shall fail to furnish such proof when required to do so, or shall so far recover as to be able to perform work of any kind for compensation, gain or profit, no further premiums will be waived, and no further disability instalments will be paid. In such case the insurance will be the face of the policy less the instalments paid (Sec. 1) or the premiums waived after age sixty (Sec. 2) as the case may be, and the non-forfeiture values, as well as the premiums payable, will be in proportion to the reduced insurance.

4. DISABILITY PREMIUM.—The disability benefits set forth in this provision are granted in consideration of the statements and representations in the application for this policy and of a special yearly premium of five dollars and twenty cents payable in addition to and as a part of the regular premium of the policy during its premium paying period, or until the insured reaches the age of sixty years. The special premium may be discontinued at any policy anniversary upon request by the insured, and the presentation of the policy to the company for cancellation of the disability benefit provision.

5. RECOGNIZED DISABILITIES.—Without prejudice to any other cause of disability, the following will be recognized as disability within the meaning of this provision, namely, the total and irrevocable loss of the use of both eyes or of both hands or of both feet, by removal or disease; or such loss of the use of one hand and one foot.

In witness whereof, the John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Company has, by its president and secretary, executed and delivered this contract and caused the same to be duly countersigned at Boston, Mass., on this first day of October, A. D. 1914.

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

PART A.—I hereby declare that I have never made an application to insure my life to any company or agent upon which a policy has not been issued in the exact form and amount originally applied for, and that there is none now pending, unless so stated above; and further, I declare that all the statements herein made are complete and true and that they are correctly recorded.

PART B.—I certify that the statements and answers which I have made in this application as a basis for the contract of insurance are complete, true, and correctly recorded, and I agree that any policy which may be issued hereon shall take effect only in case I shall be delivered and the first premium or instalment thereof actually paid during my lifetime and that such delivery and payment shall constitute the acceptance of the policy and of all its conditions. I further agree that if I shall die during the first policy year as the result of military or naval service in time of war, or as the result of making or undertaking an aerial flight without a permit for such service or flight from the company, or shall die by my own hand or act whether at that time sane or insane, the company shall be liable during the said first policy year only for the amount of the premium paid as the policy.

*Adopted October 1, 1909.

Kansas City Life Insurance Company.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.

AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $393.20. AGE, 35.

Kansas City Life Insurance Company, Kansas City, Mo., agrees to pay ten thousand dollars, at the home office of the company, in Kansas City, Mo., to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, immediately upon receipt of due proofs of the death of John Doe, the insured, during the continuance of this policy.

ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—This policy, after having been in force one year, and subject to the payment of the second annual premium, shall participate in the annual distribution of surplus made by the company and the dividend so apportioned will include the amount of the divisible surplus accruing hereon, and shall each year, on the premium date hereof, at the option of the insured, (1) be payable in cash, or (2) be applied in reduction of premium, or (3) be left with the company to accumulate to the credit of the policy with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum, withdrawable in cash by the insured, on any anniversary of the policy or payable at death, or upon surrender of the policy.

CONTINUOUS DIVIDENDS.—Upon this policy becoming fully paid-up for the face amount thereof, it will continue as a participating annual dividend policy.

STATE OF MISSOURI—INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

This policy is registered and secured by a pledge of bonds or deeds of trust on real estate deposited with this department.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AND PRIVILEGES

1. This policy shall not take effect unless the first premium hereon has been paid and this policy delivered to the applicant within thirty days from the date hereof, or unless the applicant is in good health at the time of its delivery.

2. The first year's premium only may be paid to the agent. All subsequent premiums are due and payable in advance at the home office of the company without notice. However, they may be paid to an authorized agent of the company on or before the date when due, but only in exchange for a receipt signed by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary and countersigned by such agent. Upon failure to pay a premium on or before the date when due, or upon failure to pay any premium note when due, this policy will become null and void without any action or notice by the company, and all rights shall be forfeited to the company, except as hereinafter provided.

3. Notice of each and every premium due or to become due hereon, is given and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy. Notice of premiums coming due is sent to the insured as a matter of accommodation, but the company assumes no responsibility for the failure to send or the miscarriage or non-delivery of any notice.

4. Any indebtedness to the company including loans and interest accumulations and any balance of the then current policy year's premium remaining unpaid will be deducted in any settlement under this policy.

5. The lapse of five years from the date the cause of action shall accrue shall be an absolute bar to any action or suit brought upon this policy. Death by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue hereof shall limit the amount payable by the company to the total premium paid by the insured.

6. This policy is issued with the understanding that with the consent of the company the insured may assign same or change the beneficiary to any person authorized by law, by filing with the company a written request therefor. Such change will take effect upon its acceptance by the company and the endorsement of the same upon this policy by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary. The claims of any assignee when the assignment has been thus made shall be subject to proof of interest and the company will assume no responsibility as to the validity of any assignment.

7. If the age of the insured has been misstated, the amount payable hereunder shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. All statements made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties, and no statement made by the insured shall avoid this policy or be used in defense of a claim hereunder unless the same is contained in the application therefor.

8. No agent has power on behalf of the company to modify this contract, to extend the time of payment of premiums, to waive any forfeiture, to bind the company by making any promise or any representation, or to deliver any policy contrary to the provisions of section one (1) hereof. These powers can be exercised only by the president, vice-president, secretary or assistant secretary of the company and will not be delegated.

9. The insured may without the consent of the beneficiary receive any benefit hereunder and exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred upon the insured in or by this policy.

10. In case of default in the payment of any premium hereunder or of any premium note when due, the company will reinstate the policy, if not previously surrendered, at any time upon written request by the insured to the company at its home office, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company and the payment of all premium arrears and the payment or reinstatement of any indebtedness existing at the date of default, together with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent per annum.

11. GRACE IN PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of one month, (without interest charge) during which the insurance will remain in full force will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

NON-FORFEITURE AND LOAN FEATURES.—After payment of premiums for three or more full years the following options shall be effective; if default occurs after a fractional of the current year's premium has been paid, the values will be proportionately reduced.

AUTOMATIC LOAN.—If any premium on this policy shall not be paid when due, and without action on the part of the insured, and provided this feature shall not have been waived in writing filed at this office, shall be charged as an automatic loan with interest at six per cent per annum if the then loan value of the policy, less that of existing dividend additions, be sufficient to cover such loan in addition to existing indebtedness and accrued interest. If the loan value or the balance thereof not be sufficient to pay the entire premium due, then it shall be used, if sufficient, for the premium for a shorter period, but not less than an entire quarterly premium, not sufficient to pay a quarterly premium, the policy shall cease to be in force and the residue of the surrender value of said policy shall be paid in cash on surrender of same. The accumulation of such automatic policy loans, with accrued interest thereon, shall be a first lien on the policy, but may be paid at any time in whole or in part.

PAID-UP AND EXTENDED INSURANCE.—Upon written request for either non-participating paid-up or extended term insurance, waiving the automatic policy loan privilege at any time prior to, or within sixty days after, default in payment of premium, the company in lieu of the automatic policy loan privilege will, after such default, either continue the policy for a reduced amount of non-participating paid-up insurance in accordance with the accompanying table, or extend and continue in force the full amount of this policy as non-participating term insurance in accordance with the accompanying table.

CASH SURRENDER VALUE.—Any time within sixty days after default in payment of premium, the company will, upon request, with a full and valid surrender of the policy, and all claims thereunder, pay a cash surrender value in accordance with the accompanying table, less any existing indebtedness to the company on account of this policy.

LOANS.—If this policy be not then extended as term insurance, the company will, upon proper assignment of this policy and on the sole security thereof, at a rate of interest not exceeding six per cent per annum, and subject to the regulations of the company then in force relating to policy loans, and further subject to the laws of the State in which the insured resides at time of issuance of this policy a sum equal to, or, at the option of the insured, less than the amount stated in the accompanying table, in accordance with the number of years for which premiums have been fully paid. In the event of default in payment of any loan on this policy no forfeiture of same will occur until the loan and interest thereon is equal to or greater than the reserve, nor until one month after notice in writing is mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured and of the assignee, if any.

TABLE OF LOAN AND SURRENDER VALUES.

This table will apply if this policy be free from indebtedness, but any existing indebtedness may be paid in cash and the table will then apply; or if not so paid, the loan and interest thereon will be reduced by the indebtedness and the amount of paid-up or the term insurance will be reduced in the ratio of the indebtedness to the reserve value of the policy. Any existing dividend or dividends or paid-up additions to the credit of this policy will increase these guarantees.

The values in the above table are based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality, with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum, with no surcharge.

This policy is issued in consideration of the stipulations, agreements and representations made in the application for this policy, a copy of which application is hereto attached and made a part of, and said policy and application constitute the entire contract between the parties hereto, and in further consideration the annual premium of three hundred ninety-three dollars and twenty cents for one year's term insurance from date hereof. This policy will be continued upon the further payment of a like amount before the first day of January each year thereafter until premiums shall have been paid for twenty years, including first, or until the prior death of the insured.

This policy is absolutely free from conditions as to residence, occupation, travel, time or place of death. No extra premium will be required from the insured for military or naval service time of war or in time of peace.

If there shall be no beneficiary living at the death of the insured, the proceeds of this policy shall be paid to the executor, administrators or assigns of the insured.

This policy is incontestable after one year from date of issue.

The insured, at any time while this policy is in force may, by giving written notice to the company at its home office, provided the policy has not been assigned, change the mode of payment of the policy as within provided to payment in equal annual installments, or a life annuity, as specified below, such change to take effect upon its endorsement on the policy by the company.

DECLARATION IN APPLICATION.

It is hereby warranted that the above are my own full and true answers to the foregoing questions, and that the same, together with my answers to the examining physician, are the only statements made to the Kansas City Life Insurance Company, and together with this stipulation constitutes my application to said company for insurance, and should my application be approved, and a policy of insurance be issued, such policy and application shall be and constitute the contract between the parties hereto. My answers to all the above questions, and to the several questions propounded by the examining physician, are full, complete and true, and no omission, concealment or reservation has been made of any facts or circumstances relating to my past or present habits, health, physical condition or family history. I agree that death by self-destruction, sane or insane, within one year from date of issue shall limit the amount payable by the company to the total premium paid and no more. I hereby warrant that I am intemperate in the use of intoxicating liquors or narcotics of any kind. I agree that any distribution of surplus or profits the principles and methods which may be adopted by the company for such distribution, and its determination of the amount before any policy which may be issued by the company, shall be and are hereby read and accepted by and for every person who shall have or claim any interest under this policy. That it is expressly agreed to and understood upon my part that this contract is to be null and void and of no binding force whatever, unless my application is read and accepted at the home office of the company and approved by the medical director, and the policy of insurance is delivered to me or my beneficiary during my lifetime while in good health.

TWENTY-PAYMENT LIFE POLICY—ANNUAL DIVIDEND AMOUNT, $10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $379.70. A

The LaFayette Life Insurance Company, LaFayette, hereby insures the life of John Doe, hereinafter called the insured, and will pay the sum of ten thousand dollars at its home in the city of LaFayette, Ind., upon the death of the insured while this policy is in force, to his wife, Mary Doe, or to beneficiary as may be designated by the insured as here provided, if living, if not then to the insured's executor, administrators or assigns.

This policy shall be incontestable after one year from its issue except for non-payment of premiums or for violation of the provisions of this policy relating to naval and military service in time of war; and it shall be non-forfeitable after two years' premium shall have been paid.

This contract is executed in consideration of the application therefor and the payment of three hundred seventy-nine and 70/100 dollars in advance and the payment of a like sum on or the first day of November in each and every year until premium for twenty years, including the first, have been paid, or the prior death of the insured.

The privileges, conditions and agreements, written and upon the following pages hereof form a part of this contract as if recited over the signatures hereto affixed.

In witness whereof, the LaFayette Life Insurance Company has caused this to be signed by its president and secretary at the home office in the city of LaFayette this first day of November, 1909.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND.—STATE AUDITOR'S OFFICE, INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

This is to certify, that the LaFayette Life Insurance Company is incorporated under its business under the Legal Reserve Compulsory Deposit Law of 1899 in accordance therewith is required to maintain, and does maintain, on deposit with the State Auditor of Indiana securities equal to the amount of the net cash value of all its policies as determined by valuation made by this department, December 31st, each year.

PREMIUMS PAYABLE.—All premiums on this policy shall be payable in advance at the home office of the company or to an agent of the company upon delivery of a receipt signed by the secretary.

DAYS OF GRACE.—After one year's premium has been paid on this policy a thirty-one days will be allowed for the payment of every subsequent premium, and interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, during which period the policy shall remain in full force.

DIVIDENDS.—This policy shall participate in the surplus of the company as apportioned by the board of directors of the company, and beginning at the end of the second year the company will determine and account for the portion of the divisible surplus ascertained accruing on this policy; and at the end of each subsequent year such dividend and accounting, at the option of the policyholder, shall be had. The owner of the policy shall have the right to have the current dividends arising from such premium paid in cash, or may elect that they shall be applied to the payment of premium, or remain unpaid, or applied to the purchase of paid up additional insurance. If the policy shall not elect any of the dividend options provided herein, the dividends shall be held to the credit of the policy and be payable in cash at the end of the policy or be withdrawable in cash at any anniversary of its date. Any dividends held to the credit of the policy shall be increased annually at the rate of interest earned by the company. In event of the death of the insured all dividends held to the credit of the policy shall be paid to the beneficiary in addition to the insurance hereon.

LOANS.—After three full years' premiums shall have been paid, the company, at its option, while this policy is in force, will loan on the execution of a proper assignment of the policy and on the sole security thereof, a sum equal to, or at the option of the insured, the amount stated in the table of values and options to be loaned at the end of the policy year, plus the value of the reserve on any dividend additions to the policy; the company will deduct from such loan value any existing indebtedness on or secured by the policy, and any unpaid balance of the premium for the current policy year. The loan at the rate of six per cent. per annum shall be paid in advance to the insured at the current policy year. Provided, that the company may defer such loan for not more than six months after the application therefor is made. Failure to repay any such loan with interest thereon shall not avoid the policy unless such total indebtedness to the company shall equal or exceed such loan value at the time of such failure, nor until thirty days after notice shall have been mailed by the company to the last known address of the insured, and to the assignee, if any, if such assignee has notified the company of his address. In ascertaining the indebtedness due upon policy loans the interest, if not paid, added to the principal of such loans and shall bear interest at the rate specified in the loan agreement.

FORFEITABLE.—In event of the default of premium payment after premiums have been paid for two full years the insured shall be entitled to the extended insurance shown in the table of values and options for the end of the last year for which full annual premium have been paid, and this policy shall automatically continue for said length of time on the due date of the unpaid premium, as non-participating, term insurance for amount, without payment of further premiums and without the right to loans or other options; provided, that any existing indebtedness to the company, on account of loans by this policy, including any unpaid note given for premium, shall be deducted from the net value of the extended insurance as shown in said table, and the insured shall be entitled to extended insurance for such length of time only as the excess of said net value over the indebtedness will purchase at the insured's then attained age at the net single premium rate by the American Experience Table of Mortality, and three and one-half per cent. Or, in event of the default of premium payment after premiums have been paid for three full years, the company will, upon the written request of the insured and the surrender of this policy within thirty-one days from date of default, exchange this policy for (a) its cash value, which shall be at least equal to the sum which would otherwise be payable for the purchase of extended insurance, and which is shown in the table of values and options, less any indebtedness to the company, or (b) a paid-up non-participating policy for the amount of insurance shown in the table of values and options for the end of the last year for which full annual premiums shall have been paid; provided, that any indebtedness to the company shall reduce the amount of such insurance in the same proportion as the indebtedness to the net value of such insurance.

serve on this policy shall be computed upon the basis of the American Experience Table of Mortality and three and one-half per cent interest, and all cash and loan values shall be the net values of paid-up and extended insurance shown in the above table as shown, not more than two and one-half per cent of the sum insured; and the values for years not shown in the table shall be the whole of said reserve. The first year's reserve under this policy is term insurance, purchased by the whole or part of the premium received during the first policy year, and the policy shall be valued according to the laws of the State of Indiana.

RESIDENCE AND TRAVEL.—This policy is free from any restriction as to residence and the insured shall give prompt notice to the company of any permanent change of residence or post office address.

CHANGE OF BENEFICIARY.—If this policy be not assigned, the insured may change the beneficiary hereunder at any time while the policy is in force, by filing with the company a request therefor, duly acknowledged and accompanied by the policy. Any change of beneficiary shall take effect only upon the endorsement of same upon the policy by the company.

ASSIGNMENT.—It is agreed that this policy may be assigned upon the written approval of the company, but the company will not assume any responsibility or guarantee the validity of the assignment.

REDEMPTION.—Should there have been default in premium payment, the policy may be redeemed at any time thereafter upon evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, the payment of arrears of premiums and any indebtedness, together with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum.

OPTIONS AT THE END OF THE PREMIUM-PAYING PERIOD.—If the insured be living and the policy is in full force by the payment of all premiums thereon, at the end of the twentieth year the insured shall be entitled to any one of the following options: (1) Surrender the policy, properly receipted, and withdraw its entire cash value and any dividends; or (2) continue this policy and any paid-up additions thereto, as a paid-up participating life policy, with any dividends held to the credit of the policy, such dividends being withdrawn at any anniversary of the date of the policy; or (3) withdraw any dividends and any paid-up additions in cash, and continue this policy as a paid-up term life policy; or (4) convert the entire cash value and any dividends into a participating life policy, subject to medical examination and the company's approval.

proval of the risk for any increase in the amount of insurance; or (5) convert the cash value and any dividends into a life annuity; if none of these options be selected three months settlement shall be made as provided in Option 2.

DIVIDENDS, CASH AND LOAN VALUES AFTER MATURITY.—Any paid-up part life policy issued under the foregoing options shall share annually in the surplus of the company, and may be surrendered for its cash value on any anniversary of its date of issue. The company will loan on such dates an amount not exceeding its reserve value, in accordance with the rules for loans and surrenders elsewhere herein provided.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—This policy, together with the application thereon, shall be deemed to be a part hereof and a copy of which is attached hereto, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and only the president or secretary shall have power on behalf of the company to modify it. All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

Failure to pay any renewal premium when due shall render this policy null and void, except as otherwise provided in the policy, without action on the part of the company. Notice of each and every premium payment due or to become due hereon is given, and the policy is issued and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and any further action required by any statute is expressly waived.

Death within one year from the date hereof by self-destruction while sane or in consequence of violation of law, or of engaging in blasting, mining, aeronautic or other dangerous work, or of the production, handling or transportation of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or of handling electric wires or electrical machinery, or switching or coupling cars, at any time in consequence of service in an army or navy in time of war, without first obtaining the written permission of this company therefor, is a risk not insured by this policy, and in event of the death of the insured from any such cause during such liability of the company hereunder shall be limited to the reserve on this policy at the time of such death.

The insured is hereby notified that, by virtue of this policy, while the same is in force, he is a member of the La Fayette Life Insurance Company and entitled to attend at its annual meetings, which are held at the home office in the city of La Fayette on the second Tuesday of January in each year at 10 o'clock a. m.

SETTLEMENT.—If this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, the company shall be given the company at its home office. Upon receipt of such claim the company will forward blanks with instructions for making proof. Settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant, and shall be brought to enforce the payment of any claim under this policy until the due proofs shall have been filed in strict accordance with this provision, nor will the company be bound to enforce the payment of any claim under this policy until the claim has been brought within three years from the time when the right of action accrues. Any unpaid premium due the company on account of or secured by this policy, and any unpaid portion thereof for the current policy year shall be deducted in any settlement. If the age of the insured has been understated the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Settlement shall be by payment in one sum, or in instalments as follows:

INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The company will at any time, upon the written request of the insured, or of the beneficiary after the death of the insured, provided this policy has not been assigned, make the insurance hereunder payable in equal annual instalments for any number of years, or for life, in any one of the following options; but no such change shall take effect until endorsed upon this policy by the company.

OPTION A.—In ten annual instalments of $113.80 each, amounting to $1,138.00 of insurance hereunder; or

OPTION B.—In fifteen annual instalments of $81.30 each, amounting to $1,219.50 of insurance hereunder; or

OPTION C.—In twenty annual instalments of $65.25 each, amounting to $1,305.00 of insurance hereunder; or

The first instalment shall be paid at the death of the insured. Unpaid instalments neither be assigned nor commuted by the beneficiary; and in the event of the death of the beneficiary after the death of the insured any unpaid instalments shall revert to the estate of the insured, or to the administrators, executors, or assigns of the beneficiary. When the last instalment has been paid this policy shall be deemed satisfied in full and shall be surrendered to the company.

The payment of all benefits hereunder shall be subject to the same conditions as are required by this policy for the payment of the original insurance here-

AGREEMENT IN APPLICATION.

--I hereby agree to complete this application within 30 days by taking a medical test, which is hereby made a part of this application, and to accept the policy issued for, but the company shall incur no liability until this application has been filed at its home office, the policy delivered during my good health and the first premium thereon shall have been paid by me; provided, that if the first annual premium is paid at the time of making this application the insurance shall be in force from the approval of this application by the company at the home office. In consideration of the premises I hereby constitute and appoint the secretary of said company my lawful attorney to vote for me in my absence, as instructed by the board of directors of said company, at all meetings of the policyholders of said company.

--I hereby declare that my above answers and statements are full, complete and correctly recorded, and are offered to the company as a basis of and consideration of insurance.

declare for myself, the applicant, and all parties interested, or who may be interested, in any policy which may be issued under this application, that I am of sound mind and habits and that all the statements and answers to the above questions, made or to be made to the company's medical examiner, are full, complete and correct, whether written by my hand or not; and,

I agree for myself and all parties interested, or who may become interested in the policy, as follows: 1. That all the statements and representations made above or to be made to the medical examiner shall form the basis and become a part of the contract of insurance that may be issued under this application. 2. That the insurance under said policy will be limited to the amount of premiums paid by me if I die by my own hand or act, whether sane or insane, within the term of the date of said policy. 3. That the company shall incur no liability under this application until it shall have been received and approved at the home office of the company, the policy issued, and delivered to me during my lifetime and good health, the first premium paid and accepted by the company or its authorized agent. 4. That the contract that may be issued under this application shall be construed as a contract of insurance in accordance with the laws of the State of Virginia. 5. That I reserve, hereby, reserve the right, without the consent of the beneficiary or beneficiaries, to receive any benefits, exercise every right and enjoy every privilege conferred by the policy applied for, if one be issued.

proval of the risk for any increase in the amount of insurance; or (5) convert the entire cash value and any dividends into a life annuity; if none of these options be selected within three months settlement shall be made as provided in Option 2.

DIVIDENDS, CASH AND LOAN VALUES AFTER MATURITY.—Any paid-up participating life policy issued under the foregoing options shall share annually in the surplus of the company, and may be surrendered for its cash value on any anniversary of its date, or the company will loan on such dates an amount not exceeding its reserve value, in accordance with the rules for loans and surrenders elsewhere herein provided.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.—This policy, together with the application therefor, which application is made a part hereof and a copy of which is attached hereto, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, and only the president or secretary shall have the power on behalf of the company to modify it. All statements made by the insured in the application shall, in the absence of fraud, be deemed representations and not warranties.

Failure to pay any renewal premium when due shall render this policy null and void, except as otherwise provided in the policy, without action on the part of the company. Notice of each and every premium payment due or to become due hereon is given, acknowledged and accepted by the delivery and acceptance of this policy, and any further notice required by any statute is expressly waived.

Death within one year from the date hereof by self-destruction while sane or insane, or in consequence of violation of law, or of engaging in blasting, mining, aeronautic ascensions, the production, handling or transportation of highly inflammable or explosive substances, or of handling electric wires or electrical machinery, or switching or coupling cars, or death at any time in consequence of service in an army or navy in time of war, without first having obtained the written permission of this company therefor, is a risk not insured under this policy, and in event of the death of the insured from any such cause during such time the liability of the company hereunder shall be limited to the reserve on this policy at the time of such death.

The insured is hereby notified that, by virtue of this policy, while the same remains in force, he is a member of the La Fayette Life Insurance Company and entitled to vote at its annual meetings, which are holden at the home office in the city of La Fayette, Ind., on the second Tuesday of January in each year at 10 o'clock a. m.

SETTLEMENT.—If this policy shall become a claim by the death of the insured, notice thereof shall be given the company at its home office. Upon receipt of such notice the company will forward blanks with instructions for making proof. Settlement shall be made upon receipt of due proof of death and of the interest of the claimant, and no suit shall be brought to enforce the payment of any claim under this policy until and unless due proofs shall have been filed in strict accordance with this provision, nor unless commenced within three years from the time when the right of action accrues. Any indebtedness due the company on account of or secured by this policy, and any unpaid premium or portion thereof for the current policy year shall be deducted in any settlement hereunder. If the age of the insured has been understated the amount payable under this policy shall be such as the premium paid would have purchased at the correct age. Settlements will be by payment in one sum, or in instalments as follows:

INSTALLMENT OPTIONS.—The company will at any time, upon the written request of the insured, or of the beneficiary after the death of the insured, provided this policy has not been assigned, make the insurance hereunder payable in equal annual instalments as provided in any one of the following options; but no such change shall take effect until it is endorsed upon this policy by the company.

OPTION A.—In ten annual instalments of $113.80 each, amounting to $1,138 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or

OPTION B.—In fifteen annual instalments of $81.30 each, amounting to $1,219.50 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or

OPTION C.—In twenty annual instalments of $65.25 each, amounting to $1,305 for each $1000 of insurance hereunder; or OPTION D.—In annual instalments for twenty years and for so many years longer as the beneficiary shall live; the amount of each instalment to be determined by the following table, based upon the age of the beneficiary at the birthday last preceding the death of the insured.

Liberal Life Assurance Company.

PAYMENT LIFE COUPON POLICY—NON-PARTICIPATING.

$10,000. ANNUAL PREMIUM, $383.40. AGE, 35.

Liberal Life Assurance Company of Indiana in consideration of application for this policy, which is hereby made part of contract, a copy of which application is attached hereto, the payment of three hundred eighty-three dollars and cents, first annual premium, in advance, insures the life of Doe, of Anderson, county of Madison, State of Indiana, hereafter called the insured, for the amount of ten thousand dollars payable at the home office of the company, in Anderson, Indiana, in case of any indebtedness to the company immediately upon receipt of due proof of the death of the insured, during one year from the date hereof, to Mary Doe, wife of the insured, or in event of her prior death, then to the executors, administrators or assigns of the insured.

In further consideration of the first year's premium and payment of the amount set forth above upon each first anniversary after the first year until twenty full years' premiums shall have been paid, from date of this policy, or until the death of the insured, will renew said insurance after the first year as a limited payment life policy, and promises to pay to the beneficiary above named, immediately upon receipt at said office of due proof of the death of the insured, the sum of ten thousand dollars, less any indebtedness hereon to the company.

The first year's insurance under this policy is term insurance.

INSURANCE ON THIS CONTRACT WILL BE PAID BY THE COMPANY IF INSURED IS WHOLLY disabled.—After one full year's premium has been paid, and before default in the payment of subsequent premium, if the insured, prior to attaining the age of sixty, shall furnish satisfactory proof that he has become wholly disabled by bodily injuries or diseases, whereby he will be totally and permanently prevented from pursuing any gainful occupation, he shall, from the date of said proof, and during the continuance of such disability, be released from all premium payments under this Policy, and the insurance shall remain in force for the full amount, and the cash loans and other values of this policy shall increase in the same manner as if the premiums were being paid by the insured, provided that evidence satisfactory to the company of the continued total disability of the insured shall be furnished annually.

Recovery.—If the insured at any time recover so as to be able to engage in any gainful occupation, he shall be obligated to pay the regular premiums according to the terms of this policy until he has taken effect for all future premiums upon the actual amount of insurance then in force.

Anniversary.—On the anniversary of this policy, this disability provision may be canceled by the insured returning this policy to the company for endorsement, in which event all subsequent premiums will be reduced twenty-five cents for each $1,000 of insurance.

Witness.—This policy is issued and accepted subject to the benefits, stipulations and provisions hereon, the foregoing pages, which are a part of this contract as fully as if they were recited and signed over the signatures hereto affixed.

Witness.—In witness whereof, the Liberal Life Assurance Company of Indiana has caused this policy to be signed by its duly authorized officers, at its home office in Anderson, Indiana, this 1st day of July, 1912.

GUARANTEED BENEFITS OF THIS CONTRACT

NON-PAYMENT OF PREMIUMS.—A grace of thirty days, during which this contract shall remain in force, will be allowed in the payment of all premiums except the first.

REINSTATEMENT.—This policy may be reinstated at any time upon application of the insured, accompanied by evidence of insurability satisfactory to the company, the approval of the president or secretary, and the payment of all arrears due, with the interest of five (5) per cent per annum.
